Manufacturers of such materials may bitterly complain of interference with their business, but the great measure of public opinion will surely be behind the British Government in its decision that no assistance shall be giben those who would wage war.

It is the first time in the history of the world, as Sir John Simon pointed out, that any neutral Government has taken action of this kind in reference to a distant conflict, and the British Government has earned world commendation by its attitude.

If equal importance and significance was the Foreign Secretary's blunt declaration that Britain did not mean under any circumstances to become entangled in the Japanese-Chinese dispute.

Neutral nations at one time considered it entirely proper to grow rich by supplying war materials to warring countries; it would seem that the day for that kind of thing has for the time being at least disappeared.

THE SPEED QUESTION.

An agitation to increase the legal speed limit in Ontario to 45 miles an hour has been started, and the proposal is favored by many motorists.

There is also a numerous group who would prefer to have the speed limit abolished and to hold motorists strictly accountable for accidents occasioned by excessive speed.

Much can be said in favor of both these suggestions, for it is obvious that the present speed limit is constantly being violated, but at the same time among those who view with alarm the heavy toll of lives taken in highway accidents there is a reluctance to officially sanction a higher limit.

Accident statistics for last year indicate that speed was an important factor in the number of deaths, for while there were fewer accidents in 1932 than in 1931, there was a sharp increase in the number of fatalities—in fact, the 1932 death toll was one-third greater than that of the year previous, indicating that faster cars and an increase in the general speed average were responsible for many more serious accidents.

There is another angle to this speed question that many motorists may not be aware of, and that is, the heavy increase in cost of operation that accompanies speedy driving.

The Chicago Motor Club has been investigating this phase and has found that when a car is driven at 55 miles an hour it uses seven times as much oil as at 30 miles, it uses a fourth more gas and wears out tires twice as fast.

And the car that goes 20 miles to the gallon at 20 miles an hour will only go seven miles to the gallon at 70. The cost begins to increase sharply in the forties.

90,000,000 PEOPLE MAY LISTEN.

The people of North America still are buying radio sets on a fairly large scale. Figures recently published show a large increase in the number of radio licenses issued during the ten months of the present fiscal year in Canada. In this period alone the increase was more than one hundred thousand over the previous twelve months. Doubtless a proportion of these had hitherto evaded registration and been discovered in the recent combing initiated by the Government department. According to these figures there are at present 716,568 receiving sets operated by Canadians, which would indicate that Canada has approximately 3,500,000 potential radio listeners, allowing an average of five members per family.

In this connection an interesting announcement has just been made by one of the two leading broadcasting companies of the United States concerning the number of radio receiving sets sold in the United States during the past three years. This survey, showing for the first time the proportion of radio sets sold to homes not previously owning sets, has just been completed with the co-operation of five leading manufacturers and 700 dealers and distributors. In addition to this novel division of statistics the survey also presents the first complete data on radio set ownership since the United States census of 1930.

The statistics, gathered from the confidential sales records of the manufacturers and distributors by states and territories for the years 1930, 1931 and 1932, show that set ownership has increased as much as 140 per cent. in sections which revealed a low volume of sets in proportion to population in the 1930 census.

The final compilation in the survey reveals that of 8,920,000 receiving sets sold from April, 1930, to January 1, 1933, there were 4,760,800 sold to homes which did not previously possess a set. The 1930 census showed that some twelve million homes in the United States were equipped with radio. The new survey adds approximately five million homes to this figure, making a total of seventeen million homes possessing sets. If the average family consists of five members, this means that radio reception is available to approximately eighty-five million people in the United States alone, or to a grand total of nearly 90 million people on the North American Continent.

Dealing with the statistics by states, the figures show that, while total radio ownership has increased 40 per cent. since the census, it has increased in such states as Florida and Louisiana by as much as 140 per cent.

The five manufacturers who placed their records at the statisticians' disposal represent 60 per cent. of total radio sales in the period covered by the survey.—Ottawa Journal.

THE MOVE FOR RECIPROCITY.

(From the New York Times)

Premier Bennett's statements in the Canadian House of Commons is of great significance. Despite his record as a high protectionist and his role as one of the principal authors of the recent Ottawa treaties surrounding the British Empire with new tariff walls, he declared that Canada "earnestly desires" a reciprocal tariff agreement with the United States. He disapproved of a resolution, introduced by a member from Nova Scotia, proposing immediate negotiations to this end. Such action at the present moment he regarded as "premature." But he made it clear that his Government would welcome after March 4 an inquiry from Mr. Roosevelt, who strongly advocated a policy of reciprocal tariffs during the campaign.

Canada's gain from such an arrangement would be to improve her status as a debtor nation. Individually and collectively the Canadian people owe nearly $2,000,000,000 to private investors in the United States. They find it difficult to pay in gold the annual interest charges on this obligation; for Canada's gold reserves, which amounted to more than $150,000,000 a few years ago, have now fallen to approximately half this figure. Any arrangement which enabled her to sell more goods in the United States, thereby acquiring credits which, in turn, would pay her debts, would strengthen Canadian currency and greatly simplify a problem which has become increasingly difficult.

What reciprocal advantages might be expected to accrue to the United States, aside from this additional security for our large investment? Our part of a tariff bargain would necessarily be to lower existing rates on Canadian farm products, lumber, copper and other raw materials, for these are the goods that Canada is equipped to export. Inevitably, American producers of these goods would protest against such action, insisting that in their present state of depression they could not face Canadian competition. The only argument to be made in reply is that trade moves in both directions; that if we buy more from Canada we thereby increase her ability to purchase more from us; that the value of our exports to Canadian markets has declined by $550,000,000 since 1929, and that this figure is large enough to outweigh the value of our entire wheat crop.

Mr. Roosevelt's chance of carrying opinion with him in this phase of his announced policy is likely to depend upon his ability to convince American opinion that a possible loss of certain groups of producers in the immediate future will be offset later by a larger gain. Our disastrous experiment with the Hawley-Smoot act ought to help him in this demonstration. In Mr. Bennett's invitation he may find a convenient starting point. For an incoming administration pledged to the negotiation of reciprocal tariffs, opportunity is knocking at the door.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Citizens who want to help the harassed taxpayer can do so by contributing to the Relief Fund and thus lift a little of the burden.

After all so long as Mr. Verigin really intends to leave Canada it does not matter where he goes—and if he takes his colony with him, so much the better.

Redistribution is said to be a lively issue with members of the Legislature from Eastern Ontario. Naturally nobody likes to be thrown out of a job.

The Hydro probe has so far cost the people of Ontario over $15,000—and those who wanted the inquiry held are now refusing to accept the verdict.

READ THIS FIRST:

Araminta Williams, so and beautiful, is faced with the problem of three stepsisters who are not so attractive and on whom she and her mother and father are dependent. She decides that the only way out is to marry and decides on Barney Tyson, who is madly in love with her. After an argument with Leontine, one of the stepsisters, who is intent on sending Araminta abroad because she herself is in love with Barney, Araminta calls Barney on the telephone, and later in the garden tells him she wants to marry him. Instead of going to a dance with her stepsisters, Araminta slips away with Barney and they hurry to Washington where Araminia's Aunt Min lives and where Araminta plans to spend the night and be married in the morning. Barney leaves her at the door and as she enters Aunt Min's living room she sees Janney Breckenridge sitting talking with her aunt. Araminta once believed she was in love with Janney. Janney and Araminta had met two years before at the Kentucky derby and she had fallen madly in love with him but he, in the diplomatic service, had hurried abroad telling her that she should marry no one, that she was much too lovely for a humdrum sort of life. And so with Janney present in her aunt's living room Araminta astounds them both by announcing that she is to marry Barney in the morning. But that night, in bed at Aunt Min's, Araminta decides that it isn't giving Barney a square deal, that she really loves Janney. She resolves to call the marriage off in the morning.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 6

It was not until she was in bed that, sweeping across the clamour of thoughts, came the memory of the letters she had left for Leontine and her mother. Those triumphant notes in which she had burned all her bridges. She rose and looked at the clock. The girls would still be at Annapolis. Anne Hampton had asked them all over for a late supper after the dance. There was still time to get Nicky. Nicky who would help her out if she asked him.

She had to descend two flights of stairs, and as she stole down, she prayed that the quick ears of the Pekingese might not hear. Luck was with her, and at last she shut herself tightly into the telephone closet in the lower hall, and got Nicky.

"Nicky, this is Minta. I'm at Aunt Min's. Barney and I didn't go to Annapolis. I'll tell you why when I see you. And Nicky—I left two notes on my dressing table, one for mother and one for Leontine. I want you to tear them up and say nothing. Nothing, Nicky . . . on your word of honor. You needn't explain anything to mother, except that I'll be home in the morning, and that I'm at Aunt Min's. Will you, Nicky? Well, you're as sweet thing, if you are my father. . . ."

She hung up the receiver with a sigh of relief, then went upstairs, with the Persian cat who roamed the house at will, leaping noiselessly ahead of her. And it was when they reached the top of the stairs that a quick short bark broke the stillness. Araminta heard Aunt Min's voice, "What the matter?" and Rhoda's voice from the little room where the maid slept hear her mistress, "It's only the cat, Miss Minnie," and again silence fell.

Araminta lay for a long time awake, looking into the future. She would have to go abroad with Nicky and Mary. And now she would be glad to go. Away from Barney. Away from Leontine. Away from them all!

It was Rhoda who made the strongest protest the next morning. "But I've ordered everything, Miss Minnie."

"Then countermand the orders, Rhoda. There will be no wedding."

Rhoda's manner held a hint of reproach. Aunt Min aware of it, attempted an apology, "A woman has a right to change her mind."

But while she carried it off with a high hand to Rhoda, Aunt Min was not sure that Araminta's change of mind was justified.

The child had given no excuse. She had simply arrived at Aunt Min's bedside at the ghastly hour of seven, and had said, "I can't do it."

Beyond that she would not explain: "I've telephoned Barney and told him."

"What did he say?"

"He thinks I've lost my mind."

"And well he might." Aunt Min propped up on her pillows had been a sight to behold. She wore her hair in kids, for she hated permanents and hot irons, and the kids drew the skin tight on her forehead, so that it gave an effect of great astonishment, emphasized at the moment by the amazement in her round blue eyes.

"And well he might. I don't see any excuse for you, Minta."

"Neither does he. And he's coming up . . . at nine. I told him it would-n't do any good—but he's coming. . . ."

She had leaned over and kissed her aunt, "Sorry to wake you, darling."

"That's all right, my dear. But the whole thing doesn't see—reasonable—"

Araminta, wrapped in her pink robe, and looking like a confection out of a candy box, had said, "No love affair is reasonable if you come to that, Aunt Min," and had gone off to her room, and a little later Rhoda coming in to draw Aunt Min's bath, was informed of what had happened.

"Miss Minta is to have breakfast up here with me, promptly at 8:30, Rhoda. And plenty of buttered toast and eggs and bacon. She says she is starved."

Rhoda went down and cancelled the order to the caterer. She hated to cancel it, for she had considered it a triumph of diplomacy to rout him from his bed and get him to promise the wedding bells on time. They were now undoubtedly in the freezer.

When Rhoda went upstairs again, she unwound the kids from Aunt Min's sparse locks, powdered her nose, got her into a mauve dressing gown. Then she brought up the tray, and set forth the food on a little table in the window of Aunt Min's sitting room. After which she called Araminta, and with the Pekingese, went downstairs again to give him his airing.

Rhoda rather liked her morning walks with the Pekingese. She knew he policeman on the beat, and all the housemen along the way, and the butler on the corner, who was always on the watch for her. And she had taken a walk like this for 25 years. Not always, of course, with the same dog, but with a succession of them, beginning with fox terriers, which were fashionable when she began, and up through pugs and Boston bulls to the Peke of the present moment.

And in those early days Rhoda had been young, and the butler at the corner had been unmarried, but that's another story. The butler was now a widower, and still interesting to Rhoda, although she had long ago given up the idea of marriage, and intended to devote the rest of her days to Aunt Min, who had remembered her in her will, but whom she would have served whole heartedly if she had not expected a penny.

Now, just as Rhoda with the Pekingese in her arms, opened the front door and shut it behind her, who should come striding up the steps but a young man of what Rhoda would have called in her English way, "Rather a golden-red complexion" with blue eyes, with shoulders as square as those of the King's guard, and with a swing of his legs as if he marched to music.

But Rhoda could see, even in that second in which she observed him, that the music to wh'ch he marched this morning was martial music, rather that that of more celestial harmonies. And so, when he said, "May I see Miss Williams?" she didn't know quite what to do about it.

"She's not up," she said, "or, rather, she's having breakfast in her aunt's room."

"She expects me," said Barney.

"Oh, very well, sir." Rhoda flattened herself against the wall to let him pass, and then she followed him and went upstairs to tell Araminta, and when she came to Aunt Min's sitting room, there was Araminta clothed somewhat more completely than in the earlier morning, in black satin pajamas and a coat which Aunt Min had brought her from Nippon, and which with its silver embroideries and lining of butterfly blue made Araminta look like some bright-winged creature, poised for a moment in an old maid's sitting room, in an old house in an old city.

"He's early, my dear. Finish your breakfast."

Araminta pushed her plate away. "I can't eat—not with Barney down there—waiting."

Shr rose and started for the door, and had hardly reached it when Aunt Min called after her. "Surely you aren't goin down in—those?"

"Those? Oh, you mean my pajamas? Good gracious, Aunt Min, everybody wears them."

"But they aren't decent. . . ."

"Darling, times have changed. And you gave them to me."

"But not to wear in my drawing-room."

"What better place could I wear them?"

And Minta was off, and Rhoda and Aunt Min stared at each other until Aunt Min said, faintly, "I suppose they all do it?"

"Do what?" said Rhoda.

"Wear them?"

THE BROWSER

Forgive the Browser. He hasn't been doing much reading this week. He's been listening to music instead of reading books. Hearing Rachmaninoff, going to a play, and incidentally playing bridge.

("How can you bear to play bridge?" said Henry to the Browser. The Browser's wife has much the same point of view. It's very sad. So few people understand him).

An "anonymous" author had an article in the SEPost about being on the wagon for eighteen years and then deliberately falling off while he was on a trip to Europe. While his wife looked daggers and consternation at him, he drank three glasses of beer and a few other things and then sat down and bid six diamonds or something like that—and made his bid!

The anonymous author is not really anonymous at all. The Browser will wager he is really Montague Glass, who cannot conceal his own style from the Browser....Will Mr. Glass deny that?

Why did he swear off in the first place? The Browser knows about that, too. He did it because he realized that people who live in Glass houses shouldn't throw parties.

Margaret Culkin Banning had an article in the February Harper's on ladies who nibble toast and diet to emaciation and insist on wearing Size 16 long after they are Twice 16.....A fine piece of writing and thinking.

Months ago, when the Browser read V. Sackville-West's "All Passion Spent," and liked it immensely, he said that he was certain the author was one of those English women who dress like the devil and write like angels. Almost immediately he received a gentle denial from her publishers, enclosing a photograph of a very nicely-groomed woman, to prove the Browser was mistaken.....But he wasn't. Just the other day he read an article by V. Sackville-West herself, in which she confessed that she hated to buy clothes and usually looked like something even the cat wouldn't drag in—until her relatives forced her to purchase a new outfit....Isn't the Browser discerning? ....Yes.

The Browser's going to Mexico. Not right now. Perhaps not next year. But evenutually. And when he goes, he'll have Frances Toor's little red guide to Mexico in his coat pocket....He's been reading it and he's dll upset once more about that country. She tells about food, hotels, fiestas, trains, cathedrals, bullfights, cockfights, mural paintings, and how to buy things in that country. Just the thing for the Browser or for anybody else who is going to Mexico.

The Browser had a friend who went to Mexico once. He saw an old lady selling meatp ies at a station. They were 2 cents apiece. How much were they a dozen? That would be 40 cents, said the old lady.....But that wasn't right! Yes, Senor, it was. If she sold all her pies at once, she'd be done out of a day's fun, sitting around and arguing with purchasers.

And then there's that famous story of Mrs. Dwight Morrow and the chairs....She saw a pleasantly-painted chair (price $3) in Cuernavaca and she asked its maker to carve and paint 12 just like it for her dining room. Would that be $36 for the dozen? No, it would me more, because it would be so much trouble to make 12 chairs exactly alike.

The Browser MUST go to Mexico.

Malcolm McCaw has written a book on "Fifty Ways to Save Money." Imagine! Makes you curious.

Stuart Chase's "New Deal" is still worth your reading.

One big library has decided that it will buy no copies of Sinclair Lewis' "Ann Vickers." One copy wouldn't be enough. Neither would two copies. The library refuses to buy 20 copies. The Browser suspects the publishers of engineering that as a bit of good publicity....Some of the reviewers have been snooty about "Ann Vickers." Never mind, at least it isn't dull.

Sometimes people ask Charles Hanson Towe how he can read so much. He wonders in return how some other people can read so little.

Alfred Noyes calls Bernard Shaw a "Jabberwock"....Maxim Korki in The Modern Monthly says he never stops smoking while writing and never uses a typewrite because it "destroys the rhythm of a good prose style."

THE BROWSER.

This is the signature of a man to whom sucess would come as a matter of course by reason of his eminent fitness for it. He is an all-round, most able man with a genial, likeable personality and a highly developed character in addition. But he does not apparently desire the full extent of the success which might be his for the asking. He is not ambitious, or whatever of ambition he has he discourages. Success to this man signifies inner content rather than public acclaim. He has a philosophic, contemplative mind with an idealistic bent. He has a sensitive and highly developed aesthetic sense. He repudiates conventional values for himself and sets up his own on a basis of interesting and artistic living. He would prefer the job that provided him with opportunity for dealing directly with individuals and their problems to a strictly administrative position, even carrying greater prestige and a remuneration. He has a flair for character study which is the central theme of his goverance of himself, of his work and of his outside interests. He is the sort of man who would make time for hobbies and the pursuit of his interests. He is as utterly honest and truthful as it is possible to be. Despite his own high principles and the strictness with which he lives up to them he is most generous, tolerant and altruistic. He is an independent in the best sense of the term. He has a fine sense of humor.

Obituary

MRS. MORDECAI BLEWETT

Mrs. Mordecai Blewett, the last of a family of thirteen children, and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rosborough, pioneer farmers of Smith Township, died at the residence of her son, Stanley, Second Line of Smith, on Monday afternoon. Her death followed upon a brief illness. She was in her 79th year.

Mrs. Blewett and her husband who survives, recently celebrated the sixty-first anniversary of their wedding. They were married by the late Rev. Mr. Doyle at Gilmour Baptist Church Parsonage on January 17, 1872. Both Mr. Blewett and his late wife have resided in Smith Township all their lives, with the exception of six years during their married life spent in Otonabee and a short period of residence at Peterborough.

The couple were frequent attendants at Gilmour Memorial Baptist Church, and the late Mrs. Blewett was also a member of Murray Street Baptist Church, as also is her husband.

Besides her husband Mrs. Blewett is survived by two daughters, Mrs. S. Middleton of Peterborough and Mrs. George Hendren of North Monaghan, and one son Stanley Warwick Blewett of the Second Line of Smith.

The funeral is to be held on Wednesday afternoon from the residence of her son at 2 o'clock. Interment at Lakefield Cemetery.

Millbrook

Mrs. P. Stinson, and her youngest son, Connie, left on Saturday for Powassan to stay with her mother, Mrs. Hammond, who is ill.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. H. W. Jordan entertained a number of friends at her home, Anne street, in the form of a "Jig-Saw Tea," when a very pleasant time was enjoyed.

Dr. H. A. Turner and S. E. Eakins accompanied Councillor J. E. Eakins to Toronto last week, the latteg remaining for medical treatment, having been in ill health for an extended period of time.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Jordan, and Miss Margaret Simpson attended the "At Home" of the Peterborough Normal School last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George McCullough, of Newtonville, visited her mother and sister, Mrs. Thomas and Miss Margaret Luxon, last week; Mrs. McCullough remaining for a few days owing to the illnes sof both members of the family at home.

Dr. Turner and S. E. Eakins attended the initial presentation of "Cavalcade," Noel Coward's wonderful picture, and the current success at the Royal Alexander Theatre.

The next relief concert and dance, under the auspices of the Women's Institute, will be held in the Town Hall on Friday, March 17, all money taken in to go for charitable work in the community.

Friends of Mrs. H. Lowes, Princess street, will regret to learn that she is seriously ill and confined to bed all the time now. Mrs. Braithwaite is with Mrs. Lowes for the present.

Friends of ex-Warden A. J. Henderson will be glad to know that he is recovered from the illness which suddenly overtook him last week while helping his son with some of the farm work at the homestead on Fallis Line.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

MONTCALM THE MAGNIFICENT

On this date, in 1712, there was born at the chateau of Candiac near Nimes, France, Louis Joseph, Marquis de Montcalm, the greatest fighting general ever sent by France to Canada. He was only in America three years, but in that time achieved memorable successes for French arms, capturing Oswego by a brilliant dash across the country and making Lake Ontario a French inland sea, forcing the surrender of William Henry on Lake Champlain, and administering at Ticonderoga to the British one of the most disastrous defeats in their history. His star seemed firm in the ascendant, but in 1759 it began to wane, largely through the intrigues against him of Vaudreuil, the civil governor, and failure to receive that military support that he should have had. He was on the defensive at Quebec but time and the climate were on his side; could he but hold out a few weeks winter would force the British to retire and Quebec would be saved. But James Wolfe's tactics found him in desperate condition. With the British on the plains he had to give battle and he fell fighting like the great soldier that he was, knowing not that his great rival had also fallen on the field of battle.

Montcalm, although wholly French, cannot be omited from the ranks of Canadian heros. A gallant soldier he was also a true gentleman. It is said that when he was told that his wound was mortal, he replied: "So much the better. I am happy that I shall not live to see the surrender of Quebec." And English-speaking Canadians should never forget that almost his last words were a tribute to Britain's fighting men:

"Since it was my misfortune to be discomfited and mortally wounded, it is a great consolation to me; if I could survive this wound, I would agree to beat three times the number of such forces as I commanded this morning with a third of their number of British troops!"

Teacher And Boy Burned To Death

LACHUTE, Que., Feb. 28 (C.P.)—A woman school teacher and a young boy were burned to death at the little village of Ogdensburg, Que., ten miles northeast of here, early to-day, according to meagre reports reaching here. Miss Cameron, Rawdon, Que., was one of the victims and a young son of Ross Townsend, owner of the home, was the other. Mrs. Townsend and her infant son were badly frost-bitten as they fled the burning house in the early hours to-day.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 28 (C.P.)—Despite a fair export business worked in Canadian wheat overnight, local wheat prices slipped off about ¼ cent in early trading to-day. At the low points, however, fair support was uncovered and further declines checked.

At mid-season all wheat futures rested ¼-cent lower. May at 47⅛. July 48¼ an October 49⅛.

Offerings from the start were quite liberal and came from several sources, including elevator interests and houses with Chicago connection. Most of the support came from sea-board houses and continental interests.

Although some export business was worked out of New York bulk of the trade was done out of Vancouver to the United Kingdom and the continent.

Liverpool wheat moved within a narrow range during most of the session and quotations near the close were ⅛ to ¼d lower. Buenos Aires market was on holiday.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (A.P.) — Early fractional gains by stocks were extended in a quiet rally during the late dealings to-day as shorts covered. Rails and active industrials were the principal gainers. Advances of about 3 points were made by Union Pacific, Allied Chemical, American Telephone and Delaware and Hudson. Two point gains were made by Corn Products, Case and Air Reduction. United States Steel, New York Central, Consolidated Gas, Liggett and Myers "B", Westinghouse, Santa Fe and Southern Pacific were up a point or more. Norfolk and Western sagged 1½. Radio, trading in considerable volume, was about unchanged. Turnover approximated 950,000 shares.

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Feb. 28 (C.P.)—Active buying gave the Standard Mining market a much better tone at the close than at the opening to-day. Silver shares lagged but substantial gains were recorded for most of the leading gold and also the base metal shares, although Noranda made little headway on the upside. Volume increased in the late afternoon when encouraging signs developed in the Wall Street market.

Noranda was actively traded but did not get up more than 35 cents. Nickel held a gain of about 25 and Falconbridge finished 10 higher.

In the big gold group Lake Shore and McIntyre gained $1 or more, Dome and Hollinger about 25 each and Teck Hughes 15, while Wright Hargreaves was traded heavily around its last closing figure and finished about 5 down.

In the silver group Eldorado gained 2 points, Nipissing held steady at $1.46,and Mining Corporation was off a couple.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Industrial stocks became more courageous in the late trading today, supported by the mild rally in Wall street, and moved up moderately led by International Nickel and C. P. R. All the interlisted shares were stronger in tone.

Oil stocks moved within a narrow range and closed with gains of 1-8 showing in Imperial, British American and Pete while the Supertest stocks finished lower.

In the interlisted group Brazilian picked up 5-8 to 7¾, C.P.R. gained ¼, Nickel ¼ and Smelters ⅛ while Ford gained 3-8. Irregularity ruled in the Utilities, Bell Telephone, Consumers Gas and Montreal Power sharing in the improved tone while Shawinigan and Power Corporation finished lower.

Exchange Rates

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (A.P.) — Prime commercial paper 1¼ per cent; foreign exchange irregular, demand rates: Great Britain 3.41¾; France 3.94 13-16; Italy 5.11½; Germany 23.94½; Canada 83.50.

Foreign Exchange

Exchange rates at noon to-day were: Pound sterling in Montreal, $4.09; U.S. dollar in Montreal, 1.19½; Pound sterling in New York, 3.42½; Canadian dollar in New York, .83⅜.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 28 (A.P.)—Influenced by suggestions that tomorrow's private reports on United States farm reserve stocks of wheat would prove bullish, grain prices averaged higher early to-day. There were also complaints that moisture in domestic Winter wheat territory southwest was wholly insufficient.

Opening ⅛ to ⅝ up, wheat later held near the initial range. Corn started at ¼ decline to a shade advance, and subsequently gained all around.

GROSS EARNINGS TOTAL $13,000

Peterborough Workingmn's Building and Savings Society Annual Meeting.

ASSETS $190,760.51.

The annual general meeting of the shareholders of the Peterborough Workingmen's Building and Savings Society was held on Monday at which meeting the directors presented their annual report covering the corporation's business for the year 1932.

The statement shows total assets at the close of the year 1932 amounting to $190,760.51, mainly made up of first mortgages on residential properties. The gross earnings for the year amounted to over $13,000.00 leaving to the shareholders after payment of expenses, operation and taxes, profits exceeding six percent per annum. Notwithstanding the very unusual and unsettled conditions prevailing during the year 1932 collections kept up well and the actual receipts on account of interest on mortgages during the year 1932 exceeds interest on mortgages received during the year 1931.

The Peterborough Workingmen's Building and Savings Society has been carrying on its operations in the City of Peterborough since the year 1889 and through its plan of operation numbers of shareholders have bought and paid for their own homes. The main object of the Corporation is the promotion of systematic savings among its members and the investment of these savings chiefly in first mortgages on residential property in the City of Peterborough. The Society has always carried on its affairs in an economical manner and for the individual whose income permits him to lay aside monthly a small portion of his savings it offers ample opportunity not only for the exercise of economy and thrift but for the return of a higher rate of interest. The business is conducted on a purely co-operative basis, the yearly profits being apportioned among all shareholders i proportion to the value of their shares.

The Building Society movement has not made the headway in Canada as in England and the United States. In these countries there are numerous corporations carrying on along the same lines as the Peterborough Workingmen's Building and Savings Society. The Building Society of England can be traced back as far as the year 1798 and in the United States the first Association was established in Philadelphia in the year 1831. The chief aim of the Building Society is to make saving compulsory, by compelling the individual shareholder to save regularly and to keep it up for a number of years until his accumulated dividends amount to something material. It is a concrete example of the amazing results derived from the compounding of interest over a number of years.

HARMONY EXISTS IN HOUSE PARTY

Liberal Party Issues Statement After Caucus Meeting.

SINCLAIR SAYS NOTHING.

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS, Toronto, Feb. 28 (C.P.)—"In view of the press reports of disagreement among the members of the Liberal Opposition, the caucus meeting in full to-day, with a single dissension, wish to emphasize that complete harmony exists," says a statement issued at the conclusion of a Liberal caucus to-day.

There was nothing regarding a reported split between Mitchell Hepburn, M.P., Provincial Leader, and W. E. N. Sinclair, K.C., House Leader, contained in the statement, typed and handed to the press by George McQuibban, M.L.A., Liberal Whip in the House.

Mr. Sinclair himself had nothing to say. "There is no statement for me to make," he declared, as he emerged from the committee room where the caucus was held.

NEW BRITISH BOAT WILL SEEK LAURELS

fication in motor-boating circles here to-day.

"Paine is one of the most capable powerboat racing drivers in Europe," said W. E. D. Edenburn, who has been chairman of most of the recent Harmsworth regattas here. "He is president of the British Powerboat Company in Southampton, and has raced all over Europe.

"He is not only a boat builder, but a good mechanic. He built the Miss England I., with which the late Sir Henry O. D. Segrave established a world's record shortly before his death."

If Paine brings a hydroplane to the United States for a Harmsworth attempt, the first race will be run on Saturday, September 2, the second on September 4, Labor Day, and a third, if necessary, on September 5.

The speed record for the Harmsworth contest now is held by Kaye Don, British driver, who attained a maximum of 93.123 statute miles an hour in the first race of last year's contest with Gar Wood.

MRS. R. TURNER ENTERS FINALS STURGEON PLAY

Mrs. DeGraw and Mrs. J. Harkness Will Settle Other Finalist To-night.

CONSOLATION RESULT.

With the preliminary round disposed of yesterday morning, the first round of the Sturgeon Trophy mixed bonspiel was entered into at Charlotte street curling rink today. There was a good sheet of ice, and some close results were chalked up.

At the various rinks become eliminated, they are entered in the consolation contest for the trophy presented by Mrs. E. Waddell in 1922.

Results of the first round for the Sturgeon Shield this morning were:

Miss H. Fanning 7, vs. Mrs. J. Harkness 8.

Mrs. DeGraw 10, vs. Miss H. Munro 5.

Mrs. R. Turner 12, vs. Mrs. M. Comstock 10.

Mrs. C Turner defaulted to Mrs. M. Carr.

To-night Mrs. DeGraw and Mrs. Harkness, the other semi-finalist rinks will decide who is to go into finals to-morrow morning against Mrs. R. Turner. The latter was holder of the Sturgeon Shield in 1929.

In the Consolation Cup preliminary round this morning Mrs. W. J. Oke defeated Mrs. D. S. Clarke by three shots, the score being 9-6.

WALSH IS ADDED TO NEW CABINET

COMPLETE WEDNESDAY.

HYDE PARK, N.Y., Feb. 28. — (C.P.). — President-elect Roosevelt to-day announced the appointment of Thomas J. Walsh of Montana as his Attorney-General.

The selection of Walsh left only two more names to be announced for the Roosevelt Cabinet.

It is expected Roosevelt will fill the official list before to-morrow with the announcements of Miss Frances Perkins, of New York, for Secretary of Labor and Daniel C. Roper of South Carolina for Secretary of Commerce.

Walsh, who is assistant Democratic leader of the Senate, has been prominently identified with judicial and foreign affairs. He was among the first of the advocates of Roosevelt for the nomination, and in 1924 was closely associated with the drive of William C. McAdoo for the Democratic nomination.

DRIVE SLOWLY SAYS CAMPBELL

WELCOMED IN TORONTO.

TORONTO, Feb. 28 (C.P.)—Drive slowly and carefully in traffic, is the advice of the man who has driven an automobile faster than any other man in the world.

Sir Malcolm Campbell, who sent his Bluebird at a speed of more than 272 miles an hour across the sands at Daytona Beach, Fla., who admits he is a fatalist and believes death will not come until its appointed time, confesses that he drives slowly and carefully through London's traffic.

Sir Malcolm arrived here to-day to receive a civic welcome and address the Empire Club.

He told newspapermen that though he isn't afraid of high speed and bumpy sandy beaches, he is afraid of speech-making.

Impatience, he said, drove him to make his record-breaking run against even his own best advice. "Last year's dun was nothing compared to this," he said. 'I was taking the biggest chance of my life and I was a fool to do it. But I hate turning my back to anything."

Asked if he would make another attempt, he smiled and said: "I have no plans."

CERMAK SOMEWHAT BETTER

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 28 (A.P.) — Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago was described by his son-in-law, Dr. Frank Jirka, as appearing to be "somewhat better," shortly after attending physicians issued an official bulletin on his condition at 7.30 a.m., to-day.

M. La Boulaye was selected, these sources said, especially to carry on negotiations for a new debt agreement with the United States.

An official announcement was expected to be made after the Roosevelt inauguration on Saturday.

THIEVES MISSED TO GET BIG HAUL

GET ONLY $58.32.

HAMILTON, Feb. 28. (CP) — Thieves missed a large sum and escaped with a relatively small amount when they held up Robert Megaghan, vice-president of a bread company, at noon. Mr. Megaghan was walking along Leeming Street carrying money in a canvas bag to a bank. Suddenly an auto drew up beside him, with one man at the wheel and a second man seated in the back. The second man threw open the door and thrust a sawed-off shotgu against Mr. Megaghan's ribs.

"Don't hesitate" warned the bandit. "Throw that bag into the car."

The holdup victim complied with the demand and the car raced away. The bag contained coins to the value of $58.32. In Mr. Megaghan's pockets were bills totalling $1,900.

The car the thieves used had been reported stolen earlier.

Ford's Secretary Is Being Hunted

DETROIT, Feb. 28 (A.P.)—Acting upon the request of his wife, officials of the Ford Motor Company and Detroit and Michigan State Police to-day a widespread search for Ernest G. Liebold, for more than a score of years general secretary to Henry Hord and fiscal agent for the motor manufacturer.

Although no theories as to his disappearance were advanced, following the discovery to-day that he was not at his home, Liebold's friends and Ford officials said he had been under a "terrific strain" for several weeks, working for the manufacturer on plans for easing the financial situation in Detroit. At the Ford plant, officials said they "Have no idea" what has happened to Liebold.

SOUGHT WEEK'S REMAND FOR THEFT OF .50 COAL

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 28 (C.P.)—J. M. Donahue, a leading London lawyer, to-day protested remand of a week for an 18-year-old boy charged with stealing 50 cents worth of coal.

"A weeks' remand is pretty severe punishment in this instance," he protested, mentioning the Orillia case of last Saturday in which the sentence for stealing a lump of coal was reduced from 15 to 10 days. The magistrate ultimately remanded the boy for three days.

FEARED DROWNED

THREE RIVERS, Que. (C.P.)—Fears that Paul Rene and Conrad Lemire, Rasoul Desfosses and a companion named Duval, residents of this city, have been drowned in Lake St. Pierre, are expressed by their friends here.

AGREES WITH BORAH.

LONDON, Feb. 28. — (A.P.) — George Lansbury, leader of the Labor party, said this afternoon his palty had entirely agreed with the reported statement of Senator Borah of the United States that America could not follow Great Britain's lead in connection with the Far Eastern arms embargo.

(Discussing the arms embargo yestrday in Washington Senator Borah, who is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he was not in favor of "following suit," adding "to put an arms embargo on China and Japan is to take sides with Japan under the conditions and circumstances that now exist.")

Mr. Lansbury declared the Labor party members want an embrago on Japan alone.

"I feel confident that if the United States would take immediate steps to come into line on this subject, the British government would fall in with Senator Borah's contention, which was supported in debate last night by the Labor party, and that is to put the embargo on Japan alone," he said.

"We would want, however, the embargo to be carried much further than is embodied in the arms embargo.

"We wish that the embargo should be extended to cover everything in the matter of finance, credits and goods which would assist the Japanese in any way."

Hard on Chinese

NANKING, China, Feb. 28 (A.P.) —The announcement of the British arms embargo on Japan and China was received in Chinese circles today with mixed feelings.

The Chinese fully sympathize with Great Britain's attempt to assist in preventing a widening of the field of conflict or prolonging bloodshed, they said, but are convinced the British step will not help the cause of peace. It will, on the other hand, increase the power of "Japanese military aggression," it was said.

It was pointed out that Japan is well equipped with weapons and China is practically without them.

If arm do not come to China, she will be helpless before the onslaught of Japanese forces, it was feared.

U. S. Avoiding "Blunder"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (A.P.)—Senator Lewis, Democrat, Illinois, said in the Senate to-day that the United States should not make the "blunder" of joining other countries in an embargo against shipment of arms to the Orient.

LONDON, Feb. 28 (A.P.)—The King and Queen saw their first talking movie to-day and apparently enjoyed it.

It was the premier of the screen version of J. B. Priestley's "The Good Companions," shown as a benefit for the Unemployment Relief Fund.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonold, Lord Londonderry and numerous other statesment, Peers and Peeresses sat in the circle near the Royal box. A seat at this performance cost 10 guineas, something more than $40 in Canadian money, a record price for a movie here.

Olympic Games Are Coming To Capitol

Peterborough people, thanks to the kindness of W. A. Fry of Dunnville, and the co-operation of the local Kiwanis Club and Manager Jack Stewart of the Capitol Theatre, are to have an opportunity on Friday evening of seeing three most interesting films of the Olympic Games at Los Angeles. Mr. Fry, who is to address the Kiwanis Club later in the evening on "Canada at Los Angeles," is bringing these Fox sound films with him, and will be shown at the Capitol Theatre at 6 o'clock, and the public is cordially invited to attend. There will be no admission charge.

STRIKERS BACK AT WORK.

TORONTO.— One thousand of the 1,900 cloakmakers who went on strike two weeks ago are back at work, according to S. Kreisman of the Cloakmakers' Union. He said compromises were arranged. A 40-hour weeks and higher wage rates were demanded by the workers. It is understood 50 out of 56 shops affected are now working with full staffs.

C. S. Scott and P. J. Myler Are Re-elected at Dirtors' Meeting.

ANNUAL MEETING.

HAMILTON, Feb. 28 (C.P.)—Net profits for the year of $88,830 were revealed when the affairs of the Landed Banking and Loan Company were reviewed at the annual meeting held here. After inclusion of the balance brought forward from 1931, and the payment of dividends amounting to $80,000, and taxes amounting to $10,038 a surplus of $13,728 is left.

"The directors having in mind the present condition of business and its future uncertainty, and following their established policy of endeavoring to face all possible contingencies beforehand, have thought it prudent to transfer $9,651 from the amount previously set apart for this purpose in reduction of the mortgage values of the company and to place $50,000 from the general reserve in reduction of the same asset; making in all an allowance of $59,651 so applied, besides a substantial lessening of the amount brought down in profit and loss account," C. S. Scott, president, declares in his statement to the shareholders.

"They hope, however, that in future years much of this large provision now made may be recovered for the company. They have again scrutinized most carefully all the company's mortgages and investments and have endeavored to place them all in the surest and safest position at the present time of abnormal depreciation in values."

C. S. Scott, Paul J. Myler, Charles Mills, Alan V. Young, Ralph R. Bruce, and Hon. George Lynch-Staunton were elected directors. At a subsequent meeting of the directors, C. S. Scott was re-elected president and P. J. Myler vice-president.

POWER GIVEN BANK CONTROL

Pennsylvania Banks Can Regulate Withdrawals With Approval of Banking Secretary.

OHIO TAKES STEPS.

(By the Associated Press.)

Banks in Pennsylvania and Ohio opened for business to-day, fortified by emergency legislation passed since the close of business yesterday.

By a resolution passed and signed at midnight, Pennsylvania banks received power to regulate withdrawals with the approval of the State Banking Secretary. The restrictions, it was provided ,will not apply to deposits made after a bank invokes the emergency powers.

Ohio passed two laws giving the Superintendent of Banks powers to control withdrawals and slash red tape in liquidation or re-opening of closed banks. The laws provide protection for new depositors. Several banks in the State joined the list restricting withdrawals, bringing the number taking such action in Ohio to over 100.

In Michigan the bookkeeping task involved in getting the two new Ford-backed banks in operation was going ahead, with clerks working in shifts around the clock in an effort to segregate the 1,700,000 accounts that are to be transferred to the new banks. It had been hoped the banks would be opened to-morrow, but the bookkeeping task may necessitate a delay.

Each of Two Companies Promise $6,000 for at Least Another Year.

STAYS IN GREECE.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28 (A.P.)—Samuel Insull, Sr., in Athens, Greece where he has successfully defeated attempts so far to extradite him on indictments growing out of the collapse of his utility empire, today was promised $12,000 annual pension from two of his former companies for at least another year.

Yesterday while a federal grand jury was indicting the former utilities wizard and 18 of his associates on indictments of fraud, stockholders of the Commercial Edison Company and of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois raised no objection when the present chairman, James Simpson, said each concern's pension of $6,000 would be continued to Insull.

Simpson told stockholders of the latter firm the company would be "legally liable" if the pension, granted after Insull resigned the chairmanship and left the United States last summer, was stopped.

Baby of the Month Club Welcomes March's First Baby!

A Hearty Welcome

To March's First Baby, and Congratulations to Mother and Dad

For that cumfy "after-the-bottle feeling," give the baby pure cow's milk properly modified with Robinson's "Patent" Barley. Babies thrive on it . . . it breaks-up the milk and makes it readily digestible.

We are glad to send, with our compliments, a package of Robinson's "Patent" Barley to the new arrival.

FREE TO ALL MOTHERS

Send for a free sample tin of Barley and a copy of "My Book"—an invaluable aid on the care and feeding of babies.

C. E. STRICKLAND CASE CONCLUDED

change for it I got $1,000 in Stoney Lake Hotels stock from Mr. Strickland, and the other $1,000 in Municipal Bankers' Bond."

Mr. Galloway received ten shares of preferred and ten of common stock of Stoney Lake Hotels Limited. He turned over the Toronto Savings and Loan bond to C. E. Strickland some time in December, 1930.

J. C. Strickland

The first defence witness examined by Mr. Stevenson was J. C. Strickland, who in 1930 was a salesman for Willis and Neeley, bond brokers, Toronto. He recounted the sale in May, 1930, of Canadian Terminal bonds to Mrs. Cameron at Indian River.

"I asked Mrs. Cameron if she would take any more. She said, 'No', but that she had a mortgage which she wished she could cash, and would convert some of it into bonds. I told her I could not handle it, but that I would tell C. E. Strickland. I went with him to Cameron's. He said he could not take over the mortgage himself, but that Stoney Lake Hotels Limited might. Mrs. Cameron authorized him to go to Bruce Bickell's and arrange for getting the mortgage. Mrs. Cameron said that if she could get the cash she would take $1,000 in Stoney Lake Hotels Ltd. bonds."

Mr. Strickland stated that the Stoney Lake Hotels Limited was mentioned throughout the conversation with Mrs. Cameron regarding the assignment of the Bickell mortgage. Mrs. Cameron bought $500 of the Hotel bonds.

"In May, 1931, I went to Cameron's when C. E. was going to settle up about the mortgage. He told her he had come to pay her the balance on the mortgage. He asked her if she was in a hurry about getting all the money at that time. He said, 'We are opening up the hotel shortly, and if we have to pay all the cash now we will have to sacrifice some securities, but if it is convenient for you to let this stand till some money was coming in or until securities are disposed of, it will help us out." The Toronto Savings and Loan Company securities were one of those mentioned. Mrs. Cameron said 'If it will help you or the hotel it would be all right, but I'm not going to buy any more securities."

Mr. Stevenson.—Mrs. Cameron testified that she said C. E. Strickland could have the money for three weeks.

Mr. Strickland.—No time was mentioned that I heard. It might have been mentioned when they went to the table to sign up.

Cross-Examination

Mr. McElderry.—You two hunted in pairs?

Mr. Strickland.—Not always.

"You were well known in the country?"

"Pretty well known."

"You were Warden of the county?"

"Yes, in 1922."

"And one of the well-known citizens of the county?"

"I hope so."

"What commission did you get from the Terminals Company?"

Six per cent."

What did C. E. Strickland get?"

"I don't know."

"He, as a Toronto man, might have got more?"

"He was on a part salary. I don't think he would get as much commission as I did."

Mr. McElderry pointed out that Mrs. C. E. Strickland was president, and C. E. Strickland secretary-treasurer of the Stoney Lake Hotels Limited.

Mr. Strickland said he went to Fred Holloway's when "C.E." exchanged Hotel stock for a Toronto Savings and Loan debenture. Witness himself sold Mr. Holloway some Canadian Terminal bonds.

Mr. Strickland said that $37 was offered a short time ago for Terminal bonds on an exchange deal.

Wished to Make Statement

Mr. McElderry.—But there is no cash sale for it to-day?

Mr. Strickland.—I don't know much about it for the last year or so.

"It was pretty nearly out of sight when you got out of it."

Mr. Strickland.—May I make a statement, Your Honor. It seems I'm getting advertising for selling poor bonds.

Judge Huycke told the witness he could make a statement later, but having come as a witness he should answer the Crown Attorney's questions.

Mr. McElderry.—You got $4,000 in Victory Bonds from this family for Canadian Terminal System bonds? Then you asked Mrs. Cameron if she had any other money to invest?

"She mentioned the Bickell mortgage."

"Unfortunately for her, she did. And you went to Bickell's and found out about it?"

"I was selling."

"Were not these Terminal bonds particularly suitable for selling to women and widows; people not experienced in such transactions?"

"I wouldn't say that. A lot of merchants were buyers in Western Ontario."

Referring to one of C. E. Strickland's letters to Mrs. Cameron, witness said he presumed it meant that "C.E." was holding for her a Toronto Savings and Loan Company $2,000 bond.

"And that her money had gone into it?" Mr. McElderry said.

"I don't know anything about that."

"What other interpretation can the letter bear?"

After reading the letter, witness said: "I presume he (C. E. Strickland) meant that he took part of her money and invested it in the Toronto Savings and Loan Company."

Witness said he had sold in this locality about $40,000 of Terminal securities.

Mr. McElderry.—There is no market for Stoney Lake Hotels stock? It is of no value to-day?

Mr. Strickland.—I wouldn't consider it was.

Judge Huycke said he would hear any statement witness wished to make.

"Your Honor, I don't want it to go around that I was dishonestly selling stock or bonds. Before I joined Willis and Neeley of Toronto as a salesman I found out that they had always paid their dividends and that they sold only dollar for dollar bonds. I went to three lawyers in Peterborough for their advice before taking the position. Any bonds I sold are paying dividends except Canadian Terminals."

Mr. McElderry.—One law firm refused to advise or give recommendation for this company.

Mr. Strickland.—I don't know who they were. I quite agree about it after a time and I stopped selling.

Mr. Stevenson, in reviewing the case said there was no evidence that the money went into the hands of C. E. Strickland but that it was brought before Mrs. Cameron that she was dealing with the Stoney Lake Hotels Company when she assigned the Bickell mortgage.

Mr. McElderry emphasized some of the points of the case upon which he urged there should be a conviction.

Standing Committees Appointed By Board

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 28 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—Standing committees for the year were appointed last evening by the Campbellford Board of Education at the regular meeting held in the Public Library and presided over by Vice-Chairman G. A. Kingston. The committees are as follows, the first-named being the chairman: Internal—Dr. H. O. Richardson, Dr. O. C. Watson, J. A. Irwin, T. E. Hall; Finance—George O'Sullivan, Wm. Cock, A. J. Armour, G. A. Kingston; Property—J. R. Smith, Roy Loucks, Wm. Stephens, Walter Henson, D. J. Lynch. The committee that brought in the recommendation for the above committees consisted of A. G. Thompson, chairman; G. A. Kingston, vice-chairman; and Wesley Stephens, clerk.

An application of Miss Helen Bygott, qualified kindergarten-primary teacher of the Public School, that she be granted the grant allowed to the Board from the Department on her qualification was allowed. This is for the current year, and for the purpose of helping to defray the expense Miss Bygott was under when she took extra courses during the summer to gain these qualifications.

A report was received from J. G. Graham, insurance boiler inspector, stating that the boilers at the High School were in first-class condition. This, on motion, was received and fyled.

To correct a misunderstanding on the part of the public that James Massie, caretaker at the High School, receives a salary of $3,000, in addition to which his son, Clarence Massie, who undertakes the care of the Public School, also receives pay, Mr. Massie requested that it be put on record on the books that he himself was the caretaker for the High School and his son James occupies that position at the Public School, and that the salary is equally divided between them both. Mr. Massie pointed out that the board had always paid them separately, equally dividing the combined salary of $3,000, and that he and his son worked together on both the schools, and he would like the public to know this fact to correct any error it may have on the subject.

announcement to-day that the Montreal retailers had already cut their prices one cent a quart.

Toronto price spreads were as great as they were in Montreal, according to Frank Boyes (Cons., East Middlesex). The Queen City might be one of the most important places in the country to probe, he thought.

Dr. Pickel moved for Montreal as the starting point, seconded by H. J. Barber (Cons., Fraser Valley). The motion was adopted.

Name Sub-Committee.

Proceeding smoothly along, the committee then adopted a motion at the suggestion of the chairman for the appointment of a sub-committee for the summoning of witnesses. The sub-committee will consist of W. E. Tummon (Cons., Hastings South); T. M. Cyley (Lib., Oxford South); E. O. Bertrand (Lib. Prescott); W. J. Loucks (Cons., Rosetown); and Dr. F. H. Pickel (Cons., Brome Mississquoi).

"Taking a special point for enquiry, and dealing with it, such as Montreal, meets with my approval," interjected Hon. W. R. Motherwell former Liberal Minister of Agriculture. "A similar condition exists all over Canada. There is too little money left in the pockets of the farmers, especially considering the prices paid by the consumers."

35 P.C. to Producer

The milk producers of Canada get, roughly, 35 per cent of what the consumer pays the retailer, according to evidence presented to the house to-day.

Two witnesses were Dr. J. F. Singleton, Dairy Commissioner, and Dr. J. F. Booth, director of agricultural economics. Both presented statements on consumption figures and price spreads in various cities of Canada. Dr. Booth's evidence set forth that in two Canadian cities, Shawinigan Falls and Three Rivers, the spread was less than five cents a quart, while in one—Saint John—the spread was 7.5 cents.

Clerics Ask Stronger Pictures Of Christ

(By Thomas T. Champion, C.P. Staff Writer.)

LONDON, Feb. 28 (C.P. Cable).—Many distinguished clerics, including the Bishop of Liverpool, the Dean of Canterbury and the Moderator of the Church of Scotland, have united in a letter in which they deprecate "weak and effeminate pictures of our Lord," which, they said, are so often put before children.

The signatories state that a child obtains more vivid ideas of religion from pictures than from talk. False impressions take years to eradicate, and in many instances are never discarded. "Even the old masters whose great pictures so deeply satisfy many, often fail to meet the needs of children."

London Going Ahead With Cancer Clinic

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 28 (C.P.)—After some delay through uncertainty over the fate of Victoria Hospital, London is going ahead with plans for the Government Cancer Clinic. Plans were presented to trustees of Victoria Hospital last night by T. F. Kingsmill, Jr., chairman. About $200,000 for building is involved to be shared by the government, the city, and the Meek fund.

Although Dr. A. A. Allen of the Provincial Hospital Inspection Staff condemned Victoria Hospital in his report last December, the trust was informed last night the Department of Health will not force the city to build a new hospital. Times are too hard, was the reason given.

PRESBYTERIANS UPHELD IN USE OF CHURCH TITLE

(Canadian Press Despatch)

HALIFAX, Feb. 28.—There is no statutory prohibition against the continuing Presbyterians using the name "the Presbyterian Church in Canada," according to a decision of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia. The decision upheld another tyied by Mr. Justice W. F. Carroll in connection with the will of Jessie Gray of Hopewell, Pictou County.

Bequests included one of $500 to "the Home Mission Fund of the Presbyterian Church in Canada," and one of $500 to "the Foreign Mission Fund of the Presbyterian Church in Canada."

The will was dated July 7, 1921 four years before the United Church of Canada was formed by a merging of a section of the Presbyterian Church along with the Methodist Church and the Congregational.

COLORFUL COSTUMES FEATURE OF ICE CARNIVAL AT BROCK

ANNOUNCE PRIZE WINNERS

The Ice Carnival at Brock street rink last night was one of the most successful affairs of its kind ever staged here. All evening, from eight o'clock on, the skaters and dancers, in fancy outfits and in plain attire, crowded in the doors, until there were over thirteen hundred people present. The majority of these were spectators, but there were over three hundred on the ice for the skating, which took place from eight to ten o'clock, with the band of the Peterborough Rangers, under Lt. Peryer, performing nobly. In the enclosure arranged in the center of the rink, dancing took place, with moccasins, goloshes and rubbers serving as footwear, and Mose Yokom's ten-piece orchestra playing splendid music.

Manager Harold LaPlante is to be congratulated on the manner in which he put this event over and the hard work he put into its preparation.

The big rink was dolled up in a manner that was brilliant and exceptionally effective. Perhaps never in its history has it appeared to better advantage. The whole scene was in keeping with the spirit of carnival and jollity that prevailed all evening. If there were any who didn't have a perfectly good time, they were not visible anywhere.

Gayly Decorated

Color and light and music provided the appropriate setting for the gay skaters and dancers and their costumes were varied and full of color. Overhead were long strings of red and green lights and dozens of balloons in vivid hues. The side pillars were festooned with fanshaped decorations in warm red, green, gold and purple. Long silk shades in the same tones depended from the electroliers and their were dozens of huge Japanese lanterns with pendant tassels. The corners of the rink were filled with Christmas trees and the platform for the orchestra was arranged with palms and tall standards filled with artificial flowers.

Fred Scates acted as Master of Ceremonies.

The judges—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Taylor, Miss Mamie McCarthy and Miss Cathleen McCarthy—had a difficult task in judging the costumes. Their brilliance and gay tones combined with the bright decorations, the illuminations, the music and the noise-makers, to make a shifting kaleidoscope of dazzling color and movement over the smooth, glittering sheet of ice, that ground by hundreds of steel skates, changed to a soft pulp before the evening was over. The enclosure remained free all evening for the dancing, which took place later.

Varied Costumes

A big spotlight played on the outfits of those taking part in the masquerade. Original and unique were many of the costumes, especially that of the big white rooster which made its way around the rink all evening, and the young girl whose costume was formed of portions of The Examiner that advertised the Carnival.

Then there were three clowning hoboes who created gales of laughter all evening. They were merry lads, with a rubber-jointed individual held up by two untiring companions. There was a plump and serious schoolboy with large book bag over his shoulder; there were pirates and quaint Japanese maidens and a lordly mandarin; there were Spanish dancers and Mexican vaqueros; a Zulu chieftain complete with ear bangles and kinky poll and leopard-skin breech-clout; there were Columbines and Pierrettes and gypsies; little red-clad devils and innocent fairy queens, all in white; western cowboys and Indians with buckskin fringe; sailor boys and gents with silk hats; Dolly Dimples with gingham rompers, and quaint Colonial dames with powder and patches.

It was a colorful spectacle that made its way swiftly past the judges' seats. Finally they awarded the prizes as follows:

Ladies' fancy, a three-piece silk lingerie set, to Miss Anne Timm of 454 Chamberlain street, as a Geisha; ladies' comic, a bathrobe, to Miss Mildred Mortimer of 551 Weller street, as a hobo, complete with clay pipe and patched raiment; Men's fancy, a three-piece set of shirt, hose and tie, to Sherman Preston of 41 Albertus street, as an Arab shiek; men's comic, a silk scarf, to Percy Dunford of 389 Queen street, as Aunt Jemima; boys' fancy windbreaker, to Walter Wood of 340 McGill street, as a Zulu; boy's comic, a pair of kid gloves, to Ernest Gledhill of 569 Gilmour street, as a schoolboy; girls' fancy, a pair of silk pyjamas, to Miss Florence Lasenby of 481 Patterson street, as a Mexican dancer; girls' comic, raincoat and hat, to Miss Winifred Norton of 168 McDonnel street, as a walking edition of The Examiner. The special prize for the most original costume, a picture went to Malcolm McArthur of 185 London street, in a rooster outfit.

Credit for much of the success of the affair, of course, is due to the Weather Man, who smiled on the event, and who commenced to get read for it on Saturday night, with a crisp and invigorating cold wave.

Too Much

CHICAGO, Feb. 28 (A.P.).—A judge ruled in denying separate maintenance to Mrs. Cecelia A. Bilke that a man has a right to leave home if continually nagged.

"If I lolled in the bathtub she nagged me," said Benjamin Bilke, her husband. "She nagged me if I spent an evening at the church bazaar.. I tried living in a woodshed and she called that desertion."

"A man, observed the Judge, "doesn't have to take it all his life."

C. E. STRICKLAND GETS TWO YEARS

that the balance of the funds would be deposited in the Dominion Bank as requested by Mrs. Cameron.

A little later, Judge Huycke continued, another letter from Mr. Strickland to the informant, Mrs. Cameron, that he was having the Bickell mortgage finally adjusted, and when the funds were in hand he would deposit them in the bank with a deduction of $500 for the Hotel stock she had agreed to buy. There could be no question on the evidence and by Mr. Strickland's own admissions that he did receive the money on terms requiring him to account to Mrs. Cameron. There was no doubt that he did get the mortgage, and that he converted to his own use the $1,300, and still had it. Once he had paid for the investment in Hotels stock for Mrs. Cameron and failed to deposit the balance in the bank to her account, he fraudulently converted the money to his own use, and committed a theft as defined in the Code.

"I have no alternative," Judge Huycke concluded, "much as I regret it, but to find that Mr. Strickland is guilty of the offense with which he is charged."

Moves for Sentence

After Mr. McElderry had moved for sentence, Judge Huycke told the accused to stand up and informed him that he would hear anything he wished to say.

"I wish to say," Mr. Strickland began, "that it is a most unfortunate occurrence for the reason that there was absolutely no intent in anything I did in connection with this unfortunate woman. It is unfortuate in view of the conditions prevailing at the present time. I did not go into the box because I had confidence because of admissions by Mrs. Cameron and also in the evidence of Mr. J. G. Strickland. I was never in a criminal court before on any charge."

Wants to Pay Back

"I am fifty years of age, and have a wife and family depending on me, and under present conditions there is great difficulty in making bread and butter. I feel that Mrs. Cameron is greatly interested in getting her money back, and I am just as much interested in paying her back. If sentence is imposed on me it will make it virtually impossible for me to come back. It is true that the horizon is cloudy, but once the horizon clears it would mean only some extra hard work. I appreciate this opportunity of putting my case before you. The thing I regret most of all is that if I am sentenced I'll not have an opportunity of repaying her. It has been firmly fixed in my mind all along that Mrs. Cameron would not lose one cent as a result of this transaction. If I were able to go into the witness box I am sure I could convince this court that there was no wrong intent in anything I did."

Mr. Strickland said that when he called on Mrs. Cameron on May 17 he realized that Mrs. Cameron's money was a trust fund and that he had an obligation to fulfil toward her.

"I went out with available proceeds in the bank at Toronto. We did not care very much whether Mrs. Cameron decided whether or not she wanted all her money then. An accommodation of time meant a saving of one per cent. I told her it would be a help to us and also that there was no charge for collecting the money from the mortgage. She offered to give us time until the securities we were holding made some recovery. We had Walker's stock for $2,100, a Toronto Saving and Loan Company bond for $2,000, some Industrial Alcohol and Loblaw securities. There was plenty of money in the bank to pay back Mrs. Cameron that day and leave a small surplus. If she had insisted that day upon getting her money she could have had it. Mrs. Cameron was so nice and agreeable about it that I never gave it another thought.

Hoped for Profits

I felt that at the end of that season of 1931 there would be profits enough from the hotel and from appreciation of the securities to pay her then. But everything went against us. There were no profits to speak of from the hotel, and the securities depreciated."

Mr. Strickland said he paid Mrs. Cameron $200, and on May 17 gave her a cheque for $500 which he was not required to pay.

"She lent us the full amount that was coming to her from the mortgage after deducting $500 for the stock she bought. There was an additional $500 which we did not feel we needed then. I told her she might as well have it, but Mrs. Cameron said that any day it was convenient to us would be all right with her. I said I would appreciate it if she took it, and I wrote out the cheque for $500."

Morally Obligated

Mr. Strickland said that he felt morally obligated to Mrs. Cameron, but not legally.

"I felt I was obligated to see that she got her money. I think that is a true picture of the situation. I have a statement from the bank showing the securities we held on that day I called at her home, and also the amount we owed then. If the court is able to take a lenient and sympathetic view of the matter it will be largely in her interest and also in the interest of my wife and family. I don't know what will become of them.

I think that if Mrs. Cameron were asked about it that she would agree that all I have said is true. All that I feel that I am guilty of was gross carelessness in this case. I believe that Mrs. Cameron would concur in any leniency extended to me in these circumstances."

Mr. Stevenson briefly pleaded for the accused, and stating that the depression had placed many people in a position in which they were not able to pay their debts. It was due in some respect to these conditions that Mr. Strickland was in the position in which he found himself today.

Mr. Strickland added that he had never received the direct benefit of one cent of Mrs. Cameron's money. It was paid into the account of the Stoney Lake Hotels Limited.

"Neither I nor my family received direct benefit of one cent. The shareholders are diversified, and if there was any direct benefit it went to them as a whole. If I had directly benefited I'd gladly take my medicine. Nor was there even indirect benefit. Mrs. Strickland paid in more than she received from the company."

Heavy Penalty

Mr. McElderry said that the penalty imposed by the code for this offense was fourteen years. The amount of money involved was quite substantial.

"It was obtained deliberately as a bank robber would obtain money, and I think it is a case for a substantial sentence," Mr. McElderry stated.

"And you press for it?" Judge Huycke asked.

"Yes Your Honour," Mr. McElderry replied.

Judge Huycke said he had not wished to try this case, and had tried to get a Judge from outside this district who did not know the principals.

Servant of Law

"I was unable to do so. The responsibility is thrust on me, and I have taken an oath to do those things. We have this woman who has lost a lot of money. The law is put there as the law of Canada. The judges do not make it. I am only a servant of the law. It does not say that the punishment shall be fourteen years in every case. There are certain circumstances in this case that must be taken into consideration. It is a lamentable case. It is heartbreaking to see people go to prison and wives and children suffer want. I must adhere to the law, but there is some latitude given me.

Mr. Strickland it is a real grief to me to have to sentence an intelligent man such as you are. You have done very wrong in this matter. Probably you did think that things would come out right some time. It was my painful duty to find you guilty, and it is painful now to sentence you."

After pronouncing the sentence of two years less one day in the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph, one year to be determinate and one indeterminate, Judge Huycke expressed the hope that this case would be a lesson to two classes of people, those who in a desire to acquire more money convert good securities, such as Victory Bonds, into stock of very doubtful value, and also persons who go around selling such stock, using all kinds of influence and persuasion to sell people, especially widows and other persons who are inexperienced in investments.

MORE SHEFFIELD STEEL COMING INTO DOMINION

SHEFFIELD, England, Feb. 28 (C.P. Cable) — "We are booking more orders in Canada than ever before and the Americans are losing ground rapidly in the last important outside market left them as far as heavy steel and iron goods are concerned," declares today's issue of the official journal of the Sheffield Chamber of Commerce.

The journal says the trade tide seems to have turned at last with the broadening demands of this country meeting incressing business with the dominions.

"The Germans have so often increased wages since the war and so seldom reduced them, together with the fact their rationalization schemes have so completely failed, that their iron and steel costs are much above pre-war levels. In contrast to this British costs are only slightly higher. For prices only fractionally higher than 1913 our manufacturers are offering very much improved steel products," states the journal.

COMMITTEE IS APPOINTED TO AID IN RESTORING FUNDS

St. John's Church Lays Plans to Aid in Dominion-wide Campaign.

ADVISORY BOARD MEETS.

With the appointment of a Restoration Fund Committee at a joint dinner meeting of the Advisory Board and the churchwardens last evening, St. John's Church laid the foundation for the work the congregation is to undertake in the replacement of the endowments lost in the Province of Rupert's Land.

The Restoration Fund is founded upon the official action of the whole of the Church of England in Canada, expressed in the decision of the Executive Council of the General Synod, assembled by the Primate in special session.

The campaign which seeks to replace the capital of all the Church funds lost in Rupert's Land amounting to approximately $760,000, is now strongly underway throughout Canada. It will be brought to a culmination in an "every member canvass" to be carried out during the second week after Easter Day, the 23rd to 30th of April.

Ven. Archdeacon R. C. Blagrave, D.D., before naming his committee, briefly outlined the whole situation. While he was not in a position to say just what amount St. John's Church would be expected to raise towards the Restoration Fund, he believer it would be in the neighborhood of $3,000 over a three-year period.

The Restoration Fund Committee was named as follows: Chris Graham, rector's warden; R. T. E. Hicks-Lyne, people's warden; D. B. Falkner, H. W. Morphet, Dr. G. S. Cameron, W. J. Kent, Harold Morrow, F. M. Dela Fosse, W. R. Thompson, F. D. Kerr, K.C., Charles Coleman, A. Stevenson, D. J. Lawrie, E. Sorby, John Comstock, N. Horn, Bert Graham, W. C. Ackerman, E. S. Martin, W. Turner, H. Robson, W. R. L. Blackwell, Fred Hills, W. Sangster, W. Gray, R. N. Stuart, H. A. Lemmings, S. T. Medd, J. Patterson, H. Choate, H. C. Sootheran.

Officers Elected.

Dr. G. S. Cameron was unanimously elected as chairman of the Church Advisory Board for the ensuing year, while W. R. Thompson was re-elected as secretary of the Board.

Touching upon what he termed a misunderstanding, particularly on the part of strangers to the city, regarding pew rents, Archdeacon Blagrave wished it to be clearly understood that there was always plenty of room in the church at all services. It was not necessary, he pointed out emphatically, for anyone to have pew sittings in the church in order to attend the church. If persons who did rent pews were not in their places at the time appointed for the commencement of the service, he said, those seats were then available for anyone who desired to occupy them. But even apart from that, he again emphasized that there were no restrictions regarding the seating accommodation at the church.

Message of Condolence.

On the suggestion of F. D. Kerr, K.C., a telegraphed message of condolence was sent from the meeting to the family of Mrs. Hazen Ritchie at Vancouver. Mrs. Ritchie, formerly Miss Mabel Barlee of this city, died yesterday at her home in Vancouver.

Mr. Kerr made reference to Mrs. Ritchie's years of self-sacrificing work as a member of St. John's Church.

Entirely in accord with the suggestion, Mr. Graham, as rector's warden, delegated Mr. Kerr to send a message of sympathy from the meeting. He also asked for the observance of a period of silence, during which the gathering rose to its feet. Mr. Hazen, it is understood, was formerly engineer on the staff of the Canadian General Electric Company here. He and his late wife left for the Pacific Coast some fourteen years ago.

include raw materials such as cotton, Iron and oil, he declared it would be considered an unfriendly act and would arouse strong feeling.

An embargo against Japan alone also would be considered in the same manner and would result in preparation in Japan to resist forcibly, he added. (Senator Borah stated in Washington yesterday that enforcing an embargo, as imposed by Great Britain, "is to take sides against Japan.")

CLING TO PASS.

PEIPING, China, Feb. 28.—(A.P.) Chinese troops defending the pass of Paishihtsuimen still clung to that gap in the mountains half way between Chaoyang and Chihfeng to-day despite the pounding they were getting from Japanese artillery.

Japanese press reports said the attackers had carried the pass, but Chinese official dispatches said the defenders were so snugly entrenched in the hillsides that the enemy could make no headway.

Time after time the Japanese sent waves of infantry charging up the pass, the Chinese command reported. At each attack the Chinese withheld their fire until the enemy was almost at pointblank range. Then the defenders cut loose with machine guns and mowed them down.

Chinese reports from all fronts indicated a lull in the fighting during the past 24 hours with virtually no change in the main defence line. The weather evidently was hampering Japanese operations. At some points the temperature was 30 degrees below zero Fahrenheit, but south of the great wall the thaw already has begun.

Judgment Is Given In Favor Of Dainard

The Honorable Mr. Justice Garrow gave judgment to-day in favor of Wesley Dainard of South Monaghan, in a motion to interpret the will of the late William A. Dainard of Port Hope, an uncle of Wesley Dainard.

Mr. Justice Garrow found that the $500 legacy was immediately due and payable to Wesley Dainard. The executors disputed this and declined to pay it without the will being interpreted by the court.

W. F. McMahon of Port Hope appeared for the executors, A. R. Wilmot of Cobourg appeared for the widow of the late William A. Dainard and the Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C. appeared for Wesley Dainard.

SPYING on SPORTS

"Gossip and Such"

• • •

THE OTHER TWO-THIRDS consists of a handsome, burly Greek—Jim Londos—and a bulky graduate of the University of Michigan — one Ed Don George.

THOSE FACTIONS UNDER whose auspices Mr. Browning and Mr. Londos wrestle regard their respective men as the only genuine champion but they are not unconscious of the claims of the other.

• • •

BROWNING IS CHAMPION in New York, Pennsylvania and California. Londos is the title holder in most other states where wrestling is regarded as a sport. Apparently, Browning and Londos both regard Ed Don George as a strictly minor league world heavyweight wrestling champion.

• • •

THE CONFUSION WHICH exists in the wrestling setup is far from a new development in the sport. It dates from the retirement of Frank Gotch, still regarded as the greatest matman of all time.

WHEN GOTCH QUIT IN 1913 a host of title claimants arose. One group of grunters banded together and proclaimed a champion. Champions of this group included the better known heavyweight grapplers such as Earl Caddock, Joe Stecher, Stanislaus Zbyszko, Wayne Munn and Ed (Strangler) Lewis.

HOWEVER, INDEPENDENT wrestlers repeatedly proclaimed themselves champion. By 1930 these independents were banded together in another group.

• • •

GUS SONNENBERG WAS the champion of one group while Dick Shikat was regarded as title holder by the other

• • •

ED DON GEORGE TOSSED Sonnenberg and then lost to Lewis while Londos threw Shikat to gain the crown of the eastern group.

• • •

A THIRD CHAMPION ENtered the picture when Henri de Glane was awarded Lewis' title by a Canadian commission following an alleged foul by the Strangler in a match held in Canada. However, Lewis' crowd still claimed him the champion.

WHEN LEWIS, A YEAR ago, demanded Londons meet him and Jim's crowd ignored the challenge, the New York commission dethroned Londos and proclaimed Lewis champion. But the Londosites continue to claims the crown.

MEANWHILE, DE GLANE lost his "title" to Ed Don George who wrestles for the same group Browning represents. So now they have two champions to the other group's one.

• • •

THOUGH HE HAD BEEN wrestling for eight years little was known of the past history of Browning when he ascended his share of the mat throne. So this department by great effort, has accumulated some data on the subject.

BROWNING, NOW A RESIdent of Boston, really hails from a farm near Verona, Mo. He weighs 230 pounds, is six feet, two inches tall. He's married.

JIM PLAYED FOOTBALL at Drury college, Springfield, Mo., and also was a track man. He would be good looking if it were not for a couple of biscuit ears (badges of his mat servitude) and a gold tooth or two. But then, perhaps those features fit in with your idea of manly beauty.

Lode-gold claims were worked in the Cariboo district of British Columbia as long ago as 1878 though it was the discovery of rich placer deposits that gave the Cariboo its fame in the annals of gold mining in Canada.

PIRATES BEAT LAKEFIELD 5-4

DISTRICT GAME PROTESTED

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 28.— (Examiner Correspondence.)—The Pirates of Peterborough put one over the local intermediates 5-4 on Saturday night in a spectacular game which was well worth a larger crowd. The game was an exhibition fixture and produced some fine stick handling, fast skating and strenuous back checking. It was clean and there were no major penalties given and none were earned. The locals were minus Wingett, their trusty left defence man, also Wannamaker, their goalie, and Stuart, their left wing, but had acquired Dave McCulloch, who played last season with them and who is a fast skater and expert stick handler. Ken Junkin was in the nets and played a good game. Every man on the two teams played good hockey. The line-up:

Pirates—Goal, Babbs; r. defence, B. Bailey; l. defence, Price; centre, Watman; r. wing, Payne; l. wing, Rogers. Subs, Mowry, Watson, J. Bailey.

Battle to 4-4 Tie.

Gill's Greyhounds—Goal, H. Hill; Lake Falcons battled out a great game on Thursday night to a 4-4 tie decision, which game, however, has been protested by the Falcons, and it will be replayed next week as it affects the standing of the district league. The game was not as clean as these games usually have been and the feeling ran high. Referee B. Blewett handed out lots of penalties, but even that did not altogether clear the air.

G. Kidd and W. Rome each scored in the first period, while Graham and Kidd were penalized, also Coppway. W. Rome scored the only goal in the second period while Ted Gill landed two penalties and H. Gill and Roseborough one each. The third period was the Waterloo, and though the hour was late the battle raged in a determined effort of each team to end victors. The two Gills and Kidd each scored and George McCue, while Rome got 2. Rome, Coppway and P. Knott each drew a penalty. The line-up was as follows:

Gill's Greyhounds—Goal, H. Hill; r. defence, H. Gill; l. defence, T. Gill; centre, A. Roseborough; r. wing, N. Graham; l. wing, E. Bickell. Subs, N. Bickell, G. Kidd, L. Charlton

JONES SCORES WINNING GOAL IN FAST GAME

BRILLIANT GOALTENDING.

HASTINGS, Feb. 28 (Examiner Correspondence)—The Carters hold the edge on the Combines in the play-off for the East Peterborough League championship as a result of their 3 to 2 win on Monday night before a packed crowd at Norwood Arena. The game was the fastest of the season and referee Archie Weir of Peterborough kept the boys well under control for the sixty minutes.

Both goalies played stellar games and were given airtight defense. The forward lines on both teams travelled fast all night.

The game opened very fast, both goalies were extended in the first few minutes. McConnel missed a nice chance for the Combines and Jones done the same. Fred Cripps and Norm Calladine were right in on a smart passing play but Foley outguessed them. Fred Cripps received an injury to his wrist on the play and was obliged to retire for the balance of the game. Magee got the first one for Carters taking Maudsley's pass and giving Beavis no chance to save on a hard shot after thirteen minutes of play. The Combines put on the speed but Foley was like a stonewall. Bill Cripps was right into the goal mouth but was outguessed. Beavis pulled off a smart save on Magee's shot, and repeated on Meagher after he and Stante had fooled the Norwood defense. Pat Calladine drew the first penalty of the game for slashing. Stante got the gate as the bell went to end the period.

Opens Fast in Second

Pat Calladine was right in on top of Foley to open the second but was upset by Lackey. Bill Cripps was robbed on a nice solo effort the whole Carter team ganging him at the goal mouth. Beavis was hit in the eye with the puck and the game was held up while he underwent repairs. Stante and Webb started to mix things and were chased. Lackey was outguessed by Beavis on a close one. Norm Calladine missed a nice one to Foley, after splitting the defense.

Magee put the Carters 2 to 0 when he scored on a hard shot from close in after rounding the defense. The Combines were on the pressure at the end of the period, Foley stopped a hard one from Stevenson.

"Moose" Scriver, one of the stars of the game, got the first goal for the Combines. He carried the puck through, shot, missing the nets. Pat Calladine followed in and made a perfect pass out from the corner. Pat Calladine and Bill Cripps worked right in, only to have Foley pull one of his marvellous saves. Meagher had Beavis at his mercy, then shot wide.

Ties The Count.

"Moose" Scriver, the husky defenceman, tied the count on a pretty solo effort with 8 minutes to go. Three minutes later B. Jones gave Carters the lead on Meagher's assist.

The Combines pressed hard but Foley could not be beaten, although he was very lucky on a Calladine, Cripps to Webb combination in the last thirty seconds.

For Carters, Foley, McGee and Lackey were standouts.

Beavis in goal, Scriver and Norm. Calladine were the pick of the Combines.

Carters—Goal, Foley; defence, Swanger and Lackey; centre Maudsley; wings, Williams and Meagher. Subs: McGee, Stante, B. Jones, H. Jones.

Combines—Goal, Beavis; defence, Webb and B. Cripps; centre, F. Cripps; wings, N. Calladine, P. Calladine, P. Calladine. Subs.: Stevenson, McConnell, Rogers and Scriver.

Referee—Archie Weir.

First period:

Carters—McGee (Maudsley).

Penalties—P. Calladine, Stante.

Second period:

Carters—McGee.

Penalties—Stante and Webb.

Third period:

Norwood—Scriver (Calladine).

Norwood—Scriver.

Carters—B. Jones (Meagher).

Wings Have Chance To Clinch Honors

Can Boost Margin to Five Points by Dfeating Maroons and Senators.

TORONTO, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Enabled to get in some flinging while the foe sits by, Detroit Red Wings tonight start a two-game campaign in Canada that will go a long way toward deciding the final standing of the National Hockey League's United States section.

While New York Rangers, a single point behind Detroit, are idle the Red Wings play Maroons tonight at Montreal and Senators Thursday night at Ottawa. They can boost their margin over Rangers to five points by winning both.

As each of the U. S. division leaders have eight games to play, Rangers will have the final say. They play two games after Detroit has finished its schedule.

Canadiens, battling to overcome New York Americans in third place in the Canadian group, play Maple Leafs at Toronto, tonight—not a hopeful assignment. Ottawa visits Boston Bruins.

Three Minor League Playoffs To-Night

Three promising play-off games by minor league teams will be staged to-night at the Brock, starting at six and running till nine. The City League finalists, P.C.I. and Rotary meet at eight o'clock in the first of their two-out-of three series for the loop title and the Tully Trophy. It's Warne Bros.' bantams vs. Empire Cubs of the Southend League at six, followed at seven by Rangers and Albion Knitting juveniles, also of the Southend circuit.

Plenty of fast, close action is promised in all three contests. In each case, this is the first of a three-game series, and each team will try hard to get the jump. The boys play smart hockey, putting all they have into it and playing fairly clean most of the way, though rugged enough at times. A number of players on every one of these six outfits is marked as a future—maybe next winter—O.H.A. prospect. Fans are guaranteed a lively card of entertainment when the kids clash on good ice up there this evening.

Corbett Kayoes Mitchell to Settle Bitter Feud Between Heavy Champions

This is the fifth of a series of brief articles, relating Jim Corbett's most famous fights—from his first battle with Joe Choynski, in 1884, to his final fight with Jim Jeffries, in 1903.)

BY WILLIAM RITT

NO. 5—CORBETT VS. MITCHELL

A YEAR and a half after winning the world heavyweight title from John L. Sullivan, Jim Corbett defended it for the first time. His opponent was Charley Mitchell, the British champion, who, in 1888 had fought a 39-round draw with Sullivan near Chantilly, France, knocking John L. down.

The Corbett-Mitchell battle was a grudge fight. Both men hated each other, the result of many months of continual insulting and belittling of each other in newspaper columns. Once, in New York, Mitchell met Corbett in a theater and tried to start a fight.

The Duval Athletic club in Jacksonville, Fla., promoted the fight, offering a purse of $20,000, winner take all.

Both jumped at the chance. Despite the disparity in their weights—Corbett, 188 pounds; Mitchell, 156—it looked like a good fight. The Briton, a middleweight, was a clever boxer, had a powerful punch and amazing endurance.

Brother Mortgages Home

SO SURE were Corbett's friends and family that he would win—the odds were two to one on the champion—his brother, Tom, mortgaged his home to bet that Jim would kayo Mitchell.

Thus, Corbett was not only fighting to retain his title but to keep his kin from going bankrupt.

When Corbett crawled through the ropes into the Jacksonville ring that afternoon of Jan. 25, 1894, there were but 2,500 spectators present. However, they had paid $25 to $35 each for their seats. Sportr writers had to pay $20 for their seats along the ring.

Mitchell made Corbett wait an hour for him in the ring and when they received instructions from the referee he infuriated the champion with his insults.

Lands First

THE BRITON landed the first hard blow—the first time Corbett experienced such a thing in his career—a jab to the face, cutting Corbett's lip in the first round. Corbett rallied and the round was about even.

Early in the second round a right to the body hurt Mitchell and as the round ended he was floored. Perhaps Charley did not hear the bell. Anyway, he rose from the floor and slugged Corbett. Jim slammed back. And they slugged it out in the center of the ring, the crowd roaring with excitement and the time keeper frantically whanging away.

Their seconds finally tore the two apart and they went to their corners. Within a few seconds the bell sent them back into action, slugging like maniacs. Corbett's right smash to the jaw spun Mitchell around. He staggered and then plunged face forward to the floor.

A count was unnecessary.

NEXT: Corbett vs. Fitzsimmons.

QUEEN'S JUNIORS WHITEWASHED NEWMARKET WINS ROUND 13-0

GOALKEEPER JAMES HURT.

OSHAWA, Feb. 28.—The fast Newmarket squad soundly trounced Queen's University Juniors here last night 8—0, winning the round 13—0 as a result of their 5—0 victory in the Limestone City last Friday night.

The Red Shirts were full value for their win, outskating and outplaying the Tricolor team consistently. Newmarket controlled the play practically all the time, their speedy rushes placing them in a scoring position time after time. The Kingston boys were slow to take advantage of the breaks which came their way, allowing Newmarket to skate back and block their attacks.

An accident to James in the Kingston goal held the game up for about 15 minutes in the second period. He dove out to block Peterson's shot and the puck caught him just above the eye, causing a rather serious cut and Christie finished the game in the nets.

Only seven penalties were imposed, Newmarket having four and Kingston three.

Newmarket—Goal, Forder; defence, Doran and Vail; centre, Huggins; wings, Kelly and Peterson; subs., Mann, Wilson, McCarthur and Preston; sub-goal, Parr.

Queen's.—Goal, James; defence, Gibson and Smith; centre, Wing; wings, Bain and Lewis; subs, McQuaig, Brydon, Hoffman and McNabb; sub-goal, Christie.

Referee—Johnnie Mitchell.

FREDDIE MILLER WILL DEFEND TITLE TO-NIGHT

(By Paul Zimmerman, Associated Press Sports Writer)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28 (A.P.)—Alberto Arizmendi, a sturdy little Aztec who took up fisticuffs at the age of eight in the bull rings of old Mexico for candy and centavos, will fight Freddie Miller for the featherweight championship of the world to-night.

Baby Arizmendi he was then, and now a 19-year-old veteran of almost 300 bouts, he still is the brown baby of Mexico City.

Miller, a 21-year-old scrapper from Cincinnati, who several months ago southpawed his way to a decision over Tommy Paul to win the National Boxing Association feather title, is favored in his first defense of the crown.

The defender has shown more in the gymnasium in the way of sound boxing ability, which is the reason for the odds of 10 to 9 in his behalf.

ENGLAND WINS FIFTH MATCH BY 8 WICKETS

Returns Score of 454 in First Innings and 168 for Two of Second.

SMALL CROWD ATTENDS.

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 28 (C.P. Cable).—A meagre crowd of 5,000 persons to-day saw W. R. Hammond, Gloucester pro., hit the last ball of the last cricket test match out of the grounds to give England victory over Australia by eight wickets. Australia scored 435 and 182, England 454 and 168 for two.

The match had no bearing on the outcome of the series, as England won back the "ashes" and the world's cricket supremacy by taking the fourth game and the rubber at Brisbane ten days ago.

The visitors had an overnight score of 11 without loss of a wicket when play was resumed this morning. By lunch time they had increased their total to 70, losing two wickets, one of them for no runs. Maurice Leyland, Yorkshire pro., was bowled by a delivery from H. Ironmonger which bounced off his pads. He had not scored. Ironmonger was taking advantage of rough spots on the wicket and bowling a tantalizing length. D. R. Jardine, the English captain, had already fallen before his trundling when he tried to drive the ball. It went into the slips where V. Y. Richardson caught it. Jardine had 24.

Hammond had 11 when the teams took lunch and R. E. S. Wyatt, vice-captain from Warwickshire, 29.

Ironmonger and W. J. O'Reilly began bowling in the afternoon. Hammond immediately opened up and hit O'Reilly for one of the longest drives in the history of the grounds. He then hit fours off both bowlers in turn, scoring his half century in two minutes over an hour and a half. Wyatt got his 50 in just over three hours.

Heavy Slugging

The finish of the match came in a burst of vigorous slugging. Wyatt hit P. K. Lee for four twice in succession. Hammond took the first two balls of Lee's next over, got a boundary off the first and hit the second out of the grounds.

Australia again showed up badly in second-innings play, wilting before the deadly attack of the English bowlers. Don Bradman, ace of Antipodean batsmen, and W. M. Woodful, the Aussie captain, alone made any show of resistance. The pair compiled 138 runs out of their side's total of 182, Bradman obtaining 71 and the veteran Woodful 67. Only one other player reached double figures.

Hedley Verity played a stellar role, taking half of the Australian wickets for 33 runs.

The English batsmen again showed they were capable of mastering the best the Aussie bowlers had to offer, as the match neared conclusion, hitting with rare abandon on a wicket distinctly favoring their opponents. Hammond and Wyatt ended the game with a display of forceful hitting that gave them 75 and 61 not out respectively.

SAILORS DEFEAT HAMILTON 2-0 IN O.H.A. SEMI-FINAL

Horne and Heximer Score as Port Colborne Gains 2 Goal Lead on Home Ice.

PORTS HANDICAPPED.

PORT COLBORNE, Ont., Feb. 28 (C.P.)—An inferiority complex, the bane of many people, seems to envelop Hamilton Tigers every time they step onto Port Colborne ice. During the past four seasons Tigers have been unable to win a single game on the Ports' home rink and last night was no exception when the two teams met in the first of the Senior "A" Ontario Hockey Association semi-finals.

Despite the loss of players through injuries, the Sailors packed enough reserve power to turn back the Tigers by a 2—0 score, a margin they will carry with them when they play the second game at Hamilton Friday.

Scores Only Goals

Rugged Walter Horne, veteran defenceman for the homsters, opened the scoring shortly after the second session started, when he passed to Johnny Cuthbert at the Hamilton defense and barged in to bat the rebound of his teammate's shot into the net. A scant three minutes later Harry Gray, just recovering from a gashed ankle, passed the puck to Fan Heximer as he reached the visitors' rearguard. Heximer's fast shot slipped between "Hawse" Marsh's pads and the goal post.

The grim spectre of injuries still dogged the Sailors. Chick Hudson, blonde defenceman and captain, suffered a broken nose in the first period, when he fell on his face on the ice.

In the final frame Wilbur Smith clipped Goalie-Manager "Dinty" Moore, on the chin when trying to score from close in, and Moore was carried off. He returned after a 10-minute interval to resume his position with three stitches in his chin.

SAINTS BEATEN BY 3-2 DECISION

Hammell, Anderson, Seabrooke and Gatfield Star For Sproat Outfit.

ENDS CHURCH HOCKEY.

Knox won the Junior section championship of the Church Hockey League by taking the second straight playoff game from All Saints, 3 to 2, on fast ice at All Saints' rink last night. This winds up the various playoffs in the playoffs in the Church loop. Last night's game was a fitting finish, with little difference being shown in the two finalists, but Cres Sproats' outfit was going better at the last.

Hammell, Anderson, Seabrooke and Gatfield were the most effective from the champions, but all turned in a good game. Watson went well for the short time he was on, with Hammell starring in goal.

Hope and Frost stood out for the losers, with the whole squad trying hard throughout. It was a clean, fast contest.

They opened up speedily, most of the rushes being individual. All Saints missed some close ones, chiefly through good net-minding by their rival goalie. There was no score in the first chapter, but early in the middle session, S. Seabrooke wormed his way through and made the light flash from close quarters. Anderson followed soon after with another when he skated in fast from centre ice to net the disc. Play livened up with the Saints trying hard to get one back, with R. Hope finally getting through, side-stepping a bodycheck and banging the puck in from four feet out.

Ties the Count

H. Frost picked up the rubber to start the third and shot from just inside the blue line, the boot-heel drifting through a maze of players to fool the goalie and the score was tied. Watson arrived for Knox, and from then on, the latter squad had an edge. Anderson tallied the winner on nice work and the Knox team checked hard as All Saints pressed them up to the last bell. The teams:

All Saints.—Goal, Worsencroft; defence, R. Hope and E. Hope; centre, Clarke; wings, Hetherington and Frost; alternates, Pulford, Webb, Rusaw and Beauclerc.

Referee, "Gamey" Jarvis.

SPORTS Day by Day

HOCKEY—BOWLING—BOXING
BASKETBALL — OTHER SPORTS

(By C. J. P.)

A heavy hockey program at the Brock tonight awaits followers of the local minor loops. Three games, all playoffs, run from six till nine. The first is a Southend League bantam final between Warne Brothers' team and Empire Cubs, going from six to seven; then comes Rangers and Albion Knitting, S.E.L. juveniles, from seven to eight The City Hockey League finalists, Rotary and P.C.I., tangle at eight. These are the first games in each case in two-out-of-three series.

* * * * * * *

It's well worth the time taken to ramble up there and give those youngsters the double-O. Both those City Loop squads are strong, fast and not very much below junior O.H.A. calibre. In fact, several players will likely be in O.H.A. company next season. And some really promising material—and this is not the well-known publicity patter, but straight stuff—will be seen in the two Southend circuit tussles. And the boys who tangle in the southend learn early how to take it! Get up, and get a load of future stars in these minor playoff tilts.

* * * * * * *

And while speaking of sports publicity, we ran across the following remarks by Andy Lytle of the Vancouver Sun, and they apply to us equally: "..As a matter of fact, in these sportive affairs as in others which I attend as an observer, my writing hands are just as free as yours can ever be. It is an accepted part of sports writing to build up shows by advance publicity. It is done every day in most every way. It is regarded as equally important, from the paper's standpoint, to deal with the show afterward in print.

* * * * * * *

"On this newspaper, if a show is regarded as screwy, it is considered to be in the reader interest to say so. Nobody places the finger on me, for instance, and instructs me to write otherwise than as I please. That is a rare and priceless concession. It is something, moreover, that is not enjoyed on every newspaper staff. I have no wish to get maudlin about it but I would rather lose a hand, and I'm not spoofing, than abuse such a privilege. In the years I have been writing this column and tapping off possibly thousands of stories and articles, nobody in these offices has interfered to say 'write this way or do not write that way,' and no one outside, either, has attempted to sway or to influence me as to what I should or should not say."

* * * * * * *

From down Bowmanville way, we've got ourselves in the paper again, this time being bawled out rather harshly for taking a couple of hearty swings at Referee Armstrong for his handling of the Petes' junior game down there some time back. The writer accuses us of "railing and raving" and calls it a "despicable bit of sport comment"—but, then, he himself proceeds to write a bitterly-couched, name-calling quarter of a column or so that has us hanging on the ropes in sheer admiration. After wading through four paragraphs of venomous verbiage, he comes to a close by doing the very thing he is bawling us out for: Telling us how bad our goal-umpires are:

* * * * * * *

We're not taking back anything. We thought he made a rotten job of it, we said so and that's that. It wasn't alone the scribe's opinion but that of some two dozen in the Peterborough party, players, manager, coach and officials. We made our point, as Armstrong was not appointed to handle any more of our games. And there the matter may well rest as we have enough to do digging up local news without arguing a dead issue with another writer. After all, if "Army" had given us such breaks, we'd probably defend him, too!

* * * * * * *

Tomorrow night (Wednesday) at the Brock, Norwood and Carters mix it up in their third E.P.L. play-off game, and it ought to be a pip. The first was a 1-1 tie and last night's fixture in Alex Kempt's backyard ended in a 3-2 nod for Carters—something of a surprise as the Combines were always tough on their own ice-cushion. Carters looked dangerous last night and have the jump now in the race for a title. The game was fast, exciting and fairly clean, with Bernie Jones taking Meagher's pass to sink the winner later in the third. Magee flashed some sparkling stick-handling and the whole Payne squad looked good.

Well over twelve hundred paid their way into the Carnival yester eve, sweet charity benefiting considerably and everyone having a whale of a time. It was a large success from every view-point, with skaters, dancers and spectators enjoying themselves very much. The music was fine and decorations and costumes put the zip in the spectacle that always puts a carnival on ice across.

A two-night tournament, Thursday and Friday of this week, has been arranged for here. Four strong intermediate hockey teams will battle in a double-header at the Brock, starting at eight Thursday, with the winning two meeting in the finals at 8.30 Friday. The teams will be Port Hope, Cobourg, the Petes, and either Bowmanville or Campbellford. The idea is to give these players some good competition before the season ends, and the fans some more good hockey. Ten players on the winning team will get wrist watches as prizes. More about it again.

Jimmy Dykes To Play In Chicago Infield

PASADENA, Calif., Feb. 28 (A.P.)—Manager Lew Fonseca already is at work on what he expects will be the Chicago White Sox infield when the American League season opens.

Without wasting any time, the Sox pilot lined up at first base, with Minter Hayes at second, Luke Appling at shortstop, and Jimmy Dykes, late of the Philadelphia Athletics, at third. Red Kress also is an infield candidate—anywhere except first base—but probably will be moved to the outfield, where he finished last season.

Trinity Ties L.C.C. At Montreal 2 To 2

MONTREAL, Feb. 28 (C.P.). — Trinity College School, Port Hope, Ont., to-day had battled the hockey team of Lower Canada College, Montreal, to a 2-2 tie at the Forum here.

Lower Canada twice went to the front, only to have the Ontario squad tie the count. Martin scored for the Montrealers in the first period; Wynn tied the count early in the second, and Brown sent Lower Canada ahead again. In the third period Wynn, with his second goal of the game, deadlocked the score.

GAINS DECISIVE VICTORY.

LONDON, Feb. 28 (C.P. Cable).—Ted Phillips, Toronto boxer, won a decisive victory last night over Billy Adair, popular Bethnal Green scrapper. The Canadian floored Adair in the first round with a fierce left hook and was following up his advantage in aggressive fashion when Adair retired in the second round. The match was to have gone six rounds. The fight was staged in the Stadium Club.

Montreal Flier Dies As Two Planes Crash

TANGMERE, Sussex, England, Feb. 28 (C.P. Cable).—Pilot Officer Robert Vincent Rolph, of Montreal, was instantly killed to-day when his Fury airplane crashed with a similar machine piloted by Pilot Officer Colin Campbell MacMullen, who was only slightly injured.

Pilot Officer Rolph was one of the most promising officers in the Royal Air Force. He received his commission last December after passing out of the Royal Air Force, Cranwell, to which he had been nominated by the Canadian Government. He was the year's best Cadet and was awarded the sword of honor at the passing-out examination.

DISTRICT CUP IS FOUND HERE

Long-lost Trophy Located by Walter Reesor in Local Club House.

MISSING FIVE YEARS.

Page Sherlock Holmes, m'lad. No! On second thought Walter Reesor is just as good. Why? He has dug out the long-lost District Cup which is supposed to go each year to the winner of the Governor-General's competition in this district.

Late last week the long-lost trophy was brought to the Lindsay clubhouse by Walter from the local club where he dug it out. It has been in the category of the missed for about five years.

And has been the subject of a frenzied search. Five years at least is the length of time Peterborough has been out of this curling group for District Cup play and in that five years Fenelon Falls has won the cup twice, Bobcaygeon once and Lindsay twice.

No Cup for Winners

But, winning the cup, there was no cup to give them. Then Lindsay was accused of having it, some thought it might be at Fenelon or Bobcaygeon. All hunted, but it remained for Walter to produce it.

On the winners' shields as engraved around the base of the mug the last winner was Millbrook in 1927, but since the cup was found at the Peterborough Club it must have been won there at a later date and there is one silver shield with nothing on it.

Some think the cup, rightful property of Lindsay district, has been set up as the cup for the Peterborough district. Others think Peterborough won it after Millbrook, and have since kept it.

Lindsay is entitled to it this year for its win, but how about the Cataracts and the Bobs who also won it in the five-year period of its disappearance? Maybe a sharing a sharing arrangement could be worked out.

One will certainly have to be devised if more winners' shields are to be put down. The base block is pretty well filled.

REGGIE McNAMARA PACES BIKE FIELD

Peden and Audy in Fifth Place of Madison Square Grind.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (C.P.)—Reggie McNamara, the gray-haired Australian and proud "iron-man" of the bike game, to-day paced the field at the end of the 35th hour in the six-day bike race at Madison Square Garden. Teamed with Harry Horan of New Jersey, the ageing duo led by one lap the three teams tied for second.

Torchy Peden, Victoria, and Jules Audy, Montreal, moved up fast during the night and were in fifth place, two laps behind. Their point total was not impressive, however.

Henri LePage of Montreal and Cohen of New York, who started the grind impressively, were down in the ruck to-day, being in 12th place, nine laps from the leaders.

BLACK HAWKS WIN FIRST ROUND 4-2

Birds Gain Two-Goal Lead Over Rangers in Tweed Juvenile Playoffs.

TWEED, Feb. 28. — (Examiner Correspondence.) — In the first round of the juvenile play-offs on Friday evening, the Black Hawks defeated the Trail Rangers 4-2 and gained a two goal lead.

From the ringing of the bell the Black Hawks started out with determination and piled up a three-goal lead in the first period while the Rangers remained blank. The speed and combination of the Black Hawks in the first period was bewildering to the Rangers and they were unable to stop the rushes. The Trail Rangers received two penalties in this period and the Hawks one.

Switch to Defensive.

In the second period the Black Hawks played a more defensive game and kept the Rangers back. The Hawks scored another goal, bringing the score up to four to nil. Near the last of the period they scored their first goal. The period was noted for the roughness displayed by the Rangers and as a result five penalties were handed out to the Rangers, while the Black Hawks received one.

The only goal of the third period was scored by the Rangers The penalties were considerably reduced in this period, the Rangers receiving two and the Hawks one. Both teams are well matched and there is very keen competition. The total number of goals will decide the cup winners following the second game. The Hawks were the successful winners last year, when they defeated their opponents, the Columbias.

Summary:

First Period.

1 Black Hawks.
2 Black Hawks.
3 Black Hawks.

Second Period.

4 Black Hawks.
5 Trail Rangers.

Third Period.

6 Trail Rangers.

Penalties — 1st period, Black Hawks 1, Trail Rangers 2; 2nd period, Black Hawks 1, Trail Rangers 5; 3rd period, Black Hawks 1, Trail Rangers 2.

"NO MAN OF HER OWN."

Each of the main feminine stars of Hollywood has had a chance to play opposite Clark Gable, and each one, with the exception, perhaps, of Greta Garbo, has taken second place in any picture that included this young man. He takes the spotlight every time and yet he never gives the impression that his heart is really in his work. He is just a very fine actor and he has a job of acting to do—that is about all.

Carole Lombard has the feminine lead in this feature, "No Man of Her Own," with a title that means absolutely nothing— so far as the tale is concerned.

Babe Stewart (Clark Gable), is a notorious gambler of New York who goes to Glendale, a little town in 'the sticks,' for a forced vacation, when Collins, the detective (J. Farrell Macdonald), trails him too close. There he meets the librarian's assistant, Connie Randall (Carole Lombard), and takes her up on a bet that he gamble on the chance of marriage with her. He flips a coin to see if he takes her up, and—the lady wins. So they go to New York and his gambling career starts anew.

What happens is the meat of the story, which is one of those interesting affairs with an unexpected twist.

Miss Lombard gives a fine performance. Curiously enough, her very smooth coiffure and something in her manner bring memories of her famous husband, William Powell. At one time or another, there is a reminiscence of Joan Crawford, also, and one episode shows her looking a lot like Greta Garbo. The resemblance appears to be quite unconscious. She does very well opposite the favorite matinee hero of the moment.

MIC MACS OUSTED AT HAMILTON 2-1

Oshawa Maroons and Patricias to Meet for Senior "B" Championship.

(By The Canadian Press)

Only survivors of the baker's dozen that started the season, Oshawa Maroons and Hamilton Patricias were prepared to-day to battle for the synthetic title of Ontario Hockey Association Senior "B" champions.

At Hamilton last night, Patricias eliminated Windsor Mic Macs, last year's intermediate titleholders, when they defeated them 2-1 to win the round 5-3.

Winners of this series engage the Northern Ontario senior champions in the first of the Allan Cup playdowns.

Goderich Eliminated

In the intermediate section Goderich and Paris fell by the wayside. The former dropped a 2-1 decision to the youthful Clinton outfit, and Woodstock proved a nemesis to Paris when they defeated them 5-1.

Walkerton will be Clinton's next opponents and Woodstock will try conclusions with Milverton.

Breezing through to an 8-0 victory over Queen's University, at Oshawa last night Newmarket juniors won the round 13-0. Toronto Nationals will now try to stop the versatile Redmen in the semi-finals, both games to be played at Toronto.

EDMONTON, Feb. 28. (CP) — Edmonton Liberal-Canadians defeated Calgary Jimmies 5-3 here last night to take the first of a two-game series for the Alberta junior championship. Forsey scored two of the Calgary goals with the third credited to Cronie. Rimstead was the high man for the locals with three tallies while Carse and Dame added one each to the quota.

GOODNIGHT STORIES

By Max Trell

I'm looking for something
I don't know its name.
I can't tell what it looks like,
But I want it just the same.
—Shadow Song.

For many weeks the shadow children —Mij, Flor, Hanid, Yam and our good old shadow friend Knarf—had been hearing their masters and mistresses talking about the Jigger.

Mij distinctly heard his master say: "Where's that Jigger?" It seems that his master had lost his pencil, which had rolled off the desk onto the floor. But it couldn't be the pencil that was the Jigger. Mij was quite sure of that.

Then Hanid heard her mistress say: "Where's that Jigger?" The little girl was looking for a piece of paper which she had put between the pages of one of her books. Could the Jigger be a piece of paper? Hanid was sure it could not be.

Well, the shadows were determined once and for all to find a Jigger and see just what it looked like, and have a long talk with it, and find out what it did for a living.

Off to Find a "Jigger"

"Where shall we start looking?" Yam wanted to know.

"Under the carpet, in the parlor," Flor suggested.

"No," Hanid broke in, "it' more likely to be out in the garden, behind one of the bushes." But Mij interrupted to say that the Jigger wasn't an insect, so that they would not find it out in the garden, but in the kitchen, behind the stove, where it was warm, behind the stove, where it was warm, for the Jigger in different places. But since they didn't know what it looked like, they didn't have much success finding it. However, they found al sorts of other things, such as collair buttons, and pencil rubbers, and pins, and beetles and bottles. It was nice to find all these things, but none of them was a Jigger, so what good were they?

"Where shall we start looking for the Jigger?" asked Yam.

Finally the shadows decided that they had first of all to find out what a jigger looked like before they wasted any more time looking for one. They knew that there was no use making their masters and mistresses to describe a Jigger, for they were sure that their masters and mistresses did not know themselves. So they made up their minds to ask someone who knew. The only one they could think of was Mrs. Cuckoo, who lived atop of the clock that hung on the wall in the dining room. The cuckoo was out at every hour (and every half hour, too, for that matter) day and night, so that if any Jiggers were around, Mrs. Cuckoo was certainly the one to know about it. With that, the five shadows made themselves small, and springing up to the top of the clock, knocked on Mrs. Cuckoo's door. It was just half past eleven, so Mrs. Cuckoo opened the door and cried cheerfully: "Come in!"

For Wednesday, March 1.

An eventful and interesting day, with much stirring to stimulate and intrigue, is forecast from th ruling lunar and mutual aspects between the planets. There may be a rather surprising trend of events, with unexpected change, much commotion, turbulence or impetuous action. It is a splendid time to venture forth on new enterprises or unusual propositions.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of turbulence, excitement and much activity and stirring about in new enterprises and strange adventures. These may prove profitable. A child born on this day may be aggressive, original, skillful and disposed to attack bold and novel schemes with vim or revolutionary methods.

Visitor Breaks Arm In Fall On Verandah

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 28.—(By Examiner Staff Correspondent.) — Slipping on an icy verandah while about to proceed to church on Sunday morning, Miss M. McCredan, of Toronto, a Campbellford visitor, fell and sustained a broken arm. Dr. E. V. Frederick attended the patient, who is now reported to be resting easy. Miss McCredan was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Butler, at whose residence the accident happened. The break was in the left arm, just below the shoulder.

BUILDING OF QUEBEC BRIDGE IS DESCRIBED BY A. J. MEYERS

Is Large Enough to Span Whole Town of Campbellford.

ENGINEER ON JOB.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 28 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — "A monument to Canadian engineering and enterprise and a monument to the never-say-die spirit that will acknowledge defeat even in the darkest hours of disaster." In these words A. J. Myers, speaking to the Campbellford Rotary Club yesterday described the building of the Quebec bridge spanning the St. Lawrence, and upon the construction of which he was employed as an engineer. Profusely illustrating his talk with official photos which showed the various stages of construction covering the many years it took to erect what is considered the largest single span bridge in the world, a graphic word picture was given of this tremendous engineering feat which ranks as one of the foremost in the world.

"The Quebec bridge is probably the greatest bridge of its type," Mr. Meyers declared. Nickel steel was largely used throughout this design, because of its superior strength combined with lightness of weight as compared with carbon steel.

The Quebec bridge has an over all length of 3,238 feet, ten and a half inches. The main span is 1800 feet centre to centre of main piers or a span of over one third of a mile without intermediate supporting piers. The main span is made up of two cantilever arms, each 580 feet long and one suspended span 640 feet long. The heights over main piers is 310 feet centre to centre chords or about 36b feet from high water level to the top of steel work. There is a clearance of 150 feet between high water level and the bottom of the suspended span. This clearance will accommodate the largest ocean going vessel.

Span The Town

"It is hard to grasp the significance of these figures, said the speaker, but if one could imagine the one anchor pier located behind the Catholic Church, at Campbellford, the church spire would scarcely reach half way to the top of the anchor pier. The main pier would be located somewhere about the corner of Bridge and Ranney streets. The main span would then pass over Rear street, Front street, the River Trent, Queen street, the United Church, and the second main pier would be located up on the hill near George Hopkins' house, so that you can see this bridge would completely span the town of Campbellford from the outskirts on one side of the river to the outskirts on the other side of the river. To get an idea of the height over the main pier you would have to imagine ten or eleven buildings like the Bank of Montreal placed one on top of the other until they were piled eleven deep and the topmost one would then be practically as high as the Quebec bridge.

The problem of spanning the St. Lawrence River with a bridge near Quebec had been studied as early as 1852, many years before any active steps at construction were undertaken. At the proposed site some seven miles above Quebec natural conditions were favourable, the width of the river being a minimum and the banks of such a height that would allow sufficient clearance for navigation.

In 1900 a contract was entered into with Messrs. William Davis and Sons for the constructions of the piers; and with the Phoenix Bridge Company of Phoniexville, Pa., for the fabrication and erection of the steelwork for the bridge. The south anchor arm, the cantilever arm and nearly half of the suspended span had been erected when on August 29, 1907, the structure collapsed. Over eighty men lost their lives in this disaster. The cause of the failure of this structure was due to the poorly designed compression chords, the high unit stress allowed on these chords, and the faulty method of erection followed by the contractors for the steel work.

After the cause of the first failure had been investigated, the Dominion Government, following the advice of the best bridge engineers in the world decided that it was possible to build a bridge of this magnitude and that such a bridge was necessary as part of the Transcontinental Railway System, then being constructed by the government of Sir Wilfred Laurier.

In 1908 the Government appointed a Board of Engineers to supervise the construction of a new bridge. No engineer who had anything to do with the design or construction of the bridge that collapsed was given a position on this board or on the staff of engineers which they employed.

Wreckage Cleared Away

The first undertaking was to clear away the wreckage of the old bridge. From 15,000 to 20,000 tons of steel was piled up, a mass of twisted girders, eyebars and bridge members. This was finally removed, except the part which lies in about 200 feet of water beyond the main pier, and took two years to complete.

Work on the construction of the new piers began in the spring of 1910 and was carried on continually until the fall of 1913. It has been estimated by one of the Quebec papers that there is more masonry and concrete in these piers than there is in the foundations of all the buildings of the City of Quebec taken together.

It was then that the cantilever systems on both shores were undertaken and finally completed, the whole being ready for the putting into shape of the large span, that which is suspended between the two shores. This was ready on July 26, 1916, practically three years after the erection of the steel work had been started in 1913.

Second Bridge Disaster

The first suspension span was floated on the morning of September 11, 1916 and was readily towed under the control of four small tugs and two large tugs up stream After the span had been placed in position and connected, being lifted several feet to allow the pontoons to clear, a halt was called for breakfast. Up to this point operations had worked out according to schedule, as the work remaining to be done was merely a repitition of mechanical operations, it was felt that the most difficult part of the work had been satisfactorily accomplished. Jacking operations were resumed and one more lift was made when the cast steel erection shoe which transformed the load of the span to the supporting girder at the south west corner of the span cracked. The span slid off the support and inside of half a minute had disappeared beneath the waters of the St. Lawrence. The second great disaster to the Quebec bridge had occured.

Mr. Meyers was on the bridge at the time and thrown down by the force of vibration of the cantelevers. Steps were immediately taken to replace the loss, the new span being a duplicate of that which was lost. This was successfully floated up the river and placed and three days later the last pin was driven, connecting the span to the cantelever system, on September 20, at four o'clock in the afternoon, when the united cheers and silent sighs of relief from the engineers and workmen proclaimed to the world that this great feat of engineering was now an accomplished fact.

President Elie Brunelle presided ofer the luncheon, a vote of thanks being tendered the speaker on motion of T. E. Hall.

NEWS ITEMS FOR THE TRENT TOWN DISTRICT

The first of the season's band concerts was held on Sunday evening with a fair number in attendance. The program was a great success however, Dorothy Stanley Windrim, soloist, being heartily applauded for her songs, Mayor H. N. Carr occupied the chair. the proceeds amounting to about $12. This money will be haded over to the town relief committee. The music was rendered by the Northumberland Regimental Band under the direction of Bandmaster W. Pearson. Another concert will be staged in the near future.

Mr. A. D. Bennett was a business visitor to Toronto on Monday.

CONFUSING

DONORA, Pa.—It might be a good idea for some of the Mulas to change the names of their firms.

Flames crackled in one Mula shoe repair shop while the fire department rushed to another Mula shoe repair shop, and finding it was the wrong one, proceeded to still another Mula repair shop. There are four of them.

Because of the delay, the blaze did damage estimated by the owner at $3,000.

DON'T

● Don't overlook small expenses when trying to save money. Use the cheapest shaving method known. Cut costs and get greater comfort with the famous "BLUE BLADE." You can shave and shave and shave with every "BLUE BLADE." Here is real economy.

The "BLUE BLADE" is made in addition to the regular Gillette Blade sold in the green package.

Toronto Is Willing Sacrifice One Seat

TORONTO, Feb. 28 (C.P.)—Authorized by their central executive to seek the retention of Toronto's 15 seats, the city members of the Ontario Legislature will demand of the Government that their constituencies be left untouched in the coming Redistribution Bill, The Mail and Empire says to-day.

As their one and only concession, the paper says, the Toronto M.L.A.'s will give one seat, but if the Cabinet attempts to reduce the number by three, it is understood the city members will vote against the Government when the bill comes before the House.

OPPOSES EMBARGO

WASINGTON, Feb. 27 (A.P.) — Chairman Borah of the United States Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said to-day he was opposed to joining European powers in an embargo on exports of arms to both Japan and China, on the ground it would be of more assistance to Japan.

KEEPS PLANS SECRET

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 27 (A.P.)—Claude K. Boettcher, multimillionaire father of the kidnapped Charles Boettcher 2nd, refused to-day to give Police Chief A. T. Clark, letters received from the abductors instructing him how to pay the $60,000 ransom.

Canada's exports to Holland during 1932 were valued at $16,907,307 compared to $13,572,765 in 1931.

Fruit-a-tives end years of pain

"I suffered exceedingly with indigestion and sick headaches for years. I could hardly eat anything and was badly constipated. I realise now, of course, that I was in a very run-down condition. Fortunately for me a neighbor recommended 'Fruit-a-tives' and I began taking them. I am certainly glad I did. They regulated my system and toned me up generally so that now I am in the best of health. I would not hesitate to recommend them to anyone."

BANK EMPLOYES WORK THREE SHIFTS TO SEGREGATE BOOKS

Most Stupendous Book-keeping Task in Detroit's Financial History Being Carried Out.

MAY FINISH WEDNESDAY.

DETROIT, Feb. 28 (A.P.) — The most stupendous bookkeeping task in Detroit's financial history was being carried out to-day preparatory to creation of two new banks which the Ford millions will control.

Employes of the First National and the Guardian National banks were working in three shifts, segregating 1,700,000 accounts on the basis of liquid assets that are to be transferred to the new banks, the People's National and the Manufacturers' National.

Doubt was expressed that the accounting could be accomplished by to-morrow, when it had been hoped the new banks could start business—making an additional 30 per cent of all accounts available to depositors. Including the five per cent to which customers have had access since February 16, two days after Michigan's banks went on a holiday" schedule by gubernatorial proclamation, an estimated $200,000,000 will be released.

Not For Speculation

Henry Ford who, with his son, Edsel, is putting $8,250,000 into the capitalization of two new banks, said he hoped that "out of our entry into this field will come an evolution of the money system," he added, however, that "we will have to feel our way along."

Henry Ford, who blames speculative loans for present conditions, said that "We are going to do the best we can to do business for the purpose of safety, using the banks for productive purposes, for which they were intended, and not for speculation."

The Amusing Side of War

LONDON, Feb. 28 (A.P.). — There is an amusing side event to the buying of bullets for the war in the Far East. Purchasing agents for China and Japan met the other day in the reception room of one of the big munition firms. They fell to talking as friends, and finally compared the prices they were paying. The result was that they went in to see the munitions maker together, put up a united front and went away

Season Approaches, Re-Stocking Streams

The Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association was organized for the purpose of collecting valuable and useful information relating to Fish and Game in the County of Peterborough, to assist in the re-stocking of streams, lakes and woodlands with Fish and Game, and to encourage wise and useful legislation for the Protection of the same—to prevent malicious destruction of property by hunters and fishermen, and to promote a greater feeling of good will between sportsmen and property owners.

The season is rapidly approaching for the re-stocking of streams and lakes, and any person who is interested in this work and desires to stock any stream, or any farmers in the district who desire to obtain a supply of Pheasant or Partridge Eggs for hatching purposes, should communicate with the officers of the Local Association and application forms will be furnished. The earlier such applications are filed with the Department at Toronto the better, as each spring there is a heavy demand for re-stocking purposes from all parts of the province.

Requests sent to the Secretary, Peterborough Fish and Game Association, Box 1141, City, will receive attention.

RELIEF BOARD PLANS TO BUY 600 CORDS OF SLABS IN CITY

Purchase Made From Peterborough Lumber Company at $2.50 Per Cord.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Purchase of 600 cords of slabs from the Peterborough Lumber Company at $2.50 a cord was authorized by the Central Relief Board last night.

The company's offer was for 200 cords of hemlock and 400 cords of pine. R. C. Braund, chairman, was instructed to have the proportion changed, if possible, to 300 cords of each.

Of the 3,000 cords of hardwood bought by the Board last year approximately 995 cords remain, with 650 of the 1,000 cords purchased this winter, which have already been delivered and piled, leaving 400 cords of this order still to come.

Looking ahead to next season, Ald. Tuggey moved, seconded by James Abraham, that the Board advertise for 2,000 cords of 90 per cent hardwood, or any part thereof of at least 100 cords, to be delivered in the local yards. Bids for comparatively small lots are invited by the clause which will consider quantities as small as 100 cords.

Ald. McIntyre suggested that wood might be obtained from the government for nothing in Harvey township by applying through J. F. Strickland, M.P.P. This proposal will be acted upon at once in the prospect that it might prove economical. The cost of cutting and trucking would have to be paid for through the Relief Board, but it was thought that there might be a considerable financial advantage if the standing wood could be obtained from the government.

Mr. Metheral informed several of the new members that last year's purchases had been made by tender, and that some dealers had submitted bids. One was from North Monaghan township council.

Mr. Metheral stated that the distribution of wood had averaged about 500 cords a month for January and February, and the present supply would probably be sufficient for the demands in March and April.

About forty men are engaged daily in cutting wood in the Board's yards.

A. B. Cunningham advised that greater care should be taken in the piling of the wood. According to information he had received from the government, a cord of green beach or maple weighed 5,400 pounds, and the weight when dry was 4,200 pounds, showing that there was a content of 1,200 pounds of water in the cord of green hardwood.

"If we piled to make sure of drying," Mr. Cunningham said, "we would save at least 50 cents a cord, because when wood is wet you burn other wood to evaporate the water."

Mr. Cunningham's suggestion will also be acted upon by the committee of which he is chairman.

An offer from the Duffus estate to sell wood at one dollar a cord in the tree will be considered.

"Don't pass anything up that might be worth while" was Ald. Tuggey's comment.

February Accounts.

The accounts for the month from January 30 to February 27 were passed as follows:

Provisions	$8,445.31
Fuel	2,967.29
Milk	865.93
Rents	2,655.14
Clothing, etc.	265.15
Medicines	21.00
Medical attention	282.50
Public homes	139.25
Miscellaneous	210.06
	$15,851.63

Relief disbursements this year up to February 27 have totalled $29,551.90.

Officers Elected.

The Board's officers were unanimously re-elected for the present year. R. C. Braund was re-appointed chairman, James Abraham vice-chairman, Alex McLeod treasurer and S. R. Armstrong secretary.

Mr. Braund has been a member of the Board for twenty-five years, and has been chairman since the death of Harry Rush.

For more than thirty years the Board has been meeting on the last Monday of the month, but because of the excessive volume of business that has developed during the last two years, and of the necessity of reporting to the government for periods of calendar months it was decided to change the meeting night. The next meeting will be held on Thursday, April 6. All persons having accounts with the Board will be notified that their acounts must be rendered not later than the first of the month.

Special Committee's Report

James Dutton presented several recommendations from the Board's special committee. One was in the form of information that the agreement with local physicians was being continued for another month.

Another was that all persons who have been less than three months in the city and who apply for relief be sent back to the places from which they came. And the third instructed Bruce Parker to haul to the city the rest of the old timber from dams on the Trent Canal which had been given to the Relief Board by the federal Department of Railways and Canals upon the suggestion of A. L. Killaly, superintendent.

KILMARNOCK, Ont., Feb. 28 (C.P.). — The man responsible for this one has been nominated for the Ananias Club, but has indignantly refused membership.

He is a farmer living near Zacata. He avers that as he was feeding his horse recently, some 30 feet from a well, a hog tried to poke its nose in the horse's dinner.

The angry horse picked up the 90-pound porker in his teeth, carried him to the well and dropped him in. The farmer had to buy a new rope to get the hog up again.

WANT NO LAWYERS.

The Editor of Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I haven't a very good "head" for mathematics and perhaps some one more brilliant will explain it to those of us who may not understand what it is all about. There has been occasion for rejoicing on the part of some that the cost of living in Canada has dropped 20 per cent. in the last three or four years. Farm produce, we are told, has declined about 60 per cent. in price during the same period of time. What has happened to the other 40 per cent.? Flour, meat, milk, butter, cheese, eggs, fruits and vegetables make up the major part of food consumed, and all these are from the farm, as well as hides for boots and wool for winter clothing. What has happened to these from the time they left the farm till the consumer bought them? Also, where is the much-mooted reduction in manufactured goods in this 20 per cent. reduction? My brain is numb trying to figure it out. Who will help?

We here on the farms in East Peterborough were hoping to elect a farmer from either party to represent us in the Legislature. Well, just because it would be a just representation and because the farm interests have been neglected by members from the town. But now we hear that the city is to be absorbed by the county riding. Was not that a clever way to put it, with the city population so much in the majority But it will be the last straw if they nominate lawyers to run for members. I read recently that the thing wrong with our government is—lawyers. 'Nuff sed.

"COUNTRY WOMAN."

THE CHAIRMAN EXPLAINS.

Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—At the last meeting of the Police Commission, I notice from the report of The Examiner that Chief Sam Newhall charges the Board of Health with a lack of courage, and offers the ridiculous suggestion that the board "is trying to brow-beat a defenceless woman." He is also reported to have said that we are hiding behind a woman's skirts, and that he would jump into the river before he would do that.

As chairman of the board, let me make the position quite clear. At the first meeting of the board I was elected to the chair. We had certain reforms to undertake, and we started out with the intention of putting them into effect. We first called on Miss Price at the Isolation Hospital to try to reach a mutual understanding regarding her "off-duty" time. Little progress was made in that direction, and, in fact, Miss Price adopted the attitude that the board had no right to seek to control her time. The matter was taken up at the subsequent meeting of the board and was cleared up to our satisfaction.

Appointment of the Board of Health was no accident. It was embodied for a definite purpose, and we intend to discharge that purpose and to administer the affairs of the board as economically as possible. All frills will be cut out, and the staff will receive every consideration. All we ask is a square deal all round.

Yours truly,
WALTER STOCKER,
Chairman, Board of Health.

GOD'S LOVE, WISDOM AND POWER.

To the Editor Examiner:

It is an intolerable idea to entertain the thought that the Almighty is the direct cause of everything that happens or takes place. We cannot say with assurance of an eye-witness, that God did this or that. To speak with such assurance, we would need a mind of which we fall far short. Our minds cannot compare the Divine activities on one line of action with another, apparently contradictory. We must not let any misfortune, disgrace or heart-break suggest to us that God is the author of the same. If your son is murdered, you do not say God killed him. If your son dies from illness, God did not send the illness that caused his death. God did not organize life as we live it, to-day. Our hygiene did form part of His creation. We must use our common sense along with faith in God. The love of God is not emphasized enough and and never will be this side of the day of restitution or restoration of all things. False ideas of God has been our misfortune. Is God responsible for the untold sorrow and suffering that abounds all over the world? We emphatically answer "No." God in His omnipotence, perfect wisdom and love, permits evil and allows evil-doers to commit the same for a time. Many, no doubt, say it it is a terrible long time. According to human reckoning and experience, it is a very long time; and if there was no blessing outside and beyond this time, of mourning, to counteract the curse of poverty, sickness, suffering and death, we might well exclaim: "How can I believe in such a Being, who would permit such suffering with no redress." God is love, God cares; and all who now mourn shall be comforted in that great day of restitution. The desert will blossom as a rose; poverty, sickness, suffering and death shall be a thing of the past. God's will shall be done; that which He has purposed He surely will perform. With hearts wounded and torn, it is ours, amid it all, to be glad to know that in that day all who now mourn will be comforted and a restoration to Edenic conditions shall prevail in all the inhabited earth.

TRUTH REVEALED ON HIDDEN EVILS

"The End of the Road" Will Be Presented at Regent This Week.

SEPARATE SHOWINGS

Never before shown in Peterborough, although it broke box-office record elsewhere throughout the Dominion; "The End of the Road" is an attempt on the part of the Canadian Social Hygiene Council to apprise the public of the horrors of venereal disease. When it is shown at the Regent, commencing to-morrow, citizens of Peterborough will see the same picture, undeleted and unaltered, which sixty thousand people saw during one 10-day Toronto run.

The picture which health authorities state "no adult should miss" is authentic and medically correct in its dramatic expose of the general situation which developed before venereal disease was brought under control. Sponsored by the Canadian Social Hygience Council, "The End of the Road" deals frankly and fearlessly with the mental and physical agonies that arise from sex indiscretion. The film is a sympathetic and authentice attempt to point out the dangers and subsequent penalties that are exacted as toll for weak indulgences. "The End of the Road" should be seen by every mother and father, every young man and woman.

The story deals with two young girls whose earlier training and environment has been along two entirely different paths. While one mother answers frankly and truthfully the questions that every growing child asks; the other evades the issue and allows her daughter to grow up in ignorance. The results of intelligent parental supervision and education are shown in the happiness of one girl; the other, indulging her weak impulses, sinks steadily to a depth of degradation from which she is later lifted only through the kindness and unflagging perseverance of a great physician.

There will be separate performances for men and women. In addition to the feature film, there are short subjects dealing with the necessity of thorough medical examination before marriage, the biological process of reproduction, social hygience for women, and the anatomy and physiology of the male and female.

Tasty Meal Prepared For Advisory Board

Prior to a brief business meeting held under the joint auspices of the Advisory Board and the church wardens of St. John's Church, with Venerable Archdeacon R. C. Blagrave, D.D., in the chair, the gathering of close on forty men sat in to a tasty and appetizing meal cooked without water in a new manner, by which it is claimed the food retains the natural health-giving salts and minerals.

Served in the basement of the Parish Hall, the meal was prepared by representatives of the Wear-Ever Aluminum Company of Toronto, who chose this unique way of demonstrating in a practical manner the high claims which they make for their wares.

Food had been prepared for fifty persons, and the large portion that remained over, was afterwards distributed to needy members of the congregation.

RADIO NOTES

By R. H. CHILDERHOSE of City Radio Service.

Car radios are becoming more popular every year. The aerial is usually a copper screen placed between the car roof and the cloth lining. The interfering noises from the motor are eliminated by filter units. Recently eliminators are being manufactured and used to do away with troublesome dry "B" batteries. These sets use latest type tubes and speakers and give splendid reproduction.

Mr. J. H. H.—A great deal of electrical interference is present in your locality, judging by reports. You might get some telegraphic interference from the line on the street, but most of the noise is likely from the high voltage lines nearby. Your aerial in is the best direction. The fact that your neighbours get the same noise proves it to be from an outside source.

Education Costs Must Be Reduced Says Strickland

J. F. Strickland In Reply To Speech From Throne Would Place a Check On Spending Powers Of Boards Of Education.

REDUCTION IN NUMBERS OF SEATS IN HOUSE COST TORIES MORE THAN OPPOSITION.

Government In Bringing Down Mortgagors' And Purchasers' Relief Act Should Watch And Prevent Any Inequalities Member Declares.

TORONTO, March 1. — (Special to The Examiner) — Coming to the defence of Premier Henry in a resumption of the debate on the Throne speech in the Ontario Parliament yesterday afternoon, J. F. Strickland, K.C., member for Peterborough City, replied to the attacks upon the Government by Progressive Leader H. C. Nixon and maintained that it ill became the sole survivor of the discredited Drury administration to make such criticisms.

In his remarks, Mr. Strickland pointed out the lack of control over the expenditures of school boards and asserted emphatically that an amendment to the act to give the province more control over these expenditures was needed.

"There can be no relief from taxation until the cost of education comes down," he asserted. "It is true that education in this province has led the world, but it is a question in my mind whether or not we have gone too far in placing the control of the cost of education in the hands of the school boards. True enough, these boards are responsible to the people who elect them but it does seem to me that greater economy and efficiency would be obtained if they were also responsible to the municipal authorities by some check being placed on their financial requirements."

Prevent Inequalities.

The Government's intention to extend the Mortgagors' and Purchasers' Relief Act was sound, Mr. Strickland stated, but great care would have to be taken to prevent inequality to the mortgagee as well as the mortgagor.

Expressing amazement at the emphasis Mr. Nixon placed on Premier Henry's association with the Toronto Mortgage Company, Mr. Strickland declared, "I can see the

ARGUES PROVOCATION.

Edward Franklin Jackson was this afternoon successful in securing a new trial, when his appeal against sentence of death passed upon him here by Mr. Justice Sedgewick following his conviction before a jury on the capital charge, was heard before the Court of Appeal at Toronto.

Word was received here through the office of Gordon and Elliott, The Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., who conducted the appeal on behalf of Jackson having notified his office by telegraph.

TORONTO, March 1 (C.P.).—The appeal of Edward Franklin Jackson, sentenced to death by Mr. Justice G. H. Sedgewick at Peterborough for the murder of Eugene Lee, was heard at Osgoode Hall to-day. Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., appearing for Jackson, claimed a 12 year old girl witness was not properly examined.

Jackson and Lee, colored Kentuckians, went to Dummer Township in June, 1932, where they purchased 200 acres of land. It was alleged Jackson fired six shots into Lee's body when they engaged in conversation one afternoon.

Mr. Gordon argued to-day that there had been provocation, and referred to the evidence of Jackson that Lee had pushed him over a truck wheel during an argument.

DIRECT RELIEF BILL FOR 1933 MAY BE $175000

Estimate Suggested By Relief Officer Metheral to Local Board.

775 FAMILIES AIDED.

Two Mills on Tax Rate Probable Cost To Ratepayers.

Direct relief disbursements in Peterborough this year have been estimated by Relief Officer Metheral to amount to $175,000.

One-third of that sum will have to be provided out of the city treasurer, and will therefore have to be paid by the ratepayers. The government contributes the remaining two-thirds.

When the council engages in the final phase of its budget-building for 1933, it will have to include in the rate approximately two mills for direct relief to its unemployed citizens.

Mr. Metheral said that he had first gone over the estimated cost of relief this year with City Clerk Armstrong, and had reached tentatively the amount of $154,000 as the probable amount that would be expended. Further consideration of the expected needs of this mushroom department compelled Mr. Metheral to revise the estimate to the round sum of $175,000.

775 Families on List

The February list of families receiving relief mounted almost to 775, Mr. Metheral told the Central Relief Board, as compared with around 430 families in the month of March last year.

If $60,000 is to be the relief requisition from the city treasury for this year, ratepayers will be interested in observing the effect of the present Relief Fund. Should it amount to $20,000, the council will have to provide the remaining $40,000 which is equivalent to about two mills in the tax rate.

The old Charity Board's allowance from the council used to be around $3,000, a mere fraction of a mill that made slight impression in the tax rate. To-day Direct Relief has become a major appropriation.

ARMS EMBARGO IS AID TO JAPAN VIEW OF CHINA

Represetnations are Made By Chinese Government to Britain.

WEAKEN RESISTANCE.

Dramatic Sino-Japanse Clash is Described in Dispatch.

NANKING, China, Mar. 1. —(AP)—It was officially announced today that China was making representations in London in connection with the British arms embargo against China and Japan. Spokesman for the Chinese National Government Foreign Office said any Far East arms embargo should be limited to the aggressor waging war in China.

Act of Aggression

"Since the League of Nations by its recent report unanimously condemned Japan's act of aggression toward China," he declared in an interview, "it follows that any arms embargo should be limited to the aggressor waging war on China.

He continued:

"For any nation to prohibit the export of arms to China and Japan amounts to neutrality on the part of that nation, and it is not on consonance with the covenant or the League Assembly's report, which is to prevent an aggressor carrying on further military operations.

"What is of more effect is that an arms embargo against China and Japan will weaken the resistance of China, which is employing a small quantity of defensive weapons, and at the same time will facilitate an early realization of the aggressor's ambition."

Absolutely Futile

One section of opinion among foreign residents was expressed in an editorial in the Shanghai Evening Post today.

"As a practical measure to hasten the end of hostilities in the Far East the British embargo is absolutely futile, and as a moral gesture it is grotesque," the newspaper said.

"The British policy is to deprive the defender as well as the offender. This embargo which Sir John Simon described as dictated by complete friendliness for both countries is in effect an unfriendly act to China, an irritant to Japan and a most damaging blow to the British aircraft industry in this part of the world.

"It is a colossal blunder and it

Man Gets One Year For Relief Fraud

HAMILTON, March 1.—(C.P.)—That Magistrate H. A. Burridge was in earnest when he warned those who perpetrated frauds upon the City Relief Department, was shown in police court to-day. Edward Dennee, found guilty of obtaining relief by fraud, was sentenced to one year in the Reformatory plus six months' indeterminate, plus a fine of $50 or an additional six months.

Relief officials showed that Dennee reported his wife's earnings since the beginning of the year as much less than the actual sum and had by that means obtained $50.68 from the city treasury.

Call Of Duty Is Stronger Than Cash, Striking Cobourg Chief Answers Alarm

COBOURG, Ont., Mar. 1.—(C.P.)—A delicate situation over Cobourg's new fire truck was saved at least temporarily to-day when the fire chief drove the truck early to a transport that was ablaze and relieved the town council of a lot of worry.

The chief had intimated a desire for an increase in salary following purchase of the new fire truck and the council, which met last night, had offered a change in salary. It was announced at the meeting the chief had refused this.

Pending appointment of a new driver or some change in the deadlock between the chief and the council, the fire, water and light committee was given responsibility of being in charge of the fire department. Members of the committee were perturbed over what might happen if a fire broke out.

With startling coincidence, the transport caught fire in a side street. Everyone heaved a sigh of relief when the chief was seen perched in the driver's seat of the new fire truck.

BOARD OF EDUCATION HAS CUT $18,900 FROM 1932 ESTIMATES BUT REVENUE DOWN $15,680

Government Grants This Year Are Decreased $10,361.65.

COMPARISON IS MADE.

Statement Shows Net Decrease in the Estimates of $3,220.

In a statement to The Examiner, E. F. Reid, chairman Board of Education shows a net decrease in the estimates for 1933 over 1932 of $3,220.

Total reductions made by the Board in the current estimates, he shows, amount to $18,900.61, a reduction which is offset to the extent of $15,680.80 by decreased revenue. On the Collegiate and Vocational and Public Schools governmental grants a reduction is shown which amounts to $10,361.65.

In tabulating the economies that were actually affected by the Board Mr. Reid gives a total of $10,126.60 on the Public Schools account. Of that sum $7,212.50 was saved as a result of salary reductions; $1,300 was cut from the repairs and furniture appropriation; $200 off the fuel account; $718.60 was lopped from general expenses; and $694.50 was saved on insurance.

As against that the revenue for public schools has shrunk this year to the total extent of $8,775.60, it is shown.

Collegiate and Vocational

Salary reductions at the Collegiate and Vocational Institute account for a saving this year of $3,445.25, in the net reduction made by the Board amounting to $8,775.00. The salary reductions are less in the Collegiate than in public schools as two new teachers were added in September. The General Expenses account, which includes supplies and equipment for the Vocational School was parred to the extent of $3,634.75; while $896 was lopped off the insurance account; $600 was slashed from the repairs and furniture appropriation and $200 was deducted from the fuel account.

It is anticipated by the Board that there will be a falling away of revenue from non-resident fees this year which will amount to $2,568.70; while as a result of cuts in government grants a further reduction of revenue totalling $5,000 is a fact that has had to be faced.

The reductions made by the Board in the estimates for the current year, as compared with the CHINCHOW, Manchuria, Mar. 1 (A.P.)—The Japanese military command announced its army of the north entered Chihfeng, commercial and transportation center of Jehol province, at 4 p.m. to-day. No Chinese resistance was offered, it said.

Two other towns on China's inner defence line were reported captured early to-day.

The victories were reported for the three main Japanese offensives which are swinging on successively widening arcs over the province with the capital, Jehol city (Chengtefu), as their common objective.

The army of the north, which has made the longest swing, reached Chihfeng, 92 miles north of Jehol city, and reported the Chinese General Wen-Hua, commander of the Jehol Cavalry force under Governor Tang Yu-Lin, submitted to the Japanese-sponsored government of Manchukuo.

Massacre Rumors Cause Much Stir In British House

Sir John Simon Is Asked To Take Action To Protect British Residents Of Germany Over Week-End.

MEMBERS FROM BOTH SIDES OF COMMONS SHOOT QUESTIONS AT SIR JOHN SIMON.

Are Men Bearing Arms In Germany Not Evading The Peace Treaties, Fiery Labor Member Asks.

(By George Hambleton, C.P. Staff Writer)

LONDON, Mar. 1 (C.P. Cable)—A note of alarm echoed around the House of Commons this afternoon over widespread rumors of a threatened week-end massacre in Germany. Members of both sides of the House shot questions at the Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon.

R. J. G. Boothby, Scottish Conservative, asked if the Foreign Secretary had any information to give the House, or would he make representation to the German Government concerning the safety of British residents.

Sir John said he had, of course, received communications on the situation from the British Ambassador but had no further information to give. He had no reason to doubt, however, the German Government was not ready to observe its responsibilities with regard to the security of British persons in the country.

Report Is Denied

(A London newspaper report that British political leaders had heard of a National-Socialist plot in Germany to "massacre" leftist leaders brought from the German Nazi Government flat declaration it was unfounded and spread from a "malignant" source.)

Sir John Simon felt there were no reasons for making representations to the German government.

"Will you not ask the British ambassador for a report on these rumors which have been published in the press to-day," pressed George Lansbury, Labor leader. "There are many people here with relations in Berlin who should be reassured," he continued.

"Should not the Germans be allowed to manage their own affairs?" shouted one Conservative.

The incident was finally ended when Sir John calmly replied: "It is of course partly my duty and partly the ambassador's duty to keep in constant communication and I shall not fail in that regard."

DECREE OF IRON SET ON GERMANY BY HINDENBURG

Death Provided for Disclosing Military Secrets—Heavy Terms for Treason.

CRISIS APPROACHING.

Wild Rumors Spread of Massacre Sunday for All Hitler's Foes.

BERLIN, Mar. 1 (A.P.)—President Von Hindenburg issued a decree to-day "against treason to the German people and highly treasonable machinations" sharply increasing penalties for espoinage, treason and subversive acts.

The death penalty was provided for attempting to secure or disclosing important military secrets.

Ten years imprisonment was specified for transmitting to foreign governments objects or news even if false which should be kept secret in the interest of the Reich.

Not less than three months imprisonment for publicly printing or discussing news which should be kept from foreign governments irrespective of whether the news was correct or faked, was specified.

Concerning subversive propaganda, the decree provides that whoever designs, circulates or keeps in stock for the purposes of circulation printed matter whose contents, in inciting to use force against state authorities or in instigating preparations for or invitations to strikes in vital plants, show treasonable intent may be punished up to three years imprisonment.

Accept No Red Votes

"Parliamentary and democratic times are over for Germany," declared Walter Funk, head of the Government Press Department. One of his assistants declared all the Communist votes cast Sunday will be thrown out.

Meanwhile, there were no signs to give credence to wild rumors that the week-end would bring a terrible fate to the foes of Chancellor Hitler. These rumors, circulating in European capitals, appeared based on the recent orders issued by Minister William Goering to Prussian police to protect Nationalistic groups such as the Nazi storm troops and Steel Helmet war veterans and to ruthlessly suppress others.

(The London Herald reported today what I called a plot of Hitlerites in Germany to "carry out during the coming week-end the most staggering massacre the world has known." It said "All Progressive leaders and Jews" in large Prussian towns were already listed as intended victims. The London Times said, "The threat of a general massacre cannot be treated so slightly now that the Prussian police have been reinforced by Nazi bands.")

Deny Massacre Rumors

BERLIN, Mar. 1—(AP)—Walther Funk, chief of the German government press department, today issued a flat denial on behalf of the government of rumors that the police intended to shoot Communists and other Leftist Saturday night and of reports in the London Herald of a Nazi plot for a week-end massacre.

Rats destroyed a whole town in Tanganyika after first destroying the coton crop. They invaded the town in such numbers that the inhabitants were forced to vacate.

TURNER QUARTET WINS STURGEON CURLING TROPHY

Mrs. R. Turner Scores Decisive 11-4 Victory From Mrs. J. Harkness in Final.

CONSOLATION WINNERS.

Trophy Winner Defeats Mrs. Manson Comstock 12-10 in Semi-final Event.

By a decisive victory in the finals which conluded at noon today at Charlotte Street Curling Rink, Mrs. R. Turner again captured the coveted R. G. Sturgeon Trophy, which she formerly held in 1929.

Playing against Mrs. J. Harkness' mixed rink, Mrs. Turner trounced her opponents with a score of 11-4. In the semi-finals the trophy winner beat Mrs. Manson Comstock 12-10, while Mrs. Harkness won her game against Mrs. DeGraw with the score 10-7.

Play for the Sturgeon Shield opened on Monday morning. An ever-popular annual event, each of the rinks is made up of ladies playing skip and second, and men playing vice and lead. Twelve rinks competed in the 'spiel, and as they were eliminated from the major contest they were relegated to the consolation competition for the cup presented in 1922 by Mrs. E. Waddell.

Trophy Finalists

The finalists in the Sturgeon Trophy contest, were as follows:

Consolation semi-finals will be played to-morrow morning with Miss H. Munro vs. Mrs. E. Waddell; Miss H. Fanning vs Mrs. W. J. Oke.

The vice-skips' bonspiel opens tonight at 7 o'clock for the E. G. Patterson Trophy. Rink officials urge that these games must be played tonight, and accordingly asks that the following rinks turn out at the allotted time:

Seven o'clock: Comstock vs. Archibald; Williamson vs. Robertson; White vs. Lowe; Widdess vs. Taylor; Holyman vs. Nugent; Best vs. Harvey; Clarke vs. Lang.

Nine o'clock: McKay vs. Braund; McGill vs. Garrow; Barnes vs. Medd; Mayneord vs. Gates; Marshall vs. Graham; Gray vs. Archibald or Comstock.

The Weather

While Spring is actually three weeks away as yet, the sun is increasing in power, the days are appreciably lengthening, and it will not be long now when we will hear the welcome note of Robin. A few strange birds are around, but they are probably denizens of the far north, but have come south to secure a more plentiful supply of food. With the exception of the second week February was comparatively mild. The warmest day was the 23rd with 44 degrees; the coldest day was the 9th with 24 below. We had rain on 3 days and snow on 8 days. The total precipitation was 1 inch and 91-100. This is under the usual amount. The beautiful lunar halo on the evening of the 9th was one of the features of the month.—W. P.

Text of Mr. Strickland's Address

"May I add my congratulations to those you have already received, and also commend the mover and seconder of the reply to the address from the Throne, upon performing an extremely difficult task in a most acceptable manner? To me, and I am sure to yourself and to most Honourable Members of this House, the remarks of the Honorable Member from Southern Ontario (Mr. Sinclair), came as no surprise. They were constructive, broad, and displayed a sincere desire to be of assistance to the people of this Province and of the Country generally, at the same time serving notice on the Government that it was and is a time, to watch its step; and that he intended to help them do it and to see that they did do it. With that attitude we on this side of the House can have no quarrel, and while his speech did contain the statement that the address was the most barren he had ever heard, and he has listened to a great many of them, a speech on the address from that Honourable gentleman without that comment, would indeed be news. However, his reasonable astitude is not that of the Honourable Member from Brant, (Mr. Nixon) who roars of the iniquities of the Tories, bravely lending his voice and efforts to the wandering official leader of the Liberal party and leaning with him to the left towards every radical opposition to this Government."

Political Machines.

"A week ago this house heard from him a great deal of political machines, while every move on the part of Mr. Hepburn and the Honourable Member from Brant, would indicate a most burning desire on their part to form a Hepburn machine and acquire office in any manner whatever. Their efforts have resulted in the acquiring of a number of horns of a very vociferous type, but until they acquire a carburetor and a battery, the Hepburn machine will remain where it has always been —at a standstill. At least, no one does suggest that the Honourable Member from Brant is possessed of the tact and self-restraint of a certain pushcart vendor, who when stopped by the traffic lights while wending his way south on University Avenue was asked by an opposition vendor on his way north. "How is business?" replied, "Would Eatons tell Simpsons?" He tells the world that business is rotten but does he tell how it can be improved. He delves into the past three years which all of us knew have been times of trial and hardships for the whole world, and accuses this Government of extravagance and mismanagement.

Let us do a little delving on our own account and see what the figures for the past ten years disclose. In 1923, when the Government headed by the Hon. G. H. Ferguson, came into power, it found on its doorstep, contributed by the Government of which the Hon. Member from Brant was a member and the Provincial Secretary, a deficit of $15,196,226.00, and a state of affairs in the Province created by the Drury Government which resulted in further deficits of $8,468,764.00 in 1924; $5,107,364.00 in 1925; and $812,140.00 in 1926. The people of this Province appreciated the efforts put forward by that Government and it was returned to office in 1926. In 1927, after providing $1,689,569.00 for debt retirement, the Province had a sur-

The governors of Tennessee and Kentucky acting in quick succession to-day, declared bank holidays in their respective states.

Gov. McAlister in Tennessee said bank holidays "in states with which the people of Tennesee daily have business transactions" led him to take action. The holiday is effective immediately and through next Monday.

In Kentucky, Gov Laffoon acted under the law empowering him to appoint "certain days as days of thanksgiving." His proclamation named March 1, 2, 3 and 4 as "days of thanksgiving in the State of Kentucky." Under the order, no deposited funds are to be paid out by banks to-day, and no more than five per cent. is to be paid Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

There was a hitch in plans for bank reorganization in Detroit and the efforts of Senator Couzens due there to-day, were expected to speed the end of the bank holiday which has been operative in Michigan since February 14.

LEGION AUXILIARY HONORS MEMBER

Lakefield Auxiliary Has 25 Active Members—Year's Work Reviewed.

LAKEFIELD, Mar. 1.—(Examiner Correspondence.)— Mrs. W. W. Leonard entertained the members of th Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion and their friends at her pretty home on Albert street on Thursday evening. The evening was very agreeably spent in conversation and music.

Mrs. W. Chappell, president of the Auxiliary, welcomed the visitors and members and Mrs. Earl Orr, the secretary, gave a brief resume of the past year's work. There were 25 paid up members, nine regular meetings were held with an average attendance of 9. A considerable amount of relief work had been done, clothing was bought and groceries and the proceeds of the young people's dance were used for milk tickets for needy veterans' families. A box of boots was donated and these were repaired and distributed, part to needy families and part to the Public school where needy cases were supplied. A flower fund was started and shutins remembered.

Mrs. A. B. Burrows' beautiful contralto voice was heard to advantage in the appropriate number "When You Come Home Dear."

Mrs. Chappel called attention to the fact that ever since the branch was organized thirteen years ago till the present time Mrs. Leonard had held office, giving both efficient and faithful service, which had been appreciated by the members and now as the branch entered on the first year in which Mrs. Leonard was not an officer, it was felt that a small remembrance was fitting.

Mrs. C. C. Stenner presented Mrs. Leonard with a gift of pretty china on behalf of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Government Faces United Opposition

Liberal Party In Legislature Following Caucus Declares Complete Harmony Exists And Support Be Given Nixon Amendment.

MITCHELL HEPBURN AND W. E. N. SINCLAIR HAVE BURIED HATCHET REPORT DECLARES.

TORONTO, Mar. 1.—(CP)—The Ontario Government today faces a united and harmonious Progressive and Liberal opposition. From a welter of statements and counter statements emerged yesterday the definite reply of the Liberal party as a whole to Dame Rumor. And it seems W. E. N. Sinclair, K.C., House Liberal Leader and Mitchell Hepburn, M. P. Provincial Leader, have buried the hatchet.

Fifteen members—the entire Liberal group in the Ontario Legislature—subscribed to the following brief statement: "In view of press reports of disagreement among members of the Liberal opposition, the caucus meeting in full today, without single dissension wish to emphasize complete harmony exists."

From the government caucus concluded late last night came reports of a move to include a clause in the proposed moratorium legislation empowering the mortgagee to obtain a report of the financial statues of the mortgagor. It was also learned an amendment to the municipal act increasing by approximately 25 per cent the assessment of chain stores in Ontario, was discussed.

Chief interest, however, centered about the reported reconciliation of the Liberal leaders. Mr. Hepburn dethroned Mr. Sinclair as provincial leader in 1930, and since that time it has been an open secret all was not well in the Liberal ranks. True it was, Mr. Sinclair was Liberal House Leader, but the voice of Harry C. Nixon, Progressive Leader, was regarded as the voice of Mr. Hepburn.

The breach widened. Mr. Sinclair failed to attend campaign meetings at which Mr. Hepburn spoke. Caucuses were held between Mr. Hepburn and Mr. Nixon to which Mr. Sinclair was not invited. Then came the present session of the legislature and the widest breach of all.

Mr. Sinclair, speaking on behalf of his party on "Leader's Day," declared there should be co-operation with the government on constructive measures. Mr. Nixon moved a MINNEAPOLIS, March 1st—(C. P. — Wearing trousers—if you are a woman—is as bad—according to law here—as wearing nothing at all. A 56 year old ordinance says:

The maximum penalty is $100 fine or 90 days.

Chief of Police William J. Meehan says he will enforce it.

STUBBS IS HELD REBEL, MARTYR

Did His Duty at All Costs His Counsel Asserts as Probe Ends.

ARGUMENTS CLOSE.

WINNIPEG, March 1 (C.P.).—His eyes closed, head resting in his hand and manifesting little interest in proceedings, Judge Lewis St. George Stubbs sat quietly in court yesterday while counsel submitted their final arguments before a commission investigating his judicial conduct.

The mild looking little grey-haired figure was described by his counsel, E. J. McMurray, K.C., as a fearless man who would fearlessly do his duty at any cost. He was charged with being extra-judicial for his conduct in the MacDonald will case, declared Mr. McMurray, but "no nobler or braver thing was ever done by the judiciary not only in this province but throughout the Dominion."

The whole question of the enquiry, said Mr. MacMurray, centred on the right of a judge to "give talks."

"Is a judge to be a legal monk," he asked, "and live a life of seclusion? Must he remain quiet when he sees a wrong being done or witnesses brutality?"

Analyzing minutely each charge as he reviewed them from the evidence, Mr. Sullivan described the judge as a man "seeking popularity by his rebellious attitude," which reflected "growing antagonism against all constituted authority."

NO ADVERTISING FOREIGN GOODS

Radio Stations Must Serve Interests of Canada, Minister Says.

STATUS OF CKOK UP.

OTTAWA, March 1 (C.P.).—Before new licenses will be issued to radio stations in April conditions will be drawn up which will require them to serve the interests of Canada, Hon. Alfred Duranleau, Minister of Marine, indicated in the House of Commons.

Canadian stations should advertise only goods which are actually manufactured in Canada, in the Minister's opinion, and should not serve the interests of another country by using a Canadian channel to broadcast advertising and programs originating in the United States.

The status of station CKOK at Windsor brought the question before the House last night when the vote of $679,550 for radio service during the next fiscal year was under consideration. Hon. W. E. Eulet, former Minister of National Revenue, repeated charges he had made before to the effect the Windsor station was owned and controlled in the United States.

"The operation of the station is being carefully looked into and in a short time I think it will be operating in a manner satisfactory to the House," said the Minister.

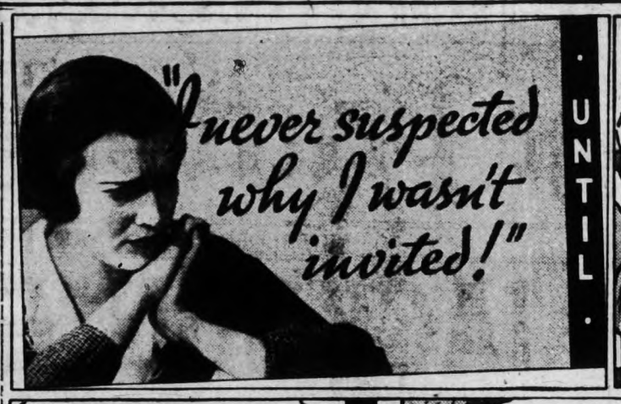
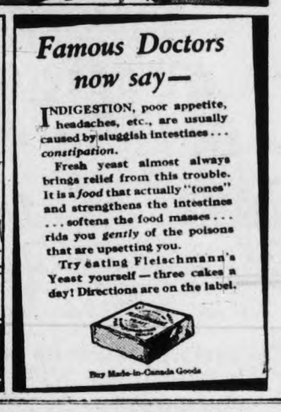
NEW YORK, March 1 (C.P.).—A cable from Panama to the New York Times said the yawl Vigilante of the Lackie treasure hunting expedition that left Vancouver a year ago with high hopes, was sighted in distress Tuesday near Coiba Island. Later a naval vessel took her in tow.

The cable added that the yawl had been used as a supply ship by the party led by Col. J. E. Lackie, "which has been digging fruitlessly on Cocos Island for almost a year."

Word of the Vigilante's plight was carried to Panama by the steamer Susan Luckenbach. Four men were aboard when the Luckenbach pulled up alongside, some 500 miles out of the Panama Canal, and she left them one week's provisions.

The cable went on to say the navy ship Nokomis later discovered the Canadian craft and took her in tow for Frailes Island, about 100 miles from Balboa.





RADIO STATIONS MUST GIVE MORE TIME TO PROGRAMMES WHICH ORIGINATE IN CANADA

Radio License Fee Will Remain at $2.00 Minister Announces.

MONTREAL LICENSE.

Department is Not Satisfied With CKOK Windsor Station.

OTTAWA, March 1. (CP)—Keen interest in radio is being displayed on Parliament Hill. When Hon. Albert Duranleau, Minister of Marine, brought his estimates for ratio service before the House of Commons last night he was showered with inquiries and suggestions which covered the whole field from the method of collecting license fees to the International Radio Conference at Madrid.

The discussion brought about the following statements:

Fee Remains Same

The present receiving set licence fee of two dollars will not be increased this year:

Conditions may be attached to the renewal of broadcasting station licenses in April which will require them to give more time to Canadian programmes and advertising.

The department is not satisfied with the operation of a Windsor station, alleged to be broadcasting largely material originating in Detroit.

The recent grant of a license to La Patrie, Montreal French newspaper, was legal and justifiable.

Mr. Durnaleau's report on the Madrid conference will be laid before the House in a few days.

Offers Suggestion

Abolition of the present receiving set licence system was one of the chief suggestions offered. Hon. James Malcolm, former Minister of Trade and Commerce urged the substitution of a tax on radio tubes which would be collected from the dealers.

The minister promised to consider the proposal which, Mr. Malcolm believed, would yield more revenue, reduced the cost of collection, and be a more equitable levy in that owners of large sets would pay more than owners of small sets.

The government created a dangerous precedent in granting the Montreal license in the opinion of BERLIN, Feb. 9.—Is Hitler a second Mussolini, or a second Kerensky? Will the advent of Herr Adolph inaugurate an era of Fascism as in Italy, or is his coming to power the prelude to a push from the left such as unsaddled Kerensky in Russia in 1917? What does the rise of Hitler mean: revolution or a reactionary regime solidly entrenched?

To find an answer to these questions I sought out a man who is fully conversant with Hitler's private thought, a man who was his closest collaborator for years, Otto Strasser. Strasser is the man who gave Hitler his ideas. He was the

The Eleventh Infantry Brigade under Major-General Junizo Matsuda was reported to have captured Chienping, midway between Chaoyang and Chihfeng.

The army of the south was apparently meeting the stiffest opposition, being opposed by Chinese regulars sent north by Marshal Chang Hsiao-Liang, North China military ruler.

This force, the 14th Infantry Brigade, under Major-General Heijiro Hattori, was reported to have defeated the Chinese regulars against Peichangyungtze, 15 miles beyond Shamoashan, the mountain pass town which was captured yesterday. These Japanese were headed for Lingyuan.

PLACED HITLER ON PEDESTAL NOW HIS DEADLIEST ENEMY

Otto Strasser, Man Behind ChanceHor, Proves Traitor To Cause.

REVOLT IS NEAR

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—Is Hitler a second Mussolini, or a second Kerensky? Will the advent of Herr Adolph inaugurate an era of Fascism as in Italy, or is his coming to power the prelude to a push from the left such as unsaddled Kerensky in Russia in 1917? What does the rise of Hitler mean: revolution or a reactionary regime solidly entrenched?

Pierre Van Paassen

To find an answer to these questions I sought out a man who is fully conversant with Hitler's private thought, a man who was his closest collaborator for years, Otto Strasser. Strasser is the man who gave Hitler his ideas. He was the

Last evening in the office of Mr. A. Beausoliel, supervisor of track, C.N. Rlys., there was a gathering of a group of men of the Maintenance of Way Department, who met to say good-bye to Mr. John Lovell, trackman, who to-day completed his service with the Canadian National Railways, and is retired on pension. An address was read by Mr. R. J. Delahey, President of the Trackmen's Union, and the presentation was made by Mr. Stewart Chambers, foreman, on whose staff Mr. Lovell was engaged for many years.

The address was as follows:

"Mr. John Lovell,—A few of your many friends and hitherto fellow-employees of the Canadian National Railways have come together to say their farewells to you as a railwayman.

"For many long years you have been among us through winter storms and summer heat, and to-day brings to an end your connection with the Canadian National Railways. We wish you to know we are genuinely sorry to lose you from our ranks, while we are glad that you can lay aside the duties you have so faithfully performed in past years, and will from henceforth spend your days in a more leisurely manner.

"We understand it is your intention to betake yourself back to the right little, tight little Island, the home of your boyhood days, and take great pleasure in tendering this travelling bag as a memento from your friends in and about Peterborough, and with it the wish that you may have a safe and pleasant voyage to the land of your nativity and that you may enjoy many years of health and happiness. We are hoping you may some day find it in your heart to return and visit us. You will be sure of a warm welcome."

Signed in behalf of the Maintenance of Way Employees by R. J. Delahey, President, and J. S. Chambers, Secretary-Treasurer.

Garden lovers of Peterborough will learn with regret of the completion by Mr. John Lovell of his service with the Canadian National Railways. Mr. Lovell will be remembered by those who passed the railway gardens from day to day during the summer months for the last decade. Under the shade of the spreading basswood trees, this lover of flowers was to be seen in early morning, cutting, trimming, watering lawns and coaxing his Sacred Heart Church, under the auspices of the Otonabee section of St. Anthony's Society. Forty tables of euchre were played and nine prizes were presented, as follows: Ladies' first, Mrs. Frank Bedore; second, Mrs. M. English; third, Mrs. H. Schell; fourth, Miss Lillian Hynes. Men's first, Mr. Joseph O'Dette; second, Mr. J. Allen; third, Mr. F. J. Bixby; fourth, Mr. John Lynch. The door prize went to Mrs. J. Collins.

The Mission Band of Lakevale Presbyterian Church held a social evening at the home of Miss Lillian Irwin, on Saturday, with about thirty in attendance. During the devotional part of the meeting, an interesting talk was given by Mr. Crillman of Knox College, Toronto, followed by games and contests. Prizes were won by the Misses Margaret Stinson, Jean Harrison, Messrs. Harry Irwin and Lloyd Stinson. Dainty refreshments were served, the evening concluding with a vote of thanks to the hostess, moved by Miss Kathleen Tully, seconded by Mrs. J. Hunter.

plants. His heart was in the work and he usually succeeded in carrying off the first prize in the annual competition of the Horticultural Society of the city. Stray cats and dogs were an abomination, and thoughtless youngsters who sometimes chased others over lawns and through flower beds were a heartburning as they are to all gardeners. Mr. Lovell returns to England, that land of gardens, and will be followed by the good wishes of many friends in Peterborough.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Stones form in the body in any place when certain anatomical and chemical conditions are present.

The anatomical conditions necessary are a space in the body where a fluid or secretion remains stationary, no matter for how short a time.

The chemical conditions are that the fluid or secretion shall contain certain minerals or salts which can crystallize into stone.

The places where these conditions occur most frequently and, therefore, the most frequent sites of a stone, are the pelvis of the kidney, the gall-bladder, the urinary bladder and the ducts of the salivary glands.

The formation of stones in the body is no different from the formation of stones anywhere else in nature. The mineral which most readily crystallizes out of solution and, therefore, most readily forms a stone, is calcium—inside or outside the body. In a stalactite cave you can see the formation of calcium from the deposit of this mineral out of the water as it drops from the roof of the cave. The process is accomplished by the interaction of three natural conditions—the stasis or stopping of the water from rapid movement, the lowering of the temperature, and the presence of a foreign body as a place on which the mineral can be deposited. In the stalactite cave the foreign body is the already formed stalactite.

The presence of a foreign body as a stimulus to stone production can be seen if you dip a string in a mineral spring or allow a piece of string to stay in a glass of sugar solution. The minerals or the sugar crystallize around the foreign body.

Kidney stones, gallstones and salivary stones each require separate consideration.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

C. K.: "Who is the most famous living vegetarian?"

Answer: This is a nice point and requires considerable concentration for decision. Presumably, the most famous living vegetarian should be fairly well along in years in order that he should have demonstrated the correctness of his theories. Also he should be a militant vegetarian. And not a specialist such as a nut eater. On this basis I believe the most famous living vegetarians are George Bernard Shaw, Mahatma Gandhi and Upton Sinclair. As I do not believe the three of them have ever eaten competitively to a decision, the question of which is the most famous will have to be left as a matter of opinion.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

DON'T NAG

A teacher is supposed to correct faults in a client's game. A player in an ordinary game is not supposed to give instructions. When a player has fulfilled his contract, usually he feels satisfied, perhaps he is a bit proud. Certainly he does not want any ordinary player to take him to task for the way he played. Don't nag your partner every time he employs different methods from those you would use. The declarer of the hand shown below was quite peeved when his partner took him to task on technique. Particularly after he had made a small slam and the methods suggested by partner would not have done so well.

Bidding went: Y (third hand), 1-Spade; B, 2-Hearts; Z, 3-Diamonds; Y, 3-Spades; 4, 4-Clubs; Y, 4-Spades.

The opening lead of the K of hearts was won by declarer's Ace. Dummy ruffed a second lead of that suit. Instead of trumping another heart the declarer led dummy's 9 of spades and let it run. It held the trick.

A low club from dummy was won by declarer's K, and he led off his two top spades, being lucky enough to pick up all opposing trumps. Next he put dummy in the lead with its Ace of clubs. He ruffed a club, and again the declarer was in luck, as all opposing clubs fell, leaving two long cards of that suit in dummy.

Dummy's Ace of diamonds won the next trick. Upon the two good clubs in dummy the declarer discarded his last heart and one of his two remaining diamonds. He gave his adversaries one diamond trick, and ruffed the thirteenth trick, thus winning two tricks over his contract.

Of course the declarer felt pretty good over the outcome of his strategy. His partner had viewed the whole proceeding with disapproval, and told Y what a lucky dog he was to have both spades and clubs break 3-3 for him, enabling Y to pick up all outstanding spades and to establish two long clubs in dummy. Really the odds were 7 to 1 against both of those events happening, but what was the use of nagging a partner who had done so well.

The more normal method of play would have been to ruff off both losing hearts and then give opponents one trump trick and two diamond tricks, which would have been all that could be lost by normal play.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

During the last two weeks we have received many letters from our readers, especially after the one "Optimist" wrote, giving various opinions as to whether or not, during these trying times, we should go back to the days of our forefathers.

• • • • • • •

The various letters were read with great interest, no doubt and so I am printing in the column to-day, the opinion of a well known writer, on this subject. I think it will help, too.

• • • • • • •

She says, "It is well for those who feel discouraged by the stress of living conditions as they find them now-a-days, to read history and see what struggles their forbears had in settler times.

• • • • • • •

"There is an inclination to act as if this present period, critical as it may be, were unique; that those of us who are living to-day have a harder condition to face than any through which our forefathers passed.

• • • • • • •

"If any persons have this depressing outlook, reading the annals of America can scarcely fail to be reassuring and encouraging. In those early days of our history, dire want, privations difficult even to comprehend in present times of simplified homemaking, and mechanical contrivances, were linked with a lack of money so widespread, that to help one's fellow creatures was scarcely possible, unless one plunged one's self deeper into the miseries of destitution.

• • • • • • •

"Perhaps there is a temptation to minimize the distress of those days with the thought that such eras were but temporary, because we know of the periods of prosperity which always followed.

• • • • • • •

"It is true that prosperity returned. Should not this be the greatest encouragement at this time? Since such phases of depression formerly have existed, and since they always ended in brighter days, there is precedent in history to restore faith that such will surely be the case now.

• • • • • • •

"It takes courage to face hard times, and everyone who has problems needs to keep this fine trait in action in order to carry on to the best of her ability.

• • • • • • •

"It is not believable, however, that the homemakers of to-day should fail to prove themselves as staunch helpmates and as courageous workers in present time of stress as were the women who in the old historic days bore their share of the brunt of perils.

• • • • • • •

"It is the final pull near the top of a hill which is said to be the hardest. We are on the upgrade. Let homemakers help persistently through careful methods, good cheer in the home and a reassuring faith in speedy return to prosperity based on historic precedent."

Dean Of University Raps Woman Teacher

CINCINNATI, Mar. 1. (CP) Dean Louis T. More of the University of Cincinnati graduate school, thinks one of the "most flagrant flaws" in American grade school education is that most of the teachers are women.

They are, he said, more interested in marriage than in their chosen profession; they don't have the intellectual patience men bring to the work; and they arouse resentment in growing boys seeking escape from "petticoat influence."

"Teaching" Dr. More said, "is one of the professions in which women succeed least. Men have a quality of intellectual patience women teachers do not possess. Most women take on the job temporarily, admitting freely that they would give it up for marriage, and most of them do."

MADRIGAL SINGERS PRESENT ANOTHER SPLENDID CONCERT WITH MUCH FINISH AND EASE

Joyce Hornyansky and Scott Malcolm Assisting Artists.

600 IN ATTENDANCE.

Group of Singers Must Be Heard to Appreciate Smoothness.

(By Jeanette)

Another of the yearly triupmhs of Peterborough's noted choir of women's voices passed into musical history last night, with an audience of nearly six hundred people in attendance, when the Madrigal Singers, directed by Dorothy Allan Park, presented one of their beautiful concerts in the auditorium of the Collegiate Institute, assisted by Joyce Hornyansky, violoncellist, and Scott Malcolm, pianist, of Toronto.

This group of singers has to be heard to appreciate the smoothness and evenness of their singing, the expressive quality they inject into their work, the manner in which the ensemble sings as one person, with no ragged edges or overlapping errors in attack or release, and they have to be seen to appreciate the intense and keen watchfulness with which they regard every sign from their leader, and to mark also their very decorative aspect.

In their pretty gowns of soft pastel tints, with their white fichus and floral breastknots and soft white wigs, they made a lovely picture last night against the white wall of the stage background, with the lowered lights in the auditorium giving full effectiveness to the lights on the stage.

Mrs. Park's intensive and untiring cultivation of the voices of her singing girls makes each year's concert a continued delight. There is finish and ease to their singing, and a triumph of memory work in the fact that every number of a lengthy program is executed absolutely from memory, with no assistance whatever from musical notes.

The singing of the National Anthem in the new slow tempo, with variation of mode, was an appropriately artistic opening note in a very artistic program that centered mainly about music of the decorative type, light, gay madrigals that displayed a preponderance of high, floating tone.

Unaccompanied Numbers

Two of Bach's songs from peasant cantatas: "Hey Derry, Down Derry" and "Of Flowers the Fairest," the latter distinguished by a delicate pianissimo, and two of Brahms' compositions from 12 Leider and Romanzen, formed the opening group by the Madrigal Singers. The Brahms' numbers were sung a capella, or in unaccompanied style, a mode that taxes the resources of any choral group to the limit, leaving no instrumental background as a stay. The singers, in these, as in other unaccompanied numbers of the evening, were triumphantly successful. They were the sombrely-worded composition, "The Nun," and "Love Song," the latter with a dainty, melodious, softly-touched staccato that woke a faint echo through the hall with its muted crescendo.

An ambitious and well-handled group of seven brief songs from "The Moon," followed. This is a cantata prepared and arranged for women's voices from the airs of Henry Purcell and the tone picture progressed through descriptive cadences that wove a tapestry of natural beauty for the listener. Beautiful enunciation of the words were noted in these dainty cameo bits of song that held so much of the ancient use of repeated words. "The Passing of the Moon" and "The Search" held a final emphasized phrase: "Hurry, hurry, hurry, let use find the sleeping moon," but "The Woodland Dark," following, hides the vagrant moon, and "The Questioning of the Ocean" brings in staccato sibilants an "Answer of the Ocean," followed in turn by the lovely soft blending of the "Close of the Day" bit and the finale, "The Moon Reappears," with the harshly sounding word, "sudden," repeated again and again in the soft voices.

A quintette of pretty numbers of the lighter type came later. Sung without piano music were the first two; the light and airy "In the Merry Month of May," with the sopranos enunciating the theme in the half voice, and "The Silver Swan," bringing out more of the rich, deep tones of the alto section. Healy Willan's arrangement of Robert Herrick's "To Violets" was sung, also two more unaccompanied numbers; the same composer's arrangement of "Sigh No More, Ladies," in a difficult five-to-the-bar measure, with a beautiful, sustained finale, and Frank Bridge's gay and saucy "Peter Piper." This, decidedly a comedy number, was one of the achievements of the evening. Mrs. Park's absolute control of her singers' attention and their own extraordinary control of their fine voices, was manifest in the difficult and exacting and funny bit, that told in rapid tempo and staccato fashion, of the "peck of peppers that Peter Piper picked." To say one of these alliterative masterpieces is an achievement in itself, but to sing it rapidly in unison, with no perceptible pauses or flaws, is something else again. The audience applauded it so much that the singers obligingly did it over again.

Two Folk Songs formed the concluding choral numbers on the program: the English tune, "The Staines Morris," a Maypole dance piece of jollity, and a rollicking, jaunty Irish tune, with the lilt of the Celtic tongue in its words and the hint of an old-time jig in its tempo. It was "Follow Me Down to Carlow," a "spoken" number with a rapid, unceasing, repeated refrain. The audience applauded this, the last number on the program, as enthusiastically as the first selection, and the Singers repeated it also.

Assisting Artists

Joyce Hornyansky of Toronto, the assisting 'cellist of the evening, and Scott Malcolm, pianist, pleased their hearers with their fine music.

Mrs. Hornyansky, in solo, played several descriptive movements from De Falla's "Suite Populaire Espagnole," among them a lovely lullaby and a song, with the dramatic and picturesque variations of a theme that was thoughtful, smooth and flowing. Played partly with muted strings, it was music that brought a quality of gravely thoughtful sweetness from a pliant bow. Poignant sweetness of a low, haunting calibre was in the last movement that repeated its alluring soft melody with expressive beauty. In response to repeated applause, the 'cellist played Albeniz' "Malaguena."

Mr. Malcolm was a careful and accomplished musician whose selections also brought him sincere and repeated appreciation from his hearers. His solos included the gay, florid dance music of "Rondo-Gavotte" (Bach-Burmeister); and Ravel's "Jets d'Eau," a sparkling thing that fascinated with its brilliant, flashing descriptive painting of the fountain in a dreamy corner of a sunlit garden.

Then he played Chopin's Nocturne in C minor, a song of the night that gripped with its temperamental fantasies and the brilliance of a touch that seemed to press from the keys every last echo of a virile and rounded tone.

As an encore, Mr. Malcolm played the vivacious and captivating Ballet Music from Schubert's "Rosamunde."

In duett, with Mrs. Hornyansky's rich, deep' cello music, he played by request ,the first movement of a Grieg sonata. With its Nordic quality, it was music of power and pathos, a mysterious composition whose theme dwelt mainly in the deep-toned strings of the 'cello,—sombre, moody music like a gathering storm, with the glittering piano as a relief to its dark mood.

Last in mention, but certainly not least in support of the choral music and in the skill and ability with which she carried out her duties as accompanist, was Gwen Donley Craw, who played with her usual sympathetic comprehension of the many difficulties of the program.

OUR MAIL

Dear Anne Wilcox:

This is an S.O.S. call for help from some of your readers who may have them. It is printed instructions, in full, for the method of knitting men's heavy socks. These were printed in war time but I have not been able to find them now. I like the double heel best and a toe not too pointed. Also, has anyone directions for knitting men's mitts? These would be much appreciated by many of us, I am sure, if it would not be too much trouble to print them.

I have noticed so often references made to pioneer days and the hardships the women especially had in those hard times. We know they worked very hard and endured conditions worse than most of us can imagine. But do you not think it is a step backward to refer to them so often now? They had hopes of better times for their descendants and I think many of them would be disappointed that we country women especially, have not advanced as fast as the city women in the matter of improving our living conditions. I have read two or three references to the hardships some of those on city relief have had in using coal oil lamps. Most of us in the country have those in prosperous times and many other inconveniences which the city women would look upon with disdain.

And we work hard enough that we deserve the best. It is not because we are satisfied to accept such low prices for all our produce that we cannot buy things which we are entitled to in this advanced age? We allow city middle men to take our profits and their wives live in luxury, which we who do all the hard work, cannot afford. After all, only a small proportion of those in the cities are as hard hit as we on the farms, and so many are better off than before

Yours sincerely,
"BETSY JANE ANN."

No doubt some reader will be able to supply the information which you request, Betsy Jane Anne, but it may be the instructions will be too lengthy to have printed; in that case I will forward them to you. I think, perhaps, you are correct in what you say about conditions now.

Sincerely,

Anne Wilcox

LIGHTS FOR PEDESTRIANS.

Among the legislation proposed by Mr. Sinclair at the present session is an amendment to the Traffic Act that would compel persons walking on the highways after dusk to carry lights visible for 200 feet in either direction.

Judging by the difficulty experienced in having the carrying of lights upon horse-drawn vehicles made compulsory, this new safeguard will be a long time in coming.

Rural Ontario was strongly opposed to the regulation, and it was many years after it was first proposed before the measure was finally approved by the Legislature—and even yet it is the case that a good many farmers are opposed to the law in that respect.

If pedestrians carried lights at night they would, of course, protect themselves to a considerable degree against the danger of being run down by an automobile—but human nature being what it is, the majority of people will probably prefer to take the risk rather than to have to go to the trouble of securing a lantern before venturing out on the highway.

THE ONTARIO SITUATION.

The open severance of relationships between W. E. N. Sinclair, the Liberal House leader, and Mitchell Hepburn, the Ontario chieftain of the party, will occasion little surprise, inasmuch as it has been foreshadowed by recent political developments.

The climax, of course, came when after Mr. Hepburn had been attacking the Henry Government up hill and down dale from platforms in every part of the country, Mr. Sinclair rose to his feet in the Legislature and urged that the Government should be extended co-operation in its efforts to deal with the pressing problems with which it is confronted.

That was too much for the fiery Mr. Hepburn—and he now tells the public that he and Mr. Nixon have formed a close alliance, that they intend to fight the Government tooth and nail and that there is to be no such thing as quarter.

All of which means that Mr. Nixon, the Progressive leader, will be the House boss of the elected Liberal members, working in close co-operation with Mr. Hepburn, while Mr. Sinclair, who is the official leader of the opposition, will be left out on the end of a line.

Just how many of the Liberal members in the Legislature will clamber out there with him remains to be seen; possibly none of them will dare the Hepburn ire.

At all events the situation is an interesting one and further developments will be watched with keen interest.

A GREAT WORK.

The recent resignation from the position of principal of the Frontier College of Alfred Fitzpatrick, M.A., the founder of the college, who had given thirty-three years' service to this great movement, affords an opportunity to pay tribute to the work done by this splendid educationist who saw the need of providing better educational facilities for Canada's outpost workers and set himself the task of adequately meeting that need.

The Frontier College was the realization of Mr. Fitzpatrick's dream, and it is impossible to overstress the value of what has been accomplished by the organization in the direction of improving the condition of Canada's workers in the pioneer districts.

Through its medium young college graduates have gone out to the front line trenches, as it were, to lumber camps, railway camps and similar places, and there at nights have helped to educate their fellow-Canadians, whether native or foreign-born.

These laborer-teachers, as they are called, have been able to reach and assist hundreds of workers every year—there were 2,681 pupils enrolled in 1932—and many a newcomer to Canada, as well as many Canadian-born workers whose opportunities for education had been limited, owe it to the Frontier College that they have been given a fresh start in life and a new chance to make good.

In the machinery he has set up and the record of service he has established, Alfred Fitzpatrick has earned the gratitude of this country; a noble task, wisely planned, has been faithfully carried out.

THE NEW LIBERAL PLATFORM.

One of the most important speeches made by Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King since his defeat at the polls in 1930 was that delivered by the Liberal leader in discussing the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation in the House of Commons on Monday.

Mr. King not only set forth the opinion of his party that the Socialist program of the C.C.F. was impossible, but at the same time he announced a fourteen-point platform upon which the Liberal party will appeal to the people at the next general election.

His treatment of the C.C.F. proposals was all the more effective because the Liberal leader was restrained in his references to the plans of the Woodsworth-MacPhail group; he exposed the futility of what was proposed without being unduly severe upon the exponents of the doctrine.

It was, however, by his exposition of new Liberal policies that Mr. King made his greatest impression.

He urged that unemployment relief be dealt with by a national commission, and as a permanent measure, that unemployment insurance should be adopted, and employment provided by a revival of trade and industry.

He pledged himself to abolishing the tariff increases of the present Government, to do away with all extra taxes on imports, and to substitute stability for uncertainty in the administration of customs laws.

Again he declared his willingness to promote trade with all nations, and to negotiate agreements with all countries willing to trade with Canada on a reciprocal basis.

Under a Liberal Government Mr. King declared the Liberal policy of the British preference would be continued by a reduction in existing tariffs rather than by an increase in tariffs against other countries.

Another plank would be an attempt to end artificial price control and agreements in restraint of trade, and still another even more important one, the establishment of an investment control board to have supervision of issues and securities of federally incorporated charters.

Furthermore, Mr. King declared that the Liberal party stood for the establishment of a national central bank to "perform the function of rediscount and the control of currency issue."

Other things favored by the Liberal leader were a lowering of interest rates, a balanced budget and free speech, including the repeal of Section 98.

In short, Mr. King laid down for the benefit of Parliament and more particularly for the benefit of the whole country, the policies upon which he proposes to battle when the time comes for political warfare on the grand scale.

HEPBURN'S CONSTRUCTIVE CRITICISM.

So often in the past has Mitchell Hepburn, leader of the Ontario Liberals, made foolish statements, that many people have come to a belief that he has nothing constructive to offer and accordingly have become inclined to disregard examining the detail of such statements as he does make. Last Saturday, however, at a convention of the Liberals of Western Ontario he made some really constructive suggestions and there is no doubt that some of the proposals he made could with profit be considered by politicians in other provinces.

These proposals were made in response to a statement by the Ontario Premier that there should be some constructive criticism and were as follows:

1. Efforts to discover and develop new mineral sources as an outlet for some of the unemployed.

2. Reforestation, as another aid to the workless, also of a revenue-producing kind.

3. Daylight on the operations of the cost, rentals and payrolls of the Liquor Control Board, to discover why Ontario has so little to show in profits as compared with other provinces.

4. Elimination of departments of Provincial Government which needlessly overlap federal departments, such as Agriculture, Health, Labor, Fisheries, Mines, and especially Immigration.

As regards the first suggestion it is probable that efforts to discover and develop new mineral sources should be left in the hands of private individuals and companies lest the interference of the Government in the matter should lead to greater trouble in the end than in the beginning. As regards the matter of reforestation, however, it is evident that money spent in this way when finances permit would return good dividends. It is in the last two suggestions, however, that Mr. Hepburn has made some real contribution to political thought in the province. There is no doubt that there is good reason to look for some light on the operation of the Liquor Control Board, while the overlapping of provincial and Dominion departments of government is one of the most wasteful features of our system of government and one, by the way, which could very readily be altered. In some cases it would appear that the duties performed by the provinces could very well be taken over by the Dominion, while in others it would appear that the work done by the Dominion could be better handled by each of the provinces in its own sphere.

We would like to carry the suggestion further and again suggest that there should be a cutting down in the number of governments all through the Dominion. Premier Bracken has already voiced this possibility as regards the Prairie Provinces, and it is possible that success might be attained very readily there. In the Maritimes where there is a longer history and stronger feeling on the matter of provincial rights there might be more difficulty found, though this could be overcome possibly, by first purchasing Labrador from Newfoundland and then combining it and the three Maritime provinces into one legislative area, retaining the three existing provinces as judicial districts or some other such units where each could retain its separate identity.

The office of Lieutenant-Governor, moreover, could easily be abolished in each of the provinces, thereby resulting in a considerable saving. Last year it was clearly demonstrated in Ontario that that province could get along very nicely without any such official, the Chief Justice taking his place. Since then, the office has been filled, and while it has been filled very acceptably as far as the appointment itself is concerned, the fact remains that in every province in Canada the lieutenant-governorship is a luxury which could quite easily be done without.

In the various provinces, however, many of the municipalities could be very well combined into larger units with a cutting down in the number of officials necessary.

Democratic government, of course, is an expensive thing, but the expense can be limited to some extent and such limitations as are possible should be put into effect now when the cost of government is so great.

It would seem that Mr. Hepburn, in boxing parlance, is finding that the straight "one-two" is more valuable than all the wild swings "to the left" that he could make.—Monetary Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Canadians who heard Sir Malcolm Campbell's speech yesterday will agree that his modesty as an orator is only exceeded by his skill and courage as a racing driver.

One argument being used against a continuance of the cut in the salaries of federal civil servants is that private employers are encouraged to take similar action. But as a matter of fact, haven't private employers been reducing wages all along the line for many months past?

Canada's new Tariff Board is now in office. Let us hope that it will be able to make a real contribution to better business conditions.

So far as this session of Parliament is concerned discussion on Mr. Woodsworth's Co-operative Commonwealth proposals is apparently definitely ended. But it will be heard from again when the political orators take to the stump.

If the Duff resolution is pressed to a vote it will only be because the opposition is more anxious to play politics than to further the cause of reciprocity.

A Peace River outlet to the Pacific is one of those luxuries that Canada for the present will be forced to do without.

CHAPTER 7

The young man downstairs saw nothing strange in Araminta's apparel. On the beach. At picnic parties. Pajamas. He thought them sensible. And he thought, too, he had never seen Arminta so absolutely exquisite.

He held out his hand and drew her to him, "Do you think I'm going to let you get away with it?"

As she looked up at him, he seemed to her excited imagination to loom above her like a tree with tall branches. She knew the idea was fantastic, but he seemed to fill the room. It almost frightened her, the way he filled it.

"I'm sorry, Barney."

He still held her hand, "What happened? Was it anything I did last night?"

"No," she drew her hand away and sat down. She hadn't thought it would be so hard. Barney was splendid. But she didn't love him.

She told him that. And he wouldn't believe it. "Do you think I am going to let you go like this, Loveliness?"

"I'm afraid you'll have to, Barney."

She had seated herself by the side of the fireplace, and he sat beside her, his blue eyes burning, his voice eager; she was knit into his life, he said, and he could not tear her out. For years he had dreamed she might some day come to him—and he had seen her always as a part of his future—under the moon as they sailed the seas; by his fireside to welcome him at night; smiling at him across the table; smiling at him . . . with his child in her arms.

All this with a passion and stark sincerity that struck at Araminta's heart. Here was no longer the light-headed, light-hearted Barney who had danced through the days, but a man among men, offering her a love which had to do with the deep and lasting things of life.

And in contrast what would Janney give her? An almost intangible devotion. The mysticism which brings a monk to the altar or a nun to night vigils. Yet it was Janney's image which obsessed her. As he had stood in front of her last night at this very fireplace—dark and brooding, making indefinite demands on her allegiance.

She was aware of the tragedy of her choice. It seemed as much out of proportion to her ideals, to love Janney instead of Barney as she was out of proportion physically to this great drawing room of Aunt Min's, with its blue ceiling high above her like the sky, its Brobdignagian chairs and tables, its Gargantuan paintings and tapestries. And she was out of all proportion, too, to Barney, who was as big in heart and mind as he was in stature.

And thinking all this, she laid her hand on his. "I've got to tell you . . . there is some one else. . . ."

"Some one else? Some other man?"

"Yes. He was here last night—when I came. I thought I had forgotten. But I hadn't."

"You mean that all you have said means nothing, Minta."

"I meant it at the time. . . ."

"How could you mean it? You can't love two men at once. Let two men—love you. . . ."

Her face was very white. She knew what he was thinking. Of that moment in the pavilion when he had caught her up in his arms. Of those other moments in his car, when the rain had shut them in.

Her voice was tremulous, "I am not like that—really."

"Like what?" sharply.

"Cheap." Her self-control gave way. "I thought I had put him out of my life. And I wanted to care for you a lot Barney. I wanted to care . . ."

Her distress was unmistakable. When Barney spoke again it was with less sternness. "You couldn't help it, of course." He stood up, squared his shoulders. "Well, that seems to be all, doesn't it?"

"Yes." And again, "I'm sorry."

"Don't be. It's all in a lifetime, Minta." He went to the door—came back:

"Promised anything?"

"You mean—?"

"Are you going to marry him?"

"He hasn't—asked me. . . ."

Barney put his hand on her shoulder, "My dear," he said gently, "that's very brave of you to tell me."

"I should have told you—long ago."

His grasp on her shoulder tightened. "You mustn't think I am going to give you up. Not now. It's a fair field, an open one. And you're worth fighting for, Minta."

"Am I, Barney?"

For the first time that morning he smiled at her. "You are, and you know it."

Rhoda let Barney out of the front door and watched him go down the street. He still marched as if to martial music, but Rhoda had seen the look in his eyes as he passed her. "He doesn't know where he is walking," she told herself, "and it would serve her right if something ran over him and he was brought back dead and laid at her feet."

Which shows that Rhoda had a sense of what was due to romance, and a mind a bit above the opening of doors and the taking of little dogs for airings.

As Araminta climbed the stairs slowly, she had a sense of deep depression. She had been true to herself. But at what a cost. She had lost Barney. And Jan didn't want her. There was nothing left, apparently, but to go with Nicky and Mary to the Riviera.

Aunt Min, still at her breakfast, greeted her with, "Your mother telephoned. She has been much worried. I told her you'd call back. And I told her, too, that I want to keep you here tonight. I am having Janney Breckenridge to dine and a few others. I called him up to tell him that the wedding was off, and he asked if you were staying over. He sails for Italy on Friday."

Friday and this was Wednesday! Three days and two short nights! That wasn't the way that Browning put it, but the paraphrased line was haunting. Araminta's heart was beating wildly.

"There will be the Huse-Browns and two men who know Janney. And today there's a bridge luncheon and two teas. How will you fill in the time, Minta?"

"Sleep," said Minta, "I'm dead for it."

Aunt Min was curious: "Did you make your peace with your young man?"

"He isn't my young man any more," said Minta, "and if you don't mind we won't talk about it."

She kissed her aunt and called up her mother. Then she went to her room, threw herself on the bed and lay there for a long time, thinking of Barney who had gone away and of Jan who would come that night.

And as she lay there, Rhoda tapped at the door. "A special delivery for you, Miss Minta."

"Thank you, Rhoda," and Rhoda went out and shut the door, and Araminta read her letter.

It was from Jan. He must see her alone, he said, after dinner. "Make it possible, Mignon. Your aunt's message brought the blood back to my heart." And he was ever hers, Jan.

That was all. But there was magic in it. She got up and moved about the room restlessly. Aunt Min's Persian basked in the window. She went to it and ran her fingers through its fur. "Darling," she said, "darling. . . ." But it was not of the cat that she was thinking.

Meanwhile, Barney, riding like mad in his low-hung car, which slid like a shining snake along the highway, was thinking only of Araminta. It seemed to him incredible that she was no longer his. But when she had never been his—not even at that high moment when he had lifted her in his arms and had loved her.

He passed the white of the dogwood where they had waited in the rain. He passed the bridge which spanned the arm of the bay. Three ducks flew up. . . Look, Barney, look. . . ! I know, Loveliness!

A few minutes later, he passed Great-Gate, looked at the house, looked at the hill beyond. Then he slowed up his car and stopped.

Leontine was running down the hill to meet him!

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 1
(Read Job 23:8-17)
PERPLEXITY AND FAITH

This is a curious thing Job saying; he can not, he says, find God anywhere in his life and yet he has always kept God's way. Job might be speaking for us today; for the distressed who want to lay their case before an understanding love; for the doubting who can not live without God and do not know where to find Him; for the perplexed who see so much suffering and wrong why God does not intervene.

The surest way to find God is to live as though He were nearer than breathing, closer than hands or feet. The roads to the certainty of His presence and power begin just where we are. As we keep His commandments, try to be good and kind, some assurance of the Divine goodness and kindness lightens our darkness. As we try to be just, some gleam of the Eternal justice illumines our troubled human ways. "Then shall ye know, if ye follow on to know the Lord"

Prayer: O Thou Whom we seek in all our need and through all the mystery of life and without Whom we can not live bravely or well, forgive us that we so often miss Thee. Show us Thy paths already at our feet. Give us courage and vision to follow in faith Thy ways of love and right until our own lives become Thy revelation and Thy spirit transforms our deeds. As we thus draw near to Thee, do Thou graciously draw near to us until we become more sure of Thee than the light. In His name in Whose life Thy love becomes light and life. Amen.

JACKSON PARK: AN APPRECIATION.

To Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—During the present period of unemployment, we concerned have an opportunity of inspecting our local beauty spots and, incidentally, of appreciating them.

Jackson Park, in the "o'd days," was frequently the scene of family picnics beneath the pines on a Sunday afternoon. Now comparatively few avail themselves of even a stroll there, summer or winter. Yet in winter, after fresh snow, we have within walking distance a veritable winter fairyland.

For skiers, what joy to glide through the virgin snow, over dazzling sunny spaces, into patches of pine-cast shade, up winding paths, over-thatched above with cedars, down evergreen-fringed slopes, rolling away to the creek's icy edge! Here the creek is at its best, rushing from under an ice layer and gurgling along, with sunny golden glitter, under the rustic bridge. Then as I ski along the shady path, I see the gnarled old beech, its whole trunk scarred with initials, hearts and dates—one of the latter reading "18-." But a rude interruption from a scolding red squirrel whose mate, antiphon-like, resumes the chorus from a nearby elm. Later, a bushy-tailed black squirrel races up an old oak tree. Then, having sped over most of the park, including a few half-ton stones which the conscientious caretaker, Mr. Orde, had somehow neglected to toss to one side of our ski track, I slipped through the old Chinese bridge at the end of Artificial Lake, cut on the road and home.

To fully appreciate Jackson Park we should acquaint ourselves with its winter beauty, after a fresh snow.

Thanking you sincerely for this space, Mr. Editor, I am

HALL'S BRIDGE SOCIAL EVENING MUCH ENJOYED

HALL'S BRIDGE, March 1.—(Examiner Correspondence).—A social evening was held by the Sunday School of Hall's Bridge Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, attended by a large number of parents and children.

The program opened with the scholars singing, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," followed by a reading by Sam Wood, "How We Licked the Teacher"; instrumental quartet, Mr. and Mrs. H. Windover, Miss Helen Wood and Mrs. R. Fulton; community singing led by Mrs. R. Fulton and Mrs. Wood; piano solo, Mrs. R. Fulton, followed by games and contests.

A beautiful bridge lamp was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wood, by J. R. Gillespie, while an appropriate address was read by Miss E. M. Dewart. Mr. and Mrs. Wood were taken by surprise but fittingly replied, expressing their thanks and good wishes for the work, not only at Hall's Bridge, but everywhere. Dainty refreshments were served and the evening concluded with the singing of the National Anthem.

Manitoba's metal production in 1932 had a value of approximately $8,334,000, an increase of about one and a quarter million dollars over 1931.

This is the signature of a man of such refinement and feeling and altruism of purpose as to make his success as a business executive somewhat of an anomaly. Educational work would seem to be his forte. He has the delicacy of understanding, the sort of imagination and the patience which the ideal teacher should have. Additional qualities in his make-up indicate the director on some manner of an educational program; he has originality of idea on a scholarly foundation, a scientific attitude of approach to any problem, and organizing and administrative ability. Indications are that success in the commercial world came to him as the result of native intelligence of a high order and conscientious effort in the application of his intelligence—which combination of qualities insures success for those with administrative ability, given time for the acquisition of the background of necessary details. This man has a mentality of much quicker grasp than the average which is ready in association of ideas and orderly in the organization of details. He is conventional and conservative but of great kindliness and generosity of feeling.

MADOC W.I.

Ladies Hear Fine Address on Health, Child Welfare by Mrs. Beatty.

MADOC, Mar. 1. — (Examiner Correspondence).—A most enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Chris Henderson on Thursday when under the auspices of Madoc Women's Institute about thirty-four of the members and friends met for the transaction of business, the receiving of reports and a program in which several of the standing committees were represented. Mrs. C. N. Whytock presided. Relief report was presented by Mrs. G. C. Moon. Mrs. Geo. Huffman gave a splendid report on current events of the month. Mrs. Beatty had a very concise and well prepared address on "Health and Child Welfare", while the topic for the evening "Art and its influence on the Home" was well taken by Miss H. Uhrich of the High School staff.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the speakers for their interesting and educational addresses and after the National Anthem a social time was spent and a dainty lunch served by the hostess and her assistants.

Reports were received of the Handicraft Class held early in February, and also of the demonstration of waterless cooking held at the home of Mrs. Chas. Whytock earlier in the week.

ALL OF US

By MARSHALL MASLIN

YOU CAN DO IT!

You say you can't stand it any longer? You have reached the limit of your endurance? You are through and you don't care who knows it? You dont care what anybody says, you cant go a step further? It's the end.

Well, that isn't so, and you know it isn't. You can stand it if you will. You can stand it better, too, if you'll stop thinking of yourself and think of other men—of only a few of those billions of human beings who have gone this way and made many a weary journey of it, but who have come through the dark places at last and lived to see the sun shine on life again.

They struggled, they fought. They sailed the seas. They climbed many a wearisome mountain pass, fought many a foe, suffered ghastly loss, were lonely, were afraid, were desperate, were beaten as you have been beaten...You are not different from them. They were human, too. And some of them thought they couldn't stand it any longer, either. Just as you think. They heard the winds of agony and self-pity howling through the corridors of their own souls and they thought the end had come.

But something happened to them, as it might to you. They found a scrap of courage, a bit of courage, a shred of self-respect, a morsel of defiance and they fought off the blackness and the pessimism and they said: "I WILL NOT BE BEATEN! I am here to fight this thing through. Some of me is still left, some of me is still strong, and some of me is still strong, and some of me will NOT show the white feather. What others have endured I, too, shall endure because I am part of Life and Death has no share of me!"

And so you may be sure that among the vast crowd of other people all around you, there are some who are worse off than you and have not surrendered. They have always been poorer, humbler, less healthy, less intelligent, have known few of the advantages you have enjoyed.....But they have Hope, they Courage, they have Common Sense—and they know that, whatever happens, they can stand it.

Let the wind howl, let the darkness fall around you, let weaker men cringe in the caves of despair—but YOU stand up and defy the Spirit of Death that whispers that you cannot stand it when YOU KNOW YOU CAN.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

AN EPOCHAL DATE FOR WOMEN

On this date, in 1878, a woman was first appointment to the civil service of Ontario. The lady was Miss E. F. Stowe, a member of the family which also gave Ontario its first woman doctor; she was appointed by Hon. C. F. Fraser, then commissioner of lands, who often declared later that, although he had no idea that he was creating a new opening for educated women, he never regretted the placing of women on an equal status with men in the civil service.

There was quite an outcry from the old fogies of the time; the idea that "government jobs," theretofore reserved almost exclusively for those who did the best work at election times, should be given to women, who had not even a vote, was too much for them. What would happend to the home if the women were to be permitted to compete with man in business? "The very foundation of social well-being was being undermined," and so on. One Toronto paper actually made the incident a cause for political attack on the Mowat ministry and called upon all those who stood firm to British tradition to vote against this weakening of British institutions. It seems so ridiculous now; but the opponents were very much in earnest. It was all right for women to be employed as charwomen to clean up the mess made in legislative chambers when the lights were lowered after a night's sitting; that was woman's job; but the idea that girls could be so educated as to fill men's places in business was carrying things too far.

It was some years later before the federal government followed the example of the Ontario administration. I believe that the first woman to be employed at Ottawa in a clerical position was a Miss Treadwell, who was set to work in the dead letter branch of the Post Office department. Like her sister at Toronto she did her work well, and proved that sex was no bar to capability, thus opening the door for the thousands of girls and women who are now employed in government offices and private businesses, for the latter followed when the success of the former was assured.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, March 1 (C.P.).—Due more to lack of support than to any particular selling, wheat prices eased fractionally in early trading on the Winnipeg grain market to-day. Trading was dull.

At mid-session, all wheat futures were ¼-cent lower. May at 47⅝, July 48⅝ and October 50 cents.

Export business was confined to a small lot of No. 1 hard for shipment out of Montreal at the opening of navigation.

Liverpool wheat held firm within a narrow range and quotations near the close were 3-8d to ½d higher. Buenos Aires wheat opened unchanged to 1-8c lower from Saturday.

PROBLEM FOR COMPANY

BRANTFORD, Ont., Mar. 1 (CP)—The question perplexing D. O. Johnson, Jr., chairman of the Street Railway Commission, is what to do with all those coins, foreign and domestic, ancient and modern, plugged and mutilated, along with buttons, medals and weird looking tokens the fare boxes have disgorged over a period of years.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

STANDARD EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, March 1.—(C.P.).—The Standard Mining Market held moderate gains to-day with scattered exceptions and volume was just fair. The big gold shares steadied following the recent spell of churning about and appeared to be digging in at the present level while waiting for the New York market to overcome its nervousness resulting from the U. S. banking disturbances. Siscoe was the target for special selling to-day but after weakening to $1.32, steadied and then recovered most of its loss.

The base metal shares were firmer in the afternoon transactions. Nickel creeping up to $8.75, Falconbridge to $2.50 and Noranda to $32.15, the latter holding a 38-point gain. Silver shares were also stronger.

In the gold section Hollinger was up 10, Dome 35, McIntyre 25, Teck Hughes 12 and Wright Hargreaves about 15.

Lake Shore dropped 50.

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, March 1. —(A.P.).—Stocks rallied slowly in the late trading to-day under further short covering, erasing losses sustained in a forenoon sag. Many net gains were fractions to more than a point. Eastman Kodak advanced 2 while gains of around a point occurred in case, Allied Chemical, American Can., American Telephone, National Biscuit and Continental Can. Consumer Gas and Standard Oil of New Jersey were steady. Turnover approximated 800,000 shares.

TORONTO EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, March 1.—(C.P.). — The late rally in Wall Street tilted Toronto Stock Exchange listings upward in the late trading to-day. Inter-listed shares were foremost in the pick-up and volume expanded on the re-bound.

Feeling much better following its recent sell-off, Dominion Stores got back up to 14 for a net gain of 5-8 and Laura Secord gained a full point while small advances appeared in Canada Vinegars and Canners Common. Minor recessions were registered for Walkers common and Canada Bud while Distillers Seagram did better.

Among the leaders Nickel moved up to 8 3-4 for a gain of 1-4, Brazilian advanced a similar amount Smelters was up nearly a point and Ford A held firm. Most of the Oil Stocks showed gains for the day.

FACES DRUNK CHARGE.

LONDON—As the result of an accident last night, in which three persons were injured, Alvin Sabine, with driving while intoxicated. He will appear in court in a week's time, adjournment having been granted to-day because Sabine is in hospital.

Melville Wilson and Miss May Hodgins were also hurt. None of the three was in serious condition.

NOTED BASSO PASSES.

LONDON.—A blow was struck English choral and musical circles to-day in the death of Robert Bradford, one of the finest English bassos of recent years. He had been professor of singing at the Royal Academy of Music since 1926.

No Early Meetings For Hamilton Board

HAMILTON, March 1. — (C. P.).— The Street Paving Committee of Hamilton won't catch any worms. Alderman Ainslie, chairman, instructed secretary Charles Stewart to call a meeting of the committee for seven o'clock Friday morning. When the members heard about it they raised such a howl, the chairman changed the meeting hour to nine o'clock.

ARTHUR BRETHEN SUNDAY SPEAKER

TRENT RIVER, March 1st—(Examiner Correspondence). — The Sunday afternoon service at Trent River United Church taken by Arthur Brethen, ex-M. P., of Norwood who chose as his topic of address "The Child in the Midst." In opening his remarks, the speaker referred to traffic signs along the highway all for a purpose of warning. "If we take the Bible throughout there are many warning signs. We as Canadians are very proud of our wonderful resources and sometimes in praise of these we are apt to forget the human element—man—what are we doing to conserve our human resources? The work of service clubs, and child welfare clubs are examples to conserve our human element, but after all this is done the "home" is the outstanding resource. We have an old adage "The hand that rocks the cradle, rules the world."

The mother in the home is the greatest factor in the home, and by flowers on Mother's Day we offer tribute to "Mother" living or dead, added honor means added responsibilities. Mothers are deserving of the highest honor we can give them. First the child has rights—as much right to play as a man has to work, the right begins very early.

Obedience is a very great necessity. The greatest menace we have to-day to increase to lawlessness of our young people all down the ages, the law of God was to punish the people for breaking the laws, therefore children should be punished. By punishment of mistakes we will not repeat them. The speaker in talking especially to mother's impressed the idea "Don't lie to your child," if you do there will come a time when your child will not believe you. Punishment should be given according to the nature of offence. "As a twig is bent the tree will grow." Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it—that is the ideal way of bringing up your child.

The speaker closed his remarks by repeating a few verses the "temple built by mother" and requested the mothers of the congregation to meet with him at the close of the service for a few minutes discussion regarding a helpful pamphlet which he wished to circulate. Mr. Brethen spoke in the United Church, Havelock, Sunday evening on "a father's responsibility to his son," his helpful addresses were very much appreciated.

The World's Day of Prayer in connection with the Women's Missionary Society will be held in the Presbyterian Church, Havelock, Friday.

SENATOR COUZENS LEAVES FOR CONFERENCE WITH MOTOR CZAR

Suggested Plan of Procedure Agreeable to Controller of Currency.

DECLINES TO COMMENT.

DETROIT, Mar. 1. (AP).—After conferring for several hours with Detroit bankers, Senator James Couzens, who came here from Washington to-day to aid in steps toward straightening out the Michigan banking situation, this afternoon went to Dearborn for a conference with Henry Ford.

Although Senator Couzens, who is Canadian-born, upon his arrival this morning, said he had "in my brief case" a plan of procedure which was agreeable to the comptroller of the currency, he declined to comment further, saying he preferred to await the outcome of conferences with bankers. He did not reveal the nature of his business with Mr. Ford, his former partner in the automobile business.

Clifford B. Longley, president of the Union Guardian Trust Company and attorney for the Ford Company, and Frank Couzens, Detroit councilman and son of the Michigan Senator, accompanied him to the Dearborn conference.

"There is nothing that I can say until after I have talked with the bankers and obtained at first hand their views upon the situation" Senator Couzens said.

THOMASBURG.

Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Badgley of Larkins on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Elliott are visiting friends in Napanee.

Mr. and Mrs. Melbourne Adams entertained a few of their friends with a card party on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Holbert and family of Moira, Miss Ethel Holbert and Mr. William Holbert of Roslin visited Mr. and Mrs. James Brown recently.

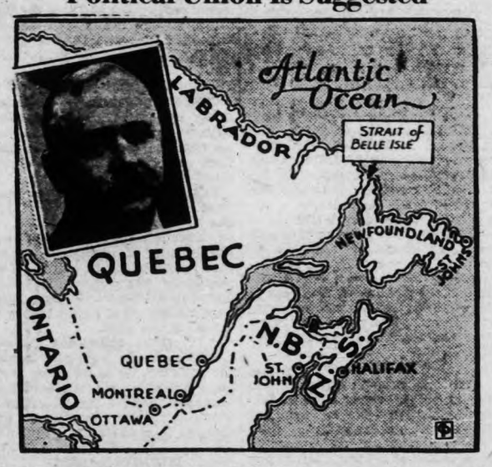
Mr. C. Turner of Peterborough is spending a few days here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coulter visited friends in Toronto over the week end.

Mrs. Ernest Coulter visited friends in Belleville last week.

Mrs. John Robinson of Napanee is visiting her sister, Mrs. Murney Hamilton.

Political Union Is Suggested



Once again it is stated from authoritative sources that the much-talked-of political union of Canada with Newfoundland and Labrador is not far off. Premier Alderice (INSET) of the empire's oldest colony is reported as having made informal overtures to Canada. In the ABOVE map is shown the land which would become a sort of tenth province of the Dominion of Canada under any union. Labrador would probably be returned to Quebec, from whom it was taken after the capture of Quebec by General Wolfe.

Government Safe

EDOUARD DALADIER

When a motion to cut France's military expenses passed the senate, the government of Edouard Daladier cleared a great obstacle and will remain in power for another spell. The government won the vote of confidence also in the chamber of deputies.

Oath Bill Is Passed By Dail Eireann

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Mar. 1st.—(C.P.—and A. P. cable). —The Dail Eireann to-day passed by a vote of 75 to 49 a Government bill abolishing the oath of allegiance to the British crown. The measure now goes to the senate.

When the Irish Free Stte was created there was written into the constitution a provision that all officers of the estate, including members of Parliament would take an to-day deadlocked both houses of oath of allegiance.

The bill which The Dail passed Parliament at the last session. If the Senate adopts it the Oath will disappear immediately. If the Senate should reject it, which is not epected, it will become law in 60 days anyway.

McCurry To Referee 2nd Colborne Game

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Mar. 1.—(CP)—Percy Bond, president of the Ontario Hockey Association, said today Frank "Duke" McCurry would act as referee in the return game between Port Colborne and Hamilton in the Senior "A" playoff of the O. H. A. It was said a protest against McCurry had been lodged by Hamilton. McCurry officiated at the first game in Port Colborne, won by the Ports 2-0. President Bond said, however, he would agree to a second official, an umpire of play, but that McCurry had been agreed upon before the series and his choice as referee would stand.

Liquor Sales Show $10,000,000 Decline

TORONTO, Mar. 1.—(C.P.)— A drop in total sales of nearly $10,-000,000 for the year 1931-32, ending last Oct. 31, is shown in the report to-day of the Liquor Control Board of Ontario. Net trading profit decreased nearly $2,000,000.

For 1931-32 total sales were $36,-099,561 as against $45,835,707 in 1930-31. Net trading profit in 1931-32 was $5,847,936 as against $7,-627,521 for 1930-31.

TORONTO — Premier George S. Henry, who has been suffering from influenza at his home, was reported "very much improved" today. It is not expected, however, the Premier will return to his duties at the Parliament buildings this week, although he has been busy at home and held one cabinet meeting there.

Taxpayers To Meet Finance Committee

A group of property owners who have been circulating a petition to be presepted to the city council requesting that this year's tax rate be reduced will meet the Finance committee in the council chamber to-night at 7.45 o'clock.

One of the promoters of this appeal has asked the Examiner to announce this interview to-night in order that a large representation of property owners may show by their numbers that the petition has their general support.

It is realized that the council is in a difficult position, the Examiner's informant stated, but on the other hand the taxpayers have a serious problem which might be relieved to some extent at least by a lower tax rate this year. The Finance committee meets in the committee room at the city hall, but it is expected that as they comprise the whole council they will adjourn to the main chamber for the purpose of receiving the deputation's appeal.

Mother, 5 Children Burned To Death

ULSA, OKLA., Mar. 1 (A.P.)—In a vain attempt at rescue, a mother was burned to death with five of her nine children in their little home at Sand Springs, a suburb, this morning.

The dead:

Mrs. Ethel C. Kepner, 34, wife of a cotton mill worker; Robert and Charlotte, her 13-year-old twins; Jewell, 11, a daughter; Wayne, 10, and Frank, 7, sons.

Three other children escaped the burning house.

ROAD FOREMEN ARE RELEASED

About 100 Men in Peterborough County Are Affected by Order.

NO MAINTENANCE WORK.

HAMILTON, March 1.—(C.P.)—Road foremen and laborers engaged on highway work throughout Ontario have been released by the Ontario Government, it was learned here to-day. The orders have been issued by Hon. Leopold Macaulay, Minister of Highways.

Workers in this district received thir orders yesterday and ceased their duties to-day.

No weeds will be cut along the highways, or any of the usual maintennace operations on if the order remains in force as at present.

About 100 men, customarily employed as laborers, and three patrol men will be affected in Peterborough County by th is new order, W. A. Millen, 533 Waterford street, road foreman of Highway No. 7 east of Fowler's Corners, told The Examiner.

Mr. Millen said he had been informed of the order some days ago, but did not consider the program as drastic as outlined in the Hamilton despatch.

"I was told that all work on the highway in my district must be discontinued except that required to keep the highway safe for traffic," he stated.

Weeds will not be cut, there will be no painting of guard rails and other work in the usual highway program has been ordered stopped, he said. "However, the highways will be kept safe for traffic," he declared. "Icy places will be sanded, holes where the road has sunk repaired, and other work necessary to maintain the highways for safe travel will be done. Anything more than that will stop."

Cows Land In Cab Truck Is Ditched

COOKSVILLE, Ont., Mar. 1.—(C.P.).—Isaac Piercy of Bolton was driving a truckload of four cows when the steering gear broke and the machine went into the ditch.

Isaac roused from his daze after the crash and was surprised to find two of the cows in the truck cab with him. Isaac scrambled nimbly to the highway.

ALNWICK TOWNSHIP'S OLDEST RESIDENT IS 88 YEARS OF AGE

GREAT CHURCH WORKER

ROSENEATH, March 1.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Mrs. Thos. Lean(nee Sarah Jane Jibb and daughter of the late Joseph and Mary Jibb) bears the distinction of being the oldest resident in the township of Alnwick to-day. Born 88 years ago on a farm in Hamilton Township, near the little village of Cold Springs, of parents who were among the first hardy settlers of that part of the county, Mrs. Lean was brought up in the atmosphere of romance and hard work that was the primary association of those days. When twenty-five years old she married Thos. Lean, who was the village doctor at Cold Springs. It was a Saturday night on the 9th of October, 1871, when Thomas Lean and Sarah Jane Jibb drove in an open buggy to Port Hope to the Methodist parsonage, where Rev. Mr. Tapp joined them in holy bonds of matrimony. Their attendants were her brother, Joseph, and her sister, Margaret, Jibb.

Made Lovely Couple.

The bridal couple looked charming and somewhat superior to the ordinary weddings in those days, as their photo describes. Dr. Lean wearing his college gown and his beautiful bride in her flowing silk gown that took about fifteen yards of material and swept the floor—so long one could not see her feet. The skirt was almost covered with frills made of the silk, while the bodice had a low neck, white silk front, long sleeves with frills down over the wrist. Around her neck was a band of black ribbon velvet. Her little flat bonnet, about the size of an ordinary saucer, was covered with lace, flowers and ribbon. The style of hair dressing in those days was much different than we have to-day. Mrs. Lean had a mass of fringy bangs across the front, while the back was combed high and coiled around the top of the head.

After their marriage, the happy party returned to her father's farm and later moved into Cold Springs where Dr. Lean resumed his practice until 1876, when they moved to the village of Roseneath, where he had a wide scope of country and where he braved many of life's hardships in helping the sick for much of his work was done on foot, especially during the heavy winter months when the snow covered the fences and lasted for weeks at a time. His successful career was ended by death on December 26, 1891.

Strong Personality.

Mrs. Lean, in her younger days, was a woman of talent and strong personality, having been very active in church societies, a member of the choir for over twenty years, always willing to help either in the Roseneath Methodist Church or at Centenary Church, also in nursing Mrs. Lean is spoken of by many whom she helped through sickness and trouble. She was ever bright and jolly and always ready to lend a helping hand.

Now she is in her declining years, the sunset of life, her eyesight is failing and she is becoming more forgetful the last couple of years, although nothing pleases her better than a visit and chat from any of her old friends.

Since the death of her husband she lived with her son, Austin Lean, and after thirteen years she has made her home with her second son, Bowman Lean.

Having reared nine of a family, only three survive—Austin and Bowman, of Alnwick Township, and Mrs. Alexander Stevenson, of Harwood.

Obituary

ERIC SCRIVER

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, March 1. — The death took place on Sunday night of Eric Scriver, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Scriver.

The funeral was held on Monday morning. Rev. H. J. Bell of Trinity United Church, was in charge of the services. Interment was made in the Trent Valley cemetery.

MURRAY RICHARDSON.

CENTRETON, March 1.— (Examiner Correspondent.)—Mrs. J. A. McAuley received word on Sunday night of the sad death of her nephew, Mr. Murray Richardson, of Toronto, who met his death when he was struck with a car and killed early Sunday morning.

The deceased was in his 31st year and was well known in this village. He was a son of Mr. Frederick Richardson of Toronto, formerly of Centreton. Others left to mourn his loss are four small children and his widow and mother, Mrs. F. Richardson, and one sister, Jean, Mrs. F. Oliver, and one brother, Ross, all of Toronto.

MRS. JANE BROOKS

COBOURG, March 1 (Special to The Examiner).—The funeral took place Monday afternoon from her late residence, at Coldsprings, of Mrs. Brooks, widow of the late John Brooks, who predeceased her some months ago. Mrs. Brooks had not been in good health for the past year. Before her marriage, Jane Robertson, she was a lifelong resident of the locality. She is survived by two sons and two daughters, Messrs. Wilbert and Clarence Brooks, Coldsprings; Mrs. J. Rosevear Harwood, and Mrs. Davidson, wife of ex-Reeve Thomas A. Davidson of Hamilton township, who resided with her mother.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. George Campbell, Camborne, assisted by Rev. W. R. Tanton, Cobourg, and Rev. Mr. Leach, Gore's Landing.

WILLIAM J. SANDERSON

NORWOOD, March 1 (Examiner Correspondence).—The funeral of the late William J. Sanderson was held Monday afternoon from the family residence, Asphodel township, to the Norwood cemetery.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Kempt of Havelock. The large attendance and floral tribute bore silent proof of the esteem in which he was held.

The late Mr. Sanderson, who was 66 years of age, has been in failing health for some time owing to a stroke seizure which he suffered more than a year ago, and from which he partially recovered, died suddenly Saturday morning.

He was a son of late Frank Sanderson, a pioneer settler in Smith township and of a family of nine brothers and sisters, only two survive, Mr. Ed. Sanderson of Smith, and a brother in Western Canada.

He came to Asphodel township 36 years ago. He was a member of Norwood United Church and the Rob Roy Canadian Order of Foresters. Six of his fellow Foresters, Messrs. John and Samuel Brooks, W. H. Montgomery, Hugh Robb, Ed. Soth, and Frank Webster being his pall-bearers.

He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Percy Elliott, Mrs. Ross Gardner and four grandchildren, who have the sympathy of the entire community.

MRS. SOLOMON COX

LAKEFIELD, March 1 (Examiner Correspondence).—The funeral took place on Friday of the late Mrs. Soloman Cox from the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Moore, Douro; the service was in charge of Rev. W. R. Archer, B.A., of the Lakefield United Church, and was largely attended by friends and relatives. Mr. Archer spoke of the long life of the deceased lady spent within a radius of ten miles where she was well known and enjoyed the regard of a wide circle. To quote from Mr. Archer's address: "Surely goodness and mercy have followed her all the days of her life."

The pall-bearers were Messrs. George, Everett and Wellington Garbutt, Theodore Crawford and Clayton and Oswald Jory. Interment was made in the Lakefield cemetery.

The late Harriet Lukey was the second child in the family of nine of the late Robert and Mary Lukey, and was born in 1852 on the farm in Dummer now occupied by Mr. John Jory. In 1874 she was married to the late Soloman Cox, who died in 1904, and during her married life resided on the Cox homestead where now her daughter, Mabel (Mrs. J. H. Moore) resides with her husband and son, Wray, who is the fourth generation of the family born on that farm. Besides Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Cox is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Meeker of Detroit, and Mrs. Hutchison of Chatham, and a brother, Frank Lukey of Havelock.

Mrs. Cox was well known in the community and enjoyed the regard of a wide circle of friends, but for the past years she has not been able to live her accustomed active life, and for the past four years she was confined to her bed, nursed by her devoted daughter and her family.

Weddings

BYRNES—SHANNON.

MARMORA, March 1. — A quiet wedding took place at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Marmora, on Tuesday, Feb. 28th, when Marion Ann Shannon, Reg. N., only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Shannon of Marmora, was united in holy matrimony to Dr. Thomas O. Byrnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Byrnes of Toronto.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Miss Madeline Bertrand, Reg. N. Mr. J. L. Shannon, Phm.B., brother of the bride, was best man. Rev. Father J. J. Keeley, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, officiated at the ceremony, and Rev. Father J. J. McCarthy of Norwood was also present in the chancel. Vocal solos were rendered by Miss Genevieve Shannon and Mr. Harold Auger during the Mass.

Following the event, a quiet breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, after which the happy couple left for Toronto, where they intend to take up temporary residence.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

ONTARIO GRAIN

TORONTO, Mar. 1—Approximate prices track shipping point—Wheat 44c to 46c; oats, 29c to 34c; barley, 32c to 35c; corn, 39c to 39c; rye, 30c to 32c; buckwheat, 26c to 30c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL—Butter stocks held in storage in Montreal warehouses were reduced over 3,000,000 pounds during February, according to figures announced by the Montreal Board of Trade yesterday.

Stocks of creamery butter as of today were 71,033 boxes of 56 pounds each, as compared with 138,403 boxes at the end of January, a decrease of 67,380 boxes, or 3,213,280 pounds. The reduction of stocks in January was 37,613 boxes or 2,095,128 pounds. Dairy butter stocks were 113, against 942 boxes on Jan. 31.

Toronto Buys

The large drop in butter stocks was caused by heavy sales to outside points in Ontario, including Toronto when shortage forced them to buy in Montreal where there is more butter at present than in any other city in Canada.

Uncertainty as to whether there will be enough butter to last until production starts in the spring gave the Montreal butter market a strong tone today. No. 1 grass-make, in carlots or less advanced a ¼c to 24½c a pound. Receipts were only 63 boxes.

Less Cheese

Stocks of cheese and eggs were also lower. Cheese stocks totalled 59,180 boxes of 65 lbs. each, as compared with 67,210 boxes at the end of last month. Fresh egg stocks were 7,141 cases of 30 dozen each, against 12,014 on Jan 31. Stocks of storage eggs amounted to 2,185 cases, against 5,886 at the end of January.

Eggs advanced 1c a dozen on the Montreal market today. Fresh graded extras in carlots or less sold at 23c, firsts at 21c, pullets at 19c, and seconds at 18c a dozen. Receipts were 1,984 cases.

Cheese quotations held unchanged, fresh or recent make Ontario colored at 11¼c to 11½c a pound. Receipts were 127 boxes.

Potatoes held steady. New Brunswick Green Mountains, per 80-pound bag, selling at 75c to 80c, and Prince Edward Island Green Mountains, per 90-pound bag, at 85c to 90c.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Mar. 1. — Higher prices for wheat to-day resulted largely from buying to anticipate an expected definite showing that farm use of wheat has been of unusual volume.

Private estimates of domestic farm stocks of wheat, originally due to-day, but now postponed until Thursday, attracted special notice because of suggestions current that figures would be bullish. Less uneasiness was shown regarding financial developments, and there were indications of export buying of United States' corn.

Gains Fractional.

Wheat closed strong at almost the day's top, ½c to ¾c above Monday's finish; corn a shade to 3-8c advance; oats a shade off to a shade up; and provisions unchanged to a rise of 2c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Last-hour rallies in the Chicago market which found reflection here drove local shorts to cover on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday. Recovering from earlier declines, wheat prices closed ¾c-⅞c higher, May future at 47⅝c. July 49c and October 50⅛c-50¼c. Trading was fairly active throughout.

Despite overnight sales of wheat for export, values traded below the previous close for most of to-day's session. Liberal offerings entered the pit, mostly from elevator interests, and at one time May delivery was as low as ⅝c down.

A late rally at Chicago, however, halted the decline. Prices turned upward and early sellers were forced to bid up prices to protect their commitments. Values were trading at the day's tops at the finish.

CAMPBELLFORD

NEWS ITEMS FOR THE TRENT TOWN DISTRICT

In the death of the late Mr. Frank Maines on Sunday in Toronto, many of the local residents will mourn the passing of one who was well known in Campbellford. Mr. Maines was a resident here at one time, and also a property owner in town and married a local young lady, Miss McKelvie. Mr. Maines was 67 years. The funeral was held at Tweed yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Brunelle entertained on Tuesday evening to eight tables of bridge. The winners for the evening were Mrs. (Dr.) H. O. Richardson and Mr. Walter G. Wiggins. A delightful lunch was served at the conclusion of play.

Captain C. O'Connor-Fenton of Peterborough was a visitor to town on Tuesday, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Mollenhern.

Prefers Cash

CHICAGO, Mar. 1. (AP)—A little caution is a good thing, Mrs. Lillian Selvig believes.

When a judge told her former husband, J. S. M. Selvig to pay up his alimony or go to jail, she said:

"I'd rather have the money, judge. Jails won't hold him. He's a locksmith."

Trustees.—W. M. Fowlds, J. B. Moore, Alex. Wilson.

The Sunshine Mission Band report, as given by Miss Hazel West, treasurer, shows receipts of $24.00 and expenditures of $23.95. The Band meets twice monthly, with a membership of 25, and an average attendance of twenty. Mrs. Annie Whitred is leader and Miss Valda Mouncey, secretary.

The Ladies' Aid, one of the busiest societies in the church, showed a splendid report, as given by Miss Annie Spooner, treasurer, shows receipts as $567.72, with disbursements of $574.18, leaving a balance on hand of $13.54. The Ladies' Aid was of great financial assistance to the church in 1932. Officers for 1933 are: Hon. President, Mrs. (Rev.) S. H. Hill; President, Mrs. H. B. Wilson; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. H. McMillan; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Charles Graham; Secretary, Mrs. W. S. Fife; Treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Spooner; Organist, Mrs. W. R. Learmouth. During the year fifteen meetings were held, with a fair attendance at each one; an effort will be made in 1933 to increase the membership.

The Home Helpers, with Mrs. C. Dodd as secretary, report a membership of 30, with contributions of $16.80.

The Women's Missionary Society with a membership of 16, shows $69.30 sent to the Presbyterial treasurer. The meetings are held the third week of every month. The officers for 1933 are Mrs. W. Hill, President; Mrs. A. Fleming, Secretary; Mrs. H. B. Wilson, Treasurer; Mrs. G. Whitred, Supply Secretary; Mrs. C. Dodd, Home Helpers' Secretary; Glad Tidings Secretary, Mrs. W. Hill; Welcome and Welfare Secretary, Mrs. H. B. Wilson.

From the report of the Sabbath School given by Mr. F. Kennedy, Treasurer, a balance in bank of $45.82 is shown.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

Saves $2. So Easy! No Cooking!

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in more homes than any other cough remedy, because it gives more prompt, positive relief. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a 16 oz. bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Syrup is easily made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes fine.

Instantly you feel its penetrating effect. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm, clears the air passages, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief in severe coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, used for generations for its healing effect on throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

BANKS CLOSED BY GOVERNORS

was extended another day to enable the legislature to provide effective laws for meeting the situation and a bill to permit the calling to bank holidays was passed by the West Virginia legislature. A similar measure is before the Nevada assembly.

Banks in several cities in Indiana have followed the example set by some Indianapolis institutions and placed restrictions on withdrawals, and in Ohio the withdrawal of deposits had been curbed by more than 200 banks.

Some Pennsylvania banks have taken advantage of new legislation permitting limitation of withdrawals, but the number is not large. Gov. Pinchot expressed the belief that the legislation will obviate any possibility of a statewide holiday.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE IS GIVEN AT HASTINGS

HASTINGS, Mar. 1 (Examiner Correspondence) — A fair crowd were present on Friday night for the illustrated lecture and concert in aid of the Canadian Institute for the Blind under the auspices of the local churches.

Rev. H. J. Bell was chairman and in a few brief remarks spoke of the great misfortune for anyone to lose their sight. Rev. S. H. Hill, Rev. H. F. Battersby and Rev. M. L. Hinton of Castleton also gave short addresses; the chairman allotting each speaker three minutes.

Slides were shown of the work done by the blind at the Institute which Mr. Herbert C. Treneer, A.T.C.M., explained, who, also rendered several solos and instrumentals.

TURKEY IS RESCUED

WINDSOR—Distress cries today drew the attention of Pelee Island folk to a lugger frozen in the ice. Guy McCormick and Fred Ouelette made their way over the ice to the boat and found a big turkey in a coop. They also found several cases of beer.

FORD ASSISTANT FINDS HIMSELF

Sleeps Clock Around as State-wide Search is Being Conducted.

UPSETS BANK PLANS.

DETROIT, Mar. 1 (A.P.)—Ernest G Liebold, Henry Ford's general secretary, "found himself last night in a hotel room in Traverse City, Mich., many miles away from the home to which he started at 11 a.m. yesterday and never reached.

By telephone he told Mr. Ford that he "just woke up," that he had no idea how far he had driven and that he was "totally exhausted."

A state-wide search had failed to reveal a trace of him. In his absence bank reorganization plans were held up.

Associates believed he was suffering from the strain of two weeks of unremitting work on Detroit's complicated banking situation. He was charged with most of the details of a pending plan for reorganizing two of Detroit's largest banks under Ford control.

Only a few hours after the alarm was spread yesterday letters were received by officers of two Dearborn banks containing his resignation from their directorates. No definite clues to his whereabouts had been uncovered until he telephoned last night.

FINE ARTS SHOWN AT CAMPBELLFORD

Fine Arts Guild Gives Exhibition of Prominent Canadian Artists.

CAMPBELLFORD, Mar. 1 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — Under the auspices of the Canadian Fine Art Guild an exhibition of Canadian Art was shown at the Campbellford High School on Monday evening. The Literary Society of the school sponsored the exhibition.

Carl Shearer was present and lectured on the exhibits and art in general, explaining the fine points of comparison between the different works and the individual artistic touches which are associated with the technic of the different artists. Oils and water colors prints and etchings and wood and lino blocks were among the exhibits, making a splendid collection for all lovers of artistry.

Three pictures were purchased by the High School among these being an original of T. Y. Greene's "The Passing Storm." Some signed oils by A. Y. Jackson were shown and a fine collection of wood blocks by Leonard Hutchins showed the distinctive artistry of this exhibitor. Lionel Taylor had some fine water colors mostly pastoral with fine tree effects. Trees were also emphasized in works by Bell Smith, one canvas of which, ranked as one of the best twenty in Canada was valued at $900.

A fine collection of oil sketches were shown by George A. Reid and his wife Mary Ridge, it being difficult to differentiate between these two prominent Canadian painters. Some fine wood blocks by Phillips of Winnipeg were among the many outstanding works of art, and Paul Peel with his child studies attracted much attention.

One admirable portrait example was shown by Kenneth Forbes, striking the attention as being an outstanding example of this branch of the science, and it is not to be wondered at when it is remembered that Forbes has brought to Canada the highest British honors by having three pictures hung on the same line at the Royal Art Gallery, London, England, at the same time. There was only only of Forbes' works, a signed original.

One canvas by E. Y. Jackson, an original, depicting a Quebec village scene was valued at $700, while Phillip Smith of Hamilton had a splendid example of technical art in the commercial sphere, the detail in this being perfect.

motion of non-confidence after an attack on the government.

It became brushed about Mr Sinclair intended to vote against Mr. Nixon's motion, and would vote with the Conservative administration. This was followed by Mr. Hepburn's direct statement there would be no co-operation with the Government, and the inference the House party leadership would be handed over to Mr. Nixon.

Following the caucus yesterday, however, Dr. George McQuibban, Liberal whip, declared complete harmony had been reached and the Liberal party had never, in the past 10 years, been in "more complete harmony." Mr. Sinclair, he said, with the rest of the Liberal group, would vote for Mr. Nixon's motion of non-confidence and would unite in the direct opposition attack on the present government.

Charge Relief Policy

A. V. Waters, Con., North Cochrane, urged the government to change its direct relief policy in Northern Ontario and declared "I am afraid many people will die this winter from lack of medical attention—not because doctors are unwilling to help them, but because they cannot afford it."

S. C. Tweed, Lib., North Waterloo, also attacked the direct relief system and said the advisory relief committee should be laid down the principle all food and other supplies should be secured direct from the farmer, manufacturer or wholesaler." This would have saved the municipalities 35 per cent of their expenditures, or provided 35 per cent more goods for those on relief, he said.

BACKACHES

Not always due to Female Complaints

. . Says doctor who advises on care of kidneys and bladder

Backaches, nervous spells, bearing-down pains, dizziness and headaches are not always due to sicknesses peculiar to women.

Slight or temporary disturbances of the kidneys and bladder are frequently the cause of these pains. However, this condition can often be remedied quickly by Santal Midy Capsules, obtainable at most any drug store.

Santal Midy Capsules contain a precious East Indian extract which soothes the kidneys and acts as an antiseptic on the bladder. Don't wait until kidneys and bladder get in a serious condition. A small amount spent now for Santal Midy Capsules may save you hundreds of dollars and untold suffering. Get Santal Midy from your druggist—today.

PANCAKE SOCIAL IS SUCCESSFUL EVENT

Staged on Monday by Campbellford A.Y.P.A.—Over 50 Attend.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 1. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent. — The last social event before Lent, a pancake social, staged on Monday evening by the A.Y.P.A. of Christ Church, Campbellford, in the Parish Hall, proved a very successful event, over fifty being present to enjoy a delightful evening. The gathering was presided over by the Rev. T. H. Floyd, rector and president.

After the devotional opening and business session community singing was led by Franklin Linton with Mrs. J. Benor at the piano. A very pleasing contest was staged, the winners being Miss Mary Smith and Ted Cryderman. The pancake lunch was served in the basement of the hall, the evening closing with a dance for which music was supplied by Mrs. Benor, Miss I. Bygott, and Mr. G. Frederick.

A report was given of the dance held on Friday evening, the net proceeds from this function being $24. Winners for the novelty dances were Mrs. D. McArthur, Miss Mary Smith and Miss Verna Dewer.

Chicago, New Orleans Waterway Opened

CHICAGO, March 1 (C.P.).—Into Chicago Harbor the United States Government boat "Gouverneur" was scheduled to churn its way to-day from Lockport, Ill., unofficially opening the Illinois-to-New Orleans waterway.

The appearance of the old stern-wheeler here will herald forging the last spoke that makes Chicago the Mid-West's transportation hub; tapping of the interior of the United States by the great inland waterway system and man's successful meddling with a tug-of-war geological forces engaged in thousands of years ago.

Early French explorers visioned a direct water link between Chicago and the Gulf of Mexico; Illinois started to work on it, and the Federal Government applied the finishing touches.

TRENT RIVER.

The March meeting of the Ladies' Aid will be held Wednesday afternoon at the United Church.

Efficiency League meeting will be held Sunday night instead of Friday night, when Mr. Isaac Lawson will have charge of devotional topic.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pollock arrived Monday from Toronto to take up residence.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Umphrey and son Jimmie, Mr. and Mrs. George Van Volkenburg and son Earl, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Van Volkenburg were recent visitors with Mrs. H. R. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Wood.

Mrs. Percy Gardner, daughter Ruth, and son Glen, of Norwood, were Friday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. James Longmuir and family.

HASTINGS.

Hastings L. O. L. No. 886 held a most successful box social on Wednesday evening, Feb. 22nd, in the Orange Hall. Mr. Donald Beamish, W.M., acted as chairman for the evening's entertainment, which consisted of numerous enjoyable games, round and square dancing. Music was supplied by the Beamish Brothers and Mr. Fred Hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Waters entertained around one hundred friends and neighbors at a house party on Tuesday evening, Feb. 21st. Mr. and Mrs. George Brooks, of Trent Bridge, supplied splendid music for the delightful dances which continued until the early hours of the morning.

Scout Books were issued to the boys on Friday night at the regular meeting held under the direction of Scoutmaster Rev. S. H. Hill. There was a large attendance at the first meeting and it is thought that by the time the Scouts start on their hikes there will be a troop of 50 boys. The Scout committees were also in attendance on Friday night.

When returning from his home on Saturday afternoon Alex. Wilson had the misfortune to slip on the icy sidewalk on Victoria street hill, suffering a hard fall. Fortunately the veteran clerk of the village escaped without any broken bones.

Weddings

O'BRIEN—FITZPATRICK.

St. Peter's Cathedral was the scene yesterday of a very pretty wedding when Camilla Kathleen, one of Peterborough's most popular younger set and daughter of Alderman and Mrs. J. D. Fitzpatrick became the bride of Dr. Justin McCarthy O'Brien, son of Mrs. Winnifred and the late Mr. W. J. O'Brien. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Costello, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral. The bride, who was given away by her father, was charming in a gown of ivory chanvre cire lace in a dainty spray pattern with a soft frill of the same lace rippled from a square neck line and encircling the arms falling over the elbow. Casplenne blue velvet ribbon was draped into a bow at the back, with streamers to the floor. A Watteau hat with a loose petal crown and a shirred velvet brim completed the costume. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids, lily of the valley and Ophelia roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Marion Fitzpatrick, who wore a dainty gown of pastel pink silk net over taffeta, with hat to match and carried butterfly roses and lily of the valley. The bride's mother was lovely in a Paton gown of black lace with silver, and corsage bouquet of Talisman roses. Mrs. O'Brien, mother of the groom, was resplendent gowned in a Redfern model of French blue crepe and Chantilly lace with silver fox fur. Her hat was a black French Paris-Sheeg model with blue and white trim and cire ribbon. Miss Geraldine Collins sang sweetly during the nuptial mass, accompanied by Miss Veronica Stollard, organist.

The ushers were Dr. E. M. Crough, Dr. Herbert Young and Mr. Hamish Sheehy.

About fifty guests attended the reception and wedding breakfast. Later the bride and bridegroom left by motor for Toronto, New York and Atlantic City, the bride travelling in a smart blue gown of Rodhanese crepe with matching accessories.

Among those present were Rev. P. Costello, Rev. J. J. O'Brien, Rev. V. J. McAuley, His Worship Mayor and Mrs. Donne, Dr. and Mrs. N. D. Buchanan, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Young, Dr. J. F. O'Brien, Dr. E. M. Crough, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Southern, Renfrew, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Fitzpatrick, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. O. de Lagbaute, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Reidy, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Fitzpatrick, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Glover, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. O'Brien, Miss Mary Harrison, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Geraghty, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Doris, Miss M. Richards, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. V. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ross Thornton, Misses Mary and Helen Fitzpatrick, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. J. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Phelan, Mr. Hamish Sheehy, Mrs. Lenahan, Miss Veronica Stollard and Mr. Basil Phelan.

Swinton Advances To The 3rd Round

LONDON, March 1 (C.P. Cable).—Three second round matches of the English Rugby League Cup were played to-day, having been postponed from Saturday when heavy snow prevented competition.

Leeds journeyed to Salford and won 4-3, while Wigan pleased its home crowd by defeating Oldham 5-2. The third game saw York lose on its own grounds to Swinton 3-0.

The three winning teams to-day thus enter the draw for the third round to be played March 11. Leeds will play Wakefield or Hull; Wigan will play Batley or Warrington, and Swinton will play Barrow or Huddersfield. Five more second round games have yet to be decided.

ARMS EMBARGO IS AID TO JAPAN

will have absolutely no effect on the present hostilities."

Japs Driven Back

PEIPING, Mar. 1.—(AP)—A dramatic Sino-Japanese clash in a snow-driven pass in Central Jehol was described in Chinese official despatches today from the battle area.

Failing to force their way through strongly held Chinese positions at Paishihtsuimen, near Lingyuan, 1,000 Japanese were reported to have made a sudden sortie through a small ravine.

After toiling half-way up the rocky slopes, the invaders were said to have spotted, through falling snow, the figures of a detachment of Chinese silhouetted along the ridge.

Mistaking these for isolated bands of guerillas, the Japanese pushed up toward the head of the ravine, it was said, when the defenders suddenly opened fire. The Japanese found themselves at grips with a force of 2,000 Chinese regulars. After a fierce engagement, the Japanese were obliged to retreat, the reports said.

JAPAN GRADUALLY WINNING.

CHINCHOW, Manchuria, March 1.—(A.P.)—More rapidly and with fewer losses than even the most sanguine Japanese had hoped, Jehol to-day appeared to be slipping from China's grasp.

With Chihfeng, Chienping and Wunkunfu, strategic points, fallen, the occupation of Linguan, an important passageway to Jehol city, the capital, appeared a matter of hours.

The defenses were crumbling before the men of General Nobuyoshi Muto, commander in chief of the Japanese army in Manchuria. Defections from the Chinese forces also were said to have played a part.

To-night only the southern fringe of the western mountain wastes in Jehol province remained Chinese, and Japanese leaders were speculating whether a complete Chinese debacle would admit them to Jehol city prior to March 10, the army's memorial day.

The fourth cavalry brigade of Major General Kenosuke Mogi won the race to Chihfeng, although the 11th infantry brigade of Major General Kuniso Matsuda took Chenping, in stride and passed Peahsoot, 38 miles south-east of Chifeng, during the afternoon.

Japanese troops were approaching from the north-east and the south-east and defence of Lingyuan appeared hopeless.

The Japanese claimed, moreover, that the 16th and 19th brigades of Marshal Chang Hsiao-Liang, north military commander, had been smashed in the battles of Shamaoshan and Peichang-Yingtze and were unlikely to stand again.

LONDON, Mar. 1 (A.P.)—A Reuter News Agency despatch from Geneva to-day said the Japanese delegation there had received instructions from Tokyo to remain in Geneva and to continue to collaborate in work of the disarmament conference.

The Japanese delegation at the League of Nations walked out of a meeting of the assembly last Friday after a report had been adopted condemning the Manchurian policy of Japan. Conjecture arose as to whether the Japanese Government would participate in the forthcoming world economic conference.

GROSS PROFIT IN PAST YEAR WAS $15,078

Utilities Commission Set Aside $14,626 for Depreciation.

CONSUMPTION INCREASE.

Arrangements to Combine Offices is Temporarily Postponed.

Peterborough's Gas Department had a gross operating revenue in 1932 of $91,119.61, an increase over the previous year of $1,103.21, it was reported yesterday to the Utilities Commission by W. H. Beal, manager of the Gas Department.

$14,626.00 Set Aside

The gross profit of the department last year totalled $15,078.28, but of this amount $14,626.00 was set aside for provision for depreciation on plant and equipment, leaving a net profit of $452.28.

Presenting the fourth annual report of the department to the Commission, Mr. Beal stated, "I am very pleased to be able to report that, notwithstanding the adverse business conditions, your Gas Department was able to show an increase in gas consumption of 8C8,000 cubic feet for the year and an operating surplus of $452.28."

Included in his statement was the following summary:

Gross operating revenue	$91,154.11
Operating expenses	55,018.23
Debenture interest	15,767.50
Provision for renewals and contingencies	14,626.00
Debenture principal	6,000.00
Operating surplus	452.28
Total	$91,154.11

"From these figures," Mr. Beal said, "you will see that we were again able to set aside for renewals and contingencies the percentage agreed upon by the Commission for this purpose.

"We were fortunate in securing an industrial customer whose gas consumption has amounted to more than enough to offset any loss in revenue from other sources.

"During the year we extended our mains by an additional 633 feet, installed 26 single and 9 double services, purchased 74 new meters and improved our distributing system by the installation of 79 additional valves.

Improvements Made

"At the plant during the year we erected a new solid corrugated, concrete, fire-proof roof on the operation room, thoroughly scraped and painted the top of the relief holder and the water tank of the 300,000 cubic feet holder and also made all minor repairs and improvements to the buildings and machinery necessary to the keep in A1 operating condition."

Arrangements to combine the Gas Department's office with the office of the Electrical and Water Departments on Simcoe street have been postponed temporarily. It was said that if a proper settlement can be made with the City Trust, owner of the property, the Gas Department's office will be moved in September.

NO FIRE LOSSES FOR MONTH

Forty-three fire alarms, all of a minor nature were responded to by Peterborough Fire Department during the month just ended.

Despite the record number of calls the books of the Department are blank so far as fire loss for the month is concerned, according to Chief George Gimblett. A large percentage of the alarms were occasioned by chimney fires or overheated stove pipes during the sub zero weather experienced during a greater portion of the month.

TO ADDRESS DAIRYMEN

A meeting of Peterborough County Cheese Factory Patrons Association is slated for Friday afternoon at the offices of the Provincial Department of Agriculture here. UTILITIES COMMISSION PLANS TO AWAIT ACTION OF COUNCIL BEFORE CUTING ANY SALARIES

Finance Committee of City Council Discusses Question To-night.

NEW SYSTEM STARTED.

Salary Adjustments Will Have to be Made Chairman Announces.

The salaries of all civic employees will be studied closely to-night by the Finance Committee of the City Council, and it is probable that all will be reduced.

The salary cuts introduced into the civic payroll by the Council will secure the attention of all taxpayers. But further than that, the salary policies put into force by the Council may be taken as a pattern for similar steps by the Utilities Commission. Gordon S. Matthews, chairman of the Commission, hinted at this yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Commission.

Have To Be Adjustments.

"Salary adjustments will have to be made among our employees," said Mr. Matthews. "But we will defer the decision for one month to study what the Council has done in this direction."

Last year all employees of the Utilities Commission volunteered a percentage of their salaries to relief. Those receiving less than $3,500 gave five per cent. and those over $3,500 ten per cent. to the Central Relief Board.

However, in January the Commission inaugurated a new system in which the salary percentage contributions from the Electrical Department was not given to relief but retained in that department by the Commission. This was done because the revenues of the department had fallen off.

It was decided yesterday that all such contributions from the employees of all departments will be retained similarly by the Commission. The employees have given the Commission authority to take this step. What it really means is that the employees have volunteered a straight wage reduction. The Relief Committee loses on the change, but it will assist the Commission to maintain its services and take care of revenue losses.

Want Previous Scales.

However, further decreases are in the wind, and Chairman Matthews gave instructions that the scale of wages paid by the Commission in 1922, 1927 and 1929 should be prepared for the next meeting, when they will be studied with the aim of making reductions.

The present scale of cuts means $2,500 a year saved to the Electrical Department, $2,000 to the Water Department and $1,500 to the Gas Department.

BAN IS SOUGHT HOME BREWING

Brewers Meet Bennett and Urge Abolition of All Permits.

ASK EXCISE TAX CUT.

OTTAWA, Mar. 1—Principal officers of the Dominion Brewers' Association yesterday urged upon the Government abolition of "home-brewing permits and asked for a reduction in the excise tax on beer.

They met Premier Bennett, Hon. E. B. Ryckman and Hon. G. N. Rhodes. No statement regarding excise tax could be given as that would be an item affecting the budget. The brewers pointed out that a reduction approximating 20 per cent. on excise tax on spirituous liquors became effective as a result of the Imperial Economic Conference and they urged that a corresponding reduction might fairly be made on malt beverages.

"Home-brewing" competition they regarded as unfair. It is, however, mainly carried on at points remote from breweries and where the delivered cost of brewery beer is an important item. While regulations pertaining to home manufacture may be tightened up, it is not thought likely that "home brewing" will be banned.

Police Court

Did Victor Miocoli kick his stepson, Andrew Fornaro? That was the question Police Magistrate Langley was called upon to decide in his court this morning.

Andrew Fornaro alleged that in a Charlotte store, last week, Miocoli in a towering rage kicked him. Fornaro said that his step-father was angered because he had painted out his name on Miocoli's truck. "I didn't own any part of the truck but Miocoli had my name painted on its side,' he stated. "Because my name was on the truck I had to pay a fine in Cobourg, although I wasn't driving it and didn't own any part of it."

Because he didn't want to pay any more fines, he explained to the court that one night he had taken some black varnish and brushed it over his name on the sides of the truck.

Another Italian youth who was in the store with Fornaro on the night of the alleged assault, testified that Miocoli had not kicked Farnaro but merely grabbed hold of his clothes. "Come out side and I'll kill you," he testified Miocoli had said.

In his defence, Miocoli also denied kicking Fornaro. In the evidence it came out that Fornaro had urged his own witness to tell the court that Miocoli had kicked him.

After a severe lecture to both parties, the magistrate dismissed the case. He ordered both to keep the peace, or they would earn the swift action of the court.

For the theft of a large truck tire, John Smith, of North Monaghan, was sentenced to one month in the county goal. He had pleaded guilty to the charge a week ago.

"Gossip and Such

The crowning of Raffaele Giordano (who calls himself "Young Corbett III"), a Fresno, Cal., boy who made good in a fairly big town, as welterweight champions of the world revives the old question: "What do they mean by 'welter'?"

• • •

Everyone knows the meaning of heavyweight, light heavyweight, middleweight, lightweight, featherweight, bantamweight and flyweight but the origin of the term welterweight is a mystery to even those who set themselves up as experts or historians on the science of pugilism.

• • •

To ask anyone actually engaged in the fistic trade the origin of the term welterweight, is the height of futility. We tried it. The puzzled punch-stopped blinked his eyes, twitched his bun-shaped ears and scowled: "Hey, guy! Kiddin' me? They ain't no such wold as 'origin'!"

• • •

It is highly doubtful that even Young Corbett III, the new king of all the welters, himself knows the meaning of welterweight.

Webster, the fountain of all wisdom in regard to words, dismisses welterweight with a terse "Boxer whose fighting weight is between 135 and 154 pounds."

• • •

As neat a piece of side stepping and issue avoiding as you ever saw!

• • •

About the verb, "welter," Webster wrote, "To....wallow, to roll in mud or foul matter." As for the noun "welter" Webby clicked through with: "That in which any person or animal welters."

• • •

That has a prophetic ring.

• • •

Was old Noah forseeing the welterweight title situation when the championship was shuttling between several of the boys some time ago?

• • •

Young Corbett III is something of a mystery himself to the boxing public of the east, middle west and south. The Californian has been more or less a "Coast fighter" and the record books, most of them published in New York, give but scanty sketches of him.

Of Italian parentage, he is 27 years old and has been fighting professionally since he was 18. In that time he has met 141 opponents and lost but two decisions. He has never been knocked out.

• • •

Corbett is a southpaw and it was his rugged left which pushed Jackie Fields off the welterweight throne. He has endurance and he can take it. Fields was a tired man before the finish of their 10-round bout Washington's birthday.

Strangely enough, Corbett licked two welter champs before the victory over Fields finally gave him the crown. He smacked Jackie around on Feb. 22, 1930, which was during Fields' first reign as champ and on July 4, the same year, he gave Young Jack Thompson, then title holder, a trouncing.

• • •

However, both of those battles were non-title affairs.

LEPINE SCORES TWO GOALS FOR LALONDE SQUAD

WINGS LOSE 6 TO 3.

Bill Beveridge is Star of Scoreless Tie in Hub City Battle.

TORONTO, Mar. 1.—(CP)— By one means or another, Canadiens had hoisted a red banner of speed today that forecast the National League's March play-off session for the old Stanley Cup would not have to struggle along without the Frenchmen.

There was nothing certain about this—and there won't be as long as New York Americans contrive to furnish amazing pranks on the stretch run—but Canadiens established last night they carry the explosive necessary to dislodge almost any obstacle in their path.

While Americans sat tight with a four-point margin in third position in the Canadian Division, Canadiens shocked 8,000 Toronto fans by upsetting the Maple Leafs 2-1 and thereby reduced the New York margin to a single game.

Canadiens won in spite of everything—in spite of the fact they were outplayed for one thing. Pit Lepine climaxed a brilliant French rally in the third period with a goal that tied the score. Then looped a puck from mid-ice that bounced off Goaler Lorne Chabot's skate into the cage for the winner.

Pit Lepine

Though Lepine, Howie Morenz and Aurel Joliat played sparkling hockey, Morenz outfooting the field as of old, Canadiens were outshot in every period. George Hainsworth got every Leaf shot but the close-in shot of Red Horner in the second period.

Maroons, with extremely dim hopes of being able to overtake the leading Leafs, passed up no chances by walloping Detroit Red Wings 6-3 at Montreal. They are seven points behind Toronto. Red Wings, who need every point going to hold an advantage in the U. S. section over Rangers, made a rousing battle of it but they started on the wrong foot and finished weak. In between they annoyed Maroons plenty.

After Dave Trottier and Earl Robinson had scored for Montreal in the first period and Lorne Duguid added a third early in the middle session, Detroit opened up a stinging drive. Frank Carson and Larry Aurie banged in two before the close of the period and Aurie tied the score within a minute of the third period start.

That was all, however, for the Birds. Baldy Northcott, the early-season big gun, scored from close range on a Hooley Smith pass and Robinson and Paul Haynes added tallies to make the verdict a sure thing.

If young Bill Beveridge had been anything but spectacular, Ottawa Senators would have labored under another defeat today. But the rookie puck-stopper turned back every one of the 55 shots Boston Bruins fired at him and Senators escaped from Boston with a scoreless tie.

It was a comparatively easy night for Tiny Thompson in the Bruin nets as the Calgary-bred goaler scored his 10th shutout of the campaign.

NO. 6—CORBETT VS. FITZSIMMONS

BOB FITZSIMMONS, spindle-legged, freckled, slightly bald Cornishman who had been reared in Australia proved the nemesis of Jim Corbett's career.

FITZSIMMONS

Like a red specter the ruddy-thatched invader began to haunt Corbett's trail after Jim had removed Charley Mitchell from his path in 1894. The great -shouldered thin-shanked Fitz had outgrown the middle - weight class and began to take on heavyweights (there was no light heavy ranking then) with great success.

Meanwhile, Corbett had gone on the stage and seemed to care little about his old profession. A European tour was followed by a profitable trip around the United States.

Corbett appeared in a couple of exhibition bouts and a four-round affair with Tom Sharkey which was stopped and called a draw.

Gave Up Title

CORBETT MARRIED in 1894 and, as is so often the case in boxing, now that he had settled down, he thought less and less of the ring. Incidentally his wife, Mrs. Vera Taylor Corbett, survives him.

Jim also regarded Fitzsimmons as a pest. Once, when they met in a Philadelphia hotel Corbett tweaked Ruby Robert's nose. Friends prevented a riot.

Eventually, Corbett accepted Fitzsimmons' challenge. They agreed —in 1896 —to fight in Dallas, Tex. But state authorities forbade the bout. The site was shifted to Hot Springs, Ark., but the governor of Arkansas also refused to grant permission for a bout.

When Fitzsimmons continued to challenge him, Corbett "took back" his title and agreed to meet Bob in Carson City, Nev., March 17, 1897.

Jeffries as Rubber

INTO CORBETT'S camp, shortly before the fight, walked a burly young fellow looking for a job as trainer. He was James J. Jeffries. He was put to work as a rubber and also sparred with the champion. Jeffries learned rapidly.

Twenty thousand spectators saw the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight.

It was all Corbett in the early rounds, his left jabs repeatedly scoring to the head and body. In the sixth round Jim knocked Fitzsimmons down with a smashing left hook.

Fitz clutched Corbett's legs as he fell. He refused to let go. This was a foul but the referee began counting. Armed adherents of both men were at the ringside and a "foul" verdict probably would have started the cannons roaring.

The Australian finally released his hold o rbett stepped back. As the referee counted to nine Fitz arose, and the fight continued. Corbett always afterward claimed Fitz had been down 15 seconds.

End of Reign

IN THE next few rounds Fitz took a lot of punching but he weathered the storm. His wife was at the ringside continually pleading: "Hit him in the slats, Bob! Hit him in the slats!"

The end came with stunning suddenness.

In the 14th round Fitz missed a terrific right to the head, then shot a left to the body. It was the punch to become famous as the "solar plexus" blow. Paralyzed, Jim Corbett crashed to the floor.

Unable to move, his eyes wide open the fallen champion saw his friends and seconds frantically waving and screaming for him to get up. He tried. At "eight!" he reached for a rope but missed and fell on his face.

Clear and distinct—above the tumult—30,000 persons heard the fatal: "Ten!"

The four-and-a-half year reign of James J. Corbett as king of all fighting men was over.

NEXT—Corbett vs. Sharkey.

HERD HUMBLES SYRACUSE 5-2

London Tecs Stage Comeback to Down Stubborn Cleveland Indians.

FAST OFFENSIVE.

TORONTO, Mar. 1 (C.P.)—Five games in nine days proved a little too much for the stamina of the Syracuse Stars with the result that to-day they lagged behind London Tecumsehs in their month-old struggle for second place in the International Hockey League.

Even at that, Tecs had to have assistance from Buffalo to pull away from their arch-enemy. Playing at Port Erie last night, Syracuse scored the first two goals of the game, but faded, and Bisons answered with a wouldn't-be-denied rally to take a 5-2 decision.

A similar occurrence was witnessed at London, where Tecs staged a comeback to down the stubborn tail-enders, Cleveland Indians, 5-3. At Windsor, Bulldogs caught Detroit slightly off-color after a 10-day layoff and slapped on a 4-1 defeat to win their first game in six.

The scoring in the Buffalo-Syracuse tilt was done in rapid-fire fashion, six of the counters finding their way into the net in the second session. Buzz Boll banged in the Stars' goal within two minutes after the period opened to start the fireworks.

Seeing visions of their first home defeat Bisons stampeded and before the frame ended had scored four goals, two by Bud Jarvis and one each by Lloyd Gross and Roter Roth. This bombardment left Goalie Benny Grant exhausted and play was stopped to allow him to regain his wind.

A rally in the last 20 minutes was necessary before London earned the decision over Cleveland. After coasting along with a two-goal lead garnered in the opening frame, Tecumsehs found themselves down one shortly after the final period started.

Then Gene Carrigan, towering centre of the homesters, connected twice in succession and Farrand Gillie also scored, to make things safe for the Londoners.

Cinch Position

Strengthened by the return of Manager Jack Arbour, Windsor, performed in a smooth fashion to cinch their position in the play-offs. Before the game, Detroit had a slight mathematical chance to finish fourth, but the loss obliterated this.

Al Huggins, with two, Arbour and Whitey Fields were the goal-scorers for Bulldogs, while Gordie Brydson was the losers' lone sniper.

CAMPBELLFORD IN TOURNAMENT

Draw Will Be Made Between Four Contestants for Thursday Night's Games.

PORT HOPE STRONGER.

Campbellford will be the fourth team in the intermediate hockey tournament starting tomorrow (Thursday) night at the Brock street rink. A draw will be made before the first game at eight o'clock and two games will be run-off, the four teams being Cobourg, Port Hope, Campbellford and Peterborough. The finalists then meet at the Brock Friday night, with the winning players getting wrist-watches.

All three contests should be well worth seeing, packed with action and close competition. Port Hope has strengthened up considerably and will have their hard-hitting 240-pound defenceman, Harwood, in there again using every ounce of weight in his checks. Campbellford lost by one goal to the Petes at the start of the season and have been figuring on evening it up ever since. They will have their stars, the Ingram brothers and Davis, out again and in fighting trim after a tough series recently with Belleville in which they were just nosed out.

Cobourg was dropped from the O.H.A. this year for playing the Ethier brothers of Belleville. Since then, they have won a number of exhibition games against good intermediate teams, including Campbellford a short time ago. They will be at full strength, and will use the Ethier boys here tomorrow with others well-known in Peterborough such as Ibey, Gibson, Geraldi and Campbell. The Petes will be at full strength and in fine condition. They will use their two regular front lines along with Bill Calladine, Howe, Lebarr and Weir on defence and either Miller or Gillespie in goal. It promises to be a big hockey bill Thursday.

MADOC OUTFITS WIN DOUBLE BILL

Bancroft Team Drops 3-1 Decision, While O.H.A. Juniors Are 2-1 Victors.

MADOC, Mar. 1. — (Examiner Correspondence.)—At Madoc arena on Friday evening the hockey fans of Madoc were treated to a double-header event when Bancroft boys arrived to play the return game with the town team, and immediately following the Madoc Junior O.H.A. team faced a picked team of all star players chosen from the best of the teams of Cooper, Eldorado and Queensboro.

In the first period, Bancroft set the pace by scoring the first goal almost at once, while Akey scored for Madoc on a speedy shot from the blue line, and quickly sent in another on a pass from Blue, putting Madoc one up. D. Whytock drew a penalty for tripping, which was the only one for this period.

In the second period, Watson was penalized, and Akey took a trip to the cooler. As soon as Akey reappeared on the ice, Madoc counted again on a pass from D. Whytock to Bob Whytock. Bancroft earned their first penalty.

In the third period, Bancroft was given another penalty. No score was made in this period. Score 3-1 for Madoc.

Line-up:

For Bancroft—Goal, G. Fowle; defence, McGee and Dymond; centre, Stringer; wings, Fisher and Reid. Subs, A. Fowle, A. Watson, Maxwell, Hawley.

For Madoc— Goal, Scopis; defence, D. Whytock and Moon; centre, Henderson; wings, Watson and R. Whytock. Alternates, Blue, Armstrong and Akey.

ANOTHER MADOC WIN.

In the first period, the ice being in much better condition, the play was fast from the first. Akey scored on a pass from Armstrong. Akey and West drew penalties. Then twice both Madoc and All Star opponent were thumbed off for scrapping. Score 1-0 for Madoc.

In second period, Ashley earned two penalties and All-Stars one. In this frame, Alexander scored for Madoc. Score 2-0 for Madoc.

In the first few seconds of the third period, the All-Stars scored their first counter, and almost at the strike of the gong, Armstrong scored for Madoc which was not counted, the score being 2-1 for Madoc.

Line-up:

All Stars— Goal, C. Wright of Cooper; defence, Bailey and Ken Rollins of Cooper; centre, Hayton, Cooper; wings, Sine and McAdams, Eldorado; alternates, Parks, Cooper, Thompson, Queensboro, Keith Rollins, Queensboro and Love, Queensboro.

Juniors, Madoc —Goal, Scopis; defence, West and Ashley; centre, Akey; wings, Ross and Armstrong; alternates, R. Whytock, E. Alexander and P. Embury.

RALPH'S RANGERS WIN FIRST BATTLE

Capture 5-3 Victory to Lead Albions in South-end Juvenile Play-offs.

Herb Ralph's Rangers took the first juvenile Southend Hockey League playoff game from Albion Knitting, 5 to 3, last night at the Brock. A fair-sized crowd saw a fast, close game with the Rangers showing more punch the last half of the third to run in two counters. It was a clean contest with plenty of smart combination and fine backchecking throughout.

The score was 1-1 to end the first, and 3-2 for Rangers starting the third. Both goalies stopped quite a few and the defences checked well. The two main forward lines looked best offensively, but the relieving lines checked hard. For the winners, Coughlin, Burton, O'Leary and Anderson went best; while Vitarelli and Depellaro were outstanding for the other side, Post and Jobe also going good.

Post notched the first counter, with A. Clark evening it up on Burton's rebound. Anderson blazed one in in the second, but Ned Vitarelli got it back shortly on Depellaro's rebound. Field tallied for Rangers late in the frame. Vitarelli again tied the score for Cy Whatley's crew on a fine piece of work, checking and recovering at centre, stickhandling in and scoring as he was tripped in close. Burton put the East City bunch ahead on nice stickwork down the boards, and Anderson's long, high shot on O'Leary's pass got away from Clarke for the last marker. The teams:

Rangers: Goal, Grainger; defence, Field Anderson; centre, Coughlin; wings, Burton, O'Leary; alternates, G. Clark, A. Clark, Starr, Gardner.

Referee—Bill Calladine.

Empire Cubs Battle Warne's To 3-3 Tie

Opening the bantam playoffs in the Southend Hockey League at the Brock last night, Empire Cubs and Warne Bros. battled to a 3-3 draw, with no overtime. Penalties in the third period, plus a fighting spirit that showed no letup gave the Warne team the tie after they were trailing 3-1 going into the last frame. Cubs scored all three goals in the first chukker.

It was a fairly fast game with little difference seen between the bantam finalists. Some good stickhandling and checking were shown, and both goalies stopped a number of hard shots. Vitarelli ran in three in a row for the Empire Cubs on nice work in the initial stanza. Play was very even in the second with plenty of close-checking. Warnes' took advantage of two penalties late in the go to press forward till Watson batted in Heal's rebound. Continuous rushing and McIlmoyle's three penalties in the third gave them two more. Watson tallying both, aided once by Heal. McIlmoyle drew five of the six penalties drawn during the contest. The teams:

Warne Bros.—Goal, Hardy; defence, Brady, Wright; centre, Watson; wings, Heal, Cournyea; alternates, Pulkinghorn, Connolly, Leith.

Referee—Pat Calladine.

COLORFUL COMBINES OUT TO EVEN SERIES

Good Sheet of Ice Likely for This Evening's E.P.L. Play-off Game.

The two well-matched East Peterborough Hockey League finalists, Norwood Combines and Payne's Carters, meet at 8.30 this evening at the Brock in their third play-off game. Best three out of five games takes the title and the Peck Cup. The first game (after the protested one which was called no contest) ended in a 1-1 tie here last week. Monday, the second fixture was run off in Norwood, with Carters pulling out a 3-2 win. The Combines can even the series up to-night by winning here. If they lose, Carters are practically in.

The tie game here between these strong outfits was run off on slow ice, and even at that, some fast and close hockey was shown. With a good sheet of ice for them this evening, the players of both sides will be seen at their best. The colorful Combines, winners of the championship last year, will be hard to take. The two Cripps and the two Callarines, along with their own local stars—all will be on the Kempt line-up and flashing their hardest hockey of the year.

The Carter forwards have begun to play the type of hockey they should lately, and both front lines have been going great the past two games. The husky Truckers' defence of Swanger and Lackey, backed by brilliant net-work by Poley, will be much in evidence when the speedy Norwood rushers comed own the ice. The whole Payne squad is openly predicting a win in straight games from now on. Fans should not miss this intermediate game to-night as it promises to contain every ingredient necessary to a fine sporting event.

CLUBMEN STAGE BELATED RALLY TO BEAT P. C. I.

Rotary Takes 3-1 Decision in First Game of City League Play-offs.

PLAY CLEAN HOCKEY.

Rallying strongly in the third period at the Brock last night, Rotary took a 3-1 decision over P.C.I. in the first of their three-game City League playoff series. It was a fast, hard battle all the way with the Collegians fading in the latter stages before a determined Rotary attack. Play was clean most of the game.

The squads battled two scoreless frames, play being even in the first, but the students having a decided edge in the second. They continued to threaten to start the third and scored first, but from then on Rotary had most of the play. Pearson starred in the winners' net, the defence and forwards all looked good, while Mowry, Padgett, Elmslie and Tranter were the pick. Both front lines went fine for P.C.I. till the third but the defence was spotty. Lipsett, Jopling and Kingdon showed up well most of the contest.

It was hard and even in the first, both goalies having plenty to stop and the forwards back-checking effectively. P.C.I. almost scored in the second and they threatened throughout. Fine goal-tending by Pearson and good defensive work saved the Clubmen. Early in the third, Stabler slammed in Kirkwood's pass, but it was evened right away when Padgett's long shot got through Sloane. As Rotary pressed hard, they finally got another, Elmslie shooting one in from an almost impossible angle after being checked. He snapped a quick back-hander from defence just before the end and it went through the goalie's legs for the final one. The teams:

P.C.I.: Goal, Sloane; defence, Richardson and Kirkwood; centre, Kingdon; wings, Begley and Stabler; alternates, Jopling, Lipsett, Archibald and Howland.

Rotary: Goal, Pearson; defence, Mowry and Lebarr; centre, Padgett; wings, Maudsley and Elmslie; alternates, Tranter, Hunter and Hickey.

BISONS BLANK PORTSIDES 3-0

Fort William Herd Hold One-game Lead in Thunder Bay Title Series.

ONE OF THE FIVE.

WINNIPEG, March 1— (C.P.).—The thundering herd of Fort William Allan Cup finalists twice without winning a Canadian Hockey Championship, stand today as fairly certain to be one of the five western challengers for the 1933 senior title.

It may be Frank Fredrickson's Winnipeg Falcons in Manitoba, Saskatoon Quakers in Saskatchewan, Edmonton Superiors in Alberta and the smoke eaters of Trail in British Columbia, but none of these are as close to the inter-provincial playdowns as Fort William.

The Herdmen scored a convincing 3-0 triumph last night over Port Arthur in the first of a five-game series for the Thunder Bay title. As they have been drubbing the Ports pretty much all season, the Lakehead believed there was little doubt they would continue to do so in this play-off series and qualify to meet Manitoba's champions in the First Allan Cup round.

Back to serious work after touring Europe, Edmonton Superiors got the jump on Calgary Bronks in the foothills finals, last night, with a 3-2 victory in 30 minutes overtime. The return game is at Edmonton and the "Scops" are favoured to win this too.

British Columbia's finals between Trail and Vancouver Maple Leafs starts Saturday night at Vancouver. Selkirk Fishermen and Winnipegs, the renovated Olympic champions, have to play-off for the right to meet Falcons in the Manitoba final.

BASKETBALL — OTHER SPORTS

(By C.J.P.)

Tonight the bill-of-fare at the Brock features the E.P.L. play-off tussle, contest or game, between Alex Kempt's Norwood Combines and Herb Payne's Carters. They go to the mat—some day we'll get our metaphors straight, and immediately ask for a raise!—at 8.30 o'clock. If previous play in this series means anything, the game this e'en ought to be a wow, which is short for "peach." Norwood won the first game but it was thrown out because of an ineligible player. They battled next to a 1-1 draw, and then Carters took 'em for a 3-2 ride right in Norwood Monday. It's a five-game series and we're looking for plenty of excitement before it's o'er and done with.

* * * * * *

Believe you us these kids' playoffs at the Brock last night were lots of fun. Young pucksters play their heads off all the time. They haven't yet found it necessary to conserve energy like the veterans of the ice-game, so they go in and battle as long as they can stand up. Oldtimers do a bit of stalling now and then and every once in a while cast longing eyes toward the bench. But then, who can blame them in a tough game like hockey? Besides we shouldn't be critical with Spring just around the corner. No, not the same one that shelters Prosperity, alas.

* * * * * *

But what we started out to say was that three good minor loop playoff games were staged last evening. The Southend League bantam affair between Empire Cubs and Warne Bros. ended in a 3-3 draw; the S.E.L. juvenile one saw Rangers take a 5-3 count from Albion Knitting; and the City League game went to Rotary, 3-1, over P.C.I. All good games and not settled till the final tinkle of the bell. Not many fans up there, but those present enjoyed it and saw some promising hockey material in the making. They play at least one more game.

* * * * * *

Harold LaPlante made the draw for the Southend League prizes, an annual affair used by this circuit to raise the necessary jack. Mrs. S. Johnson, 196 King street, won the first prize, half a ton of coal, with No. 12; second prize, an electric toaster, went to Mrs. Turnbull, 271 Rubidge street, with Ticket No. 289; and Roy Logan, of 118½ Hunter street, gets an electric iron for having Ticket No. 201. Other ticket-holders have the satisfaction of knowing they are not only giving the youngsters lots of healthful fun, but also help along hockey in Peterborough.

* * * * * *

Campbellford, Port Hope, Cobourg and the Petes are the four teams to take part in the two-day tournament for intermediate hockey teams at the Brock Thursday and Friday Two games will be played tomorrow, starting at eight, and the final one the following evening at 8.30. Ought to be a swell competition with a few old scores settled, too. Harwood, husky Hoper defenceman, is after several of the locals; Cobourg was peeved at us and everyone else when they were barred from our O.H.A. group; and Campbellford didn't like that early-season loss at our hands. So the Petes will have a tough game or two out of it. Wrist-watches go to the team of winning players.

* * * * * *

McGregor, Jay, Cadd and Sanderson are the local O.H.A. juniors who will be lost to the Petes next year as they will be too old. The defence will require considerable building up, but the forward lines should not present such a difficult task, as already Manager Frank Buckland has a number of good prospects, around sixteen and seventeen years old, lined up. Next season, that "pepper line" of Burley, Williamson and Hill should be going real well. Calladine is still young enough and, if he stays junior, will be a swell centre to build a fast, tricky team around. Next year's prospective team is having the odd workout at the Brock now under the managerial eye.

* * * * * *

City Basketball League games in the "Y"—not the Collegiate—to-night are: McLeish's vs. Capitals at eight, with Riley and Hickey's meeting Stanger's at 8.45 o'clock. A volleyball tournament will be staged in the "Y" gym Saturday afternoon, starting about three with two teams from here and one each from Belleville and Orillia taking part.

* * * * * *

That water-polo exhibition billed for the Y.M.C.A. pool some time ago will be put on this Saturday evening at 8.15. The Toronto Central "Y", Ontario champs for 1932 and '33, plays the University Intercollegiate champions of this year, and we're going to be on deck and get a load of this aquatic sport which is unknown here. The idea is to show local water enthusiasts how the game is played—or is it swum?—by experts. Canadian Olympic and Ontario girl-swimming and diving stars, including Dot Prior, Betty Edwards, Marg Hutton, Dot Staples, Betty Batchelor (names well-known in the swim world) will also do their stuff. Get your tickets early as only a limited number of spectators can be accommodated.

Private reflections: The O.H.A. is treating Belleville D.A.C. very nicely, giving 'em plenty of rest before proceeding with their race .... It gives Coach Carroll a chance to show his stuff, and incidentally grab off some sugar, as he isn't working for doughnuts .... They say Campbellford dropped plenty shekels on their O.H.A. campaign .... And the Habooo Cup series may be shelved this year, neither team doing anything about it .... Funny ending to that S. E. L. intermediate game last night .... Pirates are leading Canucks, 4-3, with one minute to go when the puck goes over the boards and is lost .... No other puck around so the game'll be re-played Thursday at eight at All Saints' rink .... Young players at the Brock last night were waving a lot of high sticks carelessly .... Somebody else will be losing an eye yet .... Ches Mowry had three teams, organized by him, in action up there: Warne Bros., managed by Wilf LeBarr; Albion Knitting, handled by Cy Whatley; and Rotary, managed by Ches. .... One tied, one lost and one took a victory.

Fred Miller Easily Repulses Arizmendi

LOS ANGELES, March 1—(A.P.)—The National Boxing Association feather-weight crown rested securely on the head of Freddie Miller to-day after he easily repulsed Alberto "Baby" Arimendi, outstanding challenger from Mexico City, in 10 rounds.

Miller's first defense of his recently acquired title was climaxed with a gallery shower of bottles, fruits, peanuts and programmes. This barrage from Mexican partisians was delivered with somewhat more effectiveness than the sensational rushes of Armizimendi, which seldom disturbed the cool headed southpaw.

MENIE TAKES EAST SEYMOUR LEAGUE TITLE

Forced to Battle English Line Team for 70 Minutes Before Declaring Winner.

HARD FOUGHT TUSSLE.

BURNBRAE, Mar. 1. (Examiner Correspondence). — Two evenly matched teams battled through seventy minutes of heotic hockey at Davidson's ice palace, Campbellford on Monday evening, before Menie were declared winners of the East Seymour League. Menie won the first game last week by a 1 to 0 count and as the Line team tied up the round in the second period of Monday night's game, overtime was necessary. The winning goal for Menie came in the first half of the first overtime period making the score for the game 1 to 1 and on the round 2 to 1 for Menie.

The Menie gang started out cannily, protecting their goal lead and the first period feature careful hockey. Starting the second period the English Line crew threw caution to the winds and secured results when Harry Stevens and Don Peake went in on a nice combination play, the latter scoring. Then Menie turned on the steam and play began to get rough.

Several Private Feuds

The third period saw fast hockey with plenty of spills and as referee Kerr ruled with a rather lenient hand, a few private feuds were brought out for air. Eagleson saved the Menie team from sure defeat when he stopped H. Stevens' shot with his hands as he slid across the open net.

Menie pressed play in the overtime and Nelson missed the open net on a nice combination play with Rannie, but redeemed himself by sinking the winning counter a minutel ater from a scramble. A penalty to Shillingiaw spoiled the Line's chances for a tying goal and the game ended with the Line playing every man up and Menie resorting to the old defensive play of heaving down the ice.

English Line—Goal, Turner; defence, Shillingiaw, Locke; centre, H. Stevens; left wing, A. Stevens; right wing, Don Peake; subs., A. Potts, L. Fry, E. Little, J. Stevens, T. Peake.

Referee—B.. Kerr. Timers—R Walker, L. Watson.

Penalties—C. Johnson, L. Anderson.

An effort will be made to have Menie, winners of the Seymour League, meet the Rawdon League cupholders in a home and home series. Bethel are at the top of that league and Mt. Pleasant and Glen Ross deciding second place. A winner will likely be declared within the week and a good interleague series may result.

Peden-Audy Among Bike Grind Leaders

NEW YORK, Mar. 1.—(C.P.) — Jules Audy and his giant red-headed partner, William "Torchy" Peden of Victoria, continued to hold the lead with three other teams at the 54th hour of the Madison Square Garden six-day bike race to-day.

After an unimpressive start the Canadian duo gradually crept up on the leaders. Last night they spurted sensationally to catch up with the pace-makers.

Georgetti and Severonini and McNamara and Horan, two of the other leading pairs, had a substantial margin over the Canadians in the point column. Hill and Binda rounded out the four-way deadlock.

Henri Lepage of Montreal, the current grind's black-haired sheik and Cohen of New York, were eliminated this morning. They retired owing to injuries to Lepage, who has suffered numerous spills in the last 24 hours.

Roy Spencer Signs Cleveland Contract

CLEVELAND, Mar. 1. (CP) — The Cleveland Indians' catching staff to-day was completed after Roy Spencer, obtained from Washington in a trade for Luke Sewell, telegraphed General Manager Bill Evans he had placed a signed contract in the mails.

Evans also announced receipt of a signed contract from Bill Knickerbocker, shortstop who set a new American Association record for two-base hits while playing with the Toledo Mudhens last year.

Only four players have not yet come to terms. They are Pitchers Wesley Ferrell and Willis Hudlin, both officially due to report at New Orleans to-day, and outfielder Dick Porter and first baseman Harley Boss, who have been instructed to report at New Orleans to-day.

King Mtesa of Uganda, Africa, is reputed to have had the largest harem in the world. Seven thousand wives were in his seraglio.

Hockey Gossip

LAKEFIELD, March 1 (Examiner Correspondence).—The High School Ponies trimmed the Davis' Black Hawks, 4—0, in a snappy game of hockey played on Monday evening, in a game which staged the return of John Sabatino to the area as a player, much to the delight of the fans. The High School team has developed into a first class aggregation and their team work has improved with every game; they put up a good brand of hockey and will have a fighting chance with any team of their age and weight. Morin, "Red" Wannamaker, Mackey and Payne were probably the most effective of the Hawks. Webster started the game with what looked like a wide open net, but after two goals had slipped by in the first half of the first period, he tightened up and only two more got by during the remainder of the evening. Loyst was bombarded especially in the last, but remained strong to the last. Morrison and Stenner were never in better form on defence, and both the first and second line of forwards were clicking beautifully. Every man was effective and the game was one of the best of the season.

Line-ups:

Black Hawks.—Webster, goal; Sabatino, Morin, defence; Davis, centre; G. Wannamaker, K. Wannamaker, wings; Stewart, F. Payne, F. Wannamaker, M. Wannamaker, subs.

High School Ponies.—Loyst, goal; Morrison, Stenner, defence; Lennox, centre; White, P. Payne, wings; Brown, Chittick, Jewell, Blewett, subs.

GOODNIGHT STORIES

By Max Trell

So Mrs. Cuckoo, who lived on the top floor of the clock, opened the door (it was just half past eleven!) and cried: "Come in." At this the five shadow children, walked right into Mrs. Cuckoo's parlor and sat down.

"Can you tell us what a Jigger looks like, and after you tell us that, can you tell us where to find one?" Hanid asked. Mrs. Cuckoo looked puzzled, so the little shadow girl explained that for some time the shadows had been hearing their masters and mistresses talking about "Jiggers." Hanid explained that their masters and mistresses talked about losing "Jiggers," and finding "Jiggers," and wanting "Jiggers." Naturally, the shadows felt like knowing a Jigger, or seeing one, at any rate.

"See my friend G. Winnigers!"

Mrs. Cuckoo sat down on her perch and thought. Then she said: "I know just who would know all about Jiggers. His name is Mr. Thingum Bob, or is it Bob Thingum."

"But where do we find Mr. Thingum?" Flor wanted to know, just as they got ready to leave Mrs. Cuckoo's parlor. Mrs. Cuckoo cocked her head, and flipped her wings, and ruffled the feathers around her neck. Then she closed one eye and rubbed the other. "Mr. Thingum . . . just let me think where you can find Mr. Thingum." At last Mrs. Cuckoo exclaimed: "If you turn to the left, then walk through the door, and go back towards the right, you'll find my good friend, Mr. G. Winnigers."

"G. Winnigers!" the shadows cried. "Are we going to find him?"

"Yes, you'll find him. He'll tell you where to go to find Mr. Thingum, and Mr. Thingum will tell you where to find a Jigger." With that the shadows hurried out through the open door. Then they earched around for G. Winnigers, who was going to tell them where to find Thingum Bob, who would tell them how to find a Jigger.

For Thursday, March 2.

A day of excellent prospects and promise is the presage made from the propitious rule of important planets, particularly owing to the trine aspect of the moon with the Major Benefic Jupiter. Under this sway it is advisable to push to the goal of the highest hopes and desires, seeking substantial aid from friends and those in places of power and prestige. There may be solid returns for faithful past performances and merit. Minor changes or travel may be involved, advantageously.

Those whose birthday it is are at the threshold of a year of fine opportunity for enhanced fortunes, favors from those in high places, and recognition for fidelity, industry and responsibility. It is a time for stabilizing the fortunes through the friendly aid of co-operation of those in power. Increased popularity, especially with elderly persons or institutions may be expected. A child born on this day should be clever, original, industrious and responsible and also endowed with many talents and personal requisites for success and popularity.

The tables were tastefully decorated with the school colors, blue and gold and ladened with immense quantities of appetizing food. The president, William Stephenson, officiated as toastmaster.

When all present had done justice to the repast, the toastmaster proposed the toast to His Majesty

The toast to the church was ably proposed by Howard Bent, after which a hymn, "The Church is One Foundation," was sung. Rev. A. T. Weir in a very capable manner responded to this toast.

George Dickson in proposing the toast to Canada, spoke patriotically of Canada's place in the world of nations.

Miss Audrey Weir proposed the toast to the A.Y.P.A. To this toast Miss Mabel Rowan responded.

Horace Hill proposed the toast to the ladies. Miss Ethel Stephenson responded.

During the evening a few minutes were spent in community singing, with Miss Jameison presiding at the piano.

CHURCH RECEPTION HELD AT STIRLING

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Kefford Welcomed Into Fold by Congregation.

STIRLING, March 1 (Examiner Correspondence). — St. Andrew's Church parlors were the scene of a pleasing event Friday evening, Feb. 24, when a reception was held by the congregation for their new minister and his wife, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Kefford. The room presented a colorful sight as twelve tables, representing the months of the year, were decorated suitably.

The January table, presided over by Mrs. H. Rollins, was noted for its Kewpies and Snowballs. February, Hearts and Cupids, by Mrs. M. W. Sine. March, in St. Patrick's colors, by Mrs. C. Baker. April, Easter Lillies, Chickens, Rabbits, and Eggs by Mrs. D. Lamb and Mrs. M. Ward. May, A beautiful Maypole, Lenora Ward. June, Roses, a June Bride and Groom were also seated here; Emma Allen, director. July, Miss Canada and flags for Dominion Day; Gena Spry. August, Fall Grains; Mrs. W. Anderson; C. Allen, dressed as farmer also. September, Fall Fruits, Oat-tails, Corn and Maple Leaves; Mrs. H. Disbrowe. October, Hallowe'en colors, Black Cats and Pumpkins; Mrs. J. Whitehead; P. Mitchell, dressed as Witch, told the future of every one. November, Poppies for Armistice; Thanksgiving Turkeys and Chrysanthemums; Mrs. A. Hammond and Mrs. H. Foster. December, Holly, Christmas Trees and Santa Claus; Mrs. J. McGee in charge.

Presentation Made

Mr. William Anderson acted as chairman, and after extending a brief welcoming address, called on Mrs. Koffend and Mrs. Rollins to come to the platform.

Mrs. Rollins, in the name of the Ladies' Aid, welcomed Mrs. Koffend and Doris Rodgers presented her with a beautiful bouquet of Ophelia roses. Mrs. Koffend replied by saying how delighted she would be to work among the ladies.

Robert Eggleton from the Sabbath school was pleased to welcome these helpers into the work. Having been in the work for over eleven years as superintendent, he knew the joy of working with the young.

Mrs. R. W. Meiklejohn expressed the fact that it was her privilege to be leader of the Young People's Guild. Next to the Sunday School this was the most important organization in the church. The Sunday School was the cradle; this was the training camp. It not only trained the girls to later become members of the Ladies' Aid, but in its missionary spirit produced workers in W.M.S.

It developed the intellect so as to make good members of the managing board. Its music was an inspiration to the choir master. It also, in its more deeply religious aspect, educated the more serious members to become elders and even ministers. It accomplished in nine months the work which took the other organizations a year.

Mrs. W. Anderson from W.M.S., hoped that a new interest would be taken, as Mr. and Mrs. Koffend had come from foreign lands. Mrs. Foster brought the best wishes of the Ladies' Aid. Mr. Anderson spoke in connection with the managers. Mr. A. Fargey said a few words on behalf of the session.

A trio was sung, "I Love a Lassie," by Mesdames Nolan, Meiklejohn and Eggleton. Charles Allen and Mrs. J. Koffend played a piano duet, Mustpiel Overturn. Rev. J. Koffend sang by request, "Smile Through Your Tears."

Another pleasing feature was the presentation to Rev. B. Nelles, interim Moderator, of a cheque from the two congregations in appreciation of his services. R. Meiklejohn gave the address; Mr. P. Ward presented the gift.

JANETVILLE COUPLE 35 YEARS MARRIED

Many Friends and Relatives Gather to Honor Mr. and Mrs. John McGill.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BETHANY, March 1. — About 40 neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lavergne McGill on Friday evening for the celebration of the 35th wedding anniversary of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McGill.

The "bride and groom" were privileged to have with them their bridesmaid and groomsman, the former being Mrs. James Williamson, (nee Miss Mary McGill) and the latter Mr. William Argue, of Manvers Station.

During the course of the evening a sumptuous wedding feast was served, the bride's table being centred with a handsome three-tiered wedding cake. The bride looked youthful in a becoming gown of black silk.

Many beautiful and costly gifts were showered upon the guests of honour, while hosts of best wishes were received from friends unable to be present for the happy event.

The evening was gaily spent in social intercourse recalling by-gone days, and in games and music.

Warkworth Social Successful Event

Affair Staged by Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's Church.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARKWORTH, March 1. — The social evening given by the Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's Church in the Sunday school rooms of the church on Wednesday evening, Feb. 22nd, was a decided success. The large crowd present enjoyed an excellent program, which consisted of the following: Community singing took up the first few minutes, after which Mabel Dudley gave a recitation, "The Flu." Frank Taylor gave a vocal solo which was greatly appreciated. Mrs. Grant Allen gave a reading which was full of humor. Will Statham gave a vocal solo which was thoroughly enjoyed. Much applause was given these numbers as well as the debate which followed. The subject was "Resolved: That men spend more time and money on pleasure than do women." The affirmative side was taken by Mrs. M. E. Smith and Mrs. W. B. Baker while the negative was ably supported by Messrs O. E. Kelly and B. Buchanan. Misses Jean Simmie and Nellie Greenly and Mr. A. M. Smale were the judges. The decision was given in favor of the negative side. Only a small admission fee was charged but even at that the society realized over $13.00.

Social Evening.

The Young People of St. John's Anglican church held a very successful social evening in the community hall on Wednesday evening, over 20 members being present. Rev. Mr. Floyd opened the meeting with prayer, after which he gave a splendid address. The remainder of the evening was spent in contests and games. At the close a dainty lunch was served and a social time spent together.

Railwayman Retires At 69 29 Years' Service, 12 Days Off

Remarkable Record of Wm. Watt Credited to Dodd's Kidney Pills

of Norwood, Manitoba, who has just completed a record of 29 years' service as a railwayman with less than 12 days off. 36 years ago his life was despaired of, because of kidney trouble. Mr. Watt attributes his remarkable recovery and subsequent good health to the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Winnipeg, Man., Mar. 1. (Special)

Twenty-nine years' continuous service with less than two weeks off through illness. That is the remarkable health record of William Watt, of Norwood, Manitoba, recently retired on pension by the Canadian National Railways.

Mr. Watt attributes his continuous good health to Dodd's Kidney Pills. At 33 years of age, Mr. Watt was bedridden with kidney trouble. "My hands, feet and every part of my body became swollen," says Mr. Watt, "and I could not get up." Hope of quick recovery had been almost abandoned when he tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. In a very short time he was at work again. "Dodd's Kidney Pills saved my life in 1896, and I would not be without them being handy in the home at any time," says Mr. Watt. This is good advice for any man approaching or past middle age. Dodd's Kidney Pills are recognized as the best treatment for Backache, Rheumatism and all ailments arising from faulty kidneys.

A Woman's Trouble

ALL women at some period of their lives need a strengthening tonic. Read what Mrs. Elizabeth Sellers of 41 Bishop St., Toronto, says: "I suffered from woman's trouble following childbirth and my nerves were very bad. I had an awful pain on the top of my head and a dragging pain in my back. There were days that I just had to drag myself around. I did not rest well at night, could hardly eat a thing, and my complexion became very sallow. I used four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it put me right back on my feet. I felt better in every way, my appetite improved, the pain in my head and that heavy ache in my back disappeared."

TEXT OF ADDRESS OF J. F. STRICKLAND

plus of $358,223.00 and in 1928 with debt retirement of $1,384,827.00 it again had a surplus of $226236.00 while in 1929 after a debt retirement of $1,745,410.00 its surplus was $2,642,893.00, and again in that year the people of Ontario in no uncertain terms expressed their confidence in the Conservative party and this Government. With 1929 came as period which no one of us has any desire to experience again and notwithstanding world conditions the year 1930 showed a deficit of only $646,601, while 1931 with condtions further aggravated and tremendous amounts required for th relief of our people, this deficit was cut to $456,901. 1932 with conditions throughout the world in what might well be described in a chaotic state, the Provincial Treasurer, whom we all hope will soon be back in his place in this House, indicates a deficit of $1,975,000."

Drury Government Record.

"Compare, Mr. Speaker, this record with that of the Drury Government which in four years in office presented this Province with deficits to the tune of nearly twenty-five millions, made up of $2,988,428.00 for $1920; $3,654,114.00 for 1921; $2,662,060.00 for 1922; and $15,195,-236.00 for 1923; and a state of affairs which resulted in further deficits to the extent of $14,388,268.00, before the situation could be controlled by this Government. Until the last couple of years one might well think that New York or American exchange did not exist, but the most casual enquiry discloses that a three million dollar loan, negotiated by the Hon.Peter Smith in 1921 cost this Province $391,000.00 in New York exchange.

"Many of our Honourable friends opposite are exercised over the Prime Minister's statement on the reduction in the membership of the House, but they can at least take what cold comfort there is in the fact that of necessity their loss must be unquestionally less than it will be on this side of the House. The constituency I have the honour to represent is a substantial and populous manufacturing city, together with two well settled townships of splendid farm land, but no doubt when the smoke clears away there will be some very material changes in its boundaries, and in this connection I am for once in accord with my Honourable friend from Brant, in urging this Government to keep in mind representation by area as well as population; and in this connection if the public is right in the assumption that the affairs of this Province can be adequately looked after by some ninety members or less, does it not follow that a similar and more drastic pruning should take place throughout our whole system of municipal government, including our cities, counties, townships, towns, or villages. My own city and county of Peterborough is ably and efficiently administered, and so far weathered this storm in a highly commendable manner. But they, like the population of the country generally are seeking relief from taxation, and it seems that the example about to be set by this legislature might well be followed throughout our whole system.

"In these times when economy is the watchword, not only of every government, company, household and individual, let me suggest to the Budget Committee that in their efforts to lessen the burden and to make it more equitable, that they do not fall into the mistake of being penny wise and pound foolish. I have made this statement before in this House and I am still of the opinion, that if all our spending sources close up, ultimate relief from this period will be postponed. The willing horse can only do so much and the individual's resources will only take care of certain demands, and too many people are content to let some one else do more than their share. But even so it is refreshing to find that in many communities, institutions and individuals who have been able to afford to, have most liberally contributed to local relief in such a manner as to relieve the harassed tax payer in a very substantial degree. The fact that some progress has been made, if only in its early stages, towards unemployment insurance, must be a matter of congratulation to all of us."

Equally Reasonable

"The Government in bringing down its new Mortgagors and Purchasers Relief Act, should not lose track of the fact that the obligation in the first instance is contractual, and that many mortgagees are in no better position financially than mortgagors. In many cases, elderly persons of both sex, widows, and infants, are solely dependent upon their return from mortgage investments, and further that until the air is cleared on this point, that any monies available for mortgage loans are tied up, which in itself is a most serious matter, not only to the legitimate borrower but to many trades, tradesmen, manufacturers, and others. With few exceptions it has been my experience that both mortgagors and mortgagees are equally reasonable and as long as any over reaching is prevented by the proposed legislation, the people will be well content.

"Education in this Province has led the world but it is a question in my mind whether or not we have gone too far in placing the control of the cost of education in the hands of School Boards. True enough these Boards are responsible to the people who elect them, but it does seem to me that greater economy and efficiency would be obtained if they were also responsible to the municipal authorities by some check being placed on their financial requirements.

"The people of this Province are too sound at heart to listen to the hysterical outbursts of those irresponsible persons who are taking advantage of world conditions to endeavour to satisfy their hunger for office. But should I be mistaken in my opinion of the inherent soundness of the good sense of the people in Ontario as a whole, they will no doubt find themselves in the position of the little girl, who after a display of temper on the part of her father turned to her mother and said, "When I grow up shall I get married like you"?, and being assured that she probably would, asked further, "If I don't, shall I be an old maid like Auntie"? and on being told that such would be her fate pondered a moment and then expressed the opinion that she was in one terrible mess, and that, Mr. Speaker, would be the position of this Province if she, when the time does come for an appeal to the people, turns her allegiance from this Government.

Scene From End Of The Road

Sponsored by the Canadian Social Hygiene Council, "The End of the Road" is the only authentic and official study of the hidden evils of social disease. Now playing at The Regent, the film has repeatedly broken box-office records in other parts of Canada but is now being shown in Peterborough for the first time. So insistent have been coast-wide requests for re-showings that a revival tour of this remarkable film-drama was arranged by zones. It is a very unusual opportunity that citizens of Peterborough now have to see this amazing expose of the penalties imposed by Nature upon those who are guilty of sex indiscretions. Separate showings have been arranged for men and women.

HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION NEWS

KING EDWARD SCHOOL.

Very interesting as well as educative was the meeting of King Edward Home and School Association held on Monday night in the assembly hall. There was a splendid attendance, and a program of more than usual excellence was carried out.

The president, Mrs. Henry Turner, graciously presided throughout, and led the beautiful candle service in honor of the Home and School Founder's Day. Opening the program was a delightful piano solo contributed by Miss Chrissy Milby, which was followed by an interesting feature, when R. J. Bolton, principal of the school, presented the winners of the Field Day sports with their medals, the following being the lucky boys and girls: Senior girls—Dorothy Self. Senior boys—Frank Patterson. Intermediate girls—H. Scriver. Intermediate boys—I. Fine. Junior girls—R. Dalladay. Junior boys—J. Mackness.

"Postal Progress" was the theme of the highly instructive illustrated talk given by C. Lacheur of the Post Office. Realistic views were shown of every step taken in the delivery of letters, papers and parcels from the initial stamping and addressing to the final step, when it finds its home in the letter slot to which it is sent. Much sound advice was given regarding the writers' duties in sending out mail. Especially interesting were the views of the various methods of distribution — dog teams for the frozen north, the tractors and the air mail service.

Mechanical Equipment.

The actual sorting both in the post office and on mail train is done by a purely mechanical equipment. Parcel post reaches everywhere, and registration is a practical guarantee of safe delivery of any mail. Correct information is always available to anyone at the Post Office.

Another vocal solo that was much enjoyed was sung by Mr. Kirkcaldy.

Mrs. W. R. Morris and Mrs. E. Wand were guest speakers, and brought very worth-while messages. Founder's Day is being celebrated to-day throughout the Dominion, said Mrs. Morris. Mrs. A. C. Courtice of Toronto called the first group of mothers together seventeen years ago, and formed the Toronto Home and School Council. In 1920, she called together representatives from similar organizations, and from the ranks of trustees, inspectors and teachers, and from that group grew the Provincial organization. Being a personal friend of Mrs. Courtice, her character of high ideals was well-known to Mrs. Morris, who paid tribute to her wonderful work in Home and school foundation.

Mrs. Wand spoke directly of Home and School work, emphasizing its influence upon the children. By use of a triangle, she explained the linking up of childhood with Church, Home and School.

A clever little reading of ten rules for killing a club closed Mrs. Wand's address.

Commemorating the founding of the Home and School was the candle service, when each of the past presidents of the King Edward Association gave a brief resume of the work accomplished during their regime. Among these were Mesdames Houde, Sabin, Moore, Watt, Andrews and Groombridge. A white candle represented the late Mrs. J. J. Pollock, whom all mourned.

During the program Mrs. Goodley acted as accompanist for the musical numbers. Delicious refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

The National Anthem brought to a conclusion a most successful meeting.

force of certain arguments, and I can see the desirability of certain things, but why should a man be asked to cut off the ties of years just because he becomes associated with a Government."

Turning to Mr. Nixon he asked the Progressive Leader if he would tell Premier Taschereau of Quebec to get off the directorate of numerous companies and attack him on that score as he had attacked Premier Henry for his Toronto Mortgage Company connection.

"Do you want me to answer that question?"-retorted Mr. Nixon.

Mr. Strickland sat down.

"Let me say that I deplore the action of any Prime Minister in sitting on boards of directors of large corporations, and it is that kind of thing I do not want to see creeping into our province," stated Mr. Nixon.

Resign From Concerns

Replying Mr Strickland inquired, "Why doesn't my honorable friend from Brant get off the co-operative concerns in which he is interested? (There was applause from the Conservative benches.) Now that he is joint leader of a great party, surely he will not keep up his connection with these co-operative concerns".

Mr. Nixon did not choose to reply and the address continued. Mr. Strickland said that the people of Ontario would not change their allegiance from a party which had given loyal and efficient service to a party led by the member from Brant and the "wandering leader at large, Mr. Hepburn".

In warning his leaders not favor the mortgagor too much in the suggested new legislation, Mr. Strickland said, "Many people look at this in a superficial light."

MINSTREL SHOW THURSDAY NIGHT

Annual Presentation of Y's Men's Club This Week.

ALSO FASHION REVIEW

The Y's Men's Club have been very fortunate this year in obtaining excellent talent for their annual minstrel show. The first part shows the regular minstrel circle with six funmaking endmen in the persons of Norm Laing, Jack Clayton, Harold Coleman, Eddie Leonard, Ed (Slim) Gledhill and Os. Sloane. The songs have not been before been used in this city and are peppy and bright. Don. Crawford who so ably acted as interlocutor for the Y's Men's show last year is again Master of Ceremonies.

During the intermission Hamilton Brothers are featuring a spring fashion review which promises to be not only entertaining but exceptionally interesting to the ladies.

The second part is miscellaneous, featuring a monologue by Jack Dobbin and a piano-accordion solo by Sam Padrone, a one-minute skit; coon dialogue between Jack Clayton and Eddie Leonard and a skit featuring Norm Laing, Ed Gledhill, Ormy Henry and the only girl in the show, Miss Violet Gilmour.

George E. Nicholls is directing the show with Mrs. George E. Nicholls acting as accompanist and Robert Beach as drummer. The lighting effects will be taken care of by Tom Stenton.

The show will be held in the auditorium of the Collegiate Institute, commencing at 8.15 on the evenings of Thursday and Friday, March 2nd and 3rd.

RADIO NOTES

By R. B. CHILDERHOSE of City Radio Service.

A microphone is an instrument that changes sound waves into electrical impulses. It is like a very sensitive transmitter. The types used in broadcasting stations are sensitive to very slight noises, and are very expensive. Cheaper types can be purchased for very little, and, when connected to your own radio, afford you a lot of fun talking or singing through your loudspeaker at entertainments, parties, etc.

Ed.—Mr. Childerhose will be glad to answer any questions asked by radio fans. If you have any trouble just drop a note to Mr Childerhose in care of The Examiner.

CLUB TO BENEFIT

LONDON.—The English P.E.N. Club is to have the benefit of the money received by the late John Galsworthy in the award of the Nobel Prize for literature.

By a deathbed gift, Mr. Galsworthy arranged for a trust fund, the income of which will amount to £250 ($847.50 currently) a year.

STARS OF RADIOLAND

JACK PEARL AND ED. WYNN. Two prize comics of the radio see themselves as others see them. You probably know them better as the Baron Munchausen and the Fire Chief, who seem to be the most popular funmakers on the air to-day.

CORRECT TABLE SETTING SHOWN C.G.I.T. GROUP

MILLBROOK, March 1.—(Examiner Correspondence).—A demonstration in correct table setting featured the weekly meeting of the Wide Awakes C.G.I.T. group, held at the leaders' home on Friday evening with eighteen present, and two new members enrolled, the president, Marian O'Brian, taking the chair.

The two girls who demonstrated table setting and service, Anna Rowland and Jessie Armstrong, were repeating what they had done at the Durham County Girls' Judging Competition last summer, when the class was coached by Miss Edith Hopkins, the lesson being carried out in a capable and instructive manner that greatly interested the onlookers.

DIVORCE GRANTED IN LINDSAY COURT

Tree Falls on Man While Chopping Wool, Fracturing Three Ribs.

LINDSAY, March 1 (Examiner Correspondence).—At the sittings of the Supreme Court Monday, presided over by Mr. Justice Kingstone, Fanny McPhee, who is employed in a local hotel, was granted a divorce from her husband, who resides in Bobcaygeon. Very little evidence was heard in the case.

The Universal Silk Dyers, Limited, which took over the plant of the Beal Leather Company, over a year ago, went into bankruptcy a few days ago. The firm employed some twenty-five or thirty hands. A meeting of the creditors is called for March 8th by the Victoria Trust and Savings Company, custodians.

Three Ribs Broken.

George Vrooman, who resides near Cannington, met with a serious accident on Saturday. He was engaged in the woods chopping trees when one of the trees fell on him, breaking three ribs and causing other injuries about the body.

Mrs. Richard Gordon, of Cannington, sustained a stroke of paralysis on Friday, and on Saturday her husband was similarly stricken. Both are in a serious condition.

A new system for despatching trains, etc., has been installed in the local C.N.R.station, thereby doing away with the head phones used by operators. It is a radio-like equipment, the operator having in front of him a control box, which enables him to get connection with any station on the division. By merely pressing a button the operator can speak to any station, and by the use of a general button can get in touch with all points.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

TORONTO — Stanley Lawrence, alias John Boyd, arrested in Windsor for alleged participation in the holdup of an east end branch of the Bank of Toronto here early this month, was committed for trial when he appeared in police court today. About $5,800 was taken in the holdup.

tactician of the National-Socialist movement. While Hitler appeared before the footlights and took care of the histrionic part of the campaign, acted the prima donna and beat the big drum, Strasser did the planning and the thinking and outlined a program that swung millions behind Adolph.

The two men are bitter enemies to-day. Otto Strasser runs a paper of his own called The Black Front. It is directly opposed to Hitler. In fact, the paper has just been suppressed for a month by the Government for its violent criticism of the Nazi chiefs.

Hitler Not Fascism.

"If you think that this is Fascism come to power," Herr Otto Strasser said to me this morning, "you make a big mistake."

"Well, what is it then?" I asked.

"This," he said, "is the first thunderclap of the National-Socialist revolution. The revolution is on the way. For the moment it is still attached to the chariot of reaction. But to-morrow our revolution will free itself from the Hindenburg-Papen-Seldte-Hugenberg clique. We have nothing in common with the barons and the landlords. The present phase will soon pass. At present Hitler is impotent, absolutely powerless. He is the prisoner of the barons. He can't make a move without their consent. He is as helpless as a new-born child.

"They imagine," went on Strasser, "that they are going to save the country by shouting: 'Heil Hitler!' and by fighting and ambushing each other in the streets. Believe me, torchlight parades don't feed anybody. Mass meetings don't solve the crisis. Killing people is no policy. That's hoodlumism. The causes of German's misery are capitalism, the treaty of Versailles and the parliamentary system of government.

"The whole business has to come down," declared Herr Strasser. "Because it is rotten to the core. We must crush the bourgeoisie out of existence and wipe out the whole capitalist system, root and branch. That was our original program and on the strength of that program millions of men joined the National-Socialist movement. And now what is happening?" He went on: "Hitler allies himself with the blackest reactionaries in the country, Pepen and Hugenberg."

"But, Herr Strasser," I said, "if you are a National-Socialist and talk this way, what separates you from the Communists and Socialists?"

No Orders From Moscow.

"Many things," he replied. "In the first place, German National-Socialism can never accept orders from Moscow. You can't have a bunch of doctrinaires in a far-away Russian city lay down the rules for a German socialist revolution. We could never accept the status of a branch department of the Third Internationale of Moscow or of the Second Internationale of Amsterdam. This is impossible."

"You call yourself National-Socialists, do you place the emphasis on Nationalism or on Socialism?" I asked.

"The backbone of our movement is Socialism, but we want to bring about a Socialist society within the national frame of Germany. We reject Marxism. Internationalism would only impede our task."

"Your party is absolutely separated now from the Hitler party, and on the other hand quite independent from the Marxist groups?"

"Quite. We cannot accept collaboration with agrarian landlords and bankers. We are a revolutionary party. And so is the whole National-Socialist movement. For the moment, however, Hitler has no freedom to act along the lines of his own program. He is the prisoner of Papen. But it won't be long," Herr Strasser added. "Revolt is brewing, our aim is not killing Communists, as Hitler is doing now. That is absurd. Our aim is to line up all the masses on our side against the last defenders of the old system. We must seize power and wipe out the old Germany as completely as they wiped out the old regime in Russia. But we must not repeat the mistakes of the Communists."

As an indication of the dissonant factors within the National-Socialist movement, I thought Herr Strasser's declarations interesting. His words show that the Hitlerite movement itself is half revolutionary, half reactionary. Which half will have the upper hand in the future remains to be seen. It will no doubt be that section which will be able to align the Reichswehr on its side.

Chinese Envoys Resign at Geneva Needed at Home

Jap Army Reports Smashing Chinese Defence Before Lingyuan And Sweeping Through City Into Road To Jehol Only 75 Miles Away.

AIRMEN SAY DEFENDING ARMY OF 30,000 FLEEING IN DISORDER TOWARDS CAPITAL.

GENEVA, March 2 (C.P.). — Dr. Wellington Koo, Dr. W. W. Yen ,and Quo Tai-Chi, Chinese Minister to Great Britain, telegraphed to Nanking to-day submitting their resignations as China's representatives at Geneva.

Their view is, they said, that the centre of the dispute between Japan and China has shifted from Geneva to Jehoi, where stout resistance should be offered against the Japanese invasion.

Lingyuan Falls.

LINGYUAN, Jehol, China, March 2 (C.P.). — Major-General Tadashi Kawahara, commanding the 16th Japanese Infantry, swept through this city this morning on the heels of the retreating Chinese, and marched on toward Jehol City.

At 4.00 p.m. he occupied the town of Ssutaoling, and two hours later his troops passed through Pekung. 25 miles north-east of Pingchuan and less than 75 miles from the Jehol capital.

Situation Uncertain

CHINCHOW, Manchuria, March 2 (A.P.)—Whether the Chinese defence of Jehol already was collapsing or has not begun its fight was the question in the minds of the Japanese command to-day as their war machine checked its headlong advance on the Chihfeng-Lingyuan line, with the capital, Jehol City (Chengtefu), less than 100 miles away.

Air Scouts reported upwards of 30,000 Chinese were retreating raggedly westward on the Lingyuan-Pingchuan Road "like a huge snake."

Japanese doubt if their morale, shaken by the defeats and defections of the past week, would permit them to reorganize to fight for Pingchuan and Jehol City, the only important towns in the province still in their possession.

HITLER AIMING TO KEEP REINS

Does Not Mean to Retire No Matter How Sunday Elections Swing.

TROOPS ACT AS POLICE.

BERLIN, March 2.—(A.P.) — No matter how German voters may cast their ballots in the election Sunday, the group now in control of the government is determined to remain at the helm. While Hitler, Hugenberg, Von Papen and Seldte are hopeful they may obtain a Reichstag majority, failure in this aim will not mean their retirement.

They have made this plain in their speeches. Meanwhile 60,000 of Hitler's brown shirted storm troops and Franz Seldte's steel helmet war veterans are being inducted into the Prussian police force as auxiliaries and action has been taken to assure support of the army.

Chancellor Hitler formulated this determination with the statement:

"In order to satisfy God and our conscience, we have once more turned to the German people. They themselves are to decide. If they should desert us in this hour, then may heaven forgive us; we shall continue on the path that is necessary in order that Germany may not go under."

HOLIDAY IN OREGON.

LIMIT DOOR-DOOR PICK-UP SERVICE TO LARGE CITIES

New C. P. and C. N. Railway Plan Will Involve No New Facilities.

NO EXTRA COST.

Arrangements Already Concluded With About 45 Trucking Firms.

TORONTO, March 2.— (C.P.) — Door to door pick-up and delivery of freight shipments, which the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific have decided to jointly institute March 6 in the Ontario region between Toronto and Windsor, will be limited to the larger centres, it was explained here to-day by A. E. Jefferson of the Traffic Department of the C.P.R.

Announcement from head offices of both railways stated they have concluded arrangements with about 45 trucking firms, with which they have previously operated, to institute the door-to-door service without extra cost to either shipper or consignee, utilising the trucking service already in operation.

Jefferson Explains.

"For instance," Mr. Jefferson explained, "a shipment from Toronto Cooksville (village near here) would include pick-up at Toronto but would not include delivery at Cooksville. On the other hand a shipment originating at Cooksville for Toronto would not involve the pick-up at Cooksville but would include delivery here."

The new policy, however, will include delivery at both ends between such larger centres as London, Woodstock, Galt and Guelph.

It was emphasized in announcement on the new service that the railways are not themselves entering into the trucking business, as at first rumored. The service will make use of existing trucking services instead of involving organization of new facilities.

Hitler Promises Aid For German Workers

BERLIN, March 2. — (A.P.)— A promise by Chancellor Adolf Hitler that he would do more for the workers of Germany than they could expect from Communism was before the electorate to-day.

Addressing National Socialist workers last night, he said he planned to mortise the pillar of labor in the structure of state so labor would not have to be a separate entity. In one of the few specific elaborations he has made upon his four year plan for workers, the Chancellor said his compulsory labor program would wipe out "class antagonisms" with "ennobling manual labor" for all.

Capt. Hermann Goering, the Chancelor's right-hand man in the Cabinet, in another speech, sought to allay rumors that more severe repressive measures were planned this week-end against Communists and Socialists. He said their lives were not endangered if they kept strictly within the law.

GRIMSBY TOWN DEFEATED 4-2.

LONDON, March 2 (C.P. Cable). — Preston North-End defeated Grimsby Town 4-2 to-day in an English League, Second Division, soccer match.

Imperialistic Arms Folly, Says Shaw; Urges Japanese Adopt Birth Control

KOBE, Japan, March 2 (C.P.). — George Bernard Shaw, British playwright, referring to the Japanese drive into Jehol Province, told a group of Japanese reporters here to-day that "the European War was Imperialistic, yet it led to the disappearance of three empires."

Mr. Shaw, who is on a world tour, continued: 'Have you in Japan ever thought that in your Imperialistic aims you may end as a Republic, and that is not at all what your rulers want? European Imperialists, or what is left, would give their eyes for the return of 1914."

Praising Soviet Russia, he said: "Stalin does not rule because the sun is in heaven, but because he is the best man for the job."

He urged Japan to adopt birth control to solve population problems.

SUSPICIOUS.

WINDSOR, Ont.—Windsor police received a hurry call to a local factory early to-day when a citizen reported a man acting in a suspicious manner. It was only a patrolman on his beat making his usual inspection, and a flashlight caused all the excitement.

5 DAY WEEK ON ROADS

TORONTO.—A five day week in road maintenance will be launched by the Department of Highways about April 1, according to Hon. Leopold Macaulay, Ontario Minister of Highways.

Mr. Macaulay said the policy was designed to spread employment more than in other years and that under the scheme workmen would be kept off the highways during the Saturday congestion.

MONEY POURS INTO FALLS.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. — There was a veritable avalanche of American money into this city to-day and all banks opened many new accounts for concerns across the line. While a banking holiday has not been declared in New York State, considerable apprehension regarding possible developments was indicated by the new depositors from across the river.

ACQUITTED AT BELLEVILLE.

BELLEVILLE, March 2.—Out for one hour, the jury in the case of Harry Sweet of Marmora, charged with robbery while armed, returned a verdict of not guilty at the Spring Assizes here yesterday. The verdict came after the defence had called several witnesses to prove that Sweet had not left his home on the night of the robbery. Charles A. Payne appeared for the defence, while Norman MacDonnell of Toronto conducted the prosecution.

Some Highlights On The Meeting Of Finance Board

Finance Committee Meeting Was The Longest in Years, Lasting Until Past Midnight—Utilities Commission Charging Too Much For Water Used By City.

Few more important conclaves of the City Fathers has been held in years than the meeting of the Finance Committee last night when such far-reaching economy measures were adopted.

Mayor Denne said it was the longest meeting during the time that he has been a member of the Council. It lasted until several minutes after midnight. Even then, although the meeting adjourned, some of the aldermen sat around in groups for a while longer and discussed civic problems.

In connection with lower wage schedules, Alderman Tuggey brought from his pocket a slip of paper listing the wages earned last year by Tom Bacon, Ab Cox, Fred Board and others in the empoy of the Board of Works. He said some of their salaries for the year ran up to $1270 and urged that they be steeply cut. However, the question of these salaries were left to the Board of Works Committee. Alderman Tuggey announced that he would ask the Property Committee to reconsider the wages of two employees at the incinerator with a view to cutting them.

Maintaining that the committee should not be too drastic in their cutting of the $150 grant to the Poultry Association, Alderman Walter Stocker stated that now chickens weighing seven and eight pounds can usually be picked up at the local market. "They never were as big as that in the old days," he declared. "And it is all mainly due

$60,000 IN CASH RANSOM HANDED TO KIDNAPPERS

NEAR DENVER AIRPORT.

Victim Gives Graphic Description of Experience—Treated Fairly Well.

DENVER, March 2.—(A.P.) — A ransom of $60,000 was paid shortly before Charles Boettcher 2nd, 31-year-old heir revealed to-day after being freed last night following "days and nights of blackness, discomfort and threats" in the hands of kidnappers.

It was revealed to-day that Dr. John M. Foster, young physician and friend of the kidnapped broker, kept a rendezvous with the abductors in behalf of Claude K. Boettcher, the multimillionaire father, and paid the demanded $60,000.

The climax to the West's most amazing kidnapping came with startling suddenness. Shortly after 6 p.m. last night, Dr. Foster drove to a designated spot near the municipal airport. In his automobile he had the $60,000.

There the kidnappers were waiting. Although they remained out of sight themselves, they allowed the physician a glimpse of their blindfolded victim. Foster dropped the bag containing the money and raced for Denver to inform young Boettcher's family.

Boettcher's Story

DENVER, March 2. (AP) — The kidnapping of Charles Boettcher 2nd, wealthy Denver broker, was graphically described by him to-day in an interview published in the Denver Post.

"Sixteen days and nights of blackness, discomfort and threats!

"Thank God it's over," Boettcher said.

"Where I was held and by whom I do not know. It appeared to be the basement of some house 18 hours by fast automobile from Denver.

"Neither do I know who my abductors were, but there were two of them—possibly three.

"I am thankful that they treated me as gentlemanly as possible under the circumstances. They even shaved me when I complained that my beard was growing so long.

"Desperadoes?—undoubtedly. But

Police Estimates Cut $2,000 Board of Education is Asked To Reconsider Estimates

Finance Committee Of City Council Cuts Civic Salaries From Five To Twenty Per Cent.—Grants Are Reduced $4,725.

ESTIMATES OF FIRE DEPARTMENT ARE CUT FROM $35,000 TO $32,000—NO NEW CAR.

Board Of Education Is Asked To Reconsider Its Estimates With a View To Making Further Reductions.

Salary reductions of 20 percent, and in some special cases even more than that, were recommended in the civic payroll at a meeting last night of the Finance Committee of the City Council.

In fact the Finance Committee adopted such sweeping measures for the slashing of civic expenditures that when the aldermen adjourned from the meeting at 12 o'clock, midnight, they confidently predicted that their efforts could not help but please the ratepayers. Summing up the result of the economies instituted, Alderman J. A. McNabb fired the last shot when he declared, "Other spending bodies in the civic administration can not help but recognize the fact that we have taken the bull by the horns and that our cuts have been real cuts and have gone deep".

Economy actions passed by the Finance Committee were:

Salaries up to $600 reduced 5 per cent.

Salaries above $600 and up to $1200 reduced 10 percent.

Salaries above $3,000 reduced 20 percent.

Reduced city grants to various organizations by $4,725.

Cut off all allowances for gasoline and transportation for City Engineer, Street Commissioner and Sanitary Inspector.

Cut gasoline allowance to Relief Officer and Plumbing Inspector from $250 to $150.

Stopped the policy of paying for telephones in the residences of city officials.

Disposed of the services of Jack Thirnbeck, street inspector, who had been getting a salary of $1,700.

Reduced the salary of J. O. Fife, manager of the Sewage Disposal plant, from $1,800 to $1,500.

Reduced salary of Sanitary Inspector C. E Stapleton from $1,700 to $1,400.

Cut estimates of the Fire Department from $35,000 to $32,500 and dismissed the suggestion that a new car for the Fire Chief be purchased.

Reduced Police Department's estimates from $26,000 to $24,000.

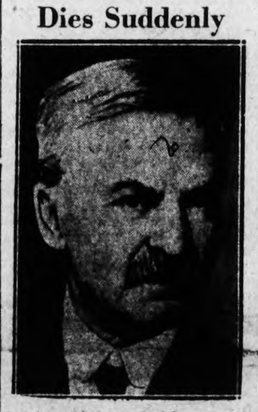
Dies Suddenly



Senator Thomas Walsh, recently appointed Attorney-General in the new Roosevelt Cabinet, who died in his sleep last night while on the train to Washington to attend the inaugural ceremonies and take over his new post on March 4.

HOUSE CONTENTS SELL FOR 67 CENTS.

VERDUN, Que. — Two hundred and fifty unemployed attended a sheriff's sale of the chattels of an evicted fellow out-of-work today and bought the entire contents of the house for 67 cents.

The man owed $208 in back rent and the landlord evicted him and seized his chattels. The unemployed crowded round the auctioneer and chairs and tables were knocked down for a few cents each. The unemployed loaded the goods on a truck, drove to the city hall and demanded a new home for the man.

SENATOR WALSH DIES ON HIS WAY TO WASHINGTON

Roosevelt's New Attorney-General Stricken in Sleep Aboard Train.

SHOCK TO SENATE

Prominent Leader, Veteran of House 20 Years, Been Married Only Week.

WILSON, N.C., March 2 (C.P.).—Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana died suddenly aboard an Atlantic coast line train near here early to-day.

The Senator with his bride of a week was en route from Florida to Washington.

First reports from railroad officials indicated he died in his sleep.

The body was to be taken from the train at Rocky Mount and prepared for burial there, railroad officials said.

Over 70 Years Old.

Senator Walsh, named to be Attorney-General in the Cabinet of United States President-elect Roosevelt and long and outstanding figure in the Senate, was more than 70 years old.

He flew to Havana last week to marry Senora Nieves Perez Chaumont de Truffin, widow of a wealthy Havana business man.

Railroad officials said Senator Walsh was stricken a short time before the train on which he and his bride were returning to Washington, reached Wilson.

A physician was located on the train, and another was summoned when the train reached here. The Senator was dead before the local physician could reach the train.

CHAIN STORES ARE BLAMED

Put on Special Sales of Milk in Hope to Attract Purchasers.

INVESTIGATION OPENS.

OTTAWA, March 2 (C.P.)—Chain store competition and the policy of one of these chains in selling at cut prices were demolizing the milk business in Montreal, W. W. Moore, Secretary-Treasurer of the Montreal Milk Producers' Association, told the House of Commons Committee on Agriculture here to-day. Mr. Moore and P. D. MacArthur, President of the Association, were two witnesses who presented to the committee the producers' side of the case in the present enquiry into the price of whole milk.

Last December one of these chain stores "featured" milk, selling it as low as five cents a quart. This was done in order to attract customers in the hope that they would make other purchases in addtiion to milk, said Mr. Moore. For some time, however, that particular store had sold milk at a price three cents under that of the other stores.

BERLIN, Feb. 10.— Government by crystal gazing or by reading the mysteries of squeezed-out coffee grounds cannot exactly be called a historical novelty, yet in these days of television and aeroplanes ready for the stratosphere, government by somnambulism becomes a little incongruous, to say the least. Thaldaean soothsayers tried to steer the chariot of state by the course of the stars or that the ancient Hebrews consulted the Urim and the Thummim, the Greeks the Delphic oracle and the Romans the intestines of slaughtered animals are well-known practices belonging to the days of humanity's infancy. LIQUOR BOARD RESERVES SAVE LARGE DEFICIT Gap Between Receipts and Disbursements Would Have Totalled 11 Million.

ANNUAL REPORT TABLED.

No New Stores Opened in 1932—250,709 Permits Issued in Ontario.

TORONTO, Mar. 2.—The Provincial Treasury cut into reserves of the Liquor Control Board to the extent of $9,260,000, the board's annual report for the year ended Oct. 31, 1932, shows. But, ot this amount, only $6,632,420.48 was earned in net perfits for the year, as against net profits of $8,491,653.43 in the fiscal year of 1931. Sales were decreased from $45,835,707.77 in 1931 to $36,099,561.85 in 1932, for a drop of $9,736,145.92.

The significance of the vast amount of $9,260,000 passing to the Government coffers from the surplus fund may be seen in the fact that it alone has saved the Government operating deficit, which was stated in the pre-sessional statement at $1,975,000, from reaching a $11,235,000 mark.

In addition, however, there was $645,000 paid to the Treasury from pe: it sales, which would bring the Provincial deficit up to $11,880,000 had not the Liquor Board been bled of its surpluses and net permit sales revenue.

In 1931, $10,000,000' was taken from the Liquor Board surplus, leaving a balance of $3,076,917 to start the year 1932. This latter amount is not only all taken, but nearly the total of net profits passes to the Government in one sweep, and the surplus carried into the present fiscal year is merely $440,-336.38.

A summary of the statement shows that the total amount paid to the Provincial Treasurer in surpluses since the board's operations began in 1927 is $44,985,000.

The report was tabled in the Legislature yesterday by Attorney-General Price.

Total Sales.

The total sales, by classification, during 1932 were as follows:

Domestic spirits	$5,478,823
Imported spirits	3,285,194
Domestic wines	2,317,160
Imported wines	710,819
Domestic beers	14,743,317
Imported beers	124,282

There was a 35 per cent. decrease in the sale of imported spirits over 1931; 16 per cent. in domestic spirits; approximately 17 per cent. each in domestic wines, imported wines and domestic beers; and a 77 per cent. decrease in the sale of imported beers. The percentage decrease for combined sales of beers and wines over 1931 was 21.2.

Total number of liquor permits issued to residents of Ontario for 1932 was 260,709 and 44,191 non-resident, a grand total of 304,900 as against 329,784 resident and 80,-737 non-resident ,a total of 410,521, in the preceding year; a decrease of 105,621, or 26 per cent. Special wine and beer permits were issued to the number of 140,078 ,as against 168,705 in 1931 ,and 18,933 wine and beer permits were converted into general liquor permits during the year.

RICH DENVERITE GIVEN FREEDOM BY KIDNAPPERS

Charles Boettcher Returns Home Unharmed After 17 Days' Captivity.

BLINDFOLDED WHOLE TIME

Family Mum on Ransom Payment—Father Hints Case Not Ended.

DENVER, March 2.—(A.P.)—After nearly 17 days in the hands of kidnappers, Charles Boettcher, 2nd, heir to a fortune, was returned safe to his home last night.

There were conflicting reports on whether the family had paid the $60,000 ransom demanded in a note which two men left with the young wife of the 31 year old wealthy broker when they kidnapped him from the driveway of his home at 11.50 p.m. February 12.

Claude K. Boettcher, multi-millionaire father of the kidnap victim, announced "all obligations in the case have been fulfilled," but would not say definitely the ransom had been paid.

Albert T. Clark, Denver chief of police, said he was "uncertain about the ransom payment.

Harry A. Haley, brother-in-law of young Boettcher's mother, announced in Kansas City his wife, who was in Denver, had telephoned him the ransome had been met. Haley also told his wife informed him the wife of the kidnapped scion of the pioneer Colorado family had held up well under the strain.

Blindfolded 404 Hours

Boettcher, who said he was blindfolded during the entire 404 hours of his captivity, compiled and telephoned his home from a drugstore. Police, who despite reports of a breach with the family were being kept informed of progress in the case, went into action and within a few minutes had engaged in a running gun battle with a car believed to contain the kidnappers. The car escaped.

Boettcher was taken to the home of a friend where Chief Clark questioned him. Then he was taken home to bed. The elder Boettcher early today talked guardedly of the case.

"This is the beginning, not the end of this case," he declared. "I might say that this is the end of one story and the beginning of another. What the outcome of the second story will be remains to be seen."

MACHINE GUNS SEIZED IN RAID

Vancouver Police Suspect International Gun-running Plot.

FOUND IN STOLEN CAR.

VANCOUVER, March 2.— Seizure by police of six unassembled machine guns and 103,000 rounds of ammunition, in the back of a parked automobile, has led officers to investigate the possible existence of an international gun-running plot centering in Vancouver.

Authorities are convinced the guns were designed for shipment to China, as no local trouble could possibly call for the use of such a formidable armament.

The car, owned by Gay Wing Yip, who disclaimed all knowledge of the guns and ammunition, was parked in an alley two blocks from the owner's residence. When the find was made by police, Gay stated he parked his car in front of his house last night. When he found it gone this morning he notified police and was advised of the discovery of the guns.

BANK HOLIDAY IS NOW SPREAD OVER 14 STATES

California, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Mississippi Are Latest Additions.

RESTRICTIONS DIFFER.

Bankers Still Struggling to Re-open Detroit Houses With Ford Aid.

(By The Associated Press)

California, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Mississippi entered to-day upon bank holidays, bringing to 14 the number of States in which limitations on withdrawals now exist.

The proclamation of Gov. Rolph at San Francisco makes mandatory the closing of California banks for a three-day period ending Saturday. The three-day holiday called by Gov. Murray in Oklahoma for the same period also is mandatory.

The proclamation of Gov. Allen of Louisiana provides for the cessation until the end of the week of "all public business including banks and other public enterprises." In Mississippi the degree of the State Banking Commissioner called only for the limitation of withdrawals.

In Alabama the holiday which began to-day is effective until March 10, but is not mandatory. Banks in many parts of the State indicated business would go on as usual.

Many Tennessee banks disregarded the Governor's call for a six-day holiday beginning yesterday, and still others which were closed yesterday announced they would open to-day.

Kentucky banks operating under a holiday proclamation, went on a restricted withdrawal basis to-day, the limit being five per cent. The holiday is to end after Saturday.

Still in Force

In Michigan the holiday which began February 14 is still in force as the Fords, Senator Couzens and bankers continue efforts to reopen Detroit banks.

Maryland's day-to-day bank holiday was continued pending passage of legislation to remedy the situation.

Indiana banks continued to act in accordance with local conditions, some limiting withdrawals and others doing business as usual. At Newcastle a modified form of scrip was circulated, banks issuing the scrip against deposits, the paper being accepted as currency.

The situation in Ohio was easing, with many bankers considering the possibility of raising the limit placed on withdrawals.

In five States restrictions on withdrawals are in effect in some of the banks. The States are: Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Arkansas and Illinois.

Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, who died aboard a train at Wilson, N.C., early to-day, was taken from the train here and removed to a funeral home, where it will be prepared for burial.

Mrs. Walsh, near a collapse, was removed to the Rinks Hotel here, suffering from shock.

Capital Stunned

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—(AP)—The capital heard with stunned surprise today of the death of Senator Walsh of Montana on the eve of his elevation to the attorney generalship in the new United States administration.

Immediately after word was received today of his death, senate Democrats prepared to move as soon as possible that the senate adjourn as a token of respect.

Senator Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader and Senator Wheeler of Montana, Walsh's colleague, planned to ask the senate to lay aside its work today in tribute to the veteran Montanan.

Robinson, informed of the death at his home this morning, was shocked so much that he at first could not believe it and then said:

"Senator Walsh's death comes as a great surprise. He was an outstanding leader in the Democratic party and a man of undoubted integrity and notable ability."

The Montanan had been a familiar figure in the capital for twenty years, ever since he left the private practice of law in Helena to come to the Senate.

Teapot Dome Scandal.

He probably gained his greatest prominence as the prosecutor in the Teapot Dome oil scandals in 1924.

But to Democrats all over the United States, he was known as the man who presided over the tumultuous Democratic convention of 1924 which fought out the long deadlock between Alfred E. Smith and William G. McAdoo for the nomination. The deadlock was finally broken by the selection of John W. Davis as the standard bearer.

Again in 1932, the Montanan was chosen to preside over a national conclave of his party, this time at Chicago, where after three ballots Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated.

Senator Walsh took an active part in the campaign. Throughout the long Western trip of Mr. Roosevelt, which took him into every Far Western State except Nevada, the Senator conferred frequently with the nominee and appeared often on the rear platform.

JUDGE'S CHARGE TO JURY BASIS FOR NEW TRIAL

Justice Sedgewick Went Too Far in His Charge Court Agrees.

JACKSON GETS NEW TRIAL.

Court is Unanimous in Granting Appeal of Edward Jackson.

TORONTO, Mar. 2. (Special to Examiner) —The Court of Appeal at Osgoode Hall yesterday ordered a new trial for Edward Franklin Jackson sentenced by Mr. Justice Sedgewick to hang for murder of Eugene Lee of the township of Dummer on October 17 last.

The Court made the decision after Mr. Justice Middleton had questioned the right of the trial judge to tell the jury that the part of a statement which the prisoner made to the police inerriminated him was admissible but that the part of the statement in which he sought to qualify his act was not admissive.

E. Bayly, K.C., for the Crown contended that the self serving part of the statement which the Crown had tendered as evidence coupld not be admitted.

The statement by Justice Sedgewick to which Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., counsel for Jackson objected and in which objection he was upheld by the court was: "You have a statement by the prisoner

Mr. Carl Barton and Mr. Earl McMillan motored to Trent River on Sunday to visit at the home of Mr. John Thompson.

Crows have been heard frequently here for the past three days. Immediately before Saturday's snowstorm a flock of blue birds spent several hours among the elm and cedar trees back of Rush Point factory and garage. Black birds (the bronze grackles) have been reported in the neighborhood this week-end.

On Thursday evening Miss Mae Seeney took charge of the Rush Point Y.P.S. meeting at the church. Miss Jeanne Blakely read the Scripture lesson. Miss Margaret Brown read the Topic for the meeting. Miss Luella Keating sang a solo accompanied at the church organ by Miss Brown.

Mr. Reg. McQuigge gave one of his comic readings. Another of the "Old Savings" contests was then given out by Miss Jean Pollock and when the results were made known the Blue and White sides were tied with the Red in second place and the Khaki third. Mr. Gavin Buchanan will be the leader for the next meeting.

A wood cutting bee was held at the home of Mr. George Newton on Friday last.

POLICE ESTIMATES CUT $2,0000 BOARD OF EDUCATION IS ASKED TO RECONSIDER ITS ESTIMATES

Returned the Board of Education's estimates of $229,680 with the request that the Board reconsider them with a view to making further reductions.

Although the members of the Finance Committee toiled over the estimates for four and a half hours, they did not strike the 1933 tax rate. This was impossible to do because of the decision to return the Board of Education's estimates to the Board for further consideration with a view to the Board making greater economies.

In returning the Board's estimates, the Committee urged that a special meeting of the Board be called immediately to reconsider its appropriations in order that the City Council will be enabled to strike the tax rate early next week.

Request Salaries Published

In order that the ratepayers may fairly see the reductions made in the civic payroll, the Finance Committee gave instructions that a full list of the city employees and their old and reduced salaries be prepared and sent to The Examiner for publication.

The committee also requested The Examiner to secure a complete list of the individual salaries of all teachers in the city and publish it. A deputation of ratepayers who interviewed the committee and presented a petition calling for drastic economy measures by all spending bodies in the city made the same request.

Although many debates enlivened the proceedings during the long hours that the aldermen wrestled with the saving problems, there were few real squabbles such as usually mark such conclaves. The members of the committee seemed united in their determination to swing the axe of economy. Naturally some were out to make larger chips fly than others. Notable in this connection were Aldermen McIntyre and Tuggey, but both expressed satisfaction with the reductions made when the meeting was concluded.

Petition With 600 Names

Said by the large deputation of ratepayers which presented it to contain more than 600 names of taxpaying citizens, the following petition was presented to the committee:

"We, the undersigned ratepayers submit that owing to our greatly reduced earning power, a very substantial reduction should be made to all salaries of all employed, and those employees whose services are not required should be dispensed with and other expenses reduced so that a drastic cut can be made in the 1933 tax rate."

Led by W. H. Bradburn, ex-M.P.P., and former Mayor; William Langford and E. B. Cunningham, who made short addresses, the deputation numbered about forty persons, including one woman.

W. H. Bradburn Speaks

Mr. Bradburn expressed his appreciation of being given the opportunity of addressing the members of the Council. He said the petition they brought bore more than 600 names of ratepayers and numbered among them were many George street merchants and leading citizens.

Alderman Tuggey — "I suppose some of my followers are there?"

Mr. Bradburn — "I dont' know about that. We didn't inquire whose followers they were."

Mr. Bradburn said that for many years the assessment in the city had not been decreased, and many house owners are now finding it extremely difficult to pay their taxes. Among these were many who through thrift had purchased small homes and now were unemployed.

For All Civic Bodies

He said the petition was not only for the City Council but for all spending bodies: The Board of Education, Utilities Commission and Police Commission. "You know the conditions as well as I do," he declared. "The revenue of the taxpayers is simply not there in these times, and if some reduction in the tax rate is not made I don't know what is going to happen."

Mr. Bradburn commented that he did not suppose on the petition there was the name of one school teacher. "I don't think any of them would have signed it," he said.

Rents Not Paid

"We are not making any demands; just the request that you do your best to help out the taxpayer," he added. In reply to a question of Alderman Tuggey, he stated he had dozens of tenants who were not paying their rents, but he was not putting them out, and in few cases was he accepting relief orders for rents.

The woman in the deputation spoke up and stated that although her husband was unemployed, one tenant owed them $400 in rent and another had moved out owing 12 months' rent. "We can't collect it," she said.

William Langford declared that a good many civic servants had had annual salary increases when times were good. "The citizens did not pay much attention then because they were quite willing that others should share in the prosperity," he said. "Now the picture has changed, and it is time civic salaries were brought in line with conditions facing the taxpayers."

He said the petition represented the voice of 90 per cent of the people of Peterborough, because everyone approached had signed the petition except one person.

Not Council's Critics

A. B. Cunningham said, "We are not here as critics of the Council. We desire on the other hand to express our appreciation of what has evidently been your earnest endeavor at economy. We want you to know that the public is behind you in this retrenchment. We know you are up against a disagreeable and discouraging job. No one likes to cut salaries.

"The very fact that the school board has fallen down in their task makes yours that much harder," he stated. "There is great credit due to that section of the Board who have tried to make for greater economies. But there is some dead timber on the Board which will have to be removed at the next election. It should be an inspiration to the Council to know that the citizens are solidly behind them."

Replying, Mayor Denne said, "It is encouraging to us to know that the citizens are beginning to take an interest in the city's business. In more than five years this is the biggest deputation to wait upon the Council. Usually there is just a sprinkling of an audience who watch proceedings in this chamber.

"Every member of the Council is sincere in his effort to make cuts and make deep cuts in the civic expenditure. The Board of Education is an elected body and each year you have returned its members by acclamation or given them a majority at the polls. If the Council sends back the estimates to the Board, you should go to the Board, as you have come here tonight, and express the same opinions as to the need for economy. I can assure you the Council will cut off every cent that can be cut off."

Material Cuts Needed

When the committee went into session on the estimates, Alderman George A. Macdonald, the chairman, first advised the members that Mayor Denne, the City Clerk, the City Treasurer, and himself had prepared a scale of reductions which might serve as a guide to the committee. "The cuts must be material because we must remember the ability of the taxpayer to pay has been greatly decreased," he said.

Alderman McNabb asked if the the reductions proposed in the salaries would be made on the salaries as in 1931 or on those of 1932 which had been cut 5 and 10 per cent. He was informed that the cuts would be made on the 1931, or statutory salaries.

It was first suggested that a 10 percent cut be made in all salaries under $1,200, but it was pointed out that some girls in the city offices receive but $600 a year, and these in normal times would have gained increases through several years of service.

Argument Waxes

Alderman Tuggey argued that two years ago the female clerks and stenographers had received increases. Alderman McIntyre, replying to the suggestion that the girls be cut 5 percent, said that it would not represent a cut this year at all since they were cut that amount last year'

Alderman Fitzpatrick and Holland moved that the salaries up to $600 be reduced 5 percent and above $600 to $1,200 10 percent. This motion carried.

Alderman Tuggey recommended that the Sanitary Inspector be cut to $1,000. Alderman McNabb, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, urged that the clippers cut not too deep into the firemen's wages because they worked 12 hours a day and were on call for the other 12 hours.

Alderman Hamilton—"They get one day off in seven."

Urges Caution

Alderman Macdonald, in urging caution, said that the city had a certain number of employees who had never received large salaries. "Don't forget their valued service when everything was high, and keep in consideration that while we want to do the right thing by the taxpayers we must also deal with our employees."

It was felt by Alderman McIntyre that some of the salaries should be treated and studied individually. "Take the street inspector at $1,700. I move we let him go" he said. "The City Engineer got an increase of $1,000 in Mayor Turner's time putting his salary at $3,500. I move we cut him to $2,500, and also his allowance of $250 for gasoline for his car."

Alderman Macdonald pointed out that he was recommending that all allowance for gasoline be discontinued and also telephones in the residence of city officials."

"Get Rid of Engineer"

Alderman Tuggey urged that the City Engineer "be got rid of" and make his assistant, engineer at $1,800 and call for a street inspector at $1,200. That is all we need at the present time under these conditions," he said.

On Warpath

That the services of J. A. Kelman as street commissioner and assistant engineer be dispensed with, was the motion of Aldermen Tuggey and McIntyre. The motion was lost, only these two supporting it.

Alderman Tuggey returned with the motion that the services of the City Engineer, R. H. Parsons, be dispensed with. Alderman McIntyre seconded the motion, but it also was lost, gaining no support elsewhere.

The by-law appointing Jack Thirnbeck street inspector at a salary of $1,700 be repealed and that he be employed at an hourly basis when his services were required, was the motion put by Aldermen McIntyre and Sloan.

This motion carried unanimously.

Fair Loss Out Again

Aldermen McIntyre and Tuggey moved that the salary of City Engineer Parsons be cut $1,000. Alderman Hamilton moved an amendment that the engineer's salary be considered with the others, it being understood that his reduction would be 20 percent. Alderman McIntyre withdrew his motion.

Turning to the salary of $1,800 received by J. O. Fife, manager of the Sewage Disposal plant, Alderman Stocker maintained, "Mr. Fife was as green as grass and twice as natural when he took over that job and anything he knows about it he learned from the other two men employed there."

Alderman Macdonald and McIntyre urged that the aldermen remember the vast improvements Mr. Fife had caused to be made in the plant. "He cleaned the place up and has kept it perfect" Alderman McIntyre declared.

It was decided to cut Mr. Fife to $1,500, Alderman Stocker and Tuggey losing out on their motion to cut him to $1,400.

Sanitary Inspector Next

C. E. Stapleton's salary was next considered, and Aldermen McIntyre and Tuggey were for cutting it to $1,000 from $1,700. Alderman McNabb resented the suggestion of Aldermen Tuggey's that some members of the Council did not have such a keen sense of the need for economy as others. "Every man here is just as sincere as any other," he declared. "You don't know the miles Mr. Stapleton travels in his work. I don't think the people are looking for such drasic cuts as that."

Alderman McNabb moved an amendment that Stapleton's salary be $1,400 and Alderman Cotton seconded. On a vote it was fixed at $1,400.

Attention Given M.O.H.

The next suggestion of Alderman McIntyre was that some attention be given the City Medical Officer of Health's salary. He said he understood that Dr. T. W. H. Young received $2,000 from the city, but $450 of this was for his care of indigent patients. After study of the by-law appointing Dr. Young it was discovered that that was the original agreement with the M.O.H. but when his salary was increased to $2,000 the by-law simply for the services of the Medical Officer of Health with no mention of a special stipend for care of indigents.

It was therefore decided to leave Dr. Young's salary alone, and to include it only in the general salary cutting.

Alderman Stocker's and Sloan's motion that the salaries between $1,200 and $1,800 be reduced 12½ per cent. carried, although it was opposed by Aldermen McIntyre's and Tuggey's amendment that the cut on this scale be 15 per cent.

Those Affected By Cuts.

That the reduction in salaries between $1,800 and $3,000 be 15 per cent. was the motion of Aldermen Hamilton and McNabb. The amendment put forward by Aldermen Tuggey and McIntyre that the reduction be 20 per cent. was lost and the cut fixed for this scale placed at 15 per cent. This reduction catches Tax Collector Green, City Assessor Henry, Fire Chief Gimblett, J. A. Kelman, street commissioner, and City Clerk Armstrong.

That salaries above $3,000 be reduced 20 per cent. was a unanimous decision, affecting only City Engineer Parsons.

Gas Allowances Studied.

Studying the gasoline allowance made for the cars of the City Engineer, Street Commissioner, Relief Officer and the $60 allowed for bus fare for the Sanitary Inspector, it was decided to cut these all out except $150 for the Relief Officer, whose duties have greatly increased. Together this made a saving of $610.

Payment for telephones in the homes of Mr. Parsons, Mr. Evans, Mr. Thirnbeck and Mr. Armstrong was also stopped.

Coming down to other details in the estimates, the committee struck the item of $20,100 as the annual cost for street lighting. Alderman Macdonald commented, "That's something I'd like to see brought down."

Cost Of Lighting High.

Alderman McNabb—"The only way it can be done is by removing certain lights in the city."

Mayor Denne — "Well lighted streets are one form of police protection."

Alderman Holland was told that it was a fixed flat rate for the street lighting.

Coming to the Police Commission's estimates of $26,000, Alderman Stocker moved that they be cut 10 per cent. "We're cutting 10 per cent. off other departments and more," he said. "I don't see why they should escape."

Alderman Macdonald—"We need an efficient police force, and I'm not in favor of doing anything to decrease their efficiency."

Replying to Alderman Macdonald that the need for police was greater now because of unemployment, Alderman Tuggey pointed out that there were fewer cases in court last year. He favored cutting the salaries.

No Say In Police Salaries.

Alderman McNabb—"We have no say in cutting police salaries. That's the Police Commission's job."

Aldermen Tuggey and Stocker moved that the Police Department's estimates be fixed at $24,000. Further discussion followed, and Aldermen Sloan and Holland moved an amendment that the estimates of the police be $25,000. The vote fixed the estimates at $24,000.

Moving along to the special grants, the grants to the two bands, Rangers and Salvation Army, was cut $400, the Rangers getting $400 and the Salvation Army $100. Alderman Tuggey favored dispensing with the bands, but Mayor Denne pointed out that it was the common citizens who secured enjoyment from the concerts.

Chamber Grant Is Cut.

The grant of $400 to the Chamber of Commerce, and $300 to the Trent Waterway Association were eliminated. Besides the usual grant of $1,500 to the Children's Aid Society, a grant of $200 was made to St. Vincent's Orphanage at the request of Alderman Holland, who stated this was a new grant, but that the Orphanage needed it badly.

The grant of $500 to the Canadian Legion branch here was cut to $300, and the grant of $3,000 to the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition was reduced to $2,000. The Poultry Association was cut from $150 to $75. The grant to the St. John's Ambulance of $100 was eliminated.

Last year the special grants totalled $10,934.39, but the reductions made by the action of the committee will total $4,275.

Unanimously the committee decided to send back the Board of Education's estimates.

No New Stores.

There were no new stores opened during 1932, but two were transferred to new locations, the total number being 124 in the Province. There were 102 brewery warenouses operating on October 31, 1932, and 33 breweries in the Province. In addition, 4 Montreal breweries were represented in the brewery warehouses.

Regarding wines, the report says that "in view of stringent regulations and the serious attempts on the part of native-wine manufacturers of Ontario to produce a satisfactory product, much has been accomplished, and the buying public may be assured that Ontario native wines are prepared under strict supervision and careful manufacture." There are 49 wineries listed throughout the Province.

The report goes on to detail the effort being made to stamp out the use of rubbing alcohol used as a beverage. Inspectors are vigilant, and reports of transgressing shops and merchants are run down. There were 1,429 druggists holding special permits, and 1,403 sold rubbing alcohol, but only 346 purchased ethyl alcohol, and mostly in small quantities.

In a statement of assets, totalling $2,730,685.08, the inventories of liquor and supplies in warehouses account for $2,456,049.12.

THURSDAY, MARCH 2, 1933

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ELECTIONS.

Official ballots have been sent out to all members of the local Chamber of Commerce to be used in the selection of the Executive Council of the Chamber for the next year, the ballots to be returned not later than noon on Tuesday, March 7.

It should not be necessary to remind the members that it is of the utmost importance that the best possible choice should be made from the names brought forward by the nominating committee, and it is also vital that every member of the Chamber should have a voice in the election.

Men who have shown their faith in such a body as the Chamber of Commerce and their belief in the work it carries on in the interest of the community by becoming associated with the organization, must surely realize that a great deal depends upon those who are chosen for the Executive Council, for necessarily a lion's share of the work and the responsibility falls upon their shoulders.

The following candidates have been named: Col. C. H. Aackerman, D. M. Bissell, H. J. Boyle, C. D. Cook, C. S. Cummer, Ross L. Dobbin, James Dutton, J. W. Geraghty, Robert Haddow, J. C. Hall, James Hamilton, George H. Hewitt, R. T. E. Hicks-Lynne, Charles Lacheur, J. R. Marshall, E. F. Mason, Dr. F. C. Neal, W. A. Richardson, C. A. Salmonsen, Charles Saunders, J. H. Seels, Roy Taylor, J. J. Turner.

Out of this fine field of twenty-four sixteen candidates must be chosen.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE.

In regard to Mr. King's promise to inaugurate a scheme of unemployment insurance in the event of his party being returned to power, the Border Cities Star points out with a great deal of truth that the time for the launching of such a plan was during the nine years when Mr. King was at the head of the Government and conditions were auspicious for the formation of a properly founded policy.

If unemployment insurance is to be based on a contributory scheme—and to most people no other form of insurance would appeal as feasible—it is evident that with conditions as they are at present it is hopeless to talk about the thing.

Not only are the funds necessary for the state's share of the cost of unemployment insurance not available but thousands of men who are out of work and who would expect to benefit from the insurance plan are, of course, utterly unable to contribute toward the fund; the whole burden would fall upon industry and the state, and eventually the taxpayer would be the goat for the whole plan.

The Windsor paper is of the opinion indeed that the Government should think a long time before instituting any form of unemployment insurance.

"It might easily," remarks the Star, "be a bad thing for the country in more ways than one. Industry itself has a responsibility along these lines, but we should like to see the Government stay strictly out of it."

A TREMENDOUS TASK.

On Saturday Franklin D. Roosevelt will be inaugurated as President of the United States and will take over the responsibilities to which he was assigned by the votes of his fellow-citizens last November.

And how heavy indeed are those responsibilities! Except Lincoln, possibly no President has commenced a term of office under more discouraging conditions.

Mr. Roosevelt begins the discharge of his duties with industry in his country badly crippled, with agriculture paralized and with the nation's banking system threatening to blow up in the face of the people.

United States trade has sadly dwindled, many millions of people are out of work, and the general situation is indeed critical, especially in the case of a President who has been elected on his promise of a new deal for the country.

Roosevelt is being looked to to accomplish miracles in restoring prosperity to the United States over night—and the magnitude of the task before him might well appall even as lion-hearted a fighter as the President-elect whose battle against infantile paralysis showed the grim courage that is one of the chief assets he brings to the White House.

Appreciative of what Mr. Roosevelt is facing, his Canadian neighbors will wish him well on the eve of his inauguration.

HUGE PROVINCIAL EXPENDITURES.

Commenting on the staggering growth in provincial expenditures in Ontario, the Ontario Committee on Economy in Public Finance declares that the figures do not make pleasant reading for the taxpayers.

The statistics adduced by the committee are most certainly not comforting.

They show that provincial expenditures have jumped from five million dollars in 1904-5 to fifty-seven million dollars in 1930-1.

In other words, provincial expenditure in the period under review increased over 970 per cent., while the population of Ontario increased in the same time only 50 per cent.

The per capita expenditure was only $2.34 in 1904; in 1913, just before the war, it had increased to $3.93, and in 1930-31 had reached $16.69.

Debt service, that is interest, retirement, etc., jumped from approximately $240,000 in 1904-5 to $11,461,861, an increase of 4676 per cent., while expenditures on highways, roads, etc., grew from $224,395 to $6,175,213, a 2651 per cent. increase, and on health, public welfare and social service, from $1,174,460 to $12,912,754, a 1002 per cent. jump.

"The average citizen," the committee points out, "may not think that provincial expenditures make much difference to him. Perhaps the only provincial tax he pays is the gasoline tax, which he pays in small amounts and often without realizing that he is paying a tax. All public expenditures for general purposes, however, means taxation, and even if paid in the first instance by corporations, the burden is so distributed that every resident of the province and everyone who is interested in any concern which does business in the province is a provincial taxpayer."

SUGGESTS NATIONAL GOVERNMENT.

The national federal government for the purpose of developing better trade arrangements between the United States and Canada is suggested in a striking editorial by the Border Cities Star from whose article the following is re-published:

"In some quarters, Mr. Bennett is being accused of a change of face, as a result of his attitude towards the Duff resolution. We are not interested in suggestions of this kind. They are of no value. They have no bearing on the situation. If Mr. Bennett has changed his mind in any particular, that is to the credit of the Prime Minister. Only small men refuse to change their minds. The point we wish to emphasize is the necessity of a whole-hearted Canadian effort to co-operate with Mr. Roosevelt and his Government in arranging a suitable trade agreement between these two countries. The President-elect is a broadminded man. He is anxious to deal fairly and in a friendly way with the nations of the world. He appreciates that Canada is his country's chief neighbor and best business prospect. He is, unless all signs fail, prepared to listen to reason and to do the right thing.

"How essential it is, then, that Canada drop all party considerations and line up as a united nation to deal with this opportunity and to do her part in making the possibility a fact.

"We need business now more than we have needed it in many years. We need a "new deal" to help lift us out of a bad general condition. The right kind of co-operation between this country and the United States will mean much to both of us. The way to get it, so far as Canada is concerned, lies in the dropping of ordinary political angles and the concentration of all statesmen on a single goal. This result we submit can only be secured in full and complete measure by a political truce at Ottawa. It should take the form of a temporary national government pledged to a definite national purpose. If, for any reason, this cannot be done, then we say that the opposition at Ottawa—all branches of it—should co-operate with the present Government to the end desired, forgetting about party and votes and lending all their efforts to the attainment of a goal so important. But a union government is the best way.

"May we suggest that Premier Bennett should immediately extend a formal invitation to Mr. King to join him in making possible the acceptance of an unusual national opportunity?"

CAMPBELL'S GREAT RECORD.

(From the New York Times)

It was almost a superhuman performance that Sir Malcolm Campbell gave when he made his world's record of 272.108 miles an hour. Fame or death was the reward of two runs of about thirteen seconds each. In the white mist that hung over the sand he could see but two seconds ahead. Brakes were almost comical accessories at this fearful pace, useless at speeds of over 100 miles an hour. On trial runs his hands were blistered because of the gyroscopic effect of wheels which had momentarily left the bumpy beach. Yet an injury made it necessary for him to rely on one arm during the greater part of his record-breaking dash. Sir Malcolm can have but few peers in skill, courage and coolness.

A remarkable mechanism is this Blue Bird that skims over the sands—a mechanism utterly useless for ordinary locomotion, and yet highly practical for the specific purpose of attaining high speed in a magnificent burst. For all her four and a half tons and 2,350 horsepower she is a tender thing. Half an hour at top speed and she would be a wreck. She cannot carry enough water to cool her engines, for example. In that flash over the sands twenty-eight gallons were boiled away, nor is it possible to carry fuel enough for a lengthy run. Greedy cylinders suck in a gallon of gasoline every quarter of a mile, or every three and a half seconds. A pressure of three tons to the inch of width makes it impossible to run the rear-axle gears for more than a minute and a half at full speed without overheating. And then the tires! Three minutes is their running life at record-breaking speed.

It takes about four-tenths of a second for the trained brain of so skilled a driver as Sir Malcolm to tell his muscles what to do. In that time the Blue Bird can cover 398 feet. Marking flags 100 yards apart flicker past like pickets in a fence. Instinct rather than sight guides the hand. Campbell expresses disappointment at not having attained 285 miles an hour because of the poor condition of the beach. Others have hinted at 400. The Blue Bird's steady improvement since 1924, after four rebuildings, shows that the engineering limit to speed is not yet in sight. But what of the human limit? One cannot help wondering whether Sir Malcolm has not almost reached it and whether a car faster and more powerful than the Blue Bird can be controlled.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Demands for unemployment relief are, unfortunately, not decreasing. The need for the complete success of the Relief Fund is even greater now than when the campaign started.

Bulletins from the Ontario political front are so numerous and so varied that it is difficult to be certain just what the situation is.

Congratulations are in order to Mrs. Dorothy Allan Park and the members of the Madrigal Club. This chorus of women's voices shows constant improvement and is rightly numbered among the out standing musical organizations in the province.

There are complaints that Mr. Bennett's new attitude toward reciprocity shows that he has changed his mind. What does that matter if it means that a treaty advantageous to both countries can be arrived at?

According to Sir Malcolm Campbell, a speed of 300 miles an hour for motor cars is possible. But not on the Chemong road, we hasten to point out, for the benefit of some of our speed-loving motorists.

As far as Chatham is concerned it is distinctly encouraging to know that the $21,000 Unemployment Relief Fund raised in 1931—with a few additional donations since the fund was closed—is still looking after the relief needs of this city, with no necessity for a further appeal to the public for subscriptions, since that date.—Chatham News.

Little Girl Lost

CHAPTER 8

Leontine, dancing, dancing, dancing, had watched for Araminta. She was restless as a cat, imagining everything.

"Where can they be?" she had asked Iris.

"Who?"

"Barney and Minta."

"Oh, they'll be coming on presently."

But they did not come. "Barney had two dances with me," Leontine told Helen.

"He had two with me, but there are other men."

But no men like Barney.

Leontine was sure her instinct had not failed her. She remembered the glamor which had hung over Barney and Araminta like glittering net. She had felt then there was something in the wind. She felt it now.

Yet, since she could do nothing about it, she had gone back to her dancing, but always with her eye out for Barney's fair head, for Minta's rosy flounces.

Now whatever else might be said of Leontine, she was the world's best dancer—meeting her partner's movements with precision, a figure of grace, with just enough of slight abandonment to the beat of the music to give vividness to her performance.

Yet tonight her customary enjoyment lacked its savor, and at last she had gone to the telephone and called up Nicky. "Where's Araminta?"

"Hasn't she arrived? They started hours ago."

"Something must have happened."

Nicky had refused to get worked up about it, "There's been a big rain, and they've probably stopped in somewhere."

Leontine, unsatisfied and suspecting, had danced until midnight; then everybody had gone to Anne Hampton's to have something to eat. By "everybody" is meant that small and choice group of friends who made up Anne Hampton's crowd. For Anne was a widow, living in one of the old, old houses which had belonged to her ancestors. She liked to have people stay until dawn, and to give them breakfast at four or five in the morning —thin corn griddle cakes and broiled Virginia ham—incomparable coffee. Her cook, she declared, never slept. But the old negress denied this, "I takes my winks when I can git 'um,'" she would state, smilingly, and was always fresh as a daisy, wearing as a matter of choice, a snowy bandana about her head, a huge white apron and a dress of purple print.

Tonight everyone was asking, "Where are Barney and Araminta?"

There was much speculation, and at last someone shouted, "Perhaps he's run away with her. . . ."

It was the voicing of Leontine's worst fears. She was a fool she told herself, but even as she tried to reassure herself, came the memory of Araminta in that upper room, tears on her lashes, protesting, "I thought you loved me, Leo." Looking back on it, Leontine was a bit ashamed of herself. But she was more than ashamed, she was worried.

Finally she could stand it no longer. "I'm going home," she told Iris and Helen, "and see what has happened."

Oliver King went with her.

She told him she had a headache. She told the same thing to Anne Hampton. Her white face and the shadows under her eyes made her story seem credible.

"There are some people going my way, Ollie—and I don't want to break up your evening—"

"My evening will be broken up anyhow when you leave."

"But Anne Hampton wants you for griddle cakes. . . ."

"I don't eat 'em," said Ollie, "on account of my figger."

It is not to be judged from the set of that sentence that Oliver was illiterate. It was simply that he came from a family which, with fine carelessness, refused to be bound by pedagogic standards. His forebears had said "figger" and that, with other inaccuracies, had come down to him. If he had thought anything about it Ollie would have said that purity of language was not the sport of "Kings," and he would have laughed at his play on words, but would have been intensely serious as to his meaning. Secure in an established social order, he left punctiliousness in such matters to people without a family tree. He was poor but complacent. And he was in love with Leontine.

She had refused steadily to marry him. "You aren't tall enough, and you haven't enough money."

"At least I'm not fat, and my old house isn't so bad. And you've a bit of money yourself, Leo."

"To pay your bills?"

Their frankness with each other was appalling. But it was the language of their contemporaries. Oliver took what she had to say to him with the ease of one who has no inferiority complex. Tall or short, rich or poor, wise or stupid, he was a King of Arundel. Plenty of women would marry him, rich women in Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York—all the way to Boston, who would have been glad to exchange their millions for his name. But he wanted Leontine.

On the way home, he again asked her to marry him.

"I've told you I'm not in love with you, Ollie."

"You needn't be. Not yet. But you may as well think of it. I shan't go on forever. If you keep throwing me down, I'll have a try next at Araminta."

Leontine was seized by a sense of panic. But she was too wise to show it. "She'd probably fall for you," she said, lazily, "but you can't afford it."

She had him there. Oliver must marry money. And he knew it.

"Araminta hasn't a penny," she pursued, "she wears our old dresses, and our old wraps, and she'd wear our shoes if they would fit her."

"Cinderella feet," Oliver said, "I've noticed 'em."

Leontine's voice had an edge to it. "She wouldn't have anything if it wasn't for us. And what thanks do you suppose we get for it?"

"You don't need 'em," Ollie vouchsafed, 'ought to be enough to see how smashin' she looks in her clothes."

"In my clothes," Leontine corrected.

Oliver laughed, "You're jealous."

"I'm not. . . ."

"You are. But I like it. Women who haven't any jealousy aren't human, and I hate 'em."

Leontine reflected that with all his background, Ollie wasn't fundamentally a gentleman. Perhaps she wasn't really a lady. Oh, well, such words were old-fashioned. So why worry?

And why should she care if Ollie fell in love with Araminta? She didn't want him. It was only that she hated having all the men at Araminta's feet. While she, with Iris and Helen, were left like the Three Old Maids of Lee. . . .!

At the door of Great-Gate Oliver redeemed himself. "There's no one like you, Leo, and I didn't mean what I said about Minta. So don't let it spoil your sleep tonight."

Oh, the fatuity of him! As if anything Oliver said could keep her awake!

THURSDAY, MARCH 2
(Read Psalm 1)
PLANTED IN THOUGHT

Religion, says the Psalmist, begins in our quiet and constant thoughts. People who begin by just thinking and thinking about God's way and law shall find that God cares for the lives of the just. They shall, in this noble figure, live as fruitful trees whose roots are watered by unfailing streams.

Life, then, is really planted in quiet and constant thought. We grow out of what we think. Our days and deeds are the flower and fruit of hidden dreams and meditations. Lives which are planted in the consideration of God's law are rich in enduring rightness. They have found the secret of prosperity.

Prayer: O Searcher of our thoughts and lives, Who knowest our meditations and our most hidden thoughts, establish our lives, we beseech Thee, in good thoughts and desires. Forgive us all our wrong and foolish meditations, our forbidden dreams whose fruit is so bitter, whose outcome so fugitive. May we find our joy in Thy law and so keep it in our minds that the strength and splendor of it may become manifest in our souls and our state. We ask it all in His name. Amen.

GIVING.

To the Editor of The Examiner.
Dear sir:

Why is it that in Peterborough (where we have so many faithful Christian welfare workers ever ready to contribute of their substance to aid their less fortunate fellows), we read of so many commendable contributions to charity, and, opposite, the name of the donor?

SHOULD STUDY ECONOMICS

To the Editor of The Examiner.
Dear sir:

In all walks of life one is forced to know something of economics and those who control our economic systems should do so with a broad mind, willing to give and to take in the interests of all.

Our Board of Education should give us a lead along this line for the class of economics they handle is showing up very badly in the world today.

Take the three major classes of economics; firstly, material products; secondly, physical and mental and finally machinery, social, political and mechanical. Where has our great and mighty school boards got us today? If forming an opinion and standing by it regardless of circumstances is sound economics for one body of control, why not for others? If we have been led theoretically into the position that the world finds itself today by education as it is conducted without Christian guidance, then it is time we had a change. The much-dreaded political ruler who believes in the survival of the fittest and his own omnipotent power to rule could not do worse.

Let us now consider something constructive. The party who wrote signed R. E. W. on Saturday showed how the people for whom this relief measure was adopted could be benefitted economically. Those who still are fortunate enough to be able to earn a living know the truth of the statements made in that letter. We save many a dollar by the buying methods suggested in that letter, the use of such methods being now prohibited to that party through the greed of some merchants to make a haul out of circumstances.

Our taxes will not all be paid in 1933 and in order to pay the estimates the council will have to go to the expense of securing an overdraft from the bank. Why not save this expense by keeping a percentage from our spending boards and commissions? This might bring them to see the taxpayers' situation in a different light than they do at present.

Our present economic situation means more to the uneducated because he has no control over the means that constitute his very existence. Many of us have come to believe, judging from results, that education is not worth the price we pay for it. It is a well known fact our children are taught from a dollar and cents viewpoint while the father of the boy is paying the price for the maintenance of this burdensome economic system. We believe that this system of education must give way to one teaching more in regard to a square deal for those outside controlling positions. Let us get the classes of economics working together with a true spirit of Christian brotherhood and we will defeat the extreme socialists and communists in their present destructive work.

This is the signature of a man vested with absolute power in an emergency would prove himself an ideal sort of dictator. He has capacities that don't begin to be used under normal conditions and circumstances He is one of those enviable people who can turn their hand to almost anything and whose interests, though legion, are always intelligently pursued. Verve and intelligence together is the mainspring of this personality. When it comes to vitality and velocity he can run rings around the average man. He comprehends quickly, thinks clearly, acts quickly and decisively. He has an abundance of executive ability and goes through a staggering amount of work with apparent ease. He never has so much to do that he can't take on more. He is the sort of man who would always have some sort of drive, some sort of one-man campaign, on hand. He has enthusiasm and a strong sense of order, and is zealous to set to rights everything within his sphere that seems to him disorderly or unorganized. He has imagination and, along with a capacity for gaiety, many social graces.

IF A WOMAN WERE A MAN

Many women say, "If I were a man—"

And the remainder of the sentence is a list of things they'd do and thoughts they'd think if only they were men.

They'd be free. They'd be bold. They wouldn't make the mistakes that men make. They'd use life far more intelligently than men do, far more gallantly. But they'd have just as much fun as men seem to have. Life for them would be a wider adventure than it seems to be for the average woman.

Of course, when they say such things they forget that if a woman were a man she'd be a man—not a man remembering what it is to be a woman—and that she'd act just as a man does. She would be a man who had always been one, had been a boy baby, a little boy, a youth, a young man, and at last a man growing older every day. And thinking always of himself as a man and never as anything else.

Frequently a woman tells how she would act toward women if she were a man.

Because in the hearts of many women—even the happy ones, even the one who pity men, even those who would not trade places with men for any treasure of the world —even in their hearts, I imagine, is a rankling grudge against men because of some hardness, some callousness or lack of fine understanding that is a part of the masculine nature as they see it.

Once I heard a woman say, "If I were a man I'd want to be decent toward the woman I had married. I'd be kind to her. Even if I ceased to love her, I'd still be good to her. I'd wear that decency like a white plume—and like a hair shirt. Though I might suffer agonies for it, I'd be fair and strong toward her. I'd save her pride and I'd be proud of my own decency. And humble, too."

And as this woman said that, her eyes shone and her whole face was aglow with ecstasy as she told how she would live if she were a man instead of a woman.

Well, I can imagine how a woman might act if she were a man; but, for the life of me, I haven't a shred of an idea as to how men would act if they were women. They never say.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

WHEN M.D.'S CHECKED ON M.P.'S.

On this date, in 1810, there was trouble in securing a quorum of the legislative assembly of Upper Canada. Seemingly there was an epidemic of colds (the flu had not then been heard of over here) and it was necessary to take drastic measures to see that only those really ill absented themselves. Anyway the Journals contain this entry:

"March 2, 1810—On motion of Mr McLean seconded by Mr. Gough, and resolved that Mr. Speaker be directed to order medical assistance to attend on Benjamin Mallory, Philip Sovereign, Joseph Willcocks, John Roblin, John Wilson, and James Wilson and report the state of their health at the bar of this honorable house.

"The Speaker, having put the question, a division took place; the names being called for they were taken down and are as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. McNabb, Fraser, Burritt, Marcal, McGregor, Baby, McLean, Gough, Elliott, G. Wilson and Secord.

"Nays—Messrs. Howard, Rogers and Lewis.

"The Speaker did then order Drs. Richardson and Lee to visit the gentlemen named and enquire into the state of their health, and report the same to the house as soon as possible.

Drs. Richardson and Lee came to the bar of this house and did acquaint the Speaker that in obedience to his orders they had called at the lodgings of several of the members absent from this house in consequence of indisposition and have the honor of making a written report on the state of health of Joseph Willcocks, James Wilson, John Wilson, and John Roblin, Esq., which reports is as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, we have seen and examined Mr. Willcocks. Mr. James Wilson, Mr. John Roblin and Mr. John Wilson, and are of opinion that, from Mr. Willcock's statement and from his present state, it would not be proper for him to attend the house this day. Mr. James Wilson states that he has taken medicine this morning, but we think (if it is absolutely necessary) he might attend in his place. The other two complain very much, but have taken no medicine. We think they might come to the house. Whether they would be able to remain 'tis impossible to say. These gentlemen all say that they think they will be able to attend tomorrow. We are of the same opinion (signed, R. Richardson, W. Lee)"

Publicity had its value. Three out of the four members were on hand the next day.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

TORONTO EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, March 2 (C.P.).—The easiest direction was downward and prices receded accompanied by increase of selling on the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day Responding to Wall Street weakness, C.P.R. dropped 1-8 to 10 1-8, Brazilian 3-8 to 7⅛, Nickel 3-8 to 8 3-8, and Ford 3-8 to 6.

Smelters had an active day, the stock coming out in quite large blocks and the close at 37½ was off 2 points for the day. Food shares paced along with the general trend, both Loblaw issues and Dominion Stores slipping 1-8 to ¼, while Canada Vinegars, both issues of Hunt's, dropped fractions.

In the oil group Imperial sagged the merest fraction and the others held firm in comparatively light trade. A weaker tone developed in the financial section, with losses appearing for Nova Scotia, Royal, Toronto and Montreal, while Dominion Bank picked up a point.

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, March 2 (C.P.). — The Standard Mining Market was unable to pull itself out of the rut to-day. Sales were reduced to a dribble until about the last hour when trading speeded up a little, accompanied by a slight weakening of the price structure. Nickel went back to $8.26 in the last hour, but recovered a little before the close. Noranda was off to around $22.00.

Some of the big gold producers hardly moved at all. Dome weakened 75 to $14.75, and McIntyre dropped a few cents, while Hollinger, Pioneer, and Teck-Hughes held about steady, and Lake Shore gained 30. The medium-priced list remained steady throughout the day. Siscoe was strong.

In the silver group Nipissing, in scant trading, remained unchanged while Eldorado showed a small gain at the close.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, March 2 (A.P.) — Stocks dragged lower to-day, finding buying support thin. Early losses were recovered by mid-day, but the list dipped again in the afternoon. Late prices represented many net losses of 1 to 2 points. Delaware and Hudson was down 4, while declines of around 2 were shown by American Telephone, Public Service of New Jersey, Consolidated Gas, Norfolk and Western and American Can, United States Steel, New York Central, Trans-America and United Corporation sagged about a point. Sales approximated 1,000,000 shares.

Roosevelt's New Labor Secretary Lays Much of Success to Ability as Gossip

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP)—Frances Perkins is a "born gossip." At least she described herself as one 23 years ago.

A paean in praise of gossip has been found imbedded in a thesis written in 1910 by the woman who was to rise to become Franklin D. Roosevelt's Secretary of Labor.

She was studying then for her master's degree at Columbia university. Into the tenement districts she went, risking rebuffs and actual violence, trying to find out why school children suffered from malnutrition. She studied the background of 107 children and wrote her conclusions in her thesis.

So well did she succeed in the delicate task of getting information from parents that only once did an inebriated father threaten to throw her out. Her success, she intimated, was due largely to her ability as a gossip.

Gossip, she said makes for greater democracy, and accomplishes "the miracle of understanding between two human beings."

PROTESTS MADE AGAINST CHANGE IN INDIAN ACT

If Indian Wants to Live Like a White Man He Must be Enfranchised.

NOT COMPULSORY.

$1,674,084 Has Been Paid Out of Treasury to Aid Movement of Coal.

OTTAWA, March 2.—(C.P.)— If any Indian wants to live as a white man he must assume the white man's duties and become a citizen of Canada, the Dominion Government is convinced. It is having difficulty, however, in convincing Parliament the proposed changes in the Indian Act will work well.

Some members protest against forcible enfranchisement of Indians and protests have come from some of the Indians. As Premier Bennett explained the change yesterday no Indian will be arbitrarily compelled to become a citizen. He proposed to have a board composed of an official of the Indian department, the country court judge and a representative of the tribe pass upon any application to force the duties of citizenship upon an Indian.

Canada, said Mr. Bennett, has spent a great deal of money on the Indians. There mighe be differences of opinion as to wether it was all well spent, but some of the Indians had made remarkable progress. Some were highly educated, engaged in business and practised the learned professions. Such men should not be allowed to continue as wards of the government and evade the responsibilities of citizenship.

Some clauses of the bill will be redrafted to make them more acceptable to the House and further discussion will be given the matter when they are ready.

Movement of Cereal.

The government has paid approximately $1,674,084 from 1928 up to the end of 1932 in connection with the movement of 2,082,195 tons of domestic coal from mines to markets in Canada, it was revealed in the House when Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Mines, read into the report a lone statement covering subventions paid to railways in connection with the movement of coal.

The Minister's statement came when the House, in committee of supply, was considering an appropriation of $2,000,000 to provide for payments in connection with the coal movements. The minister had not concluded his statement at adjournment and the item was still before the committee.

Mr. Gordon started with the movement of Alberta coal in Ontario. The order-in-council under which the railways are assisted for handling this movement will expire on the 15th of this month.

It authorized a test freight rate of $6.75 per ton on movement of Alberta coal to Ontario. Including 1920 and up to the end of last year, a total of $291,941 had been paid out on a movement of 142,204 tons. The total estimated expenditure for last year was $37,301 on a movement of 16,901 tons.

CONFIDENT NOTE IN OHIO BANKING

Confidence Will be Justified in Raising Restrictions on Withdrawals Soon.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 2 (C.P.). — A hunt for a money substitute was on in Ohio to-day.

With more than 500 of the State's 800 banks limiting the withdrawal of deposits, bankers pondered the advisability of resorting to the issuance of clearing house certificates or some type of bank scrip.

Meanwhile, some banks reported difficulty in finding space in their vaults for the huge stacks of United States currency of small denomination that had been deposited under the rule requiring the house to segregate all cash received from the opening of new accounts.

The general situation, said State Director of Commerce Theodore Tangeman, has "eased off" to such an extent that some bankers felt they soon migh tbe justified in raising the restriction on withdrawals most of them having fixed at five per cent.

BLOOD FOR EDUCATION

NEW YORK — The Columbia University Spectator, undergraduate publication, says more than a score of students are selling their blood in order to continue in college. The average price per transfusion is $45. Associate Dean Nicholas McKnight said the University was making efforts "to meet the financial emergency among undergraduates in such a way that earning money through blood transfusions will not be necessary."

HASTINGS PLAY PLEASES CROWD

"With Help of Scotty" Staged by Y.P.S. of St. Andrew's Church.

INTERESTING THEME

HASTINGS, March 2 (Examiner Correspondence).—The Young People of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church staged a three-act comedy "With the Help of Scotty,' on Monday night before a very large crowd in the Town Hall.

The entire cast played their parts as veterans. Considering that this was the first time that any of them had taken part in a play and that they have been only practising for four weeks. The directing and supervision of the play were in charge of Rev. S. H. Hill, who is being congratulated for the splendid success of the play.

Miss M. Dodd presided at the piano previous to the curtain raising.

The cast of characters is as follows: Dr. Allen P. Dale (W. H. Flatman), a young man just out of medical college, full of hope and ambition and with a destre to do right and serve the publis as he would himself desire to be served. Scotty (Francis Kennedy), young teen-age boy, who has seen a little of life from the wrong angle. In a choice between right or wrong, Scotty believed in doing that which is easiest. D. Martin Dale (Stanley Fife), a man in the early fifties, is undernourished and too stingy to eat in spite of his wealth. Tom Millard ,Hilton Maybim), a four-flushing individual with the appearance of wealth but lacking in education. Violet Millard (Jessie Whitred), a spoilt child, daughter of Tom Millard. Zora Dansard (Myrtle West), a modern young lady. Edna Bloom (E. Graham), another modern young Miss. Miss Addie Featherweight (Alice Whitred), who is continually trying to make herself about twenty years younger than she really is. Nora Clancy (Margaret Robinson), a typical old Irish lady, always in high spirits.

The curtain raises for the first act, with the setting of a middle-class office. Dr. Dale and his office boy, Scotty, are discussing the propects for better business for the young doctor. Addie Featherweight enters to see the doctor, as she is too thin. Martin Dale calls around to see how his young nephew is getting along. Tom Millard has a good proposition to increase the doctor's business for the fee of $50, which the doctor scorns. The high and mighty Violet Millard, who wins every newcomer, sets her mind on Dr. Dale.

Mr. Frank Taylor sings two solos; he is accompanied on the piano by Miss Hazel Whitred.

The second act is in Dr. Dale's bachelor apartment in Mrs. Clancy's boarding house. Scotty has made a great blunder in giving out envelopes to two patients. Dr. Dale is called to the home of Martin Dale and on his return is wounded in the arm by the Millards, who are planning a run on the bank in order to get control of the town. Scotty disappears. Violet goes to Toronto to get money to save bank.

Mr. W. H. Flatman accompanied by Miss C. Dorsee, sang a solo.

Miss Keitha Mouncey accompanied by Mrs. H. B. Wilson, also sings a solo.

The final act is the same scene as Act 2. Violent arrives back in time to save the bank. Her father is mobbed by angry townspeople. Dr. Dale proposes to Violet and is accepted.

FIRE DEPARTMEN T ESTIMATES CUT $2,500 BY COMMITTEE

$32,500 REQUIRED.

The saving to the city in the salaries of the Fire Department alone, as a result of the salary cuts passed by the Finance Committee last night, amounts to $3,981.25. Due to the saving on the salaries the committee was able to reduce the Fire Department's estimates by $2,500, from being $35,000 to $32,500.

Urging that his request that a new car should be purchased for Fire Chief Gimblett at an estimated cost of $1,000, Alderman Jack McNabb, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, said, "The old car is eight years old. It has served its usefulness and is shot to pieces. It will mean a big repair bill this year. I am only asking for a low priced car." He maintained that from what the department made last year in going to fires in outside points, a new car could be purchased without touching the pockets of the taxpayers.

Alderman Macdonald opposed that view. Admitting that the Chief requires a new car, he said, "It may not go as fast, the motor may roar a little, but if so they won't have to sound the horn so much." The aldermen turned thumbs down on the request for the car.

Also they tossed out the appropriation of $1,400 for 1,000 feet of 2½-inch hose.

An appropriation of $120 for two Burrel gas masks was passed, because, as Mayor Denne said, "These masks are absolutely needed to protect the men in case of a serious fire where the smoke and fumes are bad."

The Fire Department's estimates as passed are:

SOME HIGHLIGHTS ON THE MEETING

to the Poultry Association raising the quality of birds in this district." However, the grant was slashed 50 per cent.

The Finance Committee was unanimous in their view that the Utilities Commission was charging the City too much for water supply for sewer flushing, parks, city building and fire hall. The bill for this last year was $26,580.54. Mayor Denne, Aldermen McNabb, Cotton and Macdonald were named a committee to interview the Commission at once and see if a reduction can not be arranged.

In connection with the appropriations of $229,680 asked of the Council by the Board of Education, there was not an instant of hesitation in reaching the unanimous decision to send them back to the Board. Three aldermen were on their feet together to move the motion returning the estimates.

Alderman Cotton warned, "We'll have to pay them what they ask regardless. Our hands are tied, but its the only proper thing to ask that they reconsider them in order to make further reductions."

He said he had discussed the Board's appropriations with the City Solicitor, "He told me we had nothing to do but pay them. Further than that, if we collect only 80 per cent. of our taxes next year we can't just send them 80 per cent. of what they ask, we must send them the whole thing. We must bear the brunt, but they are sure of theirs."

With a feeling of dread that it would not be sufficient to meet the critical conditions, the committee put $40,000 into the estimates for relief. Alderman Holland expressed the view that it would not be sufficient. Mayor Denne thought that with the subscriptions that will be received from individuals and the two for one grants from the Governments the city could possibly expect to be able to spend $165,000 on relief this year. "I pray that conditions may improve and we won't have to do it," he said.

Holiday Declared For Arizona Banks

CARSON CITY, Nev., Mar. 2. — (AP)—A four-day legal holiday was proclaimed today by Governor Fred B. Balzar to give Nevada banks a "breathing spell."

Governor Balzar said his action was prompted largely by declaration of a similar holiday in California. Thus Nevada banks for the second time in recent months were given an opportunity to close their doors under a holiday proclamation.

A 12-day moratorium was declared last November 1, and twice extended, to permit working out of plans to reorganize the 12 Wingfield banks, now in the hands of the National and State bank examiners pending completion of the reorganization program.

STICK TO GUNS.

WINDSOR, Ont.—Windsor City Council to-day refused to rescind a by-law fixing a 28-mill rate though ordered by the committee of supervisors to fix a rate of 29 mills. The council vote was 4-3, with Mayor David A. Croll casting the deciding vote.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL

EDDIE CANTOR IN "THE KID FROM SPAIN"

The little comedian with the shoe-button, perambulating orbs is at his best in this talkie. He gets his laughs so simply and easily that the audience feels that he doesn't know a thing about it, and is just as surprised as they are when something funny happens.

He is Eddie Williams, the college boy who is expelled for getting into the girls' dormitory. He has a hilarious bit with the dignified lady dean, and then he pulls his 'whistle' stunt. It seems that any sort of a whistle, no matter how innocent can get Eddie all hot and bothered and he runs amok at the mere suggestion of a whistle. Ricardo (Robert Young), is his buddie, and invites him to Mexico to visit that marvellous land.

But Eddie, on the way down, happens to stop in front of a bank that is being robbed and the bandits set him on his way and only leave him at the Mexican border. Here Eddie has a characteristic duett with Gonzales, the fat guardian.

Then comes Noah Beery, as Alonzo Gomez, parent of the fair Anita (Ruth Hall). He frowns on the suit of the handsome Ricardo and casts a tender eye on the lovmaking of the rich Pancho (John Miljan), who, with the aid of Pedro (J. Carroll Nash) throws a wrench in the machinery and aids in getting Eddie involved in a bull-fight. That is one of the heartiest episodes of the piece, with El Diablo, a real, honest to goodness bull, refusing to answer to the commands which have tamed Max, another domestic pet in bull form. Eddie surely has his 'big moment' in the bull ring, and the spectators get the full benefit of it, also.

The picture is enlivened by the addition of a bevy of beautiful damsels who have a penchant for black lace, evidently. They wear black lace nighties in the dormitory scene, black lace bathing togs, and again they appear in the same attire in the gay dancing episode in the Cafe Seville. They make a brilliant and sparkling group and they do some marvellously attractive 'precision patterns" in the pool.

A filled house greeted the little comedian yesterday afternoon and last night.

The program includes also an interesting travel bit in scenes from the Shakespeare country, also a giddy Mickey and Minnie Mouse comedy cartoon.

AT THE REGENT

"THE END OF THE ROAD"

The Chinese have a saying that the words that reach the brain through the medium of the eye are one hundred times as effective as those that make their way through by way of the ear. Pictures, therefore, should have a weightier effect than lectures.

"The End of the Road" is sponsored by the Canadian Social Hygiene Council in an effort to appraise the public of the horrors of venereal disease. Using the old technique of the silent pictures, for the film was made in 1918, the action depends entirely on pantomime, without the aid of the new talking devices. It is interesting to note the manner in which they got their effects over then, and the cleverness of some of the sequences, such as the little insets showing the thoughts passing through the mind of the young girl as her mother talks to her.

Claire Adams as the well-brought-up young girl, Mary Lee, and Richard Bennett as Dr. Richard Bell, make a fine pair in the story of those who took the right road and found the rainbow at its end.

"The End of the Road" depicts in graphic manner the horrors of venereal disease and the torture of its victims, whether innocent or otherwise. The young woman who is a victim of a married man, and who goes out by the suicide way; the innocent girl who stumbles, unaware, into a trap; the excitement-seeking young woman all contract the disease under some differing circumstances.

The screen in this instance, instead of glorifying vice as a brilliant and wonderful thing, as so many of the recent sex pictures paint it, is an agent for good, striving to give the growing mind some idea of hidden and terrible dangers that's all over now. Unless I dream about it.

Yesterday, Mrs. B. W. Harvey, president of the Local Council of Women, introduced the showing to the general public.

"About 11 p.m. on February 12, my wife and I had just returned home and I started to drive into the garage when two men in a small sedan drove up.

Both Armed

"Both men were armed. They put me in their car and started to drive. One man was in the back seat with me.

"He immediately put a strip of adhesive tape over my eyes and another piece over my head to hold the first strip on. We drove all that night, all the next day and into the next night.

"When we finally reached our destination, I was put in what I took to be the basement of a house.

"I was fed principally on sandwiches and soup. I hope I never eat either again. The reason I believe it was a basement room was that the only light seemed to be artificial.

"Twice I was made to write letters to my father. Both times the bandages were taken from my eyes and the ropes from my wrists for a few minutes and my captors stayed behind me so I couldn't get a good look at them."

100 Highway Workers Affected In District

One hundred highway workers are effected in this district by the recent orders of the Highway Department which has curtailed the maintenance work on the Provincial highways in Ontario. Yesterday, it was wrongly stated in an unauthorized interview from W. A. Millen, road foreman on No. 7 highway, that the men were all in Peterborough County instead of the county in should have read in the Port Hope residency, which includes all the provincial highways in the surrounding counties.

Routine Business At Society Meet

Group "S" of the Women's Missionary Society of George Street United church met at the home of Mrs. J. Spencer, Stewart street on Monday evening with a large attendance.

The Sick and Visiting committee reported nine calls made during the month. Mrs. Coon asked for canvassers from the group for the Bible Society. Mesdames Lane, Ludbrook, Flannery and Spencer volunteered. A banquet will be held for the canvassers in the Y.W.C.A. on March 13th. Mrs. Douglas, Water street, invited the group to her home for their next meeting.

Mesdames Wildman and Lewis rendered a beautiful duet, "If Christ Should Come." Very interesting talks were given by Mrs. Morton on "The Explanation of Prayer", Mrs. A. Brown on "The Kingdom of God Movement" and Mrs. Nelson on "What is Prayer?"

Sentence prayers were given by six ladies followed by prayer by Mrs. Coon. Mrs. Morton made the announcement of the World's Day of Prayer on March 3rd.

Papers on "India" and "An Indian Tea-party" wert read by Mrs. R. Powell and Mrs. E. Brown.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Spencer assisted by Mesdames E. Hales, A. I. Brown, Lewis, Strong and Miss D. Clarkson.

Up To School Board If List Published

If The Examiner secures a list of the individual salaries of the city's school teachers it will be with the sanction of the Board of Education alone.

This was made quite clear to-day. The Examiner, acting upon the request of the Finance Committee of the Council and of a large deputation of ratepayers that a list of the individual teachers' salaries be published, interviewed to-day G. H. Thompson, secretary-treasurer of the Board, and E. F. Reid, the chairman.

Mr. Thompson, when the situation had been explained to him by The Examiner, said: "I would not give you the list without the consent of the board. You had better see Mr. Reid."

Mr Reid, informed of the two requests concerning the publishing of the salaries, said: "That will have to come before the Board. It will be decided at the next meeting."

REORGANIZATION PLAN APPROVAL IS REPORTED

TORONTO, March 2 (C.P.). — Reports that the Bondholders' Protective Committee of Beauharnois Power Corporation had approved the plan of reorganization submitted by the Montreal Power Company circulated to-day, but could not be confirmed here.

The Montreal Power plan was said to meet the necessity of taking care of pressing bank loans and also to provide for a clean-up of Dominion Government loans to Beauharnois, as well as to provide for acquisition of funds for completion of the giant power project.

THE SPRING TIME NIGHT SKY

Ushered In By The Constellations Of Bootes, And Virgo, And Leo.

By H. W. L. MAHOOD.

Bootes, and Virgo and Leo sing of the advent of spring. During the months of March and April and May a group of constellations distinct from the constellations of the winter season make their appearance in the night sky. Longfellow was an astronomer of some merit. When in Evangeline he wrote: "Silently one by one, in the infinite meadows of heaven, blossomed the lovely stars, the forget-me-nots of the angels," his thoughts were on the time of flowers.

The first of January is by statute determined the opening of the year. That may be, but the real opening of the year is on the 20th of March when the sun transits the equator. In England prior to the middle of the 18th century March was recognized as the opening of the new year. The spring constellations are companions of the budding trees, the springing of flowers and the growing of grass.

The rejuvenation of the earth has been celebrated in many lands for many thousands of years by festivals of rejoicing. Omar Khayyam the Persian wrote lines that fairly dance with joy. Solomon sang:

"For, lo, the winter is past,
The rain is over and gone;
The flowers appear on the earth;
The time of the singing of birds is come."

To watch the westward disappearance of the winter constellations and the approaching spring constellations is a fascinating bit of observation. All constellations appear in the eastern sky some four minutes later each night. In a month the later appearance is about two hours. Locate Orion with the three bright stars in his belt. Then watch his gradual disappearance from the western sky. And as Orion finally lifts his hand and waves farewell, note the movement of Bootes and Virgo and Leo up from the eastern horizon.

Each constellation as it approaches the meridian upon which you make your observations heightens in brightness. This is true of every heavenly body. The meridian is the place and point of culmination. Here the constellations and each star is at its best for observation. This culmination is at midnight for the stars and the planets, and at mid-day for the sun.

The Encyclopaedias such as Britanica and Nelsons have good charts. To draw a chart of your own will help indite the positions of the stars and the constellations on your mind. When the weather becomes warmer and the earth drier a very profitable hour can be spent with a chart at hand and a good sized mirror on your lap. A flash light will enable you to compare the chart with the reflected stars in the mirror. The study will become so gripping that you will forget the hour and regret the nights were not longer.

The constellations to be studied during the spring months will hold you tight. Ursa Major, Ursa Minor, Leo Major, Leo Minor, Hydra, Corvus, Crater, Argo Navis, Virgo, Cancer, Coma, Berenices, Canes Venatici, Bootes and Draco will command our attention, and lift our thoughts.

NEWS ITEMS FOR THE TRENT TOWN DISTRICT

Mr. Ernest Haig suffered a very painful accident when he had the misfortune to fall and break one of his ribs. Assisting with the cleaning of the local Oddfellows' Hall, he was stepping off a table on to a chair to reach the floor, when he fell to the ground, hitting his side, and causing the injury, which necessitated medical attention.

The regular meeting of the Y. P.L. of St. John's Church was held on Monday evening in the church hall, when the program was sponsored by the devotional convenor, Mrs. A. Hazell gave the topic, which was on "Character," in which she emphasized the fact that men are judged not by what they possess, but by what they do. Other items on the program incuded a reading by Miss Velma Runnells and a piano duet by Miss Gladys Stephen and Mr. Albert Hazell.

Successful Euchre By Willing Workers

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Mar. 2.—With nineteen tables in play the euchre staged on Tuesday evening by the Willing Workers of Christ Church, Campbellford, under the direction of Mrs. Fred Linton, president, and held in the Parish Hall proved to be a very successful event. Net proceeds amounted to about $46.

Dr. O. C. Watson was the winner of the draw, the prize for this being a beautiful flowered quilt, upon which a great deal of the work was done by Mrs. M. H. Sergeant, Sr., and Mrs. C. Bennett. The lucky number was 369, the draw being made by William Ross.

Prize winners for cards were: Ladies', Mrs. H. Anderson, Mrs. A. Tripp; gents—M. H. Sergeant, Sr., J. O. Benor. The lucky door prize which was drawn for by J. F. Courneye was awarded to Mrs. A. Williams. At the conclusion of play a delicious lunch was served by the association.

Mrs Can't

The above lady is Mrs Can't. She is wondering for the seventeenth time this morning why she is not as attractive as Mrs Can—why her skin will come out in blotches, and her hair look so dull and stringy. The lady unfortunately is poisoned, though she would probably have a heart attack if you told her. And yet poisoned is the only word for what clogged and stagnant foodways do to you. If Mrs Can't would take Eno every morning, waste matter would be gone—before it got a chance to work havoc with her good looks.

Mrs Can

On the other hand, Mrs Can is looking at herself—because she likes looking at herself. She knows why her husband is so jealous of her. She knows why other men whisper to her, "If Jim hadn't married you, I would have." She knows, too, that a daily inner cleansing is worth all the paint and powder in the world. It's three years this month since she started taking Eno. And Eno, by keeping her clean inside, has kept her lovely skin and her bright eyes and her glistening hair—unspoiled. She's clever—is Mrs Can.

A clean inside is the only foundation of outward sparkle and beauty. To ensure real inner cleanliness is Eno's one purpose. And from the very moment you drink it, you know that Eno will succeed. Will do for your inner self what pure soap and fresh water do for your outward self. Will cleanse and sweeten and refresh your whole system—safely, surely, positively. Need you be like Mrs Can't? Of course not! Take Eno first thing each morning and before retiring at night.

Tune in to any station on the Blue net work of the National Broadcasting system and enjoy the Eno Crime Club programme, Tuesdays and Wednesdays 8 to 8.30 p.m., E.S.T.

GRAIN, CATTLE, PRODUCE

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, March 2. — Egg prices continued to move higher on the Montreal Produce and Dairy Market yesterday. Light receipts and colder weather sent fresh graded eggs in carlots or less up a cent a dozen. Extras were quoted at 24 cents, firsts at 22 cents, pullets at 21 cents and seconds at 20 cents a dozen. To retailers eggs in cartons were advanced 2 cents a dozen. Receipts were 559 cases.

Butter held firm at 24½ cents a pound for carlots or less of No. 1 grass make. Receipts were only 23 boxes.

Potatoes were steady, New Brunswick Green Mountains per 80-pound bag being quoted at 75c to 80c and Prince Edward Island Green Mountains per 90-pound bag at 85c to 90c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Mar. 2.—Suggestions of huge abandonment of damaged United States winter wheat acreage lifted grain prices late yesterday, more than offsetting earlier market downturns.

One leading private crop expert, who issued an estimate ahead of the majority of unofficial summaries due tomorrow, indicated ahead of the majority of unofficial summaries due tomorrow, indicated an abandonment of 6,257,000 acres of wheat in Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. This would be about 28 per cent loss from the Government forecast of Dec. 1.

Wheat closed firm at ⅛ off to ½ up, compared with Tuesday's finish, corn unchanged to ⅜ higher, oats varying from a shade decline to ⅛ advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, March 2. — Bolstered by further export sales, wheat futures recovered from earlier fractional declines to finish practically unchanged on the Winnipeg grain market yesterday. Values at the close were unchanged to ¼c lower, May at 47⅞c, July 48⅛c, and October at 50⅛c. Trading was quiet throughout.

Scattered selling at the opening, mostly from Chicago interests, sent prices into a slow, fractional decline. Sufficient export interest was uncovered on the scale down, however, to stage a mild rally, and futures traded steadily, but sluggishly for the rest of the session.

Estimates of the amount of Canadian wheat sold for overseas shipment ranged from 500,000 to 750,000 bushels. Part of this was destined for spring shipment from Montreal.

A decline in wheat reserves on United States farms is expected by traders here to be shown in private reports to be issued to-day. This expectation coupled with steadiness at Liverpool, also were factors in holding local values steady yesterday.

Top grades of cash grains again were in demand at fractionally higher spreads. Coarse grains moved narrowly to close practically unchanged.

Futures:

Wheat—	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev. Close
May	47⅞	48¼	47½	47⅞	47⅞
July	48⅜	49¼	48½	48⅞	49
Oct.	50	50⅝	49⅝	50⅛	50⅛
Oats—
May	25⅛	25⅛	25	25	25⅛
July	23⅛	23⅝	23¼	23⅛	23⅛
Oct.	22⅝	23⅛	22	22⅛	22⅛

NATIONALIST CONGRESS CONVENTION IS BANNED

NEW DELHI, India, Mar 1.—(C. P. Cable)—The government has banned the Nationalist Congress Convention to have been held at Calcutta. Announcement of this decision was made in the House of Assembly today by Harry Graham Haig, home member of the viceroy's executive council. He added the provincial governments and Sir Samuel Hoare, Secretary of State for India, had voiced fullest approval of the decision.

LAKEFIELD HOCKEY SQUADS IN 3-3 TIE

Veterans and Youngsters Fail to Settle Dispute in Annual Ice Battle.

LAKEFIELD, March 2 (Examiner Correspondence). — To decide whether or not the Intermediates of the past were better hockey players than the present day aggregation was settled once and for all in the second game played on Tuesday night, and held the fans in their places till 11.30, when the last bell rang to end a game which was well fought and was clean and fast. K. A. Mackenzie, himself a veteran player, handled the bell to the general satisfaction of teams and fans. Among the fans were stars of old days when hockey games had two half-hour periods; when there were seven men to a side, and no subs.

The first period was a victory for the Ancient, but the Modern evened up in the second. Stars of yesteryear played against the boys who were in Midget hockey only a few years ago, but withall the score was tied 3—3, so that the Old Guard have nothing on the new. The line-up:—

Modern.—Hamblin, goal; McFadden, Wingett, defence; Northey, centre; R. Wannamaker, Stuart, wings; Walker, Stenner, Kennedy, subs.

Obituary

JAMES KENNETH HAIG.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 2 (Examiner Staff Correspondence). — After an illness of only one week, the death occurred yesterday in the Kingston Hospital of James Kenneth, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs Robert Earl Haig of Campbellford. Kenneth, who was aged 14 years and 8 months, was taken ill last week, and on Sunday rushed to the hospital for treatment, but the nature of his disease was such that nothing could be done for him, and he died yesterday morning. Very popular among his school chums and in the community, the deceased lad was the oldest of a family of seven sons and one daughter.

The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon from the family residence, Campbellford, interment being made in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Brush the crumbs from the electric toaster after each using. A small paint brush will do the trick nicely.

THOMASBURG

Miss Helen Schell, the senior teacher here, spent three days last week at her home in Deseronto.

Mr. James Arbuckle of Belleville, is visiting his brother, Mr. Byron Arbuckle.

Mr. Warren Arbuckle of Ivanhoe, had the misfortune to have his bake shop burned to the ground on Sunday. Mr. Arbuckle could save only one bag of flour.

The young people of Thomasburg United Church, visited the young people of Bethel United Church on Monday evening, and furnished a well enjoyed program, after which the Bethel girls served a dainty lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lovaband of Ivanhoe and Mr. Albert Arbuckle of Kingston, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. B. Arbuckle.

JAPS RALLYING FOR FINAL RUSH TOWARD JEHOL

CAPITAL 75 MILES OFF.

Governor Tang May Use Fleet of Cars to Carry Harem, Wealth Out of Province.

By James A. Mills.)

CHINCHOW, Manchuria, March 2 (A.P.)—Japanese units which have taken various routes over Eastern and Northern Jehol were converging to-day at Lingyuan and Chihfeng for the final advance from those two points on Jehol City (Chengtefu), the capital.

The worst of the mountain fighting was over and once the movement resumes, the Japanese expected to reach the walls of the ancient Summer residence of Chinese Emperors and famous Buddhist religious centre in a few days.

The 16th Infantry Brigade, under Major General Tadashi Kawahara, entered Lingyuan this morning and merged with Major General Heijiro Hattori's 14th Infantry.

They have only 75 miles by motor highway between them and Jehol City.

Meanwhile Major General Kennosuke Mogi's Fourth Cavalry Brigade, vanguard of the Northern offensive from Tungliao, waited at Chihfeng, 92 miles north of Jehol City, for the 11th Infantry, led by Major General Kuniso Matsuda. The latter was continuing its advance after taking Chienping.

Final Offensive

As lines were being drawn up for the final offensive, there was no indication of whether Governor Tang Yu-Lin would choose to surrender or flee to Peiping, about 100 miles south of his capital.

His cavalry force surrendered yesterday at Chihfeng, the transportation centre of the province, permitting the Mogi Brigade to enter the city without a fight. Governor Tang's commander there, General Shi Wen-Hua, already had hoisted Japanese and Manchukuo flags, and he was reported planning to join the Japanese ranks in the final advance.

It was believed Tang may decide to make his flight from Jehol City with a fleet of fast automobiles he owns. This would enable him to carry his harem and a large part of his wealth.

Marshal Chang's own troops sent into Southern Jehol, to aid in the defence of the Province, were reported retreating to-day in the direction of Pingchuan, a small but strategic town about 50 miles due west of Jehol City. They fled before Major-General Hattori's advancing column after giving the latter two stiff battles near the Manchurian border.

AT THE REGENT

"END OF THE ROAD"

Strong support of the present campaign being waged by the Canadian Social Hygiene Council against venereal disease was voiced yesterday afternoon and evening at showings of the "End of the Road" by members of the Local Council of Women.

Mrs. B. W. Harvey, president of the local council, who spoke at the afternoon showings of the picture said, "Representing the Local Council of Peterborough, I wish to say that we are glad to have Social Hygiene brought to Peterborough by the Canadian Social Hygiene Council in the form of a picture.

"We sing of our Empire—God who made thee mighty, make thee mightier yet.

"Our doctors have done wonders in stamping out epidemics and diptheria and scarlet fever; discovering insulin, and so forth.

"We want to build up a mighty empire. We are not afraid of the present depression. It will pass and we will come out victorious like Sir Malcolm Campbell and his wonder car.

"Let us educate the people in Social Hygiene, so that no doctor will hear these sad words, 'If I had only known'. We believe that a moving picture is the best means of bringing home the truths of moral education.

The Vice President of the Local Council, Mrs. H. H. Graham, was the other speaker yesterday. She spoke at the evening sessions. "I am very glad to be here to-night," she said, representing the Local Council of Women, because I realize as we all do that venereal diseases constitute a very serious social menace at the present time—a menace not only to our young people, our sons and our daughters, but to the next generation, the unborn children of our sons and daughters.

Many of us, probably most of us have no personal knowledge of this matter. It has not struck at us or our families or possibly even our acquaintances, but that is no guarantee that it will not do so. Ignorance or so-called innocence, has never yet saved anyone from danger and never will. Only enlightenment can help to do that. We need education and we are greatly indebted to the Canadian Social Hygiene Council for their work in helping to educate the public along these lines.

The National Council of Women stands squarely behind the Social Hygiene Council in this matter and therefore, on behalf of the Local Council of Women, I am glad to give my support to this very valuable and educational effort."

Professor Finds Bones of Dinosaur Desert-Cured Make Fine Xylophones

MINNEAPOLIS, March 2.—(AP)—Dinosaur bones make excellent xylophones.

Creator of a one-man orchestra made up of instruments gathered in scrap heaps and rock piles, Charles W. Weidemann, professor of history and education at the University of Nebraska demonstrated what could be done to obtain music without funds.

The demonstration was made before a meeting of elementary school principals in connection with the National Education Association Convention.

Slabs of crystalized lime stone, picked up in a rock pile, were placed over sections of bamboo to give Prof. Weidemann another xylophone, while a set of pan-pipes was made out of his boyhood fish pole. Two test tubes with mercury furnish a "mercurophone."

Prof. Weidemann prizes his dinosaur xylophone highly, the bones for which he dug from Nebraska terrain.

"It plays beautifully," he said, "the old bones literally dancing with music."

Fenelon Falls Girl Is Severely Burned

LINDSAY, Mar. 2. (Special to Examiner).—Miss Elsie McFarland, a resident of Fenelon Falls, was severely burned by the ignition of gasoline in Toronto on Monday. She was using the fluid near a stove when the accident occurred. She was very badly burned about the body. Warren Baker, who went to her rescue, was also badly burned.

A fire, which threatened to assume serious proportions, was nipped in the bud at Bloomstead's barber shop, Little Britain, on Monday, caused by an overheated stove. The ceiling and woodwork was badly burned, and considerable damage was caused by an overheated stove. The ceiling and woodwork was badly burned, and considerable damaged was caused by water.

W. F. Hardy, a former resident of Mariposa, passed away in Vancouver, B.C., on Saturday last. Mrs. J. Ruck, another old resident of the township, was interred at Little Britain cemetery on Tuesday.

John Britton, vice-President of the Bobcaygeon Fair, and a prominent Orangeman, was laid to rest in Bobcaygeon cemetery on Tuesday. On Saturday the deceased suffered a stroke when returning to the house from the barn. He was in his sixty-third year, and was born in Verulam Township.

The death is announced at Winnipeg of David Havelock Cooper, Superintendent of the National Trust Company, in his seventy-fifth year. The deceased was born in Omemee, and was a son of Joseph Cooper, at one time editor of the Lindsay Warder.

Dr. Frain, who is physician on the Coboconk-Dorset Highway, stated that he has treated at least twelve men employed on the work for fractured bones, resulting from injuries. It is understood the work on the highway will continue for another month at least.

Tariff Walls Between England-Ireland Hard Upon Exchange Of Wedding Gifts

(By Thos. T. Champion—C.P. Staff Writer).

LONDON, March 2 (C.P. Cable).—The high tariff walls between the Irish Free State and Great Britain are not only hindering trade but also the exchange of wedding presents and other gifts.

Lord Milton, only son of Earl Fitzwilliam, and Olive Plunket, daughter of the former Bishop of Meath, are to be married in St. Patrick's Cathedral in Dublin April 19. They have jointly issued an advertisement in the press intimating "they will be grateful if any friends outside the Free State sending presents will kindly direct them to Chesterfield Street, London, instead of Coolatin or Stannes, so as to avoid the many extreme difficulties created by the present Customs regulations."

Lord Milton explains that only by filling up forms could his English friends send presents to Dublin. If the friends failed to do this he and his bride would have to pay from 40 to 80 per cent. on the price of each present, and if they wanted to bring them to England they might have to pay another heavy duty.

BURNED HOUSE, WOMAN JAILED

Admits Setting Blaze So Sister Could Collect Insurance—Walked 15 Miles.

MOTHER, 5 CHILDREN.

TRURO, N.S., March 2.— (C.P.)—Mrs. Rilla McLennan, gray-haired Lovatt woman who set fire to the residence of an older sister so her sister would receive the insurance money, was to-day sentenced to serve 12 months in jail.

"Charged with adson, the 54-year-old mother of five children elected to be tried before Judge H. W. Sangster in country court. Her signed statement, admitted as evidence, told how she had come from her Pictou county home on the night of Dec. 23, and set fire to the building. After making sure that all occupants were safe, she walked 15 miles to Truro.

Her sister, Miss Selina Elliott, 63, has elected to be tried in Supreme Court on a charge of setting fire with intent to defraud an insurance company. The Crown claims that Miss Elliott fired a barn behind the house.

CANCEL LICENSE FOR TWENTY DAYS

Oshawa Man is Found Guilty of Reckless Driving in Police Court.

Suspension of his chauffeur's license for twenty days, in addition to a fine of $10 and $8.25 costs, was the penalty imposed by Police Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., upon Charles A. Currie of Oshawa upon conviction for reckless driving.

Currie was the driver of a Globe newspaper truck that was involved in collision with another vehicle driven by E. Reid at the intersection of Dublin and George Streets. The accident occurred on the morning of February 26.

Pleading 'not guilty' to the charge of reckless driving, Currie yesterday conducted his own defence in Police Court. Hearing of the case was not concluded until after five o'clock.

Commenting upon the evidence of Alfred Phillips of Antrim Street as being "very satisfactory," His Lordship in announcing his decision said he believed Currie had been exceeding the speed limit, and that he was driving on the wrong side of the road.

"My license means my living and also the living of my widowed mother," defendant pleaded after the Magistrate had announced his intention of cancelling Currie's chauffeur's permit.

"I know," Magistrate Langley observed, "but you should have thought of that when you saw the other car ahead of you"

REV. J. D. PATERSON IS CLUB SPEAKER

Delivers Interesting Address at Open Meeting of St.

Tragedy, pathos, love, wit and humour all found a place and interwove each other in a graphic description of portions of the Lowlands of Scotland, given by the Rev. J. D. Paterson, rector of All Saints Church in St. George's church basement on Tuesday evening. The occasion was an open meeting under the auspices of the Men's Club, and presided over by the President, Mr. E. Styles.

The guest speaker who was introduced by Rev. J. L. Hughes, carried his hearers in imagination to the land of his birth and the district where his early years had been spent. Starting from Carlisle interesting places such as Gretna Green, notorious for countless runaway marriages, Solway Moss; and the scene of young "Lochinvar" the story poem by Sir Walter Scott all took on realities in the travelogue, also Maxwelton, known as the home of Annie Laurie. The history was given of "Mons Meg" the huge canon now placed outside Edinburgh Castle. The peaceful life on the country hillsides was depicted, where shepherds and dogs together worship weekly in the "Kirk". The speaker concluded by "resting" near the seat of his ancestors—the home of the' 'Douglas" clan.

A short program of musical items included the songs "Annie Laurie" (by request) and "Duncan Gray" sung by Alex Kircaldy, and two vocal solos by J. Cairns. W. Grieves sang "Duna" but afterwards turned humorist and contributed two humorous Scotch songs, which were well received. A three piece trio of Hawaiian guitars with W. Blue as leader formed a welcome change in the proceedings. The trio trio contributed several items, after which Mr. Blue, himself a Hawaiian played two solos, receiving loud applause. Mrs. J. L. Hughes acted as accompanist for the vocalists. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the guest speaker and artists by Mr. Styles and the singing of the National Anthem closed the program.

The Ladies Guild of the church, assisted the Men's Club by providing dainty refreshments, which gave an enjoyable finish to a delightful evening.

THRESHERMEN ARE REFUSED REQUEST

No Action is Taken by Agriculture Committee in Allowing Lien.

TORONTO, March 2.—(CP). — No action will be taken by the agriculture committee of the Ontario Legislature with respect to changing existing legislation for the protection of threshermen. The committee to-day heard a deputation from the Ontario Threshermen's Association urging changes to permit the threshers to put a lien on a farmer's crops, giving the former 30 days to pay, gefore other claims against the crops were paid.

Presenting the case for the threshermen, W. J. Jarrott, South Huron County, declared they wanted some protection for threshing the grain. As things stood now, the only way the thresher was assured of his payment was by taking the grain away as soon as it was threshed. The changes desired, he said, would permit the thresher to give the farmer notification of the lien and before the grain could be sold enough must be reserved to pay for the threshing.

Deb's Are Heavy.

The threshers had so many debts on their books, he said, they were unable to reduce the cost of threshing. Formerly, he said, they got $4 an hour, but the price was now reduced to $2, although the cost of the machinery had not decreased more than one-quarter.

The committee could not see the argument, however, and discussion opened fast. J. A. Sangster, Lib., Glengarry, asked what about the men who supplied the seed to the farmer. "Favors to none and a fair deal for all," he said emphatically. Other members declared the matter was outside the jurisdiction of the committee, and should be placed before the House.

Hon. James Lyons, Sault Ste. Marie, declared the committee was inconsistent if it permitted the bill to go to the House. "How about everyone else who has an equity in the farmers' crops?" he asked. Mr. Jarrott's statement that the cost of threshing could be reduced if all debts were collected was "positive proof of overcharging — getting money from those who cannot pay for those who cannot pay."

Other AYLMER CORN varieties are: Golden Bantam, White Kernel and Groff's Golden Sweet Corn.

There's one vegetable that always receives a hearty welcome and that is corn "fresh-from-the-cob!" What a hit you would make with your whole family by serving this seasonal delicacy in mid-winter . . . and you can, because AYLMER Sweet Corn has the same natural flavour as corn that is picked and served the same day. That's because it is picked and canned the same day! All the delicious goodness of corn at its best is hermetically sealed in the special enamel-lined containers.

Remember, too, that this corn is a healthful roughage food that may be served in a wide variety of economical dishes. Order a supply today.

"Colonel Corn" Suggests That You Try

SPANISH EGGS WITH CORN

Melt 2 tbsp. butter, add 2 tbsp. chopped onion, cook 2 minutes, add 2 tbsp. chopped ham, ½ cup tomatoes, ½ can AYLMER Sweet Corn (No. 2) then 2 eggs well beaten and salt. Stir until egg thickens. Serve on toast triangles.

Bragg Is Chairman Of Sub-Committee

TORONTO, March 2.—(CP).—J. E. Jamieson, Con., Southwest Simcoe, to-day was appointed chairman of the important agriculture committee of the Ontario Legislature. As was the case last year, the main agriculture and colonization body was split into six sub-committees and chairmen appointed.

The sub-committees are: Fruit and vegetables, W. J. Bragg, Lib., Durham; dairy, J. A. Sanderson, Cons., Grenville; livestock, Howard Fraleigh, Cons., East Lambton; field crops, J. F. Hill, Cons., East Hastings, and colonization under Hon. Paul Poisson, North Essex, Minister without Portfolio.

Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture, declared special study should be given the dairy industry, with particular attention to the grading of butter in pound lots, to egg grading and the apple maggot situation, which had assumed dangerous proportions in the province.

Search Is Renewed Shipwreck Victims

SEATTLE, Mar. 1.— (A.P.) — More than 100 men renewed search to-day for victims of two shipwrecks, in the wake of a fierce gale that is believed to have killed 10 men of fthe Alaskan and Oregon coast.

Abandoning hope for the halibut vessel Reliance, the coast guard cutter Alert gave lp the search. Her oficers expresed belief the schooner foundered off Dixon entrance, not far from Ketchikan Bay, with five men aboard. Two private craft continued the search.

Putting out from Metlakatla, 100 natives who found one member of the Alaskan seiner Golden Gate dead hunted bodies of three other natives of the ship.

FAMOUS BERLIN SOOTHSAYER PRIVATE ADVISER TO HITLER

has recourse to it is beyond me.

Yet Adolph Hitler, "der Schoene Adolph" (beautiful Adolph), who is said to receive between two and three thousand epistles a week from admiring females, has since long sported his own private soothsayer. With Herr Adolph's rise to power, the clairvoyant in question has naturally also made an enormous leap forward. He now sits on top of the world and the newspaper he owns, having been raised to the eminence of a state publication as it were, is now casting political horoscopes by pages without end where formerly it had to limit itself to columns.

Has Huge Circulation

The name of the soothsayer-extraordinary to the chancellor of the German Reich is Mr. Erik Jan Hanussen. The paper he publishes, reflecting the publisher's characteristic modesty, bears the title of "Hanussen." Every German knows "Hanussen," the paper. It is one of the most popular journals in a country where people no longer know to what straw to clamp themselves. "Hanussen's" circulation runs into the millions. You can buy copies at every news stand throughout the Reich. On publication day, for "Hanussen" is a weekly, you must get up early in Berlin to catch the glowing worm, fresh from the presses, so to speak.

Of course, "Hanussen" predicted Hitler's rise to power long ago. That prophecy, in fact, has proved the key to the paper's success; its start on the road to glory. It has also predicted the collapse of the Soviets with dates—a dozen times to my knowledge—furthermore, the return of the long skirt, the eruption of Vesuvius, the fall of sterling, a South American revolution or two, a sharp winter, but also a mild winter, innumerable Japanese victories, the mush-rat plague in England and the divorce of a poplar movie star (no name), the death of a well-known flier, (no name), and the invention of green lipstick. Many other equally significant predictions stand to its record to the tune of 50 per cent. fulfilment to his prophecies. Not bad and rather hard to beat, it would seem.

Even "Hanussen" has an average of

Even "Solves" Murders

Lately the clairvoyant (clear-seeing) paper has devoted its attention more extensively to disentangling the mystery of dead Communists and Socialists. When murdered bodies are found in the streets, and the assassins cannot be located, "Hanussen" knows their identity at once. "Look around the Labor Temples," he advises the police. "The Socialists are killing their own comrades—in order to make martyrs and to gain sympathy." The soothsayer does not specify whose sympathy the reds expect to arouse. Certainly not Hitler's, who has just proclaimed "the ruthless extermination of the Marxists."

Scarcely had the Fuehrer or Leader these words out of his mouth or "Hanussen" made public when Hitler is to have reached that particular gory goal. "When Uranus comes under Venus in the sign of the Zodiac. . . . That is to say, in six years' time there will not be a Marxist alive in Germany," the soothsayer prognosticates. Hitler himself thought it would take ten years. Hanussen knocks four years off. There is, of course, nothing against soothsayers, card-layers, mesmerizers, tea-leaf artists and thought-readers as individuals. One man earns his bread this, another that way. And suckers, well, we all know what Barnum said. Some day all these forms of occultism will simply be scrapped and banished for the sake of social hygiene and spiritual sanitation, but for the time being a distracted humanity turns to every form of mystery just for one little ray of hope, no matter how fantastic and primitive the procedure of the astrologers. The less sense there is to their predictions and homilies, the greater the effect on the ignorant.

Advise Joining Hitler

Besides conducting mass-seances in the newspaper building, where Herr Hanussen himself and scores of assistants, who derive their occult powers directly from the master, hand out horoscopes by the tens of thousands a week—at a stiff price—hundreds of thousands consult him by mail—"enclosing 10 marks for a reply." Exact and detailed information is forwarded on love, on finance, on health, on personal enemies, on employment, on politics, on travel, on the hour of death and the day of reckoning.

Every inquirer is advised to join the Nazi party in addition. Joining the party retards the hour of death, improves the kidneys, brings money in the till and eliminates personal enemies. It's all very simple.

Then, there is this feature to Hanussen's mission; he is out to restore simple, child-like faith. "Away with rationalism, away with modern science. Away with liberalism in religion!" Simple, child-like faith! Ten marks a shot!

These things are printed in the land of Goethe and Haeckel, of Einstein and Hegel!

Before Hitler came to power, Hanussen was frequently in danger. Sensible newspapers denounced him outright as "a swindler, a faker and a cheat." The Welt Am Morgen was the last to lay that charge. But The Welt Am Morgen is now itself suppressed for a month. The liberal journals demanded that he be made to cease his practices which made the German capital, home of rational though and scientific endeavor, ridiculous. Somehow Hanussen managed to stay on.

Now that the Fuehrer is in power, the protege needs fear no more. He has the favor of the Brown Shirt general staff. "He is doing useful work. He is a devoted propagandist." Herr Hitler has said, "I consult him myself." The soothsayer in chief is in clover. The business of simple faith coins money by the bucketful.

"Whatever befalls me, I will not give up my humanitarian work," Hanussen announced in the latest edition of his paper. "I will go on telling people the truth whether it means that millions of marks drop into my lap or whether I am reduced to beggary." The first eventuality is preferable, of course. It is also reality.

Only $6,500 To Be Collected To Make Relief Fund $20,000

Although the Relief Fund moves upward with a rather pedestrian pace, there is an encouraging steadiness about it that keeps the fund open for tardy contributors.

City Treasurer Adams said this morning that the total in round numbers is at $12,500. That leaves $6,500 to be collected to reach the objective set by the city's committee.

The Toronto Savings and Loan Company promised the committee to contribute the last $1,000 if the citizens subscribed $19,000.

The appeal has therefore arrived at the stage where its task has been whittled down to raising $6,500 and it is believed that if the citizens who are able to assist this community cause, which reacts upon every ratepayer, would put forth a little extra effort in the last stage of the campaign, the total of the objective will be attained.

DAMAGE WILL BE LIGHT.
Damage which will probably not exceed ten dollars was caused by a minor outbreak of fire at 224 Perry Street last evening. Caused by defective wiring, the fire had its origin in a cubby hole under the staircase.

CARD OF THANKS.
The Examiner wishes to thank sincerely all those who assisted in any way to make their Ice Carnival on Monday evening such an outstanding success. The attendance, which was especially gratifying, and the enthusiasm shown by the spectators, those appearing in costume and taking part in the dancing, marked a high degree of interest in this very enjoyable event. To the general public for their patronage, to all who helped in any way to decorate and light the rink, to the merchants and private individuals who loaned articles and provided noise-making and decorations, to the willing hands assisting in so many of the details, for an affair designed to provide funds for the needy of the city, The Examiner extends a hearty and sincere expression of gratitude.

Romanelli Band Is Coming To Gardens

A Romanelli band of twelve pieces will be the week-end class attraction at the Winter Garden, Water Street. Engaged by the Garden management as an extra special feature for Friday and Saturday nights, Joe Romanelli of the famous Toronto family of musicians and directors is bringing to Peterborough the dance orchestra with which he toured the country through to Vancouver and the Western States. Admissions are cut to the lowest possible price for the public. Romanelli will have his own vocalist, and the entire feature is a presentation of the Dominion Orchestra Service, Bay Street, Toronto.

Obituary

MRS. HAZEN RITCHIE
The funeral of Mrs. Hazen Ritchie, formerly Miss Mabel Barlee, daughter of the late George Barlee of this city, was held at Vancouver on Wednesday afternoon. She is survived by her husband, who is a son of the late Sir William Ritchie of Ottawa. Mr. Ritchie was at one time on the engineering staff at the Peterborough plant of the Canadian General Electric Company.

WILLIAM O'TOOLE
The funeral of the late William O'Toole took place from his residence, 476 Roger street Wednesday morning at 9.30 a.m. to the Immaculate Conception Church. Rev. Dean O'Sullivan officiated. The pallbearers were the six sons of the deceased. The funeral was largely attended. Interment took place in St. Peter's cemetery where Rev. H. Begley officated.

The many spiritual and floral offerings bore evidence of the high regard in which Mr. O'Toole was held by a large circle of friends and neighbors.

CERMAK IMPROVES.
MIAMI, Fla.—Marked improvement in the condition of Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago continued to build up hope for his recovery to-day.

The complications that set in after he was wounded by a bullet Guiseppe Zangara fired at United States President-elect Roosevelt were slackening their hold, and the Mayor rested quietly in a specially constructed oxygen tent on the sun porch of a hospital wing.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

The gallbladder is an ideal place for the formation of stones—a sluggish pool, a backwater from the main channel of bile flow. Thus the bile is held stationary in one spot and the salts in solution in the bile are liable, under these conditions, to crystallize, with the formation of gallstones.

As in the case of kidney stones, the proper treatment for a case of gallstones depends on circumstances. Not every case of gallstones requires surgical operation. In fact, only a small percentage are in this category.

When small stones begin to wander out from the gallbladder into the bile ducts, causing colic which frequently recurs, it is comforting to think that modern surgery is able to relieve the sufferer promptly and safely. A hundred years ago such a patient would face nothing but a life of almost unendurable torture. Nowadays he can be permanently relieved.

However, in many cases it is unwise to run even the slight risk of surgical interference. In such cases there is a definite form of medical management which is calculated to make the patient reasonably comfortable over long periods of time. The most important element in this is a mild saline laxative, such as sodium phosphate, in warm water the first thing on getting up in the morning. This prevents stasis in the intestines and also tends to empty the gallbladder and keep the bile moving, thus preventing further damage.

A non-stimulating diet of vegetables and fruits, milk, cream and eggs, and sufficient fat in the form of butter (which also helps to empty the gallbladder) is next in importance.

In judging the exact condition of the patient with gallstones or gallbladder disease, modern methods have become extremely accurate. In addition to the history of the case, and the condition of the blood, it is possible to judge the functional capacity of the liver, and also by the use of Graham's method of dyes and the X-ray, the size and number of stones and the general condition of the gallbladder can be very accurately determined

Almost Wild With Eczema

When the dreadful itching of eczema drives you frantic and you are praying for relief you need Peteman's Ointment.

Make no mistake—many thousands who have turned to this tried and true ointment as a last resort have ended all the terrible misery so quickly that they blessed the day they bought the first box.

It's so wonderful for skin eruptions, pimples, acne, and salt rheums, that many times only two or three applications are needed to make the skin clear and healthy.

The mighty healing power of Peteman's Ointment is clearly shown when used as a household remedy for bruises, chapped hands, cold sores, and chafing. Druggists will tell you there is nothing better. Big box only 50 cents.

DOURO EUCHRE SERIES IS BROUGHT TO CONCLUSION

DOURO, March 2. — The last of a series of euchre parties was held in Harmony Hall, Douro, on Monday evening thirty tables being played. The card tables were in charge of John Sheehan and Cyril Lee.

Winners for the first prizes were Miss Margaret McManus and John McMurray; consolation prizes, Mrs. Fred Walsh, and Frank Kennedy.

The hall has been kindly put at the disposal of the parish for relief and charitable work by F. G. Towns, who has been very energetic in helping on the good work. A nice sum has been realized, the proceeds from the several euchres and concerts being given to the Ladies' Auxiliary for relief in the parish.

Sea lions in the London Zoo are fed forty pounds of fish every day.

CONCERT IS HELD BY BOOSTER CLUB

Proceeds From Program and Dance Go to Relief in Marmora.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, March 2. — A concert and dance, the proceeds of which will be devoted to local relief, was held at the town hall on Monday evening under the auspices of Marmora Booster Club and the officers of that organization were highly delighted with the large patronage accorded their venture. J. P. Marvin, president of the Booster Club, was the chairman.

The program was as follows:

Opening chorus, Marmora Community Band; quartette, In the Gloaming, Messrs. Baker, Woodhouse, Anderson and Rigg; Cowboy Song, with Banjo accompaniment, Glen Sayers; Jig tunes, J. French's orchestra; song, "I wouldn't leave my little wooden hut for you," W. J. Cottrell; encore, "Boiled Beef and Carrots," song and step dance, J. F. Baker; play, Robin Hood, Act I—Miss Mary Lumsden's Sunday school class; song with guitar accompaniment, "I am an Educated Man," Harold Auger; encore "Cowboy Song." Play, Robin Hood, act II, Miss Lumsden's class.

At ten o'clock chairs were cleared for round and square dancing for which all the local dance musicians gave their services in turn. Cafeteria lunch was served in the lower part of the hall under the supervision of F. E. Potts.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

"Dear Miss Glad: I don't know whether it's the weather or the lipstick that I use, but my lips are continually chapping lately. I use one of these so-called "permanent lipsticks, and was wondering if this could possible be the cause of the chapped state of my lips.

"HILDA."

All of the alleged permanent lipsticks would not necessarily tend to chap your lips. But some of them contain ingredients that are very drying to the lips. If you are using such a lipstick, it may, indeed, be responsible for the continual chapping and dryness. Apply a generous coating of cold cream, lanolin or camphor ice to your lips before retiring each night. Allow the lubricant to remain on your lips over night. Use a greasy lipstick during the daytime. Take care that your lips are always well-greased. This treatment will help to alleviate the chapping, and will keep your lips soft and smooth.

"Dear Miss Glad: A friend of mine recently followed the reducing course outlined in your 'New Figure' booklet, and succeeded in losing 36 pounds altogether. And she certainly looks swell now. I want to lose weight, and intend following your course also, but I've heard that frequent colonic irrigations help to reduce weight, too I am, therefore, contemplating having such irrigations, also. You you advise this step?

ADELE."

I would not at all advise the step you contemplate. When absolutely necessary, a colonic irrigation can be most beneficial. But if taken too frequently, these irrigations can have a decidedly detrimental effect on your health. They will gradually tend to destroy the normal action of the bowels, and may even result in serious stomach and intestinal disorders. Too frequent colonic irrigations force the bulky foods, which should move slowly through the intestinal tract, to too speedy action. Evacuation should be a natural function, and artificial cleansings should not be necessary if a proper diet is maintained to keep the excretory organs functioning properly.

• • •

"Dear Miss Glad: That idea of yours about the castor oil for the lashes was sure a great one, for my lashes have grown a great deal. I can't afford to have my eyebrows plucked any more, however, and was wondering if you could give me any advice on doing this myself I just can't seem to shape my eyebrows neatly at all.

LUCY."

It really isn't the least bit difficult to shape the eybrows, providing that the plucking is done carefully. Before beginning the plucking, apply a generous coating of cold cream to each brow. Then, using a small eyebrow brush, brush the brows into shape and pluck out the undesirable hairs. After you have finished the plucking, apply witch hazel or a good skin tonic to close the pores.

EDITOR'S NOTE: While it is impossible for Miss Glad to answer beauty questions by mail, she will be happy to send you her pamphlets on "The New Figure" and "Beauty Culture" if you will write her, care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, and ten cents in coin for each, to cover cost of printing and handling. For her articles on "Care of the Hands and Nails" and "Care of the Feet and Legs," two cents in coin for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope are required. Personal questions on beauty will be answered through Miss Glad's daily column.

You'll do it better on Dated Coffee

Coffee is a recognized stimulant. You get out of it new strength, gay spirits, keener zest . . . But make certain your coffee is never stale.

THE PEOPLE who do things often seem to be the greatest coffee drinkers. They play a stronger game in sports, have greater endurance for their work.

Yes. But, some folks whisper, not everybody can benefit by it. Coffee gives us indigestion—nerves—keeps us awake.

Science was interested. Why this difference?

Then research workers analyzed coffee. And this is their answer.

Fresh coffee is perfectly safe to drink and enjoy, up to 5 cups a day, if you are a normal, healthy grown-up. But stale coffee contains a rancid oil, nearly half a cup to a pound. And if you are drinking stale coffee regularly, you are very likely to have trouble.

Because it is so important that your coffee should be fresh, Chase & Sanborn instituted Dated Coffee.

The date of delivery is on every tin. No grocer is allowed to keep a tin of it on his shelf more than 10 days. You're bound to get rich, full-flavored, delicious fresh coffee when you insist on Chase & Sanborn's. In half-pound and one-pound tins.

"All Spic and Span . . . and no money wasted," says this capable Mother

"Believe me, I have a lot of washing to do," said Mrs. Frances E. Ward. She took fifteen minutes out of her busy day to tell why, for ten years, she has used no laundry soap but CHIPSO. "With three girls who like to look nice all the time, and two boys always in the dirt, you can see why I need a soap that cleans fast without wearing out the clothes."

She and Donald proudly exhibited Donald's red suede-cloth zipper jacket, washed every week through the winter months for 2½ years, and as bright-hued and soft as new.

"Chipso is just as safe for the girls' silk underwear and stockings," said Mrs. Ward, "yet it soaks the dirt right out of Sam's grimy rompers and makes the sheets and towels snowy-white. I don't have to wear them out with hard rubbing."

How can CHIPSO soak dirty things clean so quickly, yet be so safe for delicate fabrics? Because Chipso is SOAPIER. It is not adulterated with harsh, "dirt-cutting" ingredients that are hard on colors and materials. Chipso's richer, thicker, SOAPIER suds float the dirt out safely.

"Chipso is fine for dishwashing and cleaning, too," says Mrs. Ward. "It really makes your hands more beautiful, instead of rough."

Try Chipso yourself this week. Your grocer has a big box of Chipso waiting for you.

Sauerkraut With Spareribs or Smothered Pork Ball
Mashed Potatoes
Apple-Cabbage-Carrot Salad
Brown Sugar Cream
Coffee or Tea

Saurekraut has been proved by home economics experts to be a healthful dish, and it also is an economical one. I am giving you several recipes which you will find good.

Today's Recipes

Creamed Sauerkraut—Saute four tablespoons sliced onion and four tablespoons shredded green pepper in three tablespoons fat until pale yellow. Add three tablespoons flour and stir smooth. Add two cups milk slowly, stirring until thick and creamy. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Add two cups sauerkraut and heat thoroughly. Serves six.

Spareribs With Sauerkraut—Cover one and one-half pounds spareribs with plenty of water, cover and cook for about an hour, adding more water if necessary. Have at least two cups liquid left on meat at the end of an hour. Add two cups sauerkraut and continue cooking for 30 minutes to an hour or until meat is very tender and the liquid somewhat reduced. Season if necessary and serve. Serves four.

Smothered Pork Balls—Grate one pound fresh ground pork well with salt and pepper and a little onion juice. Make into small balls and brown thoroughly on all sides in hot fat in a skillet. Put half the sauerkraut in a baking dish, lay balls on top and cover with the remaining sauerkraut. Bake one hour in a moderate oven, 375 degrees. Serves eight.

Sauerkraut and Franks—Split the rolls and toast them, split the franks and toast them, have a large dish of hot, steaming sauerkraut with forks for the family to put the hot sauerkraut on the roll in the approved "hot dog" fashion, or serve them as separate dishes to eat the sauerkraut with the roll if they wish to do so. This makes an excellent buffet luncheon on days when there is hurry in the household.

Brown Sugar Cream—One tablespoon gelatin soaked in one-half cup milk, two cups milk, one-half cup brown sugar, one teaspoon vanilla, one-half pint whipping cream, one-fourth pound blanched almonds, pinch salt. Scald one cup milk, add the gelatin and stir until dissolved. Remove from the fire, add one cup cold milk, the sugar, vanilla and salt. When ready to serve, whip the custard, add half the cream whipped and the nuts cut in strips. Decorate the top with the remaining whipped cream.

Hold School Fairs In South Monghan

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BAILIEBORO, March 2.—For many years the project of running school fairs in the Township of South Monaghan, has been advocated by the Agricultural Representatives and a number of the ratepayers.

A meeting held in the council chamber on Tuesday evening under the direction of Col. O'Dell and Mr. E. A. Summers, Agricultural Representatives for Durham County, and a fair representation of the teachers and ratepayers, decided to hold the initial school fair for South Monaghan township in the fall of 1933.

For buckles and brooches for dress decoration nothing is smarter this spring than nacre (mother of pearl) and shell.

Tuesday evening in the office of Mr. A. Beausoliel, supervisor of track, C.N. Railways, there was a gathering of a group of men of the Maintenance of Way Department, who met to say good-bye to Mr. John Lovell, trackman, who yesterday completed his service with the Canadian National Railways, and is retired on pension. An address was read by Mr. R. J. Delahey, President of the Trackmen's Union, and the presentation was made by Mr. Stewart Chambers, foreman, on whose staff Mr. Lovell was engaged for many years.

The address was as follows:

"Mr. John Lovell,—A few of your many friends and hitherto fellow-employees of the Canadian National Railways have come together to say their farewells to you as a railwayman.

"For many long years you have been among us through winter storms and summer heat, and today brings to an end your connection with the Canadian National Railways. We wish you to know we are genuinely sorry to lose you from our ranks, while we are glad that you can lay aside the duties you have so faithfully performed in past years, and will from henceforth spend your days in a more leisurely manner.

"We understand it is your intention to betake yourself back to the right little, tight little Island, the home of your boyhood days, and take great pleasure in tendering this travelling bag as a memento from your friends in and about Peterborough, and with it the wish that you may have a safe and pleasant voyage to the land of your nativity and that you may enjoy many years of health and happiness. We are hoping you may some day find it in your heart to return and visit us. You will be sure of a warm welcome."

Signed on behalf of the Maintenance of Way Employees by R. J. Delahey, President, and J. S. Chambers, Secretary-Treasurer.

Garden lovers of Peterborough will learn with regret of the completion by Mr. John Lovell of his service with the Canadian National Railways. Mr. Lovell will be remembered by those who passed the railway gardens from day to day during the summer months for the last decade. Under the shade of the spreading basswood trees this lover of flowers was to be seen in early morning, cutting, trimming, watering lawns and coaxing his plants. His heart was in the work and he usually succeeded in carrying off the first prize in the annual competition of the Horticultural Society of the city. Stray cats and dogs were an abomination, and thoughtless youngsters who sometimes chased others over lawns and through flower beds were a heart-burning as they are to all gardeners. Mr. Lovell returns to England, that land of gardens, and will be followed by the good wishes of many friends in Peterborough.

At their meeting on Monday night, the C.G.I.T. of Knox United Church entertained the women of the congregation. The president, Miss Alice Davis, conducted affairs. After the worship period, arranged by Miss H. Laing's group, the C.G.I.T. Purpose was repeated, also the Pledge. The Flag Salute was observed. Miss Eleanor Dunford gave a reading, and Mrs. C. M. Scott who was introduced by the Rev. W. McDonald, gave a very fine address on the life, customs and missionary work in the schools and hospitals of India. The vote of thanks was voiced by Miss Verna Huffman and was seconded by Miss Dorothy Battle. Later, refreshments were served in the Primary Room by the girls of Mrs. A. Huffman's group. The guests were received by the president, Miss Alice Davis, and the leader, Miss Kathleen Benson. Tea was poured by Mrs. J. F. Morrison and Miss Peggy Donaldson. The room was beautifully decorated by Miss Murray's group, and Mrs. A. Whyte had charge of an exhibit of sewing for Missions, while a sale of fancy work was looked after by Miss Dorothy Battle and Miss Dorothy Milburn. The meeting closed with the singing of "Taps."

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

In some local homes recently I have noticed that the housewives do not always get as much illumination from their electric lights and coal oil lamps, as they might.

• • • • • • •

And just now I think it is a good idea to cut down expenses as much as possible in reducing the cost of illumination.

• • • • • • •

Here are a few suggestions which refer to clear and unobstructed radiation, rather than to less use of light. It is assumed that homemakers see that members of the family shut off electric lights or turn down lamps when illumination is not needed.

• • • • • • •

There is an amazing amount of electricity and coal oil and even gas wasted in lighting unoccupied rooms.

• • • • • • •

One way to get more illumination from lighting fixtures is to see that bulbs and globes are kept bright and shining. Dust collects, clings and acts like a veil to keep out the brilliance.

• • • • • • •

Often dusting with not infrequent washing to remove grime will brighten illumination—at no cost!

• • • • • • •

Avoid lamp shades that reduce illumination. This darkening of light can come from having lamp shades too heavy and also from having them in colors which absorb light.

• • • • • • •

When a light is wanted on reading or sewing, etc., have shades which reflect the light down and have the shade metal or dark on the outside if desired. For example, green glass shades give a very soft and subdued light in a room, but when shades have a glazed white lining the illumination cast down from them is delightfully brilliant.

• • • • • • •

Such shades seem to be favored for study purposes chiefly, although for the light on the table in the centre of a room such a shade is excellent.

• • • • • • •

Parchment shades, when old have a tendency to deepen in hue, I am told. Deep colored and heavy shades prevent bulbs and lamps from giving their full value in illumination.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

GOOD INFORMATORY DOUBLES

If allowed to choose the call, an average hand will win five tricks total, and it is uncommon to hold a hand unable to win three tricks. Therefore, a sound informatory double should promise the doubler's partner fulfillment of contract provided that player is able to win three tricks. To save game an informatory double may be made upon less strength than indicated above, I consider a double of any suit bid less than game as informatory. The first hand below shows the occasional great utility of an informatory double of a high bid.

	♠ K J 8 5 4 3 ♥ 9 7 5 ♣ K 7 ♦ 10 2
♠ None ♥ 8 4 2 ♣ J 6 4 3 ♦ 9 7 6 5 4 3	Y A B Z	♠ 9 2 ♥ A Q J 3 ♣ A Q 10 5 ♦ K Q J
	♠ A Q 10 7 6 ♥ K 10 6 ♣ 9 8 2 ♦ A 8

Neither side was vulnerable. Z made an opening bid of 1-Spade, that Y jumped to 3-Spades. B made an informatory double upon seven assisting tricks. Z bid 4-Spade A did not have to bid, but he knew how reliable B was and showed his courage by bidding 5-Diamonds, and made.

Four-Spades doubled would have been defeated only two tricks, which would have been less profitable than going game at diamonds, even if that game contract had not been doubled

On the next hand A-B had a score of 70 on the second game. Y-Z had no score of any kind. Going down a few points was better for the side not vulnerable than allowing opponents to go rubber on a bid of only one.

	♠ 6 3 ♥ K J 4 ♣ K Q 10 2 ♦ K 9 8 3
♠ A K J 9 4 ♥ Q 10 8 ♣ 7 4 ♦ A 4 2	Y A B Z	♠ 10 6 5 ♥ 6 5 3 ♣ A 9 8 6 5 ♦ Q 6
	♠ Q 7 2 ♥ A 9 7 2 ♣ J 3 ♦ J 10 7 5

Z passed. A bid 1-Spade, which would have ended game and rubber. Y made a sound, although weak, informatory double. B passed. Z responded with 2-Hearts. When A bid 2-Spades, that could have been made, Y made a slight overbid of his values, by going 3-Hearts. This was allowed to go undoubled, as A feared that he might double out his adversaries. Z lost two spade tricks, two diamond tricks and one club trick, paying only 50 points for saving the love rubber. Y-Z won a game on the next hand, which limited A-B to a premium of 500 points for the rubber that they ultimately won.

"Gossip and Such

WHILE IT IS INTERESTING that Young Corbett III is the third Italian to currently hold a world boxing title—the other two are Lightweight Tony Canzoneri and Flyweight Midget Wolgast—it is more significant that he is the nineteeth recognized welterweight champion since Mysterious Billy Smith first laid claim to the title in 1892.

FROM 1906 UNTIL 1915 when a champion was not definitely recognized 12 others claimed the title which gives the welter class a total of 29 champions in the 41 years of its existence. In the same period the title has changed hands about 40 times.

THE WELTERWEIGH TITLE has changed hands so many times, former champions winning it back, that it is almost impossible to determine the exact number. It passed back and forth between Ted Kid Lewis and Jack Britton several times. In the last four years or so it has changed hands seven times!

IF CORBETT IS STILL champion two years from now he will have beaten par for the course. There has been an average of one new recognized champion ever 20 months or so since Billy Smith's day!

DESPITE ITS CLOUDY history and muddled leadership the welterweight class has turned out some real champions. Young Corbett III has yet to prove that he deserves ranking with some of the great welters whose mantle he has inherited.

THE FIRST OF THE RECognized champions, Mysterious Billy Smith, was a capable fighter. But far greater than he were Kid McCoy, Joe Walcott and Mickey Walker.

OTHER STAR WELTERS who held the championship or claimed it were Dixie Kid, Honey Mellody, Mike (Twin) Sullivan, Jimmy Clabby, Mike Gibbons, Mike O'Dowd, Ted Lewis, Jack Britton. No slouches there!

PACKEY McFARLAND might have been added to this list but he preferred classification as a lightweight.

THE 19 FIGHTERS WHO have held some sort of recognition as welterweight champion include:

Mysterious Billy Smith, 1892-1894, 1898-1900.
Tommy Ryan, 1894-1896.
Kid McCoy, 1896-1897.
Rube Ferns, 1900, 1901.
Matty Matthews, 1900, 1901.
Joe Walcott, 1901-1904.
Dixie Kid, 1904-1906.
Honey Mellody, 1906-1907.
Mike (Twin) Sullivan, 1907-1910.
Jimmy Clabby, 1910-1911.
Jack Britton, 1915-1922.
Ted (Kid) Lewis, 1915-1919.
Mickey Walker, 1922-1926.
Pete Latzo, 1926-1927.
Joe Dundee, 1927-1929.
Jackie Fields, 1929-1930, 1932-1933.
Young Jack Thompson, 1930, 1931.
Tomy Freeman, 1930.
Lou Brouillard, 1931-1932.
Young Corbett III, 1932—

COMPARE THAT LIST with the other standard ring classes. There have been 11 recognized heavyweight champions, 12 each light heavyweight and middleweight, 13 lightweight and featherweight, and 14 bantamweight title holders. The flyweight ranking is too recent for comparison.

KEMPT SQUAD SECURES 2-1 E. P. VICTORY

Bill Calladine's Shot in Third Period Breaks Up Tie for Winning Goal.

HARD FOUGHT TUSSLE.

Norwood Holds Edge on Night's Play But Misses Numerous Scoring Chances.

Norwood Combines evened up the E.P.L. playoff series at the Brock last night, squeezing out a 2-1 win over Carters in a fast, hard-fought contest. One game was tied and each team has taken one, while the fourth will be held in Norwood Friday. Only a small crowd witnessed the close, exciting fixture here last evening.

Bill Calladine's shot from just inside the blue line got away from Foley after seven minutes of the third frame had passed, and this broke up a fine tussle, though the losers battled bitterly to recover that one the rest of the way. The score was 1-1 to end the first. Norwood had an edge on the play most of the game but missed numerous fine chances, and Foley robbed them of many more.

Good Net Exhibition

It was a good exhibition by both goalies, each side drilling many hard drives at close range, but Beavis and Foley were kicking them out smartly. The checking was strenuous and effective, but generally clean. Both forward lines fought hard and kept up a rapid clip with neat backchecking. Calladine and Cripps teamed up well for Norwood, but Stevenson, McConnell and Rogers stole the show with persistent boring-in and threatening. Scriver had an "on" night and looked good, with Webb steady as usual.

The first two frames saw the Jones' brothers and Meagher of the second line having having most of the play for Carters, but the main trio went well in the third. Lackey game and was dangerous on lone again played a steady all-around rushes. Maudsley's fine stickhandling was marred by his refusal to pass the rubber. The six penalties were evenly divided, and Referee Sabatino handled the game in good manner.

Puts Carters Ahead

Webb was chased early for hooking Maudsley as the Sailor nearly drifted through. Lackey came close on a hard rush and play was up and down fast with both goalies stepping lively. Norwood had an edge for a space, but H. Jones put Carters ahead when he went in fast to bat in his own rebound. Beavis shoving the puck right out to him. The Carters' second line buzzed in hard, and then Cripps took Calladine's neat pass at defence to go in close and shove it in. Meagher got the air for tripping at the close.

Scriver started the second chapter in the "cooler" for tripping Magee, and play was fast and even. Maudsley pulled a smart rush and Calladine almost got through at the other end. Cripps passed to Calladine right in the goal-mouth on another try but Bill missed the net. The Combines' second-stringers burned up the ice and had their opponents dizzy as they whirled in repeatedly and had the place in an uproar. But Foley and Lady Luck kept them blanked. Williams and Rogers mixed it up and were thumbed off. Webb and Stevenson missed a great chance with no one but the goalie to beat and Norwood had a decided edge on play till the gong. Staunt was ruled off just before the bell for charging.

Scores Winning Goal

The third was fast again and exciting with hard but clean checking the order. Then after seven minutes, Calladine went up fast, lifted one from outside defence and tore in to get the rebound. But there was no rebound as the puck had slipped through Foley. Play was at a furious clip from then on with Carters sending four men up and their first line was clicking great. But the Kempt squad checked up hard and played more defensive hockey backed by stone-wall netguarding by Beavis. The out-of-towners were finally shooting the puck up the ice to relieve the pressure when the final gong rang.

The teams:

Norwood: Goal, Beavis; defence, Scriver and Webb; centre, W. Calladine; wings, Rothwell and W. Cripps; alternates, Stevenson, McConnell and Rogers.

Carters: Goal, Foley; defence, Swanger and Lackey; centre, Maudsley; wings, Magee and Williams; alternates, H. Jones, B. Jones, Meagher and Staunt.

Referee—Jack Sabatino.

Summary:

First Period.

MADOC CREW WINS POSTPONED BATTLE

Henderson Leads Smelters to 5-3 Victory on Marmora Ice.

MARMORA, March 2 (Examiner Correspondence). — Madoc won their postponed Central League game with Marmora on the latter's ice on Tuesday evening by the score of 5—3. In the first period Henderson opened the scoring after ten minutes' play and West a few minutes later easily added a second. Clemens scored towards the end of the period with one of his hot drives.

Henderson, who was in his best form, placed the visitors further ahead early in the second period and good play by Clemens resulted in another goal for his team. Marmora did much pressing in this period, and Burns, McCoy, Hewitt and Campion came within an ace of scoring.

Marmora drew level in the third when Shannon from behind the Madoc goal so sent the puck out that it deflected off the goalie's skates into the net. Both teams tried hard for more goals and success came to Madoc, who again registered through Henderson and Armstrong. Teams:

Madoc—Goal, G. Scopis; defence, K. West, J. Watson; wings, E. Armstrong, F. Akey; centre, J. Henderson. Subs., A. Ross, E. Alexander, L. Blue.

Marmora.—Goal, J. McGrath; defence, B. Burns, C. McCoy; wings, R. Campion, H. Hewitt; centre, C. Clemens. Subs., T. Shannon, H. Brady, R. Neal.

Referee—C. Phillips, Madoc.

SCHOOL PLAY-OFFS

MARMORA, March 2 (Examiner Correspondence).—The first of the play-offs between Marmora Continuation School and the Belleville Collegiate Institute will take place in Madoc on Thursday evening, and the return game will be played in Belleville sometime next week.

To-Night's Results Are Eagerly Awaited

TORONTO, March 2 (C.P.) — Semi-final flourishes to one of the campaign's most important clashes Saturday night will be put in tonight by Montreal Canadiens and New York Americans, fighting for the third National Hockey League play-off berth in the Canadian section.

In preparation for a personal duel at Montreal over the week-end, Canadiens play Toronto Maple Leafs to-night at Montreal, while Americans strive to retain their slim two-point margin over the Canucks by beating Chicago Black Hawks at Chicago.

A Canadien triumph to-night, which would be the second straight over Conny Smythe's world champions, would boost the French stock to a new high and make them favorites for the play-offs regardless of Americans' fate at Chicago.

Detroit Red Wings will attempt to lengthen their lead over Rangers in the United States group at Ottawa where the last line of defence —Billy Beveridge—is the sternest.

Bad Luck Cost Jim Corbett His Second Sharkey Battle in Comeback Attempt

(This is the seventh of a series of brief articles relating Jim Corbett's most famous fights — from his first battle with Joe Choynski, in 1884, to his final fight with Jim Jeffries, in 1903.

BY WILLIAM RITT

NO. 7—CORBETT VS. SHARKEY

JIM CORBETT started his comeback, a year and a half after having lost his world heavyweight title to Bob Fitzsimmons, against a man he had met while he was champion —Tom Sharkey.

SHARKEY
In 1926

The first bout between Corbett and Sharkey was a farce. Sharkey, at that time, was the crudest fighter Jim had met. This was on June 24, 1896, in San Francisco. To make matters worse Corbett, who regarded Sharkey lightly, had eaten a huge dinner shortly before the bout.

In the first round Tom hopped up and down while the champion tried vainly to hit him. Early in the second, Jim smashed Tom in the right eye, but he couldn't finish him. From then on Sharkey began to wrestle instead of fight.

This went on until the fourth round when, amidst the booing, hissing and uproarous laughter of the spectators, the police stopped the joke.

Yearns For Title

AFTER LOSING to Fitzsimmons, Corbett began to yearn again for the title of heavyweight championship, an honor he had, previous to the battle with Fitz, regarded so lightly he had wanted to give it to Pete Maher, the Irish champion.

For a year Corbett repeatedly challenged Fitzsimmons to a return bout, but Ruby Robert was satisfied with one victory. Eventually, when a second bout with

Sharkey and McGrath

Sharkey was offered, Corbett accepted.

This second battle was held in New York, Nov. 22, 1896, and precipitated a controversy which was as bitter as those following the two Max Schmeling-Jack Sharkey title fights of recent years.

Sprains His Ankle

TOM SHARKEY was a much improved fighter. And Corbett was considerably older than he had been when they first met in 1896. Those two intervening years had taken their toll.

Instead of trying for a quick knockout, Corbett bided his time, to save his aging legs and his wind. The first round was slow, with Sharkey unable to land any of the sleep producers he threw.

Corbett didn't duck a sweeping left sufficiently enough in the second round and was floored. He fought the rest of the round in a daze. By the third round Jim's head had cleared and now he realized he had sprained an ankle in falling to the canvas.

The two men slugged it out for the next several rounds, Corbett abandoning his dancing tactics to save his ankle, which hurt badly.

Another Bad Break

THE END came in the ninth round.

Seeing what he thought was a foul by Sharkey, one of Corbett's seconds, Con McVey, climbed through the ropes and entered the ring in the ninth round.

Immediately Referee John Kelly held up his hands. He pointed at Corbett and shouted, "You lose!"

Corbett was stunned. For the second time he had lost a fight which was virtually won. To make matters worse, spectators and some newspaper men raised the cry of "Fake!"

To the end Corbett vehemently denied any such charges.

NEXT—Corbett vs. Jeffries.

Belleville H.S. Team Defeats Tweed 5 To 2

TWEED, March 2. — Belleville High School Juniors defeated Tweed High School 5 to 2 last night in the first of the home-and-home games for the group championship. The visitors had a marked superiority in weight and were in front from the start. Hanna and Pringle scored in the first period for Belleville, with B. Leal counting for Tweed. Kidd added another for the winners in the second, while McElrath and Kokesh bagged two more in the third. Luffman accounted for Tweed's last goal. Kidd, Kokesh and Hanna were best for Belleville, with Reeves, B. Leel and Tummon playing smart hockey for Tweed.

Tweed.—Goal, Reeves; defence, Bowers and Leal; centre, B. Leal; wings, Spackman, Luffman; subs., J. Courneyea, Elsbury, McCutchon, E. Tummon.

Referees—High and Beatty.

BUCKHORN BRUINS ADD TO VICTORIES

Outskate and Outplay Young's Point Maroons for 3-1 Win.

LAKEFIELD, March 2 (Examiner Correspondence). — The Buckhorn Bruins added another to their list of victories when they won from Young's Point on Monday night, 3—1, in a fast game in which the Bruins out-skated and out-played the Maroons, who were however hard to beat, as they played their best game of the season and showed improved form in both attack and defence. Braden Blewett, who handled the game, was liberal in handing out penalties although the offences were minor ones and the game was a clean exhibition. The Lakefield District League is now in the second section of the schedule and is still going strong.

The Maroons were resplendent in their new sweaters and were accompanied by a lot of fans, while the Bruins also had a good following.

Darling was the outstanding player for the Maroons, while Graham and Montgomery were about the best of the Bruins.

The line-up was as follows:

Young's Point Maroons.—Hamblin, goal; Darling, Johnson, defence; R. Wilson, centre; Carroll, Young, wings; subs., L. Wilson, A. Brooks, A. Wilson, B. Harvey, Pat Foley, mascot.

Buckhorn Bruins. — E. Blewett, goal; W. Trude, S. Trude, defence; Montgomery, centre; Graham, M. Wilson, wings; subs., W. Blewett, W. Shearer, G. Nicholls, M. Hall.

Port Hope-Cobourg Battle To 1-1 Tie

COBOURG, March 2. — Port Hope Juniors played an exhibition game here last night in the first game of the Lake Shore group, the score being 1-1. Cobourg will play a return game at Port Hope, and the winning team will play off with Bowmanville in a sudden-death game to decide the group honors.

The game was fast, and few penalties were handed out.

Port Hope — Goal, L. Paul; defence, B. Pillsworth and J. Record; centre, J. Phillips; wings, O. Pillsworth and G. Phillips; subs., J. McTavish, G. Paden, L. Pillsworth, and L. Nelson.

Cobourg — Goal, Platt; defence, Comrie and K. Goody; centre, Henderson; wings, J. Parker and C. Hle; subs., E. Parker, Bevans, Johnson and A. Pratt.

Referee—J. Lloyd, Cobourg.

PRESTON BOWS TO STRATFORD IN SEMI-FINAL

Dizzy Desilets Leads Midgets to 8-1 Victory in Junior O.H.A. Battle.

MANY PENALTIES.

KITCHENER, Ont., Mar. 2. (CP) For the first time in a dozen years or since Howie Morenz graduated as a full-fledged meteor—Stratford Midgets are in the O.H.A. junior final to-day.

Technically the Midgets are separated from the final by a 60-minute contest with Preston Rivulets but the barrier is purely technical. In the first of a two-game total-goal series here last night, Stratford piled up a seven-goal lead with an 8-1 victory.

So Midgets play the second game at home Friday night with scarcely a worry in the world. When they face either Toronto Nationals or Newmarket in the finals next week it will be the first time Stratford has reached this peak since 1921 when Morenz led the Midgets to the O.H.A. junior title.

Desilets Leads Attack

Dizzy Desilets, who is just about as hot a junior as Howie was himself in the old days, led a devastating Midget attack last night that did its major work in the first period. I was merely a matter of "how many" thereafter, though Preston stood up manfully in the second period before crumbling completely in the third.

Easily the game's outstanding player, Desilets rammed in five goals—one in the first period, another in the hard-fought second and three in the final drive. Three of his goals were on solo efforts.

11 Penalty Sentences

Penalties cramped the Stratford style somewhat in the first two periods and the Rivulets might have done some scoring had Smith and Ziegler been shooting them dead on. They profited only once as Midgets spent 11 penalty sentences.

In the third period Stratford drew only one penalty as they scored four times.

Desilets started the big push two minutes after the start with a solo goal and late in the period Heath got another on Jones' pass. Jones banged in the third himself.

Short-handed for many minutes in the second session, Midgets checked furiously to hold off the frantic Preston attackers. Desilets came to the rescue with his second goal but Knack matched this, scoring the only Rivulet counter on a pass from Zeigler. Preston kept up pressure for most of the period without getting results.

They tumbled definitely out of the picture in the third period, Brenneman scoring for Stratford before Desilets took things into his own hands. The sensational wingman scored three times within four minutes to climax his night's work.

Until last night Preston had won 10 straight games and been unbeaten in the season's 12-game campaign.

A stiff breeze or a blowout might tumble this fellow—J. D. Pate, Hollywood, Cal.—from his lofty perch, but meanwhile he sits atop this tower of old automobile tires seeking a new title—the world's stratosphere tire stack sitting record, or something like that.

TROUBLE OVER PURSES.

(By Sam Robertson, C.P. Staff Writer.)

NEW YORK, March 2 (C.P.) — The race of matchmakers for the meeting of Jimmy McLarnin and Young Corbett that would seem to be on the fistic cards, is about as warm as that recently staged for the summer setto of the Maxies, Schmeling and Baer.

The Old King of Wallop himself, John Harrison Dempsey, is favorite at the moment to land the match between the recently crowned welterweight champion from Fresnoe, Calif., and Vancouver's perennial challenger. Jack was on the scene when Corbett popped the crown off the uneasy head of Jackie Fields a week back. So was McLarnin, and reports have it that Dempsey has already beaten the Madison Square Garden moguls to the punch—and purse.

Just as occurred when Garden Matchmaker Jimmy Johnston went after Schmeling for a fight with Heavyweight Champion Jack Sharkey and learned Dempsey already had the German's named fixed to a contract naming Baer the second party, so does Johnston enter the present incompleted jig-saw picture.

Trouble Over Purses

Division of the prospective bulging purse adds barriers to an amicable settlement. When Corbett outpunched Fields he received $4,000, while the conquered one drew $35,000. As champion, the Californian would unmistakeably want the lion's share of the booty before gambling his new crown against such durable fists as those of McLarnin.

But neither McLarnin nor his able manager, "Pop" Foster, have ever shown a liking for the 12½ per that usually falls to the challenger. If the bout should come East, where McLarnin has long been a major drawing-card and Corbett is an unknown quantity, the Canadian dynamited undoubtedly would hold out for at least an even division of the "kitty."

NATIONAL LEAGUE PLAY-OFFS WILL COMMENCE ON MARCH 25

Resignation of Charles F. Adams Accepted—Retain Present Refereeing System.

McLAUGHLIN SATISFIED.

NEW YORK, March 2 (C.P.) — Governors of the National Hockey League to the man to-day had accorded a vote of confidence in Frank Calder's conduct of National Hockey League affairs.

The greying president of the professional ice circuit emerged from a closed meeting here yesterday with the unanimous endorsement of the league "fathers" after they had considered criticism levelled by two American club owners.

The resignation of Charles F. Adams, president of the Boston club, was accepted over objections. Mr. Adams sent in his resignation as governor with his recent criticism of phases of Mr. Calder's rulership, now in its 17th year. An effort was made to have him withdraw the resignation, but the Boston mentor pleaded pressure of other business, and his nominee for the vacated governorship, Robert W. Duncan of Boston, was approved.

Major Fred McLaughlin of the Chicago club, the other who found fault with the president on certain matters, joined in the vote of confidence accorded the Montreal.

Tentative dates for the league championship and Stanley Cup play-offs were set by the meeting and decision reached to retain the present system of refereeing for the present season at least.

WESTCLOX GIRLS LEAD JUNIOR SECTION IN BASKETBALL LOOP

Clockmakers With Seven Wins and No Losses Are Sure of Finishing First.

"Y" TOPS THE SENIORS.

With only two weeks of the regular schedule remaining to be played in the Ladies' basketball league, the teams are battling hard to get into play-off berths. The squads finishing first and second in the Senior and also in the Junior sections will play off for the Senior and Junior cups respectively and in the Senior division especially, a merry battle is being waged for the play-off positions.

The Westclox girls are out in front in the Junior section with seven wins and no losses and with only one more game to be played, are sure of finishing in first place. The Wohelo Club are a close second and are far ahead of the other outfits, and these two teams will meet in the play-off for the Junior championship.

In the Senior division, the "Y" Seniors are leading the parade with eight straight wins and with only two games left, the Blue-sweatered team will be trying hard to finish the season without a loss, a feat rarely accomplished. The real fight, however, is for second position, with the Westclox maidens and the "Y" Intermediates running practically side by side and with the Blue Petes having an outside chance of getting in the play-offs. The Intermediates must win both their remaining fixtures, the second of which is against the Westclox, and if both these squads win their games this week, this fixture will decide which team will meet the league leading "Y" Seniors for the City championship.

Faced Hard Task

St. Paul's, who had things pretty much their own way last year when they won the silverware, have been faced with the task of rebuilding their team, having lost several classy performers and are at present striving hard to better their position, being closely bunched with the C.G.E. and the Blue Petes. They meet the second place Westclox this Friday, and if they play the basketball they are capable of playing, they should throw a scare into Rus Kitchen's Big-Ben team.

The "Y" Seniors meet the Blue Petes this week and a win for the Seniors will eliminate any chance the Petes had of reaching second place. The red-sweatered C.G.E. team tackles the "Y" Intermediates in the other Senior fixture, and a win for the C.G.E. girls will drop the Intermediates deeper into third place while a win for the "Y" will keep them right up with the Westclox.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA. — Al Ettore, Philadelphia, stopped James J. Braddock, Jersey City (4)—Braddock diqualified, charged with not trying. Eddie Ran, Poland, outpointed Young Ketchell, Chester, Pa. (8).

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — Tony Shucco, Boston, defeated Al Gainor, New Haven, foul (4).

Broadley, Stanger, Thirnbeck.

CAPITOLS DEFEAT IN CITY CAGE GAME

C.G.E. Squad Wins 40-36 Decision—Riley and Hickey Also Winners 40-24.

Capitols dropped a 40-36 City Basketball League game to the strong C.G.E. squad at the "Y" last night, the winners finishing strong after trailing 23-17 all through the first half. The other game staged up there went to Riley and Hickey by a 40 to 24 count over Imperials. The victors took an early lead and were never headed.

C.G.E. fought hard throughout the first frame but could not hold the Capitols, but play was reversed in the last half. The Electrics began finding the basket, and at the same time checking up their opponents in good manner. Routley was the big scorer for the winners, running in 19 points. Dinesen put in nine points and McLeish eight. For Capitols, Cadd did most of the damage, accounting for 27 points in a fine exhibition. Smith was next with seven. The teams:

C.G.E.—Routley, Williams, McLeish, Mitchell, Dinesen and Mulhall.

Capitols—Curry, Demery, Ellis, Stewart, Kitchen, Smith and Cadd.

Referee, Doug. Loomis; scorer, H. McLeod.

Riley and Hickey's proved too strong last night for Imperials, starting off fast and keeping up the pace to lead all the way. The count was 21 to 14 for them starting the last half, and the Clothiers had more of the play toward the end. Despite the score, some smart basketball was shown at times. Hunt and Broadley, with nine points apiece, were most effective for the Imperials. For Riley and Hickey's, A. Holmes showed the way on the score-board with 19 points, followed closely by Grimes with 15, while the whole team clicked in neat manner. The teams:

Imperials — Hunt, Shephard.

REDSHIRTS HOLD TORONTO TO TIE

ONLY GOAL IS OFFSIDE.

TORONTO, March 2. — With the O.H.A. finals as their common objective, Nationals and Newmarket Juniors, after battling through 60 minutes of hockey, had made no headway last night. The occasion was the first of the O.H.A. semi-finals, and the teams will enter the return game next Saturday afternoon on even terms as a result of a goalless draw.

Witnessed by 5,500 fans, one of the largest crowds to attend a junior match this season, the game was not a thrilling affair, but it had the fans on edge throughout. Both played careful hockey, covering up well around the net, but at that the opposing goalkeepers had to rise to great heights to prevent what looked like sure tallies on numerous occasions.

The youthful Sea Fleas made a great stand against their heavier and highly touted opponents, and got at least an even break on the play. The powerful Red Shirts were, perhaps, below their usual form, but last night's display augers well for the return game, which should supply 60 minutes of thrilling hockey.

Only Goal is Offside.

Only one goal was scored during the contest, that by Nationals, but it was called back for offside amid mingled cheering and jeering. Cy Allan, who loomed up as the outstanding performer for Nationals, was the marksman, slamming home the rebound from George Parsons' shot. Allan, however, was offside when Parsons shot, and Referee Johnny Mitchell had sounded his bell before the goal was scored. To the majority of those in attendance it seemed a perfect goal, but Mitchell was perfectly right in his ruling.

The feature of the game was the work of Ginger Hall and Forder, the opposing goalkeepers. Both were right on edge throughout, and they needed to be, for shots were "labelled" time and again. Both were fortunate on several drives, but they overshadowed this with their brilliant work.

Newmarket, although treating the fans to many fancy plays, were not "clicking." Their shots were not "on" in the same manner as in previous games, but this can probably be accounted for by the persistent checking of the Sea Fleas, who are exponents at the art of back-checking.

QUAKERS TO MEET DELISLE.

SASKATOON, March 2.—(C.P.)—Saskatoon Quakers will meet Delisle, Southern Division titlist, in the play-off for the Saskatchewan senior hockey championship. In a game that went 30 minutes overtime, the Quakers defeated Prince Albert Mintos 3-1 last night to capture the Northern division title. Jim Dewey scored the winning tally near the close of the third extra session.

(By C. J. P.)

The big intermediate hockey tournament starts tonight at the Brock at eight bells. Two games will be run off, probably in fifteen minute periods. Campbellford, Cobourg, Port Hope and the Petes are the teams, and a draw will settle which outfit plays which. The two winning squads tangle in the tourney final here at 8.30 tomorrow evening. Don't kid yourselves, fans, and miss tonight's games as we have a hunch there'll be plenty of fun. All good teams, with Cobourg unknown here this year, though they licked Campbellford by one goal not long ago. Should be a lot of fast hockey of O.H.A. calibre.

* * * * * *

That was a smart E.P.L. playoff game up there last night. It ended 2-1 for Norwood and again ties up the series. Just a second till we take time out to slap ourself on the back for predicting five close games in this series! The first was thrown out because of a protest, so doesn't count. The next one ended in a 1-1 tie. Then, Carters licked 'em right in Norwood, 3-2; and last night Norwood walloped the Truckmen here by a lone marker. If this isn't a close playoff series, it'll do till one comes along. They meet next in Norwood Friday.

* * * * * *

After turning in a fine performance in the net last night (and all through the series so far), Foley had to muff one that is ordinarily soft pickings for him. Bill Calladine hoisted one from outside defence and it got through Tommy, and this proved the winner. At that, Norwood should have had more as they had more chances but booted them. The last five minutes must have seemed like a week to the Combines as the Payne crew ganged up on them. But thy couldn't balance it again.

* * * * * *

We liked the fast boring-in style used by the Norwood second line, and also by the Carter second line. They checked their heads off and never let the other side get on-balance, it appeared. Rogers is undoubtedly a skating fool and gives the opposition the jitters when he opens up. He and Williams tangled in a rough-and-tumble once, and Referee Sabatino forgot to ring the bell but began prying them apart, while the play went merrily on at the other end of the rink. He made a good job of the bell-handling.

* * * * * *

Alex Kempt's team was handicapped somewhat by the absence of Fred Cripps and Pat Calladine. The former is out the rest of the season, having torn some ligaments in his left hand in the recent game in Norwood. Pat just didn't show up, being out of town, we heard. Some bird from the visitors bailiwick had a trumped and, parked over in the reserved-seat section, was Foster Hewitting the game throughout. Giving a running account. They say he pulls it all the time in Norwood. Funny for a while, but gets tiresome.

* * * * * *

Out at All Saints' rink last night, Maroons and All Saints met in the third game of their west End Intermediate League playoffs, the Saints winning 2 to 0 for the title. Practically every game in this loop all season has ended in a close score, whether the tussles were run off here or in Keene. Quite a few good pucksters were seen on the different lineups and it's been quite a successful season all through for this new-born circuit. They played for the Grafton Cup.

* * * * * *

Westclox Juniors and "Y" Seniors are topping their respective sections of the Girls' Basketball League but the races are plenty close these days. They run two more weeks and then the playoffs commence. It's first and second teams of each division in the finals, and that's when the real fun may be seen. The gals play classy basketball every Friday e'en, and quite a few fans take 'em in. More would probably go but they're a bit bashful about ambling into the Y.W.C.A. Standing and Friday schedule appears elsewhere today.

* * * * * *

And in the City Cage Loop games at the Y.M.C.A. last eve, C.G.E. took a smart 40-36 win over Capitals, while in the second fixture Imperials were dressed to a fare-thee-well by Riley and Hickey's the score being 40 to 24—if you must have the sordid details. One thing, no one can say these loop players don't "hoop" things up when they jog out on the floor for their semi-weekly games. The schedule for this five-team group will be run one of these days.

Local sport followers may see three interesting films of the last Olympic Games, held in Los Angeles last summer, free gratis at the Capital Theatre Friday e'en at six. They're Fox sound pictures, and shown through the courtesy of W. A. Fry of Dunnville who later in the evening addresses the Kiwanis Club on "Canada at Los Angeles", the local Kiwanis Club and the Capital Theatre. No admission charge should help fill the house.

Grab-bag: The talk is that N.H.L. rules will prevail in the O.H.A. next winter . . . . Machine Shop and Switchgear, C. G. E. finalists, meet in the final game at the Brock Saturday at two bells . . . . Machinists took the first, 3-1; no collection at this return meeting . . . . Eddie Wright saw Newmarket and Nationals play their 0-0 junior game in Toronto last night . . . . "Mighty smart hockey," says Eddie, "both teams played carefully, but I think Newmarket can take . . . . Don't forget that water polo and swimming exhibition at the "Y" Saturday night . . . . Examiner All-Stars were blotted out by a 10-3 cloud in Keene yester eve . . . . "They use last year's rules and being forward-pass experts, we didn't have a chance" is the alibi of our office friends . . . . With the closed season for referee-panning here, we hardly know who to go gunning for next.

GRUDGE FIGHTS IN TOURNAMENT

STARTS TO-NIGHT.

The Petes' Intermediates are on the "spot" in the hockey tournament being held to-night and Friday at the Brock. Every one of the other outfits, Cobourg, Campbellford, and Port Hope, are out to defeat the locals, and carrying a grudge. Regardless of what team the Petes meet to-night, they'll have a battle, and it may be a rough one. And if the Blue and Whites won this first game, they must meet one of the other teams in the final to-morrow. So the Wright squad is sure of one, and maybe two, gruelling games in which no mercy will be shown.

Campbellford has the worst grudge. They dropped a game by one goal here early in the season, and the Petes were supposed to return the compliment. But the few open nights the locals had once the O.H.A. season got under way found Campbellford without ice. Add to that, the fact that the Petes laid on the gad a little harder here than the Maroons did, and it can be seen where the husky Hydro bunch, led by the Ingrams and Davis, will be stepping into the Petes high, wide and handsome to-night if they clash. Cobourg blames Peterborough to some extent for keeping them out of the O.H.A. this year, as they used two Belleville players. However, the Petes did not make a kick in this matter, and are making no promises of what they'll do to the classy Cobourg crew—Belleville imports and all—should they tangle. Port Hope is sore at the way the locals eased them out of the picture, and led by their 240-pound fighting defenceman, Harwood, feel they can jolt the Petes into a loss right here, if they meet.

Regardless of the teams which are drawn against each other, two smart O.H.A. intermediate games will be the result, and a number of out-of-town fans is expected to swell the crowd at the Brock this evening. The winning players on the final team to survive the tourney on Friday night get wrist watches.

167 Racquet Players In Montreal Tourney

MONTREAL, March 2 (C.P.) — One hundred and sixty-seven contestants from Moose Jaw to the Maritimes, comprising one of the largest total entry lists in the history of the tournament, to-day started play in the opening rounds of the Canadian badminton championships at the Montreal Badminton and Squash Club.

A practically complete new slate of titleholders will be decided when the competition finishes Saturday as all five titles are defended. Four of the championships were won last year by Pacific Coast shuttlecock and racquet wielders who were unable to make the trip east. Miss Marguerite Delage, of Quebec City, will defend her portion of the women's doubles crown, but her partner of last year, Miss Marjorie Barrow, of Quebec, will not compete.

Petes Are Selected To Play Port Hope

The draw for to-night's hockey tournament was made to-day with the result that Port Hope plays Peterborough, and Cobourg meets Campbellford to-night. The first game will start at eight o'clock, followed by the other, shorter periods being run off. The teams will toss-up to see which game goes on first. Winners will meet in the finals at 8.30 to-morrow night.

GOODNIGHT STORIES

By Max Trell

There was a boy
His name was Zizz;
Has anyone else
Got a name like his?
—Shadow Song.

The shadow children—Mij, Flor, Hanid, Yam and Knarf—were finding that it was anything but easy to discover what a "Jigger" looked like, or where it lived. Have you ever seen a "Jigger"? If you have, I wish you'd let the shadow children know, unless, of course, they should happen to find the "Jigger" today.

Mrs. Cuckoo, who lived atop of the clock, told the five shadows to go to her friend Mr. G. Winnigers (you know him, or you may have used his name). Mr. Winnigers would tell them how to find Mr. Thingum Bob (you may know him, too). After they found Mr. Thingum Bob, they would be told how to get to see a "Jigger."

Meet Mr. G. Winnigers.

Well, it took the shadows quite a while to find Mr. G. Winnigers, but finally they did find him sitting behind the ash tray in the parlor.

"Will you tell us where to find Thingum Bob?" Hanid asked.

"Thingum Bob . . . h'm just let me see," Mr. G. Winnigers answered. "He's not living where he used to any more. He just moved."

"Where did he move to?" the shadow girl wanted to know.

"You'd better ask Mr. Whozzis. He knows Thingum Bob better than I do."

"Where did he used to live?" Knarf broke in.

Mr. G. Winnigers scratched his head. At length he said: "I've clean forgotten. Suppose you go and ask Mrs. Whatzzername."

So there was nothing else for the shadows to do but to go to Mr. Whozzis and then to Mrs. Watzzername and try to find out where Mr. Thingum Bob used to live and where he had just moved to. Finally they learned that Mr. Thingum Bob kept moving every five minutes or so. Now he lived in one house, now he lived in another. Sometimes he didn't live in any house at all. Imagine trying to find such a at all. Imagine trying to find person.

Mr. Thingum Bob, Himself!

Do you know where the shadows found Mr. Thingum Bob? They found him walking under an umbrella, out in the rain. It was so dark that they couldn't see this face. However, they asked Mr. Thingum Bob where they could find a "Jigger," and Mr. Thingum Bob replied that there were "Jiggers" all over the place, but what kind of a "Jigger" did they want to find?

"Any kind," Knarf told him.

"In that case, there's a 'Jigger lives inside the doorbell," Thingum Bob answered. "It makes the bell ring. Just push the doorbell and you'll hear the bell ring. Then you'll know that the 'Jigger' is there, making it ring."

The shadows thanked Mr. Thingum Bob, and ran right over the doorbell. Knarf was about to push the button when Hanid exclaimed in a whisper: "You mustn't ring it now. It's too late at night. We'll have to wait until the morning." But Knarf wouldn't wait until the morning. So he pushed the button.

For Friday, March 3.

According to the planetary configurations bearing rule on the affairs of this day things may be but fairly active as relates to business or commercial interests, but the high lights will be noticeable in the realm of domestic, affectional, social or artistic pursuits or avocations. It is probable that romantic affairs may claim exclusive attention, with possibly much in the way of ardent correspondence, but a wee note of warning might be sounded lest discretion be cast to the winds and some serious complications ensue. A child born on this day may be gay, companionable, fond of pleasure and society, possibly to the overlooking of more sober interests in life. But it is well endowed for artistic, social and romantic achievements in creative lines, and may have literary talent or musical inclinations.

JOHN BAIN DEAD IN WOODSTOCK

One of Founders of the Bain Wagon Works of That City.

WIDELY KNOWN FIGURE.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., March 1.—(C.P.). — John A. Bain, one of the most widely known figures in the industrial and municipal life of Woodstock, died to-day. He was in his 81st year and was one of the founders of the Bain Wagon Works of this city, which later became a unit in the Massey-Harris organization.

During his lengthy career in Woodstock, Mr. Bain served on many municipal bodies. In his younger days he was noted as a baseball player, spending two seasons as a member of the Milwaukee professional team.

Mr. Bain was married 50 years ago to Esther J. Kale, Rock Island, Ill, who survives him, along with one daughter, Miss Esther Belle Bain, Woodstock, and three sons, William George Bain, Detroit, James a Bain, Woodstock, Harold Bain, London.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lord were entertained at a farewell party held in Fletcher's Hall on Tuesday evening. The party was sponsored by their friends and neighbors, and making the evening's entertainment about 150 gathered and assisted in a success.

Cards and dancing made up the program, music for dancing being provided by Messrs. H. Moncrief, E. Stewart, E. Sanderson, R. Atchison, E. Wood and others.

A fine demonstration of step-dancing was staged by Messrs S. Fry and M. Guyatte, which won a hearty round of applause from the gathering.

During the program Mr. Reginald Perrin read an address, which expressed the feeling of regret which the residents of the vicinity felt in losing Mr. and Mrs. Lord and family from the community. The presentation of a purse of money was made by Mrs. H. C. Howson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lord leave this week for their new home on a farm near Peterborough.

"Your dresses always look so fresh and new—what cleaning bills you must have!"

"Not a bit of it! I'm washing them all in LUX—

"—even my nicest silk dresses wash perfectly this way—"

"I used to be afraid to wash silk dresses, but so many girls told me how safe Lux is for even the loveliest frocks, that I decided to try. I began with a printed silk, first testing a piece in clear water to be sure it wouldn't run. The dress came out marvellously! The colours didn't fade the least bit and the dress seemed fresher and sweeter than it did after cleaning. You know Lux takes out all horrid perspiration and odours—and that's a big problem nowadays.

"Now I'm Luxing all my sweaters and my knitted things, too. I can tell you Lux saves me a lot."

MILLIONS OF WOMEN are saving money and keeping their dresses sparkling new with gentle Lux. It has none of the harmful alkali often found in ordinary soaps—cakes, powders or chips. Lux keeps colours and delicate fabrics like new!

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Boils So Bad Could Not Work

Mr. Wm. Davydake, Success, Sask., writes:—"Three years ago I was troubled with boils which were so bad I could not work.

A friend told me my blood must be bad and advised me to take Burdock Blood Bitters. I didn't know any medicine could put such a sudden stop to such misery, as one bottle put the boils to an end."

ALL SAINTS WIN GRAFTON TROPHY

Saints Shut Out Maroons 2-0 in Third Game of West-end League Play-offs.

All Saints won the intermediate championship and the Grafton Cup in the third game of the West End Hockey League play-offs at All Saints' rink last night, shutting out Maroons, 2 to 0. Both teams had previously won a game by a close margin. It was a close, classy fixture from start to finish, with little difference seen between these well-matched and strong squads. C. Frost and D. McCulloch were the Saints' marksmen, while the players of both sides all turned in a fine performance from goalies out. The teams:

All Saints—Goal, J. Hope; defence, R. Frost and Saunders; centre, Worsencroft; wings, McCulloch and Oyer; alternates, Hughes, C. Frost and Goodson.

Referee—G. Webb.

CURLING

A return of milder weather caused a postponement of the Sturgeon Consolation Cup curling semi-finals that were to have been played this morning at Charlotte Street Curling Rink.

Last evening the preliminary round and a portion of the first round of the Vice-Skips' Bonspiel was played. Weather permitting, play in this important annual event will be resumed to-night.

Results of last night's games were as follows: Preliminary Round—O. McGill 13 vs. W. Garrow 5; J. T. Braund 15 vs. T. A. McKay 7; B. W. Harvey 9 vs. R. P. Best 8; W. Nugent 10 vs. T. Holyman 9; S. A. Lowe 11 vs. H. J. White 4; C. H. Williamson 7 vs. G. Robertson 8; A. W. Archibald 12 vs M. Comstock 10.

First Round.—A. W. Archibald 11 vs. A. C. Gray 6; B. L. Barns won by default from S. T. Medd; A. B. Gates 11 vs. J. W. Mayneord 8; C. G. Graham won by default from J. R. Marshall.

At seven o'clock to-night the remainder of the games in the first round will be played (weather conditions permitting). The following rinks are slated to take the ice. O. McGill vs. J. T. Braund; W. M. Lang vs. B. W. Harvey; W. Nugent vs. S. A. Lowe; W. E. Taylor vs. G. Robertson.

Second Round (9 p.m.).—Winners of the seven o'clock draw also: A. W. Archibald vs. B. L. Barns; A. B. Gates vs. C. G. Graham.

PROBE PLANNED INTO CURRENCY

New Tariff Body Will Make Study of Empire Money Issues.

DIFFICULT TASK.

OTTAWA, Mar. 2.—Already recognized as having been awarded a burden of the gravest responsibility in determining domestic tariff levels and in fixing a basis of "fair competition" for United Kingdom manufacturers in the Canadian market, the Canadian tariff board, headed by Mr. Justice Sedgewick, is to be charged with a study of the effect of depreciated currencies upon the Imperial Economic Conference agreements.

With the exception of Canada all the important trading areas of the Empire are off the gold standard and even off the "sound money" policy the Canadian Government is zealously guarding. The effect has been extremely detrimental to Canadian export interests and has negatived materially the benefits which Canada otherwise would have reaped under the agreements.

Presumably the tariff board is to be asked to weigh the balance between the benefit to trade and the injury to Canadian governmental and corporate interests effective by the current fiscal policy, which any program for bringing Canadian exchange into line with that of other Empire countries would entail.

It is a problem the Imperial Conference itself and later Canadian Treasury officials have been unable to solve and any light the tariff board may be able to shed upon it will be welcomed.

French Red Devils Hold Madison Lead

NEW YORK, March 2 (C.P.). — Alfred Letourner and Gerard Debaets, the Red Devil team of France, went into the lead of the Madison Square Garden six-day bicycle race last night. At the 83rd hour to-day they still maintained their one-lap advantage over the three pairs tied for second.

Georgetti-Severgnini, McNamara-Horan, and Deulberg-Wissel were the teams tied for the second position.

Two laps behind the leaders and tied with four other pairs for third place followed the Canadian duo of Jules Audy, Montreal, and Torchy Peden, Victoria, B.C.

The early morning sprints gave the 12,000 fans plenty of thrills and japs were stolen with reckless abandon. There were no spills, however.

Bluebird Is Capable Of More 300 M.P.H.

NEW YORK, March 2.—(A.P.)—Sir Malcolm Campbell, who has travelled over the ground faster than any other human being, is bound home from his record speed trials a wiser but by no means a sadder man.

Sir Malcolm was not satisfied wth his more than 272 miles an hour over the Daytona Beach sands and hopes to come back next year to raise that mark, but he was clearly pleased with what he had learned. His nine year old, much-rebuilt car, Bluebird, is capable of more than 300 miles an hour he said and he intends to give the "old girl" a chance to prove it.

"I've learned a tremendous lot this time about high speed driving," the calm, blue-eyed Englishman explained, "more than ever before, and the most impressive thing to me is the fact that we really know so little about it. There is no limit to the speed that can ultimately be attained by any automobile under perfect conditions."

Indoor Bowling

A mixed tournament will be held at the club house this Thursday evening. The first thirty-two will have the get-away. Visitors are welcome. Games begin at 7.15.

REGINA HOLDS LEAD

REGINA, March 2 (C.P.)—Scoring five goals in the final period to win by 6—0, Regina Aces to-day had a convincing lead over Moose Jaw Maroons in the first game of the Southern Saskatchewan Senior Hockey League playoff. It is a two-out-of-three series, the next game at Moose Jaw Friday night. Nicholson and Sinven were the high scorers, each collecting a pair, while Rae and Bill Gilhooly finished the scoring bee.

HALIFAX TO MEET ST. HELEN'S.

LONDON, March 2 (C.P. Cable). —Halifax Town and St. Helen's will meet in the third round of the English Rugby League Cup March 11 as a result of second round victories to-day.

Halifax defeated Keighley 10-0, and St. Helen's beat Hunslet 14-3.

DALADIER GIVEN EDGE ON VOTE

LEON BLUM RESIGNS.

PARIS, March 1 (C.P.).—Premier Edouard Daladier's Government was accorded a comfortable majority in Parliament early to-day in getting through provisional credits for this month.

His Government survived the same issue that brought the downfall of his predecessor, Joseph Paul-Boncour, last January 31.

The Senate adopted the measure by a 200 to 88 vote after the Chamber of Deputies passed it, 334 to 250.

The session brought the resignation of the veteran Leon Blum as leader of the Socialist Party, however, because of defections of some of his forces from supporting Daladier. Socialists' bolts from the majority also caused overthrows of both Paul-Boncour and Herriot in the past two and one-half months.

RADIO NOTES

By R. H. CHILDERHOSE of City Radio Service.

Records can be made at home on many of the new radio phonograph combination sets. The machine is equipped with a microphone, and by singing, talking, or playing before it, a special needle records it on a blank, full-size, records disk. It can be re-played innumerable times with the same needle. Some sets permit you to record a program or speech as it is being received over the radio.

Ed.—Mr Childerhose will be glad to answer any questions asked by radio fans. If you have any trouble just drop a note to Mr Childerhose in care of The Examiner.

U.S. CASH POURS ACROSS BORDER TO FALLS BANKS

30 NOW AFFECTED.

Uneasiness of Americans Seen in Upward Surge of Pound, Canadian Dollar.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 3 (C.P.).—Money to-day continued to flow across the Niagara River from Niagara Falls, N.Y., to banks in this city. Chief of Police Dart has not taken any special precautions regarding the influx. It is said no special protection has been asked.

Bank officials would give little information on the extent of deposits.

Local banks take money across the river when necessary in ordinary automobiles, but American institutions bring money here in armored cars heavily guarded by policemen with guns.

In some cases depositors coming across have been accompanied by guards, but generally the deposits are being made by persons singly. One man is said to have brought $65,000 to-day, driving alone in his own car to a local branch.

30 States Affected

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—(CP)—Members of the United States Senate and House of Representatives worked feverishly today fashioning legislation to check the spread of hysteria seizing depositors in nearly all states. Thirty states have now taken action of some sort to protect banks and depositors.

A variety of bills designed to deal with the problem were put forth in both branches of congress today.

Measures in the senate to deal with the situation would allow the comptroller of the currency power to limit withdrawals from banks in the District of Columbia.

A special meeting of the house banking committee was called to consider it. The nature of the legislation to be considered was not given at the time the call was made and some members gained the impression the legislation to be considered was a national measure of a different character.

Senate Measures

Other measures in the senate would allow postal savings chequeing accounts, and empower the incoming president and the comptroller of the currency to take such steps as they considered necessary to secure bank deposits.

The first senate measure was proposed by Bill (D. Wash). Under it, chequeing accounts would be limited to $5,000 per person or corporation and no interest would be paid. A tax of two cents would be levied on each cheque to help cover administrative costs.

The latest federal reserve statement revealed a record breaking volume of credit—$585,000,000—had been poured into money markets. Apprehension abroad was reflected by the reduction of the United States gold reserves by some $226,310,000 for foreign earmarking.

Upward surge of the Canadian dollar and the pound sterling indicated uneasiness of Americans themselves as the strength of these British currencies was attributed in part to the purchase of Canada dollars and sterling in New York by United States investors.

CUTS IN SALARY TOTAL $11,293 IN CITY HALL

Reductions Mean Over One-half Mill on the Tax Rate.

LIST IS SECURED.

Cuts Will Mean More as Outside Men Are Also Reduced.

Reductions made in the salaries and allowances to city employees by the Finance Committee of the City Council on Wednesday night mean a total saving to the taxpayers of $11,293 over the 1931 schedule, and over half a mill on tax rate.

This was disclosed to-day when The Examiner secured a complete payroll of the city employees. However, the reduction is really greater than this because workmen at the Sewage Disposal plant and of the Board of Works were reduced also but do not appear on this list because they are not appointed to their jobs by motion or bylaw of the Council.

The salary list follows:

	Salary.	Salary as Reduced.
City Clerk	$3,000.00	$2,550.00
Assistant	1,700.00	1,487.50
Stenographer .	1,100.00	990.00

JEHOL DEFENSE BREAKS BEFORE NIPPON ADVANCE

Troops Defending Capital Said to Have Mutinied—City in Chaos.

FALL MATTER OF HOURS.

Peiping, in China Proper, Held Next Japanese Goal by Foreign Observers.

(By James A. Mills.)

CHINCHOW, Manchuria, March 3 (C.P.). — A picture of utter collapse of what is left of China's hold on Jehol Province, with its troops revolting and leaders fleeing, was brought to-day to this Japanese headquarters in military and press dispatches.

Major-General Tadashi Kawahara, continuing the Japanese advance on Jehol City after capturing Pingchuan, only 60 miles eastward this morning, asserted the capital's fall was only a matter of hours.

Despite a blizzard, his troops relentlessly continued their drive, while Japanese reports said Chinese troops in Jehol City have mutinied, and that the city was in chaos.

General Tang Yu-Lin, Governor of Jehol, is missing, and Chang Tso-Hsiang and Wan Fu-Lin, sent to Jehol by Marshal Chang Hsso-Lsing, North China War Lord, to command the defence, suddenly departed for Peiping in defiance of orders, these reports said.

Despite the snow, two Japanese airplanes were reported to have scouted the capital and confirmed reports that troops were pouring through the city, many heading for the passes in the Great Wall to China proper.

Wide Conquest in Week.

The rapid swing of the Japanese over the greater part of the province in little more than a week has left only a small south-western slice of Jehol for the defense of Peiping.

The former Imperial capital, now the seat of the North China government, is believed by foreign observers to be the next objective of the Japanese. They believe Japan must inevitably take Peping less than 50 miles south of the Jehol border, because it controls the main highway from the south into the province which is now practically in Japanese hands.

Pingchuan, 50 miles due east of Jehol city, and the last important town aside from the capital which the Chinese held, was captured by the Japanese this forenoon. Another Japanese force which was approaching Jehol city from the north, was last reported still at Chihfeng, 92 miles northward.

C.N.R. EARNINGS.

MONTREAL, March 3.—(C.P.)—Gross earnings of Canadian National Railways for the week ending Feb. 28, were $2,224,716 as compared with $3,107,766 for the corresponding period of 1932, a decrease of $883,048.

ALDERMEN REFUSE TO ATTEND MEETINGS OF HOSPITAL BOARD

Ald. Macdonald Tells Finance Committee They Can Appoint Another Man.

McNABB WANTS APOLOGY.

William Green's resignation as tax collector of the city after 33 years in that office was accepted last evening by the Finance Committee of the City Council. No one was appointed in Mr. Green's place, but a sub-committee was appointed to bring in a report recommending the proper action to the committee.

Although there was a motion to reconsider the discharge of Jack Thirnbeck as street inspector, the motion failed to pass the committee. However, it was stated that Mr Thirnbeck whenever his services are needed would receive a wage of 46 cents an hour.

Refuse to Attend

"I will not attend any meetings of the Nicholls Hospital Board until they make an apology to me." was the declaration of Alderman J. A. McNabb, when criticized by Alderman Tuggey for not attending the Board's meetings. Alderman Tuggey declared that not only Alderman McNabb but he himself had been charged by the Board with giving secret information to the Council. Alderman Macdonald also stated he had no intention of attending the Hospital Board's meetings, and when told he should, re-

RUMOR BOSTON MAYOR AMASSADOR TO ITALY

BOSTON, March 3 (A.P.). — The Boston Globe says it has learned that Mayor James M. Curley of Boston has decided to accept the office of United States Ambassador to Italy, "informally offered him by President-elect Roosevelt."

The paper says formal tender of the post will be made shortly after the new administration is in office and that the Mayor will give immediate acceptance.

About two years ago Mayor Curley was made a commandatore of the Order of the Crown of Italy by King Victor Emmanuel.

Campbell Wishes Course in Canada To Better Record

TORONTO, March 3 (C.P.). —Sir Malcolm Campbell, speed king, has his eye on Canada for the next assault upon the land speed record. Sir Malcolm makes it plain he will run again if a suitable course can be found, and has in mind particularly the prairie section of Western Canada. In a letter written in New York to Captain C. D. Browne of this city, Sir Malcolm writes:

"I do wish you would endeavor to ascertain whether it would be possible to find a suitable track somewhere in Canada where an attempt at the world's land speed record could be made. The course should be level and the track should be absolutely smooth, and the distance required would be 12 miles.

"I have run on sand many times and on hard-baked mud in South Africa, and I thought it should be possible to find a course somewhere in the Prairie which could be made suitable at a comparatively small cost."

CANADA IN 1932 HELD 4TH PLACE BRITISH MARKET

Climbed From 12th in 1931 Against Competition of World Nations.

VALUE UP 31 P.C.

United States, Argentine, Australia Three Best British Customers.

OTTAWA, March 3 (C.P.)—Canada in 1932 occupied fourth place among the nations with her products in the British market. In 1931 this Dominion was in twelfth place.

Commenting upon the spectacular progress which Canada has made in selling her commodities in the greatest market of the world, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, said: "When the present government came into office about two and a half years ago we found that some of our greatest markets had been closed against us. Our task was to find new avenues of trade for the disposal of our products. We have found them, and we are consolidating and building up our new trade routes.

"The rapid advance we have made in the British market is most encouraging. It is a market for which there is assurance of continuity, a possibility of complete co-operation.

Brilliant Showing

"In one year the British imports from Canada have increased over 31 per cent in the value and much more in volume, no other country of the world has made so magnificent a showing in that direction. Many other countries have suffered heavy declines in the British import trade. Amongst the greatest trading nations only Australia and Canada recorded increased imports by Great Britain, that of Canada being the greatest increase of all.

"In 1931 the order was: United States, Germany, Argentine, Denmark, Australia, France, New Zealand, British India, Irish Free State, Netherlands, Belgium, Canada. In 1932 the order was United States, Argentine, Australia, Canada, Denmark, New Zealand, British India, Germany, Irish Free State, Netherlands, France, Belgium."

DETROIT POLICE BATTLE PICKETS

Hurl 50 Gas Bombs Before Crowd is Finally Subdued.

AT BRIGGS PLANT.

DETROIT, March 3 (A.P.). — A squad of Detroit patrolmen, called to quell an uprising of picketers, said by officials to number more than 150, at the Mack Avenue plant of the Briggs Manufacturing Company, to-day threw 50 tear gas bombs before they reported the crowd finally was subdued.

Reports to police headquarters said one patrolman and several picketers were slightly injured.

Robert Barrow, one of the captains in the picket lines, said the crowd was trying to break into the plant to reach workmen, who were throwing stones at them from the upper windows of the plant. He said the men were trying to scale a fence surrounding the plant when police reserves arrived.

Policemen, tossing tear gas bombs and mounted patrolmen drove the crowd away from the gates and restored order.

The picketers were allowed to return to the streets, where they began a march about the plant.

A strike at the Briggs plant was reported ended several weeks ago, when 6,000 men returned to work. Pickets, however, have been active at the plant since that time.

CHIEF JUSTICE FRANCIS ANGLIN TAKEN BY DEATH

Succumbs in Ottawa Two Days After Retirement From Bench.

ILL OVER TWO YEARS.

Distinguished Legal Career Opened in Ontario Courts.

OTTAWA, Mar. 3—After an illness that extended over a period of two years, interfering at frequent intervals with his judicial duties, and two days after his resignation as Chief Justice of Canada became effective, Rt. Hon. F. A. Anglin died at his home yesterday afternoon. He would have been 68 years old next month.

Two weeks ago, after a courageous fight with increasing ill-health, the late Chief Justice visited the Prime Minister and tendered his resignation, effective February 26. Bench and bar of Canada joined at that time in expressing admiration for the gallant fight made by the veteran jurist, and regret at his retirement.

The end was not unexpected and all the immediate family attended at the bedside during the last moments. Margaret Anglin Hull, noted actress and a sister of the former Chief Justice, had been in attendance for some time.

Relatives Present

Others present at the death-bed included Mrs. Anglin, the widow of the deceased; Mrs. C. A. Gray, a daughter, and her husband; Mrs. (Col.) L. P. Sherwood, a daughter, and her husband; Edward A. Anglin, a son; and Arthur W. Anglin, K.C., Toronto, a brother.

Francis Alexander Anglin occupied one of the highest offices in Canada, yet was the least advertised public man in the country. Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada, on different occasions Acting Governor-General, a member of the Privy Council, the highest judicial body in the Empire—despite these honors he led a retiring life, happy in the companionship of his many close friends.

EIGHT GUILTY IN KIDNAPPING

Kept Fishmonger Suspected in Lindbergh Case in Mountain Cabin 2 Months.

LAST SUMMER.

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Mar. 3. (AP) Eight men charged with kidnapping Garrett Schenck, Hopewell, N.J., fishmonger, and holding him prisoner as a suspect in the Lindbergh case, were convicted to-day.

John J. Devine, a private detective who brought the fish peddler to a mountain cabin near Dubois; Roy Cummings, Frank Shugarts and Avery Connors were convicted of kidnapping and conspiracy to kidnap.

Reuben Rak Straw, Edward Benshose, Paul Cupp and Charles Horner were convicted of conspiracy to kidnap.

The jury recommended mercy for Shugarts.

The defendants were accused of luring Shenck from his home near the Lindbergh's Hopewell, N.J. estate and holding him prisoner in a mountain cabin near Dubois from June 10 to September 3, last year.

Devine testified he believes he would have "cleared up" the Lindbergh kidnapping mystery within two weeks if Schenck hod not been liberated. He added the fish peddler would have been involved in the solution.

1238 Known Dead Hundreds Missing Quake Adds Havoc

Sudden Wall Of Sea Waters Crashes Along 300 Miles Of Shoreline, Blotting Out Scores Of Villages—Earth Shocks Drive Thousands Into Chill Streets.

DAMAGE TOTALS MILLIONS OF DOLLARS ARMY RUSHES FOOD, MEDICAL SUPPLIES.

TOKYO, March 3 (C.P.). — More than 1,200 persons are known to have been killed in the earthquake, tidal wave, and fire which devastated a 300-mile section of the north-eastern seaboard of Konshu Island, largest of the Japanese Archipelago, early this morning.

The full extent of the casuaties had not been determined at eleven o'clock to-night, but the Governor of the province of Iwate, which suffered most heavily, reported that 1,119 lives had been lost in Iwate alone, mostly north of Miyako, a sea-coast town 300 miles north-east of Tokyo.

The total number of dead rose to 1,238, with reports from the provinces of Miyagi, Aomori, and Hokkaido. Miyagi is on the east coast south of Iwate Province. Aomori is the province at the northern end of Honshu Island. Hokkaido is a smaller island north of Honshu.

It was estimated the epicentre of the earthquake was 125 miles south-west of Kinkwazan Island which would place it at a spot in the sea about 190 miles north-east of Tokyo

7,930 Homes Lost.

Reports from the provinces most seriously affected said that 7,930 homes had been destroyed by the earthquake and the tidal wave and fire which followed. The tidal wave carried to sea or destroyed 1,570 small boats. Damage was expected to total millions of dollars.

The earthquake drove terrorized populations of 100 communities to the chill streets in the dark when electric currents failed.

The army sent an engineer battalion, two cavalry regiments, food, medical supplies and blankets to the afflicted districts.

The few schools and temples still standing in Kamaishi were converted into hospitals. Food distribution committees were formed.

SINCLAIR MISSES CAUCUS.

TORONTO.—Mitchell Hepburn, M.P., Ontario Liberal leader, was in caucus with Liberal members of the Ontario Legislature to-day, but W. E. N. Sinclair, K.C., House leader of the party, was not present. Considerable significance was attached to the meeting in view of conflicting reports on relations between Mr. Hepburn and Mr. Sinclair, followed by indications of close co-operation between Mr. Hepburn and Harry Nixon, Progressive leader in the House.

PETER VERIGIN HEADS FOR WEST

Accompanied by Representative of Company Said to Have Lands in Mexico.

PLANS UNSTATED.

HALIFAX, March 3 (A.P.)—Peter Verigin, leader of 16,000 Doukhobors, left Halifax to-day for Western Canada, accompanied by S. F. Reiben, his personal secretary, and John McDougall, representative of a colonization company said to have lands available in Mexico for settlers.

The leader's departure closed a stay in Halifax of exactly one month. On February 3 he was brought here from Prince Albert prison for deportation to Russia, but court proceedings were instituted which last Saturday resulted in Verigin's release.

Since that time he has rested here, conferring with McDougall on the proposition to move the colonies to Mexico. He has, however, given no indication as to whether he will ask his disciples to follow him there.

105,300 BACK DRIVE AGAINST BEER BY GLASS

TALK TO PRICE.

Ask Liquor Sales Halted Till Slump Ends—Want Non-Partisan Vote.

TORONTO, Mar. 3.—(CP)— Led by R. S. Rodd, Windsor, president of the Ontario Prohibition Union, 500 prohibitionists today presented to the Ontario government a petition protesting against any move leading to the sale of beer and wine by the glass. The petition bore 105,300 signatures.

Hon. W. H. Price, attorney general, and acting premier in the absence of Hon. George S. Henry, heard speeches by Mr. Rodd and by Rev. A. J. Irwin, secretary of the Union, and promised to convey the petition and the representations to Mr. Henry.

The delegation urged all liquor sales be halted until the depression is ended, and after that a non-partisan vote be taken to determine if the government control system should be retained in Ontario.

With Col. Price was Hon. George Challies, provincial secretary; Hon. W. G. Martin, minister of public welfare and Hon. J. D. Monteith, minister of public works.

Favored by Government

All members of the government knew, he said, the Union was very much and very deeply interested "in curtailing the effects of intemperance. The government stands with you in adopting any means that can be adopted always to curtail these bad effects.

"I am sure," he said, "in the absence of the premier you wouldn't expect me to say anything more than we are interested in the problems. The prime minister and the government are thinking of them all the time.

Liquor sales, according to Mr. Rodd, "have been an important contributing factor to the depression." Canada's exports to Great Britain last year had been $174,000,000, he said, while $173,000,000 had been spent within Canada on liquor, according to latest reports.

"Today we are facing an economic emergency more distressing and dangerous and disturbing than what we faced during the war. "Having regard to that emergency, we have the right to ask our people to subordinate their personal tastes and to subordinate their habits and restrict themselves for the good of the state as a whole."

CIVIL SERVANTS TO GET 2ND CUT

No Official Confirmation of Cut Coming From Price.

SCALE OUTLINED.

TORONTO, March 3.—(C.P.)— A second reduction in Ontario Civil Servants' salaries has been approved by the special budget committee and will come into force as of March 1, it was learned from reliable sources to-day. No official confirmation of the cut was obtainable, Attorney W. H. Price, Acting Premier, declining to comment.

The new scale of reduction, according to the report, is as follows:

Five per cent. on the first $1,000; 10 per cent. on $2,000; 15 per cent. on $3,000; 20 per cent on $4,000, and 25 per cent on $5,000 and over. The first reduction ran from two per cent. up to and including $2,000 to 20 per cent. over $10,000. The government made a saving of about $80,000 on the cut that came into force in January, 1932. With the new scale it is estimated the saving will be probably $200,000.

Economic System Must be Changed Commons is Told

Unemployment Will Never Be Cured Unless Present Economic System Is Changed, C.C.F. Members Declare In House Of Commons.

MACKENZIE KING'S 14-POINT POLICY ATTACKED BY MEMBERS OF NEW PARTY.

OTTAWA, March 3.—(CP)—Unless the economic system is changed unemployment can never be cured, the House of Commons was told last night, as the representatives of Canada's new third party, the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation swung into the discussion of relief.

Several speakers from the "southwest corner" joined in attacking the government's relief policy and the 14-point Liberal policy of recovery expounded the other day by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King. The Liberal leader was charged by A. A. Heaps, (Labor, Winnipeg North) with being indefinite in his reform proposals. He wanted to know whether the proposed central bank would be owned and controlled by the government or by the commercial banks.

The unemployment discussion is in connection with the motion of Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Labor, to extend for another year the operation of the unemployment and farm relief act.

Alfred Speakman (U.F.A. Red Deer) laid the blame for unemployment on the financial system which he described as the weak spot in the present social order. The purpose of finance was to distribute goods In this it had failed although all other branches of human activity, such as production, transportation, and scientific research were functioning well. A new financial and credit system, one which would fulfil its purpose was inevitable.

Shorter Hours

The speech of Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King delivered last week in which he announced a 14-point Liberal policy and attacked the platform of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation was assailed by Mr. Heaps. Urging a 30-hour work week and other social changes, Mr. Heaps seized the first opportunity the members of the C.C.F. have had to launch into a vigorous assault of the position taken by the Liberal leader.

The accusation made by Mr. King that the C.C.F. was taking advantage of the present depression to advance its ideas brought a reply from the Labor member.

"This movement has not created this unrest," said Mr. Heaps. "The unrest has created this movement." He contended that most movements which advanced civilization had started in periods of unrest.

His suggestions to meet the situation were to give all the unemployed jobs by reducing the hours of labor to 30 hours a week and increasing the purchasing power by giving the producer a greater portion of the value of the product of his labor.

Humphrey Mitchell (Labor, Hamilton East) urged that steps be taken to ameliorate the conditions of the boys and girls out of work in this country.

Distressing Picture.

A distressing picture of the back-to-the-land movement in the Province of Quebec was drawn to the attention of the House by J. F. Pouliot (Liberal, Temiscouata), speaking on the unemployment relief resolution.

Groups of families on their way to lots assigned to them had been forced to live together like swine in one shack. They had been placed on lots far from roads and others were in such circumstances that in his constituency they had been forced "to eat grass."

The management of the back-to-the-land movement was not in experienced hands in many instances, Mr. Pouliot declared.

Urging that no families be placed on lands which were not actually designated as farm lands and near roads, Mr. Pouliot said the scheme should be turned over to the Trappist Friars, the Cleres de St. Viateur and the Oblate Fathers to carry out. These monks were skilled in colonization.

In 1932 airlines covered a distance of 51,206,000 miles.

There were 520,000 airplane passengers in 1932.

SALVAGE SHIPS LOCATE LINER WITH TREASURE

Italian Divers Prepare to Verify Belief Hold Full of Gold.

BEEN DRAGGING MONTH.

Craft Believed Norwegian Wreck Sunk in World War Off Tunisia.

TUNIS, Tunisia, March 3.—An exciting treasure hunt on the floor of the Mediterranean apparently met with initial success yesterday when Italian salvage ships contacted a sunken liner believed to carry a rich cargo of goal.

The salvage vessels reported they believed the contact was with the Norwegian wreck, Thelys, lost early in the World War. It was but one of dozens sent to the bottom during the struggle, however, and until divers went down to view it they could not be certain.

The crews on the salvage ships Rostro and Cefalo excitedly prepared to go to the bottom in huge diving bells which can sink to 80 fathoms in calm weather.

The first indication of their find came when electric indicators on the bridges of both ships spun crazily, indicating the highly sensitive electric cable swung in a two-mile arc between them as they dragged the sea floor, had struck metal.

Use Modern Methods

The treasure hunters used modern methods in their search. They had been dragging the sea bottom off the coast of Tunis, about 20 miles north of Cape Bon, for the past month.

Their cable swung between the little boats as they moved back and forth over the area in which it was known several liners had been torpedoed. When it struck, cheers went up and the Italian crew looked forward to lives of comparative affluence if they succeed in raising a rich cargo.

The Rostro, which aided the salvage ship Artiglio in recovering millions in sunken gold on the wrecked liner Egypt, off the coast of France a year or so ago, planned to remain and carry out the work of recovering the cargo.

The salvagers had made a deal with the French Government, with Lloyds, the insurance organization, and with the former owners of the wrecked steamers, before starting their search. They staked off the sea with buoys then and began dragging.

The Cefalo and another Italian ship, the Arpione, are to start similar dragging operations in another hunt in the Red Sea, where other ships went down with gold or other precious cargo.

H. B. RYE DENIES EXTRAVAGANCE IN RELIEF WORK

North Monaghan Ratepayers' Association Meets in May's School.

RESIGNED ON PRINCIPLE.

Former Chairman of Relief Board Gives Sumary of His Work.

Publicly replying to rumors regarding his resignation as chairman of the special Relief Committee of North Monaghan, Harold B. Rye told a meeting of the Township Ratepayers' Association in May's School last night that he resigned on principle.

He denied that the Relief Committee under his chairmanship "had been extravagant with the township's funds," and read a detailed statement of relief costs during that time showing that the average daily cost of provisions and milk had been 9.8 cents a person.

Because of the possibility that publication of the reason for his resignation might have far-reaching effects, Mr. Rye said he had decided from the outset not to "broadcast" it.

"But, if I am driven too hard, I'll publish my letter of resignation," he declared.

William Stevens was chairman of the meeting, and John Barnes secretary.

Mr. Rye's Statement.

"Certain stories have been put around the township regarding the Relief Committee when I was chairman," Mr. Rye said, "and I came here to-night to answer them. I don't know where they originated, although I have a suspicion, but if I did know I'd make them prove it. One story was that I was virtually asked to resign because I was too extravagant with the township's funds. The second story was that I quit because there was too much work attached to the position.

If there was any work done at all, Mr. Milby and I were doing it, and I have a record of all the work that was done at that time. In the first place I said I would go on the Committee if the work was to be done without pay. I knew something about what would have to be done, because in the winter of 1916 I handled our relief practically alone, and what I got was a vote of thanks from the Township Council.

Regarding the statement that my regime was too extravagant, I may say that some men in the township were complaining that Rye was pretty stiff. Those reports came to me. The Committee is now defunct, and no one can threw it up to me that I was stiff. I'd like to ask those men if things are any better now?"

Summary of Six Weeks.

Mr. Rye then read a detailed report of the operations of North Monaghan's relief committee while he was chairman, and up to the time of his resignation.

It showed that the average number of families in the township who were receiving relief during those six weeks was 71; the average number of persons, 352; and the aver-

"3-3-33"

TORONTO, Mar. 3. —(CP)— For the first time in more than 11 years, folks who date their communications exclusively with numerals were able today to use the same figure right down the line. Many who marked down "3-3-33" for today's date went into a huddle and found Feb. 22, 1922 was the most recent occasion when one number could do all the work in dating.

The situation carried the memories of the more sentimental "number-daters" back to the thrilling morning in November, 1911, when they discovered three 11's told the story. Few could hope to be on the job the next time such a perfect date rolls around it will be on Oct. 10, 2010—"10-10-10."

British Money Reaches Peak For 1933, Up Five Cents.

CANADIAN DOLLAR 84 1-8.

Banks at Windsor, Niagara Falls Get Sudden New Trade.

NEW YORK, March 3. — In a market marked with unusual activity, the pound sterling steadily rose on New York foreign exchanges yesterday to reach a peak for 1933 of $3.45½ for cables, 5¼ cents higher than Wednesday's close. The Canadian dollar likewise advanced, adding ⅛ cent at 84⅛ cens.

All-Day Upswing.

Sterling started its bull movement at the opening, when it sold 11-16 cent higher than Wednesday's close of $3.41⅛. It continued its upswing for the remainder of the day. The major rise was scored during the afternoon after the London market had closed.

Increase in the gold stock of Great Britain was a reason widely given for sterling's advance. The Bank of England yesterday reported gold reserves of £150,965,000, the highest they have been since July 16, 1931. Total reserves of the bank have increased nearly £4,000,000, to £65,618,000, during the past week.

Some banks here believed United States banking limitations were responsible for a rush to draw home capital from this market by redepositing in Britain.

Foreign Exchanges Irregular

Excepting the strength in sterling and a 12 to 18 point gain in Scandinavians, foreign exchanges were irregular. Swiss francs eased ½, French francs were about steady, while the Belgian and Dutch currencies gained 2 points. German marks eased 2 points.

A factor looked on as lending to the improvement of other currencies as against the American dollar was a United States Federal Reserve statement showing a reduction of $116,000,000 in the country's goal stocks during the week ended March 1. During the past two days the gold stocks have been reduced by just less than $50,000,000, reflecting ear-marking for foreign account.

Brisk at Windsor

WINDSOR, March 3—Substantial increase in bank business from Detroit and other Michigan centres was reported yesterday by Canadian banks in the Border Cities. Demand for safety deposit boxes has been so heavy bank managers in some cases have been unable to meet it, mostly for small holders, for the safe-keeping of cash and securities.

Francis Alexander Anglin occupied one of the highest offices in Canada, yet was the least advertised public man in the country. Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada, on different occasions acting Governor-General, a member of the Privy Council, the highest judicial body in the Empire—despite these honors he led a retiring life, happy in the companionship of his many close friends.

Born In New Brunswick.

Born in Saint John, N.B., April 2, 1865, the future chief justice came in close contact with official Ottawa early in life. His father, Timothy Anglin, was speaker of the House of Commons from 1874 to 1878. The family occupied the speaker's apartments in the parliament buildings and here the boy spent his early teens and here his sister Margaret, who rose to international fame as an actress, was born.

Although never suspected of being a sentimentalist, the chief justice's prized in later life the speaker's chair from which his father presided over the stormy post-Confederation debates in the House of Commons.

Educated at St. Mary's College, Montreal, and Ottawa University, young Anglin foresook his father's profesion of journalism for law. In 1888 he was medallist and honor graduate of the Ontario law school, climaxing a brilliant scholastic record. He set up practice in Toronto, specializing in corporation and civil work. But the young lawyer's mind was not that of the solicitor or advocate. It was judicial. In 1896 when he became clerk of the Surrogate Court of Ontario, he climbed the first rung of the judicial ladder that was to lead to the highest post in Canada. Eight years later he stepped up to the bench and became a puisne judge of the Ontario High Court.

Searching about for suitable candidates for a vacancy on the Supreme Court Bench, Sir Allen Aylesworth, who was Minister of Justice in 1909, selected the Ontario judge and Mr. Justice Anglin transferred his judicial sphere from the province to the Dominion. Fifteen years later, in September 1924, he was appointed to the highest judicial post in the country—Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada, succeeding Sir Louis Davies.

Sheer doggedness was the foundation stone of the Chief Justice's career, and he exhibited preseverance at every turn. His written judgments were models of precise English and no stylist took more care in composition and revision. Sentences and paragraphs were writen and re-writen dozens of times until they assumed the desired effect. His addresses to juries from the Ontario bench became legendary for smooth-flowing exactitude.

Usually Spoke Only Once

The Chief Justice usually spoke only once during an appeal case before him. Brushing aside the legal irrevelancies and fine-drawn arguments, one crucial question would be asked. The answer generally determined the case in the chief justice's mind.

Ostentation had not part in the life of Chief Justice Anglin. When he was first elevated to the Supreme Court, a second-hand desk was in his ofice. It still served him when he was chief justice many years later. He discharged the duties of Canada's supreme magistrate with less pomp and display than a town clerk.

Law was Mr. Anglin's vocation and avocation. Early in life he displayed some musical talent. At that time he serious contemplated music as a career and produced two scores "Salve Regina" and "Ave Verum." But law claimed his affections. Searching musty statutes, legal precedents and court judgments, the lawyer and then the judge gained a knowledge of law possessed by very few Canadians of his generation.

Important Cases

Many famous cases came before the Supreme Court in the years in which Judge Anglin was connected with it. In 1912 he helped to solve the disputed authority over marriage between the Dominion and the provinces. Future prosperity of the west was influenced by his writen judgment in the litigation over the Crow's Nest Pass freight rate agreement. He also wrote the judgment in the reference concerning the proprietorship of mineral wealth in lands surrendered by the Hudson's Bay Company when Rupert's Land and the North-West Territories were ceded to Canada.

In more recent years the chief justice presided over the Supreme Court in the famous "persons" reference—on eligibility of women to sit in the Senate. Other references heard during the years he was chief justice included those to determine the rights of the Dominion and the provinces over navigable waters, radio and aviation.

Among the cases heard by the Privy Council while Chief Justice Anglin was sitting as a member was one referring to compensation for civil servants who had been discharged or retired in consequence of the change in status of the Irish Free State.

Always a devout Catholic Mr. Justice Anglin in 1926 was created Knight Commander of the Order of St. Gregory the Great and in 1930, Knight Grand Cross of the same order. In 1892 he married Harriet I. Fraser, daughter of the late Archibald Fraser of Fraserville, county of Glengarry, Ont. Two sons and three daughters were born to them.

BANK HOLIDAYS NOW COVER 23 OF 48 STATES

Protective Steps of Various Kinds Taken by Eight Governors Yesterday.

NEW YORK MART CALM.

Officials in Conference With Roosevelt—Statement in Near Future.

(By The Associated Press)

Twenty-three States have now taken protective steps of one sort or another in regard to banks and their depositors.

Action ranged from holidays, mandatory or optional, to legislation giving banks power to limit withdrawals if they deemed it necessary.

Holidays of varying duration were declared yesterday or early to-day in eight States—Texas, Washington State, Oregon, Idaho, Arizona, Nevada, Utah and Wisconsin.

At Washington, where United States President-elect F. D. Roosevelt is preparing to put his hand to the helm of State and President Hoover is getting ready to relinquish it, the situation was receiving close attention.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, after conferring with Mr. Roosevelt at the head of a delegation of Democratic Senators, said last night: "A definite statement on the banking situation and other matters will be forthcoming in the near future."

In authoritative quarters it was reported President Hoover was ready either to issue a statement or send a message to Congress cen-

CHICAGO, Mar. 3.—(AP)— Diplomat Louis Fubilo, routed to jail for putting something that wasn't a coin in a telephone, clutched his violin under his arm.

"You can't", said the jailer, "play that thing in here."

"But I must play my favorite tune when I get lonely," the prisoner answered. "Maybe you know it. Its 'When Irish Eyes Are Smiling.'"

The keeper coughed, glanced around and said:

"Well now maybe I did speak a little rough. Go ahead and play when you like."

MASSACRE NEAR GERMAN JEWS

Campaign of Murder May Start Any Minute Says British Press Report.

600,000 IN TERROR.

LONDON, March 3. — The London Daily Herald said plans are complete for an anti-Jewish pogrom in Germany on a scale as terrible as any instance of Jewish persecution in 2,000 years. The paper ascribed its information to a "highest source," otherwise unindicated.

The whole Jewish population of Germany ,totalling 600,000, is living under the shadow of a campaign of murder, which may be initiated within a few hours and cannot at the most be postponed more than a few days, the Herald said.

Tens of thousands of Jews, the newspaper continued, have been secretly indicted as Communists and Marxists, and already are marked as victims, and the list is growing hourly.

The Herald declared that complete evidence of the intentions of the German National Socialists has reached London, and has been considered in the highest quarters. Intervention is imminent, according to the newspaper, but the form it is to take is a matter of extreme delicacy In the Herald's opinion, only the massed pressure of world opinion can avert catastrophe.

An official spokesman for Chancellor Adolf Hitler's National Socialist Government in Germany said earlier this week that rumors of an impending massacre were "completely groundless."

C.C.F. GROUP DOCTRINE IS OLD IDEA UNDER NEW COLORS

J. Earl Lawson Scores New Formed Political Party at Brighton Meeting.

POLICY IS COMMUNISM.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 3 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — "The C.C.F. is communism and communism is the C.C.F.—without bloodshed if you will, but communism, and I do not believe that the laboring men of this country wish to live under the same conditions that exist in Russia. In these words J. Earl Lawson, K.C., and member for West York, defined the newly formed political group at a Conservative rally held last evening in the Town Hall, Brighton.

The meeting was largely attended, many of the audience being members of the fair sex, and was presided over by Clive Thompson, the guest speaker being introduced by Milton E. Maybee, ex-M.P., who in a brief address extolled the work accomplished by the Bennett Government, especially that accomplished through the recent Imperial Conference.

Confining his address wholly to the C.C.F., Mr. Lawson stated that in such times as these many solutions were presented to the Government for the betterment of present-day conditions, many of which conflict, but he felt that it was always wise to try and look through every new panacea for the cure of all ills. Our present social system was not super-imposed upon us but was the result of development over many years, and he did not think that it was so black as it was painted.

The C.C.F., which declared itself to be not a party but a new social order, never told people what it really intended to do, but was trying to form trouble and difficulties in the minds of those who were suffering from the present-day conditions, especially the unemployed. Of the latter class, the speaker expressed his appreciation for and sympathy with, pointing out that twenty-five per cent. of his riding was on direct relief. His own father had been an iron worker and he himself had worked in the factory and the mine, and he clearly made it known that if in any way he could be sure that the C.C.F. would help the cause of the laboring man, he would be for it. "But I know," he declared, "that we can never solve the difficulty by taking from the rich and giving to the poor. It was something for nothing, the idea that lay behind the movement."

Old Idea in New Colors

The C.C.F., said Mr. Lawson, advocated the scrapping of the capitalistic system, creating a federation of the commonwealth and all necessary machinery of production should be used for all and not the few. "It says that all these should be collected by the State and used for the people, a complete state control of everything." And this they tried to pass over on the laboring party as a new doctrine, he declared; pointing out that it was identical with the planks of the Socialist Democratic Party of 1894; an old idea trotted out in new colors.

He believed, the speaker said, that when a man came out with new ideas, it was well to get a view of him and his utterances, and briefly outlined the attitude taken by Mr. Woodsworth in the House covering a period from 1929. In that year he demanded to know of the trade relations with Russia. The following year he asked the Minister of Justice to reveal correspondence on the Communist Party in Canada, declaring it a bogey, which eventually proved to be false with the arrest and conviction of many Communist leaders a few years later. In 1930 he questioned the House regarding passports to Russia, and in 1931 he wanted to know regarding the ban on Russian imports. The following year, after having visited Russia, he extolled that country to the members of the House.

"During all these years we find him concerned with Russia and now we find him blooming out as leader of the C.C.F., a state control party," stated Mr. Lawson.

Fare Better in Canada

It was often stated, he said, that every man in Russia to-day was employed. This was so, he admitted, but conditions were so bad there that he declared that "the unemployed on relief in Canada were better fed, clothed and housed than the employed in Russia." "Communism," he said, "has proved that it can make the rich man poor, but I have never yet seen it make the poor man rich."

He went on to stress the fact that the present capitalistic system was not perfect, but that from time to time legislation was added to the system to add to the betterment of its working. For examples: the Workmen's Compensation Act, the Old Age Pensions, and the present consideration of Unemployed Insurance. "We can't remedy the present conditions by kicking over the whole economic system," he pointed out.

Referring to the Russian barter deal, Mr. Lawson said that the attitude of the government was misunderstood. In the first place there had been no offer from Russia, and secondly there was no embargo of Russian goods with the exception of coal, pulp and asbestos.

Any one could make a deal with Russia if they so wished with the exception of these three products, the embargo being against these for the protection of Canada and the Empire. "The preference in the Canadian markets should go to Canadians first and then to our brother Britishers next", he stated.

Major Belford

Major J. F. B. Belford gave it as his opinion that the C. C. F. would make no difference to the political life of the country, and certainly no impression on the peopleof Northumberland County, for he said, "I have too high an opinion of the common sense of the people." We were fighting a world wide depression and in Canada we had to have leadership. There were three party's running up and down the country, but only one of them, the Conservative party, were following a constructive policy. "Fighting is we are with our backs against the wall, we want strong, sane leadership he declared. We have to be banded together as a unit to retain our old traditions, our old forms of governments, our old faith in God, and to keep the old Union Jack flying."

Fred Bowen, M. P. for Durham County was introduced by Harry B. Phillips of Brighton and briefly addressed the gathering on present day conditions. Sam Nesbitt of Brighton also spoke.

H. B. RYE DENIES EXTRAVAGANCE

age number of persons "per" family was 5.

The amounts spent on groceries were $200.80 for the first week, $201.70 for the second, $217.25 for the third, $212.08 for the fourth, $213.43 for the fifth, and $215.18 for the sixth. The weekly average amounted to $210.06, and the daily average was $30.01.

The expenditure on groceries per family was $3.24 in the first week, $2.25 in the second, $2.89 in the third, and $2.91 in the fourth, $2.79 in the fifth, and $2.87 in the sixth week. The daily average was 43 cents, and the weekly average per family was $2.99.

The average supply of milk per week was 155 gallons, and the daily average 22.14 gallons.

On the family basis the weekly supply of milk was 2.21 gallons, and the daily average was .32 gallons to the family.

The average weekly value or cost of milk per family was 44 cents, and the daily average of cost per family was 6 cents.

The Supply of Wood.

Mr. Rye said that he did not have the figures for the relief supply of wood delivered during the first week but 19 cords were distributed during the second week, 18 in the third, 17½ in the fourth, 26½ in the fifth, and 26½ in the sixth week. The weekly average was $17.75 cords, and the daily average 2.54 cords. The value of the wood averaged $107.50 a week and $12.56 a day.

The average value of the wood per family was $1.44 in the second week, $1.20 in the third and fourth, $1.82 in the fifth, and $1.77 in the sixth. The daily average cost of wood per family was 21c and per week $1.49.

From these facts Mr. Rye pointed out that the cost of groceries and milk per day was 9.8 cents a person.

"I have heard of one place where the cost was said to be 8 cents, so at that rate I don't think any one can say there was extravagance by the Relief Committee."

Resigned on Principle.

"I have no intention of broadcasting my reason for resigning," Mr. Rye continued. "My resignation was tendered on principle. I would not be a party to some of the things they tried to pull off. I don't want to broadcast it because of the possibility of it having far-reaching effects, but I leave it with you to believe that my resignation was for good and sufficient reasons. I have a copy of my letter of resignation, and if I am driven too hard I'll publish it."

Mr. Barnes commented that he had not heard anything about the complaints Mr. Rye had mentioned.

"The story was put out in the township and in the city, and I can prove it was circulated," Mr. Rye replied.

William Stevens, township councillor, said that it was unfortunate that people were "so confoundedly busy as to broadcast stories all over the township."

"I realized when I went into the Council that it was no place for thin skins," he added. "But, if a man has anything to say I want him to stand up and say it to my face. I don't want anybody putting shots into me from behind."

Criticised the Council.

Councillor Stevens stated at the opening of the meeting that the Government's Relief Inspector had recently examined the township's accounts and found them in good order. Men registered for relief were cutting wood for the township on a compensation basis of one dollar a cord.

The Township Council assumed the direction of relief in North Monaghan after Mr. Rye's resignation from the special committee, which was thereupon disbanded.

"I don't believe you would give these fellows anything if you could get out of it," Hy Wood said. "We understood that we were going to get good representation from this end of the township, but now it's McIntosh, Patton, and me."

The "me" apparently referred to Councillor Barnes.

"All our talk has not amounted to anything," Mr. Wood continued. "All we lack is Rubinoff. If I could get a seconder I'd ask for Mr. Barnes' resignation as secretary."

"You don't have to ask for that," Mr. Barnes answered. "I'll give it to you. It's just a burden."

"Very willingly borne," Mr. Wood said.

Mr. Stevens—I want Mr. Wood to distinctly understood that McIntosh and Patton don't have it all their own way. There are some men in the Council who do some fighting for the ratepayers.

Mr. Wood—Pardon me for being misinformed from the inside.

Mr. Stevens—People who go round with such stories are not telling the truth. I don't take any story unless it is made before the Council. We've got enough to contend with beside such rumors. The Council needs the people's help.

It was stated that the Council had cut one of the relief schedules from $2.40 to $2.00. Two instances were cited of young married men with babies under nine months in their families. They had been cut to $2.00 because the Council believed that infants mainly required milk.

In this discussion it was also affirmed that Councillor Milby had moved that the $2.40 scale be resumed, but that Reeve McIntosh, Deputy-Reeve Patton, and Councillor Barnes had voted against it.

Mr. Milby explained that the new scale of relief as determined on January 14 gave $1.50 a week to one person, $2.00 to two persons, $2.40 to a family of three, $2.80 to four, and an additional 25c for every additional child. Milk was provided up to a maximum of three pints, and no allowance was made for rent and light.

Later Mr. Milby said he had moved for a reduction of twenty per cent. in all municipal salaries, and Mr. Barnes had voted against it.

Mr. Wood emphasized a remark that this included the allowance paid to the councillors.

Mr. Barnes said he thought it was only the officials who were engaged by the Council.

"All municipal salaries, I said," Mr. Milby declared.

"Why doesn't the Council get after the clerk," Mr. Wood continued. "I don't see why any man should get $25.00 a week for a side line and run a big farm."

I know that Mr. Milby wanted a 20 per cent. cut from the 1929 peak, Mr. Rye said. "The teamsters were cut 50 per cent, the laborers 23 per cent., and the Council 15 per cent. I would suggest that this meeting propose to the Council that their rate of pay from now on be 23 cents an hour as paid to laborers."

Mr. Stevens—How would it be if we worked for nothing?

Mr. Wood—That would be fine.

Mr. Stevens—I'm not in this for what's in it.

Mr. Wood was obviously rather enjoying his thrusts at the two members of the Council sitting at the table, Mr. Stevens and Mr. Barnes. His final comment was that Bruce Johnston, township clerk, did all the work of the Council anyway.

No More Piles

How to End Terrible Agony Without Salves or Cutting.

Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

That is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause — and not one minute before. External treatments can't do this — an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts.

HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record of success in even the most stubborn cases that McDermid & Jury and Bond's Drug Store and all good druggists advise every sufferer to get a bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets today. They must end your Pile agony or money back.

CHANGES URGED IN THE HANDLING OF RELIEF ISSUE

Two Liberals and Two Conservatives Address the Legislature.

HEPBURN CRITICIZED.

Two Many Governments in Province and Too Much Overlapping.

TORONTO, Mar. 3. (CP)—Government bills and legislation will to-day occupy the time of the Ontario legislature, with most of the members preparing for the week-end holiday. The house seldom sits late on Friday. Hon. W. H. Price, Attorney General, will again preside, for Premier George S. Henry is recovering slowly from his attack of influenza.

The debate on the throne speech reply raged yesterday, with two Conservative and two Liberal members alternately speaking for and against the government. Of the Liberals, the palm went to J. A. Sangster of Glengarry, 72 years old, who amid applause from all parts of the house, soundly denounced the administration for its expenditures. Taxes were too high, the proposed redistribution bill might conceivably mean no representation for the rural sections; relief camps on the trans-Canada highway were improperly conducted and the Hydro Commission was all wrong, he maintained.

Extravagant Statements

C. A. Seguin, Cons., Russell, objected strenuously to "extravagant statements" of Mitchell Hepburn, M.P., Provincial Liberal leader, and twitted H. C. Nixon, Progressive chief, on the alliance he had formed with Mr. Hepburn. Did Mr. Nixon, he asked, associate himself with the sentiment expressed in men who even now were stumping the riding of Russell, telling hotel-keepers to support Mr. Hepburn and they would be permitted to sell beer-by-the-glass after the next election?

F. W. Wilson, Cons., Windsor East, also attacked the Progressive and Liberal leaders for their statements. Both of them were seeking power in the province, and had not the interests of the people at heart, he said. The Liberal leader "can't co-operate with the gentleman who is House leader, or the Liberal supporters who are members of this house. All he can do is criticize" said Mr. Wilson.

Changes Urged

He urged slight changes in relief administration, so persons receiving relief would not have to line up outside and "expose their distress to the view of friends and neighbors" but said on the whole the government was performing commendably in administering the tangled affairs of defaulting border municipalities.

W. J. Mackay, South Bruce, thought there were too many governments in the province and too much overlapping taxation. The municipalities, province and dominion all were seeking the best way to extract money from the pockets of the people, and the people were getting fed up with it all.

But the legislative assembly had so direct control over counties, the councillors might justly term them "uncontrollable" he said. Among other taxes he cited those for old age pensions, mothers' allowances, industrial farms, administration of justice, schools, county and township road expenditures.

BANK HOLIDAYS

tering on banking conditions and remedies.

In the great money centres of New York and Chicago, as well as in other sections, banking business went on untroubled by difficulties elsewhere.

Wisconsin was the latest to join the "holiday" States. Early to-day Lieut. Gov. Thomas J. O'Malley proclaimed a two weeks' banking moratorium. A few hours before Utah's Governor Blood, after receiving authority from the Legislature, proclaimed a four-day legal holiday. He said "an extraordinary condition exists throughout the nation justifying such action."

In Texas, Gov. Ferguson proclaimed a five-day financial moratorium, ordering all banks to close until March 8 in the interests of the people. She said disturbed conditions in other States were responsible. Governor Martin of Washington State declared a three-day holiday. Fifteen days is the duration of the holiday proclaimed to start in Idaho to-day. Oregon and Arizona proclaimed holidays of three days, while the one proclaimed by Gov. Balzar to give Nevada banks a "breathing spell" was set at four days.

There was a growing belief that the situation in Michigan, which saw the start of the restrictive movement Feb. 14 with an optional holiday, would reach a solution in the opening of closed banks next week. Senator James Couzens said "Constructive legislation seems to have been agreed upon," and an emergency measure was drafted at the State Capital. Many banks were operating under a 5 per cent. withdrawal restriction.

In California a three-day holiday proclamation had tied up the major part of deposits, but a few banks stayed open. Oklahoma framed legislation to put finances on an even keel while the public took a three-day holiday good-naturedly.

800 Hit in Ohio

About 800 of Ohio's 800 banks were limiting withdrawals, while in Kentucky a voluntary bank holiday was extended to March 11. In the latter State, some banks conducted business on a five per cent withdrawal basis.

In New Jersey only a few banks availed themselves of newly-granted permission to pay depositors in installments, and in Tennessee the banks which closed under a six-day holiday proclamation were few.

Most of Alabama's banks were closed, but were scheduled to open Friday under five per cent. restriction. In Mississippi, where restrictions of deposits were ordered by the Governor, citizens accepted light-heartedly the plan of withdrawals of $25 plus five per cent of total deposits.

In Maryland, where banks have been closed a week, the Governor extended the holiday pending legislation. Only a few Pennsylvania banks took advantage of emergency laws to limit withdrawals.

Obituary

MAJOR HARRY REYMES

COBOURG, March 2 (Special to The Examiner). — Major Harry Reymes, M.C., passed away at Miami, Florida, on February 22, after undergoing a serious operation. He is survived by his widow, Lillian Lenore Standley, and a son, Jack. Major Reymes was born at Long Sutton, Lincolnshire, England. He came to Canada and was well-known in Grafton and Cobourg, and was an officer of the Northumberland Regiment. He was also a member of St. John's Lodge, A.F. and A.M., Cobourg.

Major Reymes went overseas at the time of the World War and served with distinction in France with the 44th Battalion, having been awarded the Military Cross. Some time after his return from the war, he and his family went to Miami, Florida, where they have resided for ten years.

WILLIAM GUNNING.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 3 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — The funeral of the late William Gunning was held this afternoon (Friday) from the family residence, Hoards, Seymour Township, to St. Andrew's Church, Burnbrae, where service was conducted by the Rev. F. G. MacTavish, interment being made in Burnbrae Cemetery. The deceased, who was a prominent township farmer and miller, was 64 years of age. Born in the district, he was at one time a member of the Seymour Council. He has been in ill health for some time and passed away at the family residence on Wednesday.

Surviving are his wife; three sons, Carman, Lorne and Harold, all of Seymour, and three daughters: Mrs. Creaghton Johnson of Seymour and the Misses Vera and Velma Gunning at home.

JOHN VANCE.

TWEED, March 3 (Examiner Correspondence). — John Vance, 76, a well-known resident of Tweed, died suddenly on Wednesday, March 1, at his home near the Separate School, the cause of death being a heart attack. He formerly resided at Chisholm's Mills. He never married and had lived alone for some years. The late Mr. Vance was a member of Tweed United Church. One brother, James Vance, resides at Thomasburg.

The funeral was held on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of his nephew, Mr. Harry Vance.

WILLIAM J. GOLLOHER.

The funeral of the late William J. Golloher was held on March 1 from his home on the 6th Concession of Dummer to the Norwood Cemetery. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. W. Wilkinson, pastor of the United Church, Warsaw. Those surviving are his wife, one son Alfred of Dummer, and one daughter, Mrs. Eliza Ruttan at home, to whom the sympathy of the entire community go in their hour of trial.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Albert Wildman, George Baker, Albert Webster, James Lobb, and E. N. McDonald.

DR. LIONEL STEVENSON TO ADDRESS POULTRYMEN

CAMPBELLFORD, March 3 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — "Poultry Diseases" will form the subject of a public lecture to be given by Dr. Lionel Stevenson of the Guelph Agricultural College in the Campbellford Public Library on the afternoon of Tuesday, March 14. This meeting has been arranged by Walter H. Smith, agricultural representative for the County of Northumberland, and is for the purpose of presenting to the farmers and those interested in poultry some important facts about this important branch of farm produce. The meeting will commence at two o'clock sharp.

UP TO THE BOARD AGAIN.

The City Council has referred the Board of Education's estimates back to the board for further consideration, urging the trustees to endeavor to effect further economies in their proposed expenditures for this year.

This action—not, of course, unexpected—will give the board another opportunity to bring their spending program in line with public opinion, and to make a contribution toward a lighter civic budget.

The Examiner hopes that the board will not stand on its dignity, but rather that it will consent to give further consideration to its estimates in a sincere determination to emulate the example of the City Council in reducing expenditures wherever possible.

The board has demanded some $229,000 from the city treasury to finance its expenditures during the current year; it is a large sum of money under existing conditions and with the certainty that a sizable portion of civic taxes is not likely to be paid, and it does seem to the public that it should be possible to scale down the total, even if it means that the salary item, which is, of course, by far the biggest item in the estimates, has to be slashed.

The situation demands action, and if relief can be afforded in no other way than by a general reduction in salaries, then salaries should be reduced.

When the income of those who have to find the money to pay public salaries is sadly diminished it is inevitable that relief should be afforded.

HELPFUL SUGGESTIONS.

The Ontario Committee on Economy in Public Finance has brought forward some helpful suggestions that are being brought to the attention of the Ontario Government.

All of the following, The Examiner is sure, are well worth consideration:

"1. That the personnel establishment of every department of government be studied thoroughly to determine just how many employees of each grade are actually required; that, when possible, where undermanning is shown, transfers be made from other departments which may be overmanned; and that any net overmanning which may result be met by not making appointments to fill vacancies and by retirements and separation from the service.

"2. That the rates of pay obtaining in provincial services be studied in the light of cost of living figures, the rates obtaining in private undertakings, the comparative security in public employment, and the reduced income of the average citizen and taxpayer.

"3. That, unless absolutely unavoidable, no money be borrowed outside of Canada and Great Britain.

"4. That in any refunding operations which may be necessary, the rate of interest paid be considered with extreme care in the light of the needs of private industry upon which the income of Ontario citizens depends.

"5. That boards of trade, chambers of commerce and citizens generally second the efforts of government to reduce expenditures by refraining on their part from demanding increased expenditures out of revenue for things, and in places, in which they may be interested, and as good citizens accept in good grace any cuts which may be made."

SHOULD GIVE A LEAD.

In all but one respect the City Council's economy program will appeal to the majority of citizens as admirable.

The need for retrenchment has been recognized and vagorously acted upon, and the action of the Finance Committee in scaling down numerous expenditures was exactly what the present financial crisis demanded.

It seems to The Examiner, however, that the members of the Council lost an opportunity of making their retrenchment program invulnerable when they took no action in regard to their own remuneration.

The total amount involved in the salaries paid aldermen for attendance at Council meetings is not large, but as a gesture of good faith, as evidence to civic employees and to the general public, that members of Council are prepared to share in the common sacrifice a decision to waive the paying of aldermanic salaries during this period of depression would have been invaluable.

It is only in very recent years that members of the City Council have received any pecuniary reward for their services; during almost all of Peterborough's history men gave gladly of their time and experience and knowledge of affairs to serve the community and expected nothing in return but the satisfaction of knowing that they had acted the role of good citizens.

To-day with a financial situation akin to nothing experienced by this city before, it is not too much to expect of the present civic government patriotism as fervent as that which actuated earlier councils to give voluntary public service.

The helpful, the inspiring thing for the aldermen to do in the present emergency would be to decide unanimously that until at least the clouds of depression have begun to scurry out of the financial sky they are determined to serve without remuneration, as patriotic citizens ready to work and sacrifice in the common cause.

It is not too late to include such an item in the otherwise splendid program savings already agreed upon.

THE COUNCIL ACTS.

In the long list of economics recommended by the Finance Committee at its session on Wednesday night, the City Council affords convincing evidence that it is alive to its responsibility, that it realizes the existing need for effective retrenchment, and that so far as is reasonably possible it proposes to slash civic expenditures.

Salary reductions all along the line, the elimination of a number of extras that added to the municipal overhead, the reduction of civic grants by more than fifty per cent., a slash in the appropriations of the Police Commission, and substantial cuts in the estimates of all the city departments are steps in line with public opinion and essential if the city's tax bill is not to climb to crushing proportions.

The members of the City Council have not an easy task before them; confronted with a steadily increasing expenditure on relief and with a loss in revenue occasioned by non-payment of taxes and well aware of the fact that unless all controllable expenditures are slashed as deeply as possible the percentage of unpaid taxes this year is likely to increase substantially, members of the Council have to explore every possible avenue of saving.

Naturally salaries, forming a heavy part of the civic outgo, have perforce been materially reduced; the question has never been the value of the services rendered in exchange for the salaries paid, but rather the ability of the taxpayers to provide sufficient revenue to keep the civic machinery running.

There was no other choice but to cut the payroll; it was a grim necessity occasioned by unusual conditions, and the Council is to be commended for tackling the task courageously and effectively.

Their action should be an inspiration to other municipal spending bodies whose overhead must also come down, if there is to be any taxation relief, indeed if the pressure of taxation is not to be increased.

MAJOR GOALS.

Senator Cordell Hull, the distinguished Tennessean who has been selected by President-elect Roosevelt for the most important of American Cabinet posts—Secretary of State—announces that the major goals of the Administration which takes office next Saturday will be the restoration of world commerce and the preservation of peace by "sane and realistic international co-operation."

* * * *

In the task of restoring normal economic relationships and rehabilitating the world commercially, Senator Hull says, "the war debts owed our Government are but one factor. The policy of international readjustment assumes that all fundamental domestic remedies for trade improvement will also be pursued."

One may assume from the sentence above that "fundamental domestic remedies" mean or include such tariff changes as may be necessary to set the wheels of commerce in motion again. Mr. Hull, as everyone knows, is not a high tariff man. He is recognized, rather, as a free trader, but one, of course, who admits the difficulty of always reconciling theory and practice. In any event, he is for a reduction, rather than a further increase in the tariff of the United States as suggested by President Hoover. He doesn't believe in the American isolation idea. He contends that the United States, to be prosperous herself, must pursue a policy of co-operation with other nations.

* * * *

This view, of course, is in striking contrast to the policies of the Republican Administration, in the matter of tariff, in regard to American membership in the League of Nations, and so on. The Republicans, for years, have been preaching the old Washingtonian gospel of "no entangling alliances" in Europe. It was a good battle cry but application of it doesn't fit in with a modern world because it has been conclusively shown that the United States will have to share in the co-operative idea and in the responsibilities if she expects to have other nations buy her goods and thus contribute to her well-being and prosperity.

Mr. Roosevelt swept through to victory last fall on the "new deal" platform. He attracted millions of votes and swamped his opponents by expounding the gospel of departing from old-fashioned policies, going after things in a new way, upsetting traditional practices that had failed to deliver the goods in times of crisis. A population, sick and tired, of old methods, sick and tired of business stagnation, unemployment and a hopeless national outlook, rallied nobly to the Roosevelt call. In the Democratic candidate they saw hope, a possibility of change and for the better. And then they went to the polls and made sure of his election.

* * * *

Mr. Roosevelt may be a great disappointment, but we do not think he will be. He has a wonderful opportunity, one of the finest ever given an American President, and we have an idea that he will rise to the situation, giving his fellow-ciuntrymen the very lead that they need to lift them from the depression, giving them a new outlook on international relations and trade, and, most important of all, showing the other countries that Uncle Sam is ready and willing to co-operate; ready and willing to be fair; ready and willing to do the right thing for the general rehabilitation of a world that has been dazed and staggering for more than three years.

This week, then, the week that sees the change in Washington, may easily be the commencement of one of the most important eras in American history. —Border Cities Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

When bigger cuts are made it will doubtless be the City Council who will make them.

According to latest reports, the pipe of peace has been smoked in the Ontario Liberal party. That is certainly better than using a piece of pipe on each other.

J. F. Strickland, M.P.P., was giving voice to public opinion when he declared in the Legislature the other day that the cost of education must come down. The only people to hold contrary views are the educational authorities themselves.

Another interesting question anent the political situation in Ontario is, what has become of the Progressive party as such?

A sign of the times is the fact that only 215 Canadian citizens emigrated to the United States during January. The monthly average used to be double that figure.

Bridge and cocktails may be all right for them that likes 'em, but remember back in the good old days when, after a stirring game of parchesi or crokinole, mom used to serve those piping hot bowls of gruel?—Hamilton Spectator.

CHAPTER 9

The hall as she entered it was dimly lighted. The big red setter on the rug lifted his head, his tail tapping. Leontine passed him and went swiftly up the stairs. If she found Araminta in her room, this tightness of her heart would ease itself.

But she did not find her!

She found a note instead. . . .! "I am marrying Barney. And I love him a lot."

Leontine felt as if she were burning up. She went to the window for air. The coolness of the night came in and swept across her bare neck and her bare arms, but she got no relief. Her brain was burning—seared by those sentences. "I'm marrying Barney. And I love him a lot."

What did Araminta mean by it when here in this room she had said she did not love him. That she did not love anybody. Oh, why had she, Leo, forced the issue? Why? Why? Why?

The light of the moon flowed over her—she was all silver and white, sparkling. In front of her, wide and shining stretched the bay.

On such a night as this. . . ./ On such a night. . . ./ Araminta and Barney. . . .

In the stillness the beating of her heart seemed clamorous. Then, suddenly, breaking against the silence, came the sound of the telephone.

Leontine started to run, but held herself back. Nicky was speaking.

* * *

"Was it Araminta?"

"Yes."

"What did she tell you?"

Nicky hesitated: "She's—she's staying with her Aunt Min. She didn't go to Annapolis."

"She isn't staying with Aunt Min. She is running away to get married." Leontine held the notes out to him, "I read mine, but I haven't opened mother's."

"She told me to destroy the notes, Leo."

"She told you that, Nicky?"

"Yes."

"She said nothing about marriage?"

"No."

"What do you suppose she means by it?"

"By what?"

"Running away like this—with Barney?"

"I am afraid we shall have to wait and ask her."

Leontine looked down at him, "Nicky, how do we know she's at Aunt Min's?"

"She told me. . . ."

"Yes. But suppose. . . ."

"I don't care to suppose anything, Leo. I trust—my daughter."

There was a sternness in his voice which brought Leontine to her senses. She had the grace to say, "I'm sorry." For Nicky, even in his bathrobe and with his hair on end was a force to be reckoned with when he was fully aroused.

Mary appearing now in a dressing gown asked, "What in the world is the matter?"

Leontine handed her a note. "Read this."

Mary read it and said, "The darling. . . ."

Leontine glared at her, "mother."

"Well, really nothing could be better, Leo."

Mary had bright curls like Araminta's and they were tumbling about her shoulders. And she was very pretty and appealing as she stood there defending her daughter.

Leontine's voice had a touch of wildness. "But she isn't going to be married. She called up Nicky just now and asked him to destroy these notes. She says she is staying at Aunt Min's. I don't know what to make of it all, mother."

"Something must have happened to make her change her mind."

"But what could happen?"

"I'm sure I don't know, Leo."

"Why don't you call her now, and ask? Why don't you?"

It was Nicky who answered her. "We will wait until morning."

"Why wait—? Oh, you spoil her to death, both of you. You never think of the rest of us. Yet it is Helen and Iris and I who do everything for you. We even give Nicky the money he spends on cigarets."

The wild voice broke, and Leontine fled sobbing, up the stairs. They heard her quick step in the hall above, the slam of a door behind her.

Nicky was white as a sheet. "She told the truth, but I'll never forgive her."

"I know," Mary went to his arms and presently from that shelter she said, "Sometimes I wish we had a little home of our own, Nicky."

And Nicky said, "Do you think it has been easy for me to take bread from their hands?"

And Mary said, "Then, my dear, why do we do it?"

He had no answer, but he held her close. She was his world and would always be. He wasn't much of a man, but he loved her.

The next morning everybody was late for breakfast. In fact the meal might more appropriately have been called luncheon, since it was 11 o'clock before Helen and Leontine and Iris appeared.

Mary was at the coffee tray, and Cissy, the waitress, kept bringing in waffles which Mary and Helen ate because their plump contours were matters of indifference to them, and Nicky ate because nothing made him fat. Leontine and Iris contented themselves with thin toast. They were solicitous of their figures, which so far were sylph-like. They were still talking about Araminta. There seemed nothing more to be said on the subject, but they still kept saying it. At least Leontine did. Iris and Helen had refused to get excited, "She's probably had the time of her life, Leo. Why worry?"

"Because she has been most inconsiderate. Keeping us all on our toes at Annapolis. And now telephoning that she's staying over at Aunt Min's for a dinner party. . . ."

And Helen said, "But why not, Leo? Aunt Min's dinner parties are not to be sneezed at."

Nicky's tone was cold. "Did you expect her to play the—prodigal."

Leontine flushed, and got up from the table. "Of course not, Nicky. Don't be a goose."

Her tone was conciliatory. She felt she had said things last night which were unpardonable. But she was not ready to ask Nicky's pardon.

She left them all, went out of doors, and made her way towards the pavilion, whence, presently, Iris followed her.

And Iris said, "If I were you, I wouldn't tell the world. . . ."

"Tell—what?"

"That you—care. . . ."

"Well, your pride for one thing."

"I don't seem to have any pride." They had reached the rustic table beyond the pavilion, and Leontine as she talked leaned against it, "People can think what they please. And years ago—he loved me."

"Puppy love, Leo. Men get over it."

Leontine moved away from the table restlessly, "He's got a future before him, if he'd only wake up to it. And Minta will never wake him."

"She may. . . ."

"But she's such a child, Iris."

"She's 19."

"O, don't dwell on ages—we don't look ours."

Leontine certainly did not look her 27. As she stood there on the little hill with her back to the bay she was like something by Sorolla, with the white splash of her short frock against the blue, the gold-brown of her arms and neck and the gold-brown of her stockings, her bronze locks blown about by the breeze—an ageless type. One would judge her young when she was middle-aged, and middle-aged when she was old. Iris was not unlike her, but more delicately fashioned, and with a slight dimming of the youth which lighted Leontine.

Helen, having singled them out, sat on the steps of the pavilion. "Still talking of Minta? We're rather cats, aren't we?"

"Speak for yourself, Helen."

"Well, why not let her alone. . . ."

"You know why? She's taking the center of the stage . . . and yesterday when I tried to tell her . . . that we wanted her to go away—"

"Leo, you didn't—"

"I did. It's true isn't it?"

"Yes, but why proclaim it from the housetops?"

"Here we sit like the three Fates," said Leontine, passionately. "Only instead of weaving the destinies of other people, we are caught in the webs we have spun. We go around in three. But Araminta goes—alone."

She stopped suddenly, looking towards the road, where a long gray motor slid like a shining snake. "It's Barney," she said, breathlessly, and began to run down the hill toward him.

ALL OF US

By MARSHALL MASLIN

CAN YOU MAKE YOUR FUTURE SECURE?

Yes, I think so.

It may seem absurd to say such a thing, but I am sure it is possible for a man, for a woman to make the future secure.

A man may lose his money. His job. His health. And he will surely, if he lives long enough, lose his youth and perhaps his hair. A woman, too, may lose much that she considers most precious today. Any human being may lose what we call Security. It's quite possible, and millions of people all over the world today know how easily Security may slip away from them.

But it is surely possible for any man to keep secure what is the greatest wealth of all, himself.

Sometimes a man doesn't know what "himself" truly is. Most of the time, in fact, he doesn't. He confuses himself with the things he knows, with the facts he has picked up along the way, with his position, with his external popularity, with his bank account, with his automobile, with his pleasures, his talents, his worries his job. . . .He moves through a confusion of things, and loses track of his real self. He does not in any fundamental sense know who he is. If anyone challenged him roughly with the question, "Who are YOU, anyway?" he would not be able to answer.

So his future is far from secure. Stripped of what he imagines he is, he would wander in a daze, rudderless. And the only way in which a man can secure his future, anchor himself solidly, is through finding the answer to that challenging question, "Who am I, anyway?"

You do it by asking yourself a number of other questions: What do I believe? Have I courage?? What do I truly want? Is life worth while? What is most precious to me? Has living any meaning?

These are the questions a man asks of himself when he is alone, when he feels most completely himself. And in the answers to these questions lies the only security that counts. . . .If those answers survive storm and stress, sickness and poverty, then a man's life IS secure and nothing can sweep his foundations away. He is anchored, he is solid. He need not worry. He will survive. He will not whimper, he will not sob out his self-pity against the blast of any tragic circumstance that may assail him. . . .He has security.

Who's Who in Ottawa

By CHARLES ROSS, Jr.

THE HON. JAMES MALCOLM

As a youth, Jim Malcolm of Kincardine was an excellent exponent of the art of parry and thrust, trip and knock of ye Canadian game of hockey. Today he carries somewhat the same principles into the House of Commons as Liberal member for North Bruce county. Not that he is inclined to knock, but it takes a good man to get by him. Perhaps it was in these early days that the groundwork of team play was drilled into the popular former mayor of the northern town. He has carried the "team" idea into politics and seldom makes a lone rush without support. He even made good use of the idea in his business as he was building up one of the largest furniture manufacturing industries in the world. Away back in the fighting 'nineties, Jim Malcolm's father sat in the Ontario House, as a hard-pressing Liberal. Jim (he declares he likes to be called that) has followed in his footsteps. He is credited with having done a great work in the north, and though he spends a great part of the year away from his home town, he is nevertheless a very popular man in and around Kincardine. Recently sprang into prominence in the House by moving that the government take cautious steps to bring about some sort of trade with Russia—even barter if practical, so long as the people, not private interests, benefit. His speech was received with applause from both sides of the House, and many have claimed it presented the situation better than anyone, either for or opposed to the proposed scheme. One can be fairly certain that James Malcolm is in the House of Commons for a long time yet—unless his chieftain should regain power, at which time he might be elevated to a cabinet job.

General Manager, Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.; Business Executive.

Sincerity is the keynote of this man's personality, and thoroughgoing clean-cut honesty. He is inclined, being of a sanguine temperament, to take it for granted that others are equally with himself endowed with those qualities and is in consequence constantly being disappointed in the individual. At the same time he cannot be disillusioned of his faith in the essential goodness and well meaning of mankind in general. Resentment nor bitterness cannot live in him because of a very tender streak which is deep, if undemonstrative. He can take plenty of hard knocks and never get knocked out. He is long suffering and resilient. He forms his attachments on an idealistic plane and is constant and loyal. He rates character above cleverness. Theer is, in fact, much of the dreamer in him. He is a man of highly sensitive imagination and fine feeling. Despite the dreamy side, however, his head governs him. He has a quiet but firm strength of will in addition. His passion for honesty passes over into a passion for accuracy. He has excellent executive ability and can he on call as practical as need be. He is difficult to know, in that, although he is aware he can deliver the goods, he is decidedly diffident and rather shy

"THINK ON THESE THINGS"

What a notable company to which our minds may be hosts the Apostle names; the true, the honest, the just, the pure, the lovely and all those tested things which are well spoken of. Such thoughts as these are always waiting to be entertained: the true in every intellectual enquiry, the just in every social relation, the honest in every business transaction, the pure in every exercise of desire and imagination, the lovely as we contemplate the ways of nature and the deeds and characters of men. We may be poor in possession and simple in our ways of life, but we can entertain a company of thoughts which will make our minds like the throne room of a king.

Prayer: We beseech Thee, Who revealest Thyself in the true, the honest, the pure and the lovely, to help us make our minds Thy audience chambers. Forgive us our foolish and wandering thoughts. Feed our minds with Thy truth and guide our thoughts in Thy paths. We ask it all in His name in Whose mind Thy truth shone unshadowed. Amen.

Where should the scholar live? In solitude, or in Society? In the green stillness of the country, where he can hear the heart of Nature beat, or in the dark, gray town where he can hear and feel the throbbing heart of man?—Longellow.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

ORONHYATEKHA

On this date, in 1907, there died at Savannah, Georgia, a great Canadian, about whose nationality there could be no doubt, for he was of pure Mohawk blood. Oronhyatekha was, with the possible exception of Joseph Brant (who by a curious coincidence had his first meeting with Simcoe on a March 3) the greatest leader of the Six Nations, but while Brant gained his fame as a warrior and a diplomat, Oronhyatekha gained his laurels as a healing physician and a protector of the home. Born on the Indian reserve, not far from the city of Brantford, Oronhyatekha was first educated at the famous Mowhawk industrial school, from which he went to the Wesleyan academy at Wilbraham, Mass. After a while as a teacher he studied at Kenyon College, Ohio, covering two years in one and then came to the University of Toronto to study medicine. When the Prince of Wales (afterwards Edward VII) visited Toronto in 1860 Oronhyatekha, then in his 20th year, was chosen by the chiefs of the Six Nations to read the address of welcome to the son of the "Great Mother", and the prince was so impressed with the young Indian that he was invited to continue his studies at Oxford University, whic hhe did under Dr. (afterwards Sir) Henry Asland, physician to the prince.

On his return to Canada, Oronhyatekha commenced practice at Frankford, but soon moved to Stratford and thence to London. There in February, 1870, he was initiated in the I.O.F., and thereby began what was to be his lifework. In the following September he was elected high chief ranger of the high court of Ontario, an office which he held for a year. Then disruption and secession crept into the order; it was only stayed by the appointment of Oronohyatekha to be head of the order. For two years the order halted, but on June 30, 1881, at Ottawa a re-organization took place. Oronohyatekha was elected supreme chief ranger and the order started on a career of prosperity. Under his direction the order became world-wide, growing from a membership of 369 in 1881, to 246,000 at the time of his death. One of his principles was that there should be no sex distinction in fraternal work and he kept at it until in 1896 he achieved his object and since then men and women have stood on an equal footing in the order.

His life ended suddenly while he was a visitor to Georgia. The remains were received royally at Toronto and lay in state at Massey Hall; after a great memorial service the body was taken to Deseronto, where it was taken charge of by eight Indian pallbearers, who, with others, sang Indian hymns and chants through the long night. And then Oronhyatekha was laid to rest on the Island home upon which there stands the Foresters' Orphans home, built on land which had once been the property of his Mohawk grandfather.

Oronohyatekha was a staunch Conservative and a closer friend of Sir John A. Macdonald, whom he initiated into the order, and who often consulted the fraternal doctor, and as often took his advice. I recall Oronohyatekha in the great funeral procession which paid tribute to Sir John at Ottawa in June, 1891, a striking figure of a man, straight as the pine of his native reserve, impressive even in frockcoat and silk hat. He was a great Canadian was Oronohyatekha and did much to advertise his native land all over the world.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET.

New York, March 3 (C.P.).—After rallying sharply just before noon to-day, stocks turned quiet and in the late dealings had lost about half their extreme gains of 1 to nearly 5 points. United States Steel Preferred was up 3, while gains of 1 to 2 or so existed in American Telephone, United States Steel Common, Santa Fe, American Tobacco B, American Can, Consolidated Gas, Case and Louisville and Nashville. Turnover approximated 1,400,000 shares.

STANDARD EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, March 3 (C.P.). — Rumors of possible far-reaching currency adjustments and banking difficulties in the United States rocked the Standard Mining list today, shaking values in some of the big gold producers down considerably. Noranda took a drubbing along with the golds, dropping $2 to $21.45, while International Nickel was carried up a little by the New York midday rally. Volume on the Standard was heavier than in other sessions this week.

Selling of Teck Hughes, Wright Hargreaves, Dome and McIntyre featured the big gold group. Teck was shot back to $3.90 before it dug in and climbed back a few cents. Hargreaves dropped about 15, Dome about 25, Lake Shore 75, McIntyre $1.25, while Hollinger weakened only about 10.

Trading was heavy in Noranda and Nickel. It was rumored the selling of Noranda was by New York holders. Nickel closed at $8.50. Silver shares were weak.

TORONTO EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, March 3 (C.P.).—Interlisted stocks bobbed about in an effort to keep pace with the New York market to-day, rallying nicely around midday, then selling off slightly only to stiffen again near the close. Trading was in higher volume on the Toronto Exchange, especially on Nickel, C.P.R., Smelters, but outside of the Loblaw stocks, the local listings were only mildly aware of the New York flare up.

International Nickel had a smart rally with New York to 8¾, but it failed to hold, falling back to 8½ for a net gain of ¼. Ford weakened to 6, Brazilian held unchanged at 7½, and C.P.R. steady at 10 3-8.

Utilities came through with small advances, showing in Bell Telephone and Montreal Power, while Consumers Gas slipped a fraction.

CORPORATION WILL ADVANCE CURRENCY

Will Undertake a National Program to Deal With U.S. Banking Difficulties.

DETROIT, March 3 (C.P.). — Senator James Couzens, who came here this week to aid in unravelling the Michigan banking situation, said to-day he had been advised the United States Reconstruction Finance Corporation has "undertaken a national problem to deal with banking difficulties."

Senator Couzens, a Canadian by birth, said he talked over the telephone with Charles A. Miller, president of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, in Washington, last night.

"The program he recited over the telephone," Senator Couzens said, briefly is:

"That all loans must be predicated on adequate security. That was fundamental. Then, whenever any state is operating under a moratorium authorized by law, the reconstruction finance corporation would advance money to any bank within that state to pay depositors whatever percentage of deposits had been agreed on in that community and sufficient money to maintain reserves on a very strict adherence to the rule that every depositor must be treated alike.

"It further provided that, should any applicant have money on hand to pay the agreed percentage of deposits, that applicant should not receive a loan; that in the case of any bank that had only part of the necessary money to pay the percentage agreed on, a loan would be made to make up the necessary amount."

POPE CALLS ON WORLD TO OBSERVE HOLY HOUR

VATICAN CITY, Mar. 3.—(AP)—Pope Pius today called upon the world to observe a holy hour April 6 of expiatory prayer on the 1900th anniversary of Christ's agony in the aGrden of Gethsemane "so all souls may be lifted in union toward God, thus inducing pacification of the peoples and alleviation of the evils created by the crisis."

NO COMMENT COMING

OTTAWA.—No official comment could be secured to-day on the London report that Prime Minister R. B. Bennett would go to Washington shortly on a mission that might have some relation to the negotiation of a trade treaty with the United States.

British Ocean-Hopper At Rio

The only man ever to make two solo flights across the Atlantic ocean, Captain James A. Mollison (in dark suit, holding sun helmet), noted British aviator, is shown leaving the airport at Rio De Janiero, Brazil, following the completion of his flight across the South Atlantic. He flew from England to New Brunswick last year. Mollison is walking between Colonel Newton Braga, commandant of the airport (left), and the Secretary of the British Embassy at Rio (white suit).

WHEAT PRICES FOLLOW TREND STOCK MARKET

Old-fashioned Buying Bee Lifts Prices to Higher Levels at Winnipeg.

WEAK SPOTS AT CLOSE.

WINNIPEG, March 3 (C.P.)—An old-fashioned buying bee reminiscent of healthier times lifted wheat prices out of an old groove to higher levels to-day. Riding the crest of a buying wave based on reports the United States Farm Board would avoid stabilization May wheat was carried up 1¼c. Fractions were slipped from the high spots near the close, but the market ended with gain of ¾ to ⅞ for the day.

Unable to maintain the full advance, however, the market slipped away from the high spots in the late trading.

Aggressive Buying

CHICAGO, Mafrch 3 (A.P.)—Aggressive buying of wheat, attributed to Eastern speculators, to-day hoisted grain values sharply. A maximum advance of 2¾ cents a bushel was scored in the first hour of trading on an avalanche of buying orders which poured into the pits following announcement the Farm Board would liquidate its wheat holdings. Most of the gains were held at the close.

Grimsby Nears End For Giving Relief

GRIMSBY, Ont., Mar. 3.—(CP)—Mayor P. E. Wilkins announced last night that owing to financial condition the town of Grimsby will not be able to carry on relief much longer. There will be some cases that will have to be looked after but it is felt that many will have to get out and hunt for work. There will be a decided tightening up from now on relief, it is intimated.

Canadian Dollar Is Higher To-day

NEW YORK, March 3.— (C. P.) — The Canadian Dollar jumped more than 2 cents to well above 85 cents in to-day's foreign exchange markets, reaching the best level in more than two months.

Canadians banking representatives attributed the rise to a flow of American funds to Canada, evidently reflecting confidence in the Canadian banking system, which has been singularly free from difficulties in the past generation.

TORONTO TEACHERS GET 5 PER CENT SALARY CUT

TORONTO, March 3.—(C.P.) — A five per cent. cut in school teachers' salaries was reached by the Board of Education at its session last night, it was learned to-day. It is expected a saving of $400,000 will be made in the Board's budget and that the tax rate will approximate last year's school tax of 10.3 mills.

In City Hall quarters it is said the reduction is a fore-runner of a cut for city employees generally.

STUBBS CONTINUES PLEA

WINNIPEG, March 3 (C.P.)—Attempting to "justify" anything he has said or done, Judge Lewis St. George Stubbs to-day continued his final plea before Mr. Justice Frank Ford, conducting an investigation into the Judge's judicial conduct.

Pays Court $500 For False Relief

JOLIET, Ill., Mar. 3.—(AP)— The $112 worth of relief, Ray Ostovich was charged with getting from the Will County Relief Commission at a time when he, his wife and daughter had the tidy sum of $7,500 in a savings bank, cost him plenty.

He pleaded guilty to defrauding the Commission and was fined $500 by Judge Ralph C. Austin. He paid in cash following which he took $500 more from his savings and presented it to the Commission as a gift.

Banker Ford

Here is how Henry Ford, the man who put the world a-wheel, looked as he put the state of Michigan back on the gold standard with his recent action in offering all the capital necessary for two new banks in Detroit. The financial assistance rendered by Ford meets the terms laid down by the R.F.C. before government aid could be extended to Michigan.

Livestock-Produce Quotations

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, Mar. 3. (CP)—Trading on the Toronto livestock market was dull during the week with about 100 head of cattle left unsold at the close. Prices dropped fully 25c per cwt on most grades of killers and 50c on fed calves. Cattle trade was slow; calves steady; hogs stronger; sheep stronger; lambs steady.

The general quality of the cattle offered was only medium. Few finished steers or heifers were offered and the majority of the cattle should have been kept on feed for another month or so. Weighty steers sold mostly at from $3.00 to $3.75 per cwt. with exporters paying $4.00 to $4.25 for a few lots. Good and choice butcher cattle closed at $3.40 to $3.60 with common downward to $2.25. Good cows and bulls sold at $2.35 to $2.60. Canners brought 75c to $1.00 per cwt with bolognas bulls at $1.50 to $1.75. Fed calves closed at $3.75 to $5.00 per cwt according to quality. Small lots of medium quality stockers sold at $2.50 to $3.15 per cwt. Milkers and springers sold at $45.00 to $50.00 for tops.

Veal calves opened 25c to 50c per cwt lower at a top of $7 for choice vealers. Trade became more active towards the close with tops gaining $7.50. The bulk of the calves sold between $4.50 and $6.50 per cwt.

The heavier run of hogs failed to weaken the market. Prices advanced 10c to 20c per cwt., closing at $3.60 f.o.b. for bacons, at $3.85 to $3.90 off truck and at $4.10 off cars. Selections brought the usual $1.00 per head premium.

Sheep and lambs receipts included 1,400 good western lambs which were all sold at $6.25 per cwt. Native lambs were mostly poor quality, selling at $3.50 to $5.50 with a few of the best at $6. A few early spring lambs brought $5 to $7 each. Sheep sold at $3 to $3.50 per cwt for best light ewes with culls at $1 to $2 per cwt.

RESERVE CREDIT RESOURCES REACH NEW RECORD VOLUME

GOLD RESERVES REDUCED.

NEW YORK, March 3 (C.P.). — The extent to which the flexible central banking system of the United States had risen to an emergency created by spread of banking difficulties in the past week became known to-day when the Federal reserve statements disclosed that a record-breaking volume of reserve credit—$585,000,000—had been poured into money markets.

With currency circulation up $732,000,000 in the week ended Wednesday—also an unprecedented total—and the system's gold reserves reduced $226,310,000 by foreign earmarking, hoarding and other factors, the 12 reserve banks took aggressive measures to keep flooded the country's credit reservoir, especially the huge accumulation of liquor funds in New York City.

Directors of the local reserve bank after increasing the rediscount rate to 3½ per cent. yesterday, extended their weekly meeting late into last evening and were joined by other bankers who are not members of the board. What subject were discussed or what action was advocated remained undisclosed and no announcement was made when the meeting finally adjourned.

Currency Expanded.

The weekly bank statements disclosed strikingly the extraordinary situation with which the system was confronted, and also demonstrated the reserve's flexibility. The reserve banks cared for $759,274,000 of the huge demand for money by an expansion of their own currency. They made only a small increase—$1,730,000—in holdings of Government securities, but bought $204,000,000 in bankers' acceptances in the open market.

The enormous rise in currency circulation brought the aggregate to $6,720,000,000, a new high, almost a billion dollars above the peak reached before the Michigan difficulties. Reductions in gold represented withdrawals of $116,000,000 for foreign account and $100,000,000 for other purposes, but the remaining reserves of the system, totalling $2,892,083,000, was still $330,888,000 above the low of last June, when foreign banks were making heavy drafts.

The British pound sterling, which had jumped several cents yesterday to the highest since September 20, fell back slightly to-day, cables opening at $3.45 1-16, off about half a cent, in the early dealings. The Canadian dollar was also fractionally off at 84 cents. European gold currencies were irregular.

Earmarking of gold for foreign account, notably British, have been proceeding for several weeks, though comparatively little metal has been exported.

and New Mexico four day holidays. The North Carolina general assembly accorded dictatorial powers to the commissioner of banks. Virginia authorized two important banks to restrict withdrawals. Three banks of Kansas City, Mo., restricted their business on their own initiative.

Debts Suspended

The lower house of the Arkansas legislature passed, without dissenting vote, a bill suspending all private and public debts for 90 days.

United States Senator James Couzens announced at Detroit that he had been advised that the reconstruction finance committee has "undertaken a national program" to deal with the situation.

Old Woodville Boy Passes In Vancouver

VANCOUVER, March 3 (C.P.).—J. B. Campbell, 79, for 25 years shipping master of Vancouver Harbor, was dead to-day. He had been ill for four months.

Born in Woodville, Victoria County, Ont., John Bell Campbell came to Vancouver in 1898. Charles E. Campbell, proprietor of the Edmonton Bulletin and Regina Star, is his only surviving son. A brother,

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 3 (A.P.)—An upward trend showed itself in grain prices early to-day. Liverpool wheat quotations displayed strength, with British exchange rates 3 points higher. Bull pointed also to prospects of a sharp curtailment of the United States wheat carry-over and of a drastic reduction in new crop yields. Opening at ⅛c to ¼c, Chicago wheat prices later rose all around. Corn started unchanged to ¼ higher, and subsequently made a general advance.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, March 2 (C.P.). — Eggs, fresh extras, 21c; fresh firsts 22c; fresh pullets 21c; fresh seconds 20c. Butter: No. 1, 24½c. Cheese: Current Ont. colored 10-10½c; white 9-9¼c; early Ont. colored 11¼-½c. Potatoes: N.B., 80 lbs. 75-80c; P.E.I., 85-90c; Quebec, 80 lbs. 65-70c.

Right in the middle of a picture, Benita Hume's appendix had to go and act up, necessitating its removal. Here is the British actress convalescing and looking forward to picking up her role where she dropped it. Picture was made in a Hollywood hospital.

Strange Diet

STURGEON FALLS, Ont., March 3 (C.P.)—A pair of scissors ten inches in length and a quart of small stones were found in the stomach of an ox weighing 1,900 pounds, slaughtered by Theo Miville, butcher; A. Dutrisac and G. Miville. The scissors must have been lodged in the stomach for at least three years. The animal is reported to have been in good physical condition.

G. Miville had a somewhat similar experience when slaughtering a cow last week. He found about three pounds of nails, a number of safety pins and collar buttons in the animal's stomach.

ALABAMA BANKS RE-OPEN

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 3 (A.P.)—Alabama banks arranged to reopen to-day under a modified holiday plan which will permit withdrawals up to five per cent of deposits until the period fixed by Governor B. M. Miller ends March 10.

Well Babies' Clinic Work Told I.O.D.E.

Mrs. J. Mills was guest speaker on Wednesday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Otonabee Chapter I.O.D.E., held in the green room of the Y.W.C.A., with the regent, Mrs. C. A. White, presiding. Mrs. Mills outlined the work being done by the Well Babies' Clinic.

Miss Henderson, who is in the city organizing Red Cross classes in Home Nursing, was another brief speaker of the afternoon, and was introduced by Miss Leta Brownscombe.

It was announced that the Chapter has undertaken the care and tuition of another pupil, until the end of the present school year.

During the past month, donations of warm lined leather mitts were made to the Red Cross Hostel and to the Central Relief organization, each receiving six pairs.

Grateful acceptance was made of the kind offer of Mrs. J. A. Morgan to lend her home for a tea to be held on Wednesday, March 9th, in aid of the Well Babies' Clinic.

Mrs. R. G. Cottrell was nominated as Councillor to the National Chapter.

$20 Given To Church As Anonymous Money

LINDSAY, Ont., March 3 (C.P.).—An anonymous letter containing more than $20 has come to Rev. W. C. Smith of Janetville. The letter was from a man in the United States, and the writer said he had lived in the village of Janetville nearly 50 years ago. At that time the people were building a Methodist church, and this man put his name down on the subscription list for $5, but left the country without paying the money. He has now sent in his original subscription and what he believes accrued interest.

The church was destroyed by fire several years ago.

"Tight buttoned"

Have You, The "Can't Afford It" Habit ?

THE use of that phrase does not suggest the inability to buy so much as the desire to practice rigid economy . . . to save . . . to deny yourself needed and necessary commodities.

But Man, oh Man, and you, too, Madam, how better and more effectively can you practice economy and thrift than to buy when prices are at their lowest ebb in years? How more certainly can you insure economy than to replace worn or out-of-date furniture than when new is selling for one-third of what it sold for 15 years ago? Or to stock up on food products when they are 40% less than at any time since the war? Or clothing when $53 to-day will buy you what you paid $100 for in 1912?

What you really cannot afford to do is not buy because you cannot afford to miss to-day's low levels . . . prices that are an actual boon to reduced incomes . . . to the practice of sensible, far-sighted economy.

ONTARIO SOCIETY OF ARTISTS OPENS 61ST ANNUAL EXHIBITION

Of 166 Represented by 230 Pictures Only Five Are Members of New Group.

FEW FIGURE STUDIES.

(By Guy E. Rhoades, C.P. Staff Writer.)

TORONTO, March 3 (C.P.)—The Ontario Society of Artists opens its 61st annual exhibition to-day with a note of conservatism. Of the 166 artists represented by 230 pictures only five are members of the newly-formed Canadian group of painters born of the officially dead group of seven.

A visitor notices at once a great deal of prismatic color, a number of pictures resembling bright souvenir post cards and some which seem to have been intended for magazine covers. There are numerous Winter landscapes, some portraits of academic stamp and others more broadly treated. Only a few figures studies are hung.

All three artists are from Toronto.

Some Studies

S. S. Finlay has worked a fine pattern into his "Gull Lake," seen through bare foreground saplings, the blue water terminated in the distance by bright, Autumn-tinted hills. A. J. Casson's yellow "Anglican Church at Magnetawan," is isolated on a hill in the foreground with a river and lumpy bushland behind.

The weather-beaten Atlantic Coast scowls from George Pepper's "Blue Rocks, N.S.," with water-scarred rocks revealed by low tide. At the head of a little inlet rise masts of work boats and roofs of fish houses. Yvonne McKague contributes "Stumps, Northern Ontario" a bare, sun-burned foreground of half-cleared pasture rolling up to a small unpainted house. Dry-looking woods in the distance are overtopped by black clouds.

PLAN CONVENTION

TORONTO.—Executive of the Ontario Postmasters' Association will meet in London Monday to decide upon the place of the next annual convention, to be held possibly the second week in June. A number of Western Ontario cities have made application for the convention. It is not unlikely, it was said here, London would get the choice.

Y'S MEN'S CLUB MINSTREL SHOW GOES OVER BIG

Plenty of Variety With Most Attractive Stage Setting.

REPEATED TO-NIGHT.

Snappy Spring Fashion Review by Hamilton Brothers Also Given.

There is plenty of variety in this year's Minstrel Show of the Y's Men's Club of the Y.M.C.A. It had its premier presentation in the Collegiate auditorium last night, with the second performance scheduled for this evening.

Along with the Minstrel Show proper, which abounds in fun and song and dance, is an oleo that includes several entertaining skits the music of a silver piano accordeon, and there is also, by way of added interest, a snappy Spring Fashion Revue presented by Hamilton Brothers, with hats from Hodgens' store. The whole evening is one of varied and excellent entertainment.

The stage setting is one of the most attractive seen here in a long time. A distinctive touch is afforded by the back and side wall hangings of deep maroon velvet that make such a snappy background for the circular double line of chorus men, in dark coats, light trousers and bright red ties.

The end men, in black face, wear overalls and bandana handkerchiefs and cow breakfast hats and they have a steady line of patter and jokes and gags that keeps the collective funny bone of the audience working overtime.

The show is directed by George E. Nicholls, who always turns out a snappy performance, and an extremely effective musical accompaniment is provided by the pianiste, Mrs. Nicholls, and the drummer, George Beach. Electrical effects are in the expert hands of Tom Stenton.

Minstrel Songs

With the interlocutor, Don Crawford, in charge of proceedings, the show progresses through a hilarious series of funny stories and songs. The end men, Norm Laing, Jack Clayton, Harold Coleman, Eddie Leonard, Ed Giedhill and Oscar Sloane, take the lead, and the musical numbers, all in splendid voice, are as follows: Opening chorus by entire company; "I've Had Fifty-seven Varieties of Sweethearts," by Ormie Henry; "I Didn't Ask, He didn't say, so I don't know", by Ed. Giedhill, with a real lively ghost helping out the refrain; "Make up Your Mind", a finely-sung popular hit, by Art Phillips; "Ah Just Wasn't There, That's All," sung in Norm Laing's own inimitable manner, with Norm and Eddie Leonard bringing in two 'lady friends' for a side-splitting dance number; "Black Cat Blues" an original 'blue' song put over by Jack Clayton in fine style; "Dreams, Dreams, Dreams", a romantic number by Bill Saunders; "Fables" by Harold Coleman; "As Long as I Have You" in Arnold Lillow's sweet tenor, with a whistling chorus; "Ah Wed 300 Pounds", a screamingly funny bit by Eddie Leonard, with a hefty coal-black mammy appearing for the refrain and dance; "He's de Funniest Man in de Show", in which Oscar Sloane does some clever work, and a gay finale, "Happy Days", the anti-depression song, by the ensemble.

A giddy bit of fun is the brief mixed-up speech by Ed. Giedhill.

Members of the chorus included H. Morton, W. Saunders, R. Lewis, C. Boorman, K. Bailey, R. Fleming, A. Sands, M. O'Connell, G. Moffat, H. Baker, O. Henry, W. Jeffries, A. Lillow, J. Giedhill, S. Giedhill, A. Phillips, J. Boyd, E. Walling, W. Jones, M. Clarke, H. Ford, J. Leggitt, G. Palmer, E. Trethewey, K. Meredith, P. McNamee, E. Coit and G. Prdye.

Part Two

Part Two is a melange of varied entertainment that has plenty of fun and keeps the audience guessing what is coming next. "Gosh! I Thought I'd Die", is a monologue by Jack Dobbin. Attired in light pants, and a long-tailed coat, with a straw hat and a goatee and a banana for light lunch purposes, he gets off a line of amusing and batty conversation.

Then there is a tiny, amusing skit entitled "Telephoning" by Arnold Lillow, Ron Fleming and S. S. Giedhill; Sam Padrone plays his silver piano accordeon in a manner that brings him a double encore and a final rendition of Kate Smith's famous theme song; and "No Sense Nohow" is a coon dialogue contribution by two gaudily-attired blackface gentlemen, Sam and Pete (Eddie Leonard and Jack Clayton), to the general hilarity of the evening.

Norm Laing does some of his characteristically funny work in "Shot at Sunrise" which is amusing from start to finish. The only girl in the show, Miss Violet Gilmour, is "The Girl"; Ormie Henry is the private; Ed. Giedhill the Sergeant; Norm Laing is Thadsis Quick, the rookie; H. Baker is the news agent; M. Clarke the insurance agent; G. Moffat the mailman, and soldiers are K. Bailey, M. O'Connell and E. Walling. It is an entertaining brief sketch with Norm at his best as the victim of the firing squad.

Ormie Henry sings "I Met My Romance at Ten Cents a Dance" in conjunction with this sketch, with Miss Gilmour as a dancing partner.

Fashion Revue

A snappy and very well-presented Fashion Revue by Hamilton Brothers, with up-to-the minute hats from Hodgens' store, is a feature of the program.

Mannequins include the Misses B. Pickering, Peggy Roche, M. Seabrook, Mignon Mayneord, Violet McNevan, N. Moher, Dorothy Finnie, Edith Guiry, Gwen Parnell and Dorothy Moore.

The show includes the latest modes in sports wear, spring coats and fur scarfs, and fur jaquettes and caplets.

The modelling is done in exceptional style and the garments are very dainty and well-chosen. They give a splendid idea of the range for spring, with that new-old touch that comes with the little hats that remind one of prints in Godey's Lady Book and the quaint capes and full sleeves of an older time, coming back to make their bow again as the newest fancies of fickle fashion.

The soft brown called camel, the gaity of lipstick red, the spring hues of parrot green and the loveliness of French blue, are the favored colors.

Robbita' hair is the name for a new suiting developed in bright red and soft green, with capes and fur scarfs in white, beige and Isabella fox.

Most of the sports suits show tiny, dainty hats in matching colors. Many of them have puffed sleeves and the little fur capelets show the upstanding collar of the mode.

Hudson seal make a lovely long fur coat with grey Persian lamb collar, but the little jaquettes are the favored fancy of the moment. In soft, flat lapin, they come in butter and beige and black shades, with notched collars and puffed sleeves or in three-quarter length sleeves, such as feature one model.

Black galyak fur makes another snappy, little jacquette and platinum and black lapin comes in the trim-capelets.

There are tailored coats of blue and camel shades, and a swagger polo coat with raglan sleeves'

The sports dresses also are very attractive, many developed in jumper style, with soft silk blouses. These to come in the favored shades of spring, while a novelty brown plaid, much admired, shows the trim close-fitting lines of the mode.

During the progress of the style show, Miss Mignon Mayneord gave a very beautiful whistling solo.

The Y's Men's Minstrel Show, with all the trimmings, including the very interesting Style Revue, will be repeated to-night in the Collegiate Auditorium. It is entertaining from the first to the last minute.

You will find many things in the Classified Ads. of The Examiner.

UNITED STATES CAPITAL JAMMED FOR ROOSEVELT INAUGURATION

Death of Senator Walsh Injects Sombre Note Into Atmosphere of Gaiety.

CEREMONY AT NOON.

(By Byron Price)

WASHINGTON, March 3 (A.P.)—With a cheer on its lips and a prayer of transcendant hope in its heart, the United States turned its capital city into one vast parade ground to-day as it prepared to welcome a new President amid inaugural tumult unmatched in many years.

In tens of thousands, and from every State, the fellow-citizens of Franklin D. Roosevelt were pouring into Washington to see him take up at noon to-morrow the duties of office in which Herbert Hoover was spending his last full working day.

But the death of Thomas J. Walsh touched the hearts of high and low alike, injecting a sombre note into the atmosphere of gaiety. Although the main functions of the inauguration were unchanged, the Roosevelts decided not to participate in any of the purely social activities.

Hundreds gathered to catch a glimpse of the President-elect—newly arrived overnight from New York—on his way from his temporary quarters at the Mayflower Hotel to the White House, a half-dozen blocks away, to pay the customary call of courtesy on Mr. Hoover.

Lenghty Program

The inaugural program will begin shortly before noon, when President and President-elect ride together to the Capitol, and will end in late afternoon, after the last straggling remnant of the long parade has passed the white-pilared Presidential stand, but for the occasion in front of the White House.

Soon after noon, in the Senate Chamber, a select company of dignitaries will see Speaker John H. Garner take the oath of Vice-Presidential office, administered by his predecessor, Charles Curtis. Then, perhaps a few minutes before one o'clock, several acres of humanity, seated and standing on the Capitol plaza, will hear Mr. Roosevelt repeat the pledge of Presidential faith and deliver one of the shortest inaugural addresses in history.

Private Tenders Are Called For Church

Private tenders which close on March 9, have recently been asked of fifteen selected contractors for completion of the Church of the Immaculate Conception in East City.

Plans prepared by A. W. Holmes, Toronto architect, call for a finished structure of Byzantine architecture, approximately 150 feet long by 80 feet wide, executed in Indiana limestone or in Credit Valley Stone with Indiana limestone trim. The building would seat a congregation of approximately 1,000 people.

Very Rev. Dean F. J. O'Sullivan was not prepared, when seen by The Examiner, to give any definite indication as to whether or not the work would be proceeded with this Spring. It was a question that would not be decided until after the tenders had been considered.

He expressed the opinion that the present time was opportune for completion of the church. Since the year 1914 the parishioners have conducted their worship in the basement of the church which was alone constructed.

"Sooner or later," Dean O'Sullivan remarked, "the church will have to be completed. The present time is considered opportunte in view of the need for creating employment, and also by reason of the low cost of materials and labor."

As visualized in the plans, the proposed edifice is of simple and dignified design. The west entrance embodying in its design ten massive columnar pillars of stone gives promise of exceeding architectural beauty and symmetry. On the north side of the transept provision is made for a belfry to conform in design to the artistic front entrance to the church.

New Cancer Clinic Opens At Kingston

KINGSTON, Ont., March 3 (C.P.)—An epochal event in the history of Eastern Ontario medical circles will take place with the opening here to-day of an active treatment centre for the control of cancer.

Establishment of the clinic at the Kingston General Hospital is made possible through the combined efforts of the Ontario Government, Queen's University and the hospital.

The clinic will afford undergraduates in Medicine opportunity for more intensive study of the disease, and is expected to prove valuable because of the fact that an early diagnosis and treatment—now possible—are considered essential if a cure is to be obtained.

BOUND FOR BANQUET.

WOODSTOCK.—Headed by Hon. Robert Weir, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, a distinguished array of agriculturists were bound for Woodstock to-day, where they will speak at a complimentary banquet to T. R. Dent, owner of the champion Holstein cow, Springbank Snow Countess, to-night.

Hon. D. M. Sutherland, Minister of National Defence and member for North Oxford, will accompany his colleague, Mr. Weir.

Tinkling Bells, and the clink of silver

In a Chinese fairy story one reads about the Emperor's garden, where rare and colorful plants from all over the world were constantly flowering.

It was the duty of the honorable head gardener to watch for the most beautiful of the blooms and tie to the stem of each a little silver bell. As the flowers swayed in the breeze, the bells tinkled with sweet music. Thus the courtiers and the distinguished visitors, strolling along the paths, were sure to see the finest specimens.

This was the Emperor's way of saying "I have something extra fine that you should see: look this way and you'll be repaid."

In the advertising columns of this paper are similar messages addressed to YOU. Read them and you will hear the clink of silver. Our merchants are saying "We have some extra values. We have some especially seasonable articles that you should see. Come to our stores and you will be repaid."

You have nothing to lose when you accept this invitation. In fact, when you fail to do so, you're missing some of the very news for which you bought this paper!

CANADA IS DESTINED TO PLAY GREATER PART IN THE FUTURE OF THE BRITISH COMMONWEALTH

St. David's Welsh Society Holds Annual Banquet.

BANQUET BIG SUCCESS.

Songs in Welsh Tongue Are Appreciated by All in Attendance.

"While the situation is critical in the light of present world events, we see in the future, Canada, playing a still greater part in the British Empire to which she belongs," stated the Rev. J. L. Hughes in honouring a toast to "Canada, Land of Our Adoption" at the annual banquet of St. David's Welsh Society last evening.

The Canada that is yet to be, speaking in terms of the national character, he said, can no more be a replica of the Old Land than it is georgraphically. What her characteristics would be it was hard to say but with the strain of British blood, he believed, Canada would go forward and upward to develop her own common aspirations and ideals, moulding them in her own way according to the measure of her own genius.

"Bless our Dominion with honourable industry, sound learning and pure manners" stated the speaker quoting from a prayer. "Save us from lawlessness and discord, pride and arrogance and fashion into one Godly people the multitude brought hither out of many kindreds and tongues. Give us all the spirit of service and love and mutual helpfulness and grant that we maye remain a people united and loyal to the throne and Empire."

He asked the gathering to rise and drink to the toast, "that to the civilisation, peace and happiness of the world will be added increasingly the contribution of Canada."

Good Attendance

Gwilym Davies, recently re-elected to his second term of office as president of the Society presided in the capacity of toastmaster. The banquet held at the Woodmen of the World Hall was one of the most outstanding annual events since the formation of the St. David's Welsh Society here three years ago. It was attended by close on eighty Welsh people and their guests.

As usual the most pleasing feature of the program was the contribution made by the various vocalists, who sang not only in English but in their native Welsh tongue. Without exception each of the singers was called upon for an encore.

In honour of the occasion the tables were tastefully decorated with vases of daffodils—the Welsh national floral emblem, while the Welsh flag—the red dragon imposed upon a background of green and white—occupied a prominent place in the dining hall.

After the toast to "The King" had been duly honoured, an octette of male voices sang "Here's a Health Unto His Majesty". Miss M. Flowers played the piano accompaniments, and indeed officiated very capably in that capacity throughout a lengthy program of music.

In his opening remarks, the President extended thanks on behalf of the Society to Mrs. W. Williams, convenor of the Banquet Committee and to all who had assisted in making preparations for the affair. He also extended a cordial invitation to the guests and made special mention of the kindness of the members of the Caledonian Society who had loaned their equipment for the occasion.

"Wales" was the toast proposed by Tom Davies. It was a land that had been abundantly blessed, he said. Not only was it rich in mineral resources, but it was a land of great scenic beauty and of song.

He reminded his hearers of the contributions that had been made to the building of the British Empire by Welshmen, and referred to Lloyd George, not as a politician, but "as a statesman among statesmen."

Through the far-sightedness of Lloyd George, Mr. Davies contended, Great Britain was benefitting in the present period of economic stress through which the world was passing.

The toast was responded to by the singing in Welsh of "Hen Wlad Fy Nhadau"—the Welsh National Anthem.

A Successful Organization

Vice-president Harry Morton ably proposed "Our Society and its visitors." Since its formation in Peterborough three years ago, he said, the success of our society has exceeded all hopes and expectations."

He paid tribute to Mrs. Robert Jones, now residing at Warkworth, for her work as one of the prime movers in the formation of the Society. It was upon Mrs. Jones' suggestion that the Society came into existence at an organization meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce Rooms. From a membership of forty it had grown rapidly and was now one of the strongest organizations of its nature in Peterborough.

Mr. Morton also paid tribute to the work of Mrs. Blowers as first secretary of the organization. He regretted that she was prevented from attending the function this year on account of sickness. Others whom the named among those unavoidably absent due to sickness and other causes, were: Mrs. R. Jones, Miss M. Evans, Miss A. Price, G. Clark, Edgar Roberts and Mr. Mills.

Upon the suggestion of Honorary President Rev. J. L. Hughes, the secretary, Mrs. Cecil Armstrong was instructed to send a message of greeting to Mrs. Blowers who is in hospital at Weston.

In appreciation of his untiring efforts as President of the Society, the members presented Mr. Davies with a pipe, which he received from the hands of the youngest member of the organization—Shirley Anne, baby of a few weeks old, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morton.

With due solemnity, the president received a packet of tobacco from Miss O. Edwards and a box of matches from Miss Ann Cairns, while Mrs. Davies was presented with a rolling pin which invested her with "authority over the president."

"We Want Davies was the cry raised by a male chorus under the direction of the vice-president, immediately after Mr. Davies had thanked his fellow countrymen for their gifts and good wishes; and it left little doubt as to his popularity and success as head of the organization.

Among those who contributed to the musical side of the program were: Mrs. C. Jay and Mrs. J. Cross, pianoforte duet; Mrs. J. Cairns, vocal solo, "God Bless the Prince of Wales"; C. Toaze, "St. David's Day", and "The Emigrant"; mixed quartette, Welsh hymn, "Maesgwyn" Mesdames Edwards and C. Williamson, and Messrs. Bob Evans and W. Williams. Humorous recitations, Mrs. C. Toaze; vocal solo, "Trees" Mrs. W. J. Davies. Vocal duet, Miss C. Edwards and A. Kirkaldy; vocal solo "Sylvia", H. Lee.

Choruses were sung by a mixed choir, which included the following: Mesdames C. Armstrong, W. Davies, C. Toaze, T. Bradbury, Gwilym Davies, J. Cairns and J. Henderson; and Messrs. C. Toaze, Bob Evans, W. Williams, A. Kirkadry, D. Evans, Ogden Williams, J. Cairns and G. Blowers.

MORE MISSIONARIES WANTED IN HOME FIELD

TORONTO, March 3 (C.P.). — Presbyteries of the United Church of Canada in all provinces have met and made their recommendations concerning home missions, and conference committees will meet at Provincial centres this month to hear reports. The National Board of Home Missions will be convened at Toronto March 22.

Presbyteries of Prince Albert, Battleford Grande Prairie and Peace River are asking for more missionaries to care for increased population. The Hudson Bay Presbytery seeks ordained missionaries to replace missionary-teachers on Indian reserves.

Chorines Don't Think Highly Of Show Business These Days

LOIS ECKHART, NEW YORK'S FOREMOST SHOWGIRL

By PAUL HARPER, Central Press Canadian

The show business has learned at last what showgirls think of it. There is nothing flattering about their opinion.

A national advertising agency gave the chorines their opportunity to voice their thoughts when they submitted a questionnaire to 7,000 Broadway chorus girls.

The questionnaires were collected and tabulated a few days ago, and now are made public.

To the query, "What is your ultimate ambition?" 92 per cent of the dancing ladies replied, "To get out of this bum racket!"

In other words, of America's 7,000 foremost showgirls, 6,640 believe that the show business leaves a great deal to be desired.

Private inquiry along New York's rialto disclosed that the remaining 500 chorines who are satisfied with the theater are exceedingly difficult to find.

However, a firm and valiant defender of the profession was discovered in blond and beautiful Lois Eckhart, last season adjudged the foremost showgirl in New York.

"I was surprised and considerably angered by the results of that questionnaire," the dancer declared. "It seems to me that showgirls should support their own institution with a little more—well—call it 'patriotism'."

If there is anything wrong with the musical stage—from the point of view of the ladies who make up the ensemble—they should do something more constructive than complain about it, Miss Eckhart believes.

ALDERMEN REFUSE TO ATTEND MEETINGS OF HOSPITAL BOARD

plied, "All right, appoint another man."

When the committee had concluded considering a great mass of hospital bills for indigent patients of the city, Alderman McIntyre commented, "The number of indigent patients is increasing."

Chairman Macdonald: "Yes, they are and we thought that our new system with the doctors would decrease them."

Largest Total Yet

Although as several aldermen said, the number of indigents had been climbing alarmingly in numbers for the past two years, the number under consideration before the committee was the largest total yet.

Cigarette Tax Stays

A petition from a number of merchants requesting that the cigarette and tobacco license be reduced from $20 to $10. Alderman Hamilton said he was in favor of removing the tax, but considered that the time was inopportune since the city realized $3,000 revenue a year from the tax.

Alderman Fitzpatrick said that the committee had decided some time ago that the city could not afford to reduce the tax on pool tables.

Aldermen Holland and Cotton's motion to reduce the tax to $10 was lost on a vote.

Unfair to Bus Company

That it was unfair of the Provincial Government to collect a five cent gasoline tax per gallon for all gasoline purchased by the Peterborough Bus Company was the unanimous opinion expressed by the committee.

The company requested that the company be granted some financial assistance, but the committee decided this was impossible.

Water Charges Made

A letter from the Utilities Commission informed the committee that the charge for water for fire protection and other public purposes is $27,408.07 this year. This amount, the letter stated, is $1,172.59 less than last year, $3,385.89 less than in 1931, $4,170,77 less than in 1930, and $4,719.59 less than 1929.

The committee considered the charge too high, but said they could do little about it.

"Apology From Hospital Board."

Unless an apology was forthcoming from the Nicholls Hospital Board, he would never attend their meetings again, said Alderman McNabb.

The fact that Alderman McNabb felt he deserved an apology from the Board came out when Alderman Tuggey suggested that Alderman McNabb should attend the Hospital Board's meeting.

"Until an apology is made to me, I will not attend," said Alderman McNabb.

Secret Informer

Alderman Tuggey said he had been charged by the Board with giving secret information from the Board to the City Council. "I got hell from them by merely giving the Council some idea of what was taking place in the Board," stated Alderman Tuggey.

That he also did not intend attending the Hospital Board's meetings, was the declaration of Alderman Macdonald.

"I think those appointed from the Council to the Board should attend their meetings," said Alderman Fitzpatrick.

"Then appoint some one in my place," replied Alderman Macdonald. There the matter dropped.

Reconsider Mr. Thirnbeck

Alderman Macdonald said he did not consider the committee had played quite fair with Jack Thirnbeck, who had been discharged. He suggested that Mr. Thirnbeck's case should be reconsidered and that he be put on the pay roll at about $1,200 a year.

Aldermen Macdonald and Cotton moved, that Mr. Thirnbeck be retained at $1,200 a year.

Alderman Holland said he thought it was the opinion of the aldermen that Mr. Thirnbeck would be employed as a foreman, although not on the steady pay roll.

As mover of the motion discharging Mr. Thirnbeck, Alderman McIntyre stated that the Board of Works department was wasting money in the salaries of its officials. He maintained all that was required was one engineer at $2,500 and a street commissioner at $1,200. "Besides that, we aren't getting service for our high salaries," he declared. "You had service when Harry Evans was in charge."

Alderman Tuggey said, "After the storm comes a calm. You've reconsidered and now you want to reappoint this man. I maintain we haven't sufficient work for the staff we have.

Down to Bottom

"Let's get down to rock bottom," he pleaded. "Let's dispense with the engineer. If we do away with Mr. Parsons and have Mr. Kelman at head of the department at his decreased salary. The taxpayers are looking to us; let's set them an example.

"Too Many Officials"

"I don't see why we need a street inspector and street commissioner, too," commented Alderman Sloan. "He's a street inspector; yet he has been down at the wood-yard."

Alderman Hamilton said there would be sufficient work in the summer to keep Mr. Thirnbeck busy.

"I'm Right," Says McIntyre

"You may vote me down now, but the time is coming when you will see I'm right on this subject," declared Alderman McIntyre.

The motion to re-appoint Mr. Thirnbeck at $1,200 a year was lost, five to four. Alderman Holland said it was understood that Mr. Thirnbeck would be employed whenever his services were required.

Tax Collector's Request

Dealing with the request of William Green to appoint another tax collector to become responsible for the 1933 roll. Mr. Green has completed his 33rd year as collector.

"Is it a resignation or just a request to have another man be appointed as collector for the roll?" asked Alderman McNabb.

One Collector Only

"There can be only one tax collector, and this is his resignation," said Alderman Macdonald.

Delay Decision

That Mr. Greens' resignation be accepted, was the motion of Alderman Tuggey. It was said it was not necessary to appoint Mr. Green's successor for another month.

That the matter of the position of tax collector be referred to a committee consisting of Mayor Denne, Alderman Macdonald and City Clerk Armstrong to study and report, was the motion of Aldermen Sloan and Tuggey, which was carried.

It was decided to credit L. B. Patterson on his taxes to the amount due him on a rebate on the tax for his billiard tables.

Jap General Cheers Wounded

Lieutenant General Jiro Tamon, Japanese war chief, is shown as he visited the First Garrison Hospital in Tokio recently and chatted with some of the Nipponese soldiers who were wounded while serving under his command in Manchuria, now Manchukuo. General Jiro was summoned to Tokio to report on military conditions in Manchuria.

BOARD OF WORKS REFUSES TO CUT WORKERS' SCALE

Hourly Scale for City Laborers Remains at 40 Cents.

TO USE UNEMPLOYED.

Wages of Foremen in Department Also Placed at 40 Cents.

Refusing to cut the hourly scale of wages for laborers employed by the Board of Works, the committee of the Board decided last night to leave the laborers' scale at 40 cents an hour.

However, other employees of the Works Department were cut, the truckmen being reduced from an hourly wage of 40 cents an hour to a weekly wage of $16. It was pointed out that the laborers average only about one week's work in three, while the truck drivers are employed 52 weeks in the year.

Wages of foremen in the department were also placed at the 40 cents an hour scale, but they will be employed only when their services are absolutely required. Jack Thirnbeck was an exception; he will get 45 cents an hour when employed.

To Use Unemployed.

Alderman Holland raised the question of employing the unemployed receiving relief orders as much as possible.

"We're going to do that," replied Alderman Hamilton, the chairman.

Many sidewalks need repairs, said Alderman Holland, suggesting that the unemployed might be used to make the repairs.

Mayor Denne said a great deal of the trouble with the sidewalks was the piling up of grass and dirt along the sides of the walks. "Remove that and cut it back three or four inches and much of the water would run away," explained the Mayor.

Chairman Hamilton brought up the question of wages for the employees of the Board of Works.

Teamster At $20 a Week.

Alderman Tuggey said the teamster, Tom Bacon, had been paid four dollars a day last year, and the team had cost more than $1,700. He suggested that the team be eliminated. "It would be cheaper to hire a team," he said. "Four dollars a day for a man to ride around on a cart is too much."

"Little Enough," Says Tuggey.

Alderman Tuggey said that 40 cents an hour should be retained as the rate for the city laborers. "It's little enough for a seasonal occupation and for what they do," he said.

Alderman Tuggey moved that the wage of the teamster, Tom Baron, be $18 a week. Aldermen Sloan and Hamilton moved that his wage be $20 a week, which carried.

The one-horse driver for the dust wagon was left at 40 cents an hour, since he works only in the summer.

Cut Roller Man.

Alderman Holland said last year Mr. Bulmer on the roller was paid $1,279.25. He was paid $6 a day while on the roller. His wage was fixed at 40 cents an hour.

That all men working for the Board of Works, including foremen, be 40 cents an hour, was the motion of Aldermen McIntyre and Holland.

This motion carried. An exception was made in the case of Jack Thirnbeck, who will be paid 45 cents an hour when employed.

Aldermen Tuggey and Cotton moved that the wages of the truck drivers be $16 a week. This motion carried.

Political Clashes Claim Five Lives

BERLIN, March 3 (C.P.). —Political clashes at Hamburg, Bernburg, Duesseldorf, Hoechst, Kassel, and Bremen left five dead and scores of injured to-day.

At Hamburg a 70-year-old bystander was fatally wounded when Communists fired into a parade of National Socialists. A member of the Reichsbanner died later of the wounds received in a clash with a Nazi band.

At Duesseldorf a Communist was killed; at Hoechst a Nazi was killed and three members of the Reichsbanner wounded. At Bernburg, a laborer was killed in a fight with National Socialists.

ANTI-FRENCH HORROR MOVIES IS PART OF CAMPAIGN OF HITLER

The Ufa Palast opens the announced era of the new art with a violent anti-French film. It is a film of a flagrantly propagandist type. It sets spectators screaming and yelling approval when masses of French soldiers are shown being killed on the screen. The film has for title "The Rebel." It is as much calculated to "assure friendship with other nations" as oil serves to extinguish a blaze.

All Propaganda

Russian films for the most part are frankly propagandistic, too, but at least they are directed by such excellent masters as Serge Eisenstein. Joris Ivens and Meyerbold. In the Soyuskino productions the artistic element overshadows the propaganda, which at that is seldom violent. This new German film, which is but a sample of what theatregoers in the Reich get and will get in an increasing measure dished up as a form of entertainment, is the crudest inflammatory stuff imaginable. "The Rebel" is directed against France; lest Germans forget the old British enemy, the Ufa concern simultaneously launched a film called "Dawn," which glorifies the exploits of German U-boats against Allied and neutral shipping. Hitler and Hugenberg have honored the new war films by attending the premiere.

To-day I managed to see "The Rebel" after standing in line for three solid hours. Ineluctibly a comparison between Berlin and Paris audiences in the presence of war film leaped into my consciousness when sitting in that immense hall. In Paris I saw "Verdun" and "Wooden Crosses," ultra-realistic war films both, which depicted the overwhelming horror of the modern battlefield. The Paris audiences did not cheer nor shout as human beings were torn limb from limb by exploding shrapnel, not even when the soldiers were Germans. "Verdun," directed by Abel Gance, was a film taken during the monster attacks on the Fort Veaux by the Crown Prince in 1916. Several reels were genuine War Office documents photographer actually on the battlefield for technical reasons, namely, to study the effect of machine-gun fire on attacking infantry. They were principally destined for use in the High Military College. The film was withdrawn from public view after a week by reason of the clamor against it.

Students Stop Show

When I attended the showing of "Verdun" Parisians were horror-struck as they saw lines upon lines of Prussian Grenadiers mowed down. There were exclamations of indignation, voices of protest, deep sighs and sobs. Finally the students of the Sorbonne, urged by the Socialist party, made the showing of the film impossible. At each presentation a student stepped forward to slash the screen and stop the show.

This happened in Paris, so often called "militaristic," or vindictive or revengeful.

And now Berlin! "The Rebel" film shows a French army marching into Tyrol. Mark well: Tyrol is Italian territory inhabited by a German population. It is, of course, a war of the future. As the French army advances, masses of Tyrolese peasants assemble above the mountain passes, where they pile up immense quantities of huge rocks and timbers. When the French troops are well within the pass they are met with a devastating rifle fire from above. Before they can recover and take up a defensive position, the avalanche of rocks, thousands of tons of it, comes smashing and tearing down the mountain slopes. You see French soldiers being crushed to death, squirming helplessly under massive boulders, pinned beneath jagged rocks, their heads squashed, their torsos emptied of intestines, brains spattering to left and right, torrents of blood flowing.

Gruesome Spectacle

This gruesome sadistic spectacle kept up for twelve minutes on the screen. The audience, tense with excitement as the climax approached, whipped up to fury against the French invaders by preceding incidents, burst loose in a horse shout of victory. From a shout the applause grew into a tumultuous bellow, a sustained raucous mooing, interspersed by high-pitched feminine falsetto voices. It was the most animalistic exhibition I have witnessed in many years.

And this was not enough, apparently. New French regiments appeared on the scene. Crash, bang! The same horrible fate overtook them. A similar spectacle of beastly ghastliness was repeated. Seven times—seven times ten minutes—that brutal, inhuman show, which is psychologically nothing else but catering to perveted sex instincts, was repeated. I stood at the exit to watch the audience leave. Some came out staring fixedly, as people do who suddenly awaken or as men who come back from a long journey and find that familiar surroundings have changed.

But there were glittering eyes also. Women laughed excitedly. Gentlemen officers set their monocles straight and flicked the first ashes from their cigarette. "Ah, grossartig, nicht wahr?"—Ah, wonderful, wasn't it?

"By a sane program of national education beginning with the movies we intend to lead the German people back to God and to the old morality. German virtue, German loyalty and manliness are the only antidote to the Marxist poison which our people have been made to swallow during the last twelve years. Our first duty is to reform the art of the theatre," said Herr Hitler the other day.

If "The Rebel" film is a sample of that reform—God help Europe!

Sour Stomach, Gas

Hamilton, Ont.—"I was very much discouraged. I could not enjoy a meal, because of the bad after-effects — sour stomach, gas and indigestion pains. I lost weight, became nervous and slept poorly —nothing seemed to help me," said Wm. Pasinski of 491 Kenilworth Ave., N. "I bought three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and almost immediately my digestion was better. I enjoyed my meals without the former ill effects, my appetite improved and I felt so much better, I cannot praise it enough."

Obituary

MRS. WILLIAM COX

LAKEFIELD, Mar. 3. (Examiner Correspondence). — Mrs. William Cox died in Balsover on Friday, Feb. 17th and was interred in the Lakefield cemetery on Monday, Feb. 20th. Mrs. Cox was an old resident of Lakefield and had a very wide circle of friends in the village. For the past few years she has made her nome with her nephew, Timothy Collins at Balsover and there she died suddenly.

Margaret Collins was born on April 8, 1840 at Rosey's bridge below Wallace's Point in Otonabee and came to the village in 1870. She married William Cox several years later and lived on Regent street.

About five years ago she removed to Balsover. Her husband and daughter Alma predeceased her some years ago.

Rev. W. R. Archer, B.A., officiated at the funeral service and the pallbearers were Messrs. Jefferson and James H. Moore and the Messrs. Collins.

RADIO NOTES

By R. H. CHILDERHOSE of City Radio Service.

A fuse is installed in some radios to protect the transformer and other tubes in case the rectifier tube short-circuits, which can easily happen. If this fuse has been blown out, and the set is dead, be sure to have it replaced with the proper size of fuse. Too heavy a fuse such as an auto light fuse, or a piece of wire, will not blow readily enough and your set is endangered when trouble next occurs.

Ed.—Mr. Childerhose will be glad to answer any questions asked by radio fans. If you have any trouble just drop a note to Mr. Childerhose in care of The Examiner.

ARMY ESTIMATES UP

LONDON.—An increase of £1,462,000 is shown in the estimates for the British army for the coming year, released to-day, but in an accompanying statement Lord Hailsham, the Minister for War, points out the total of £37,950,000 is still below the 1931 estimates by £2,000,000.

Obituary

THOMAS ALBERT WAINMAN
The death occurred this morning at the residence of his son Bert Wainman, 450 George street of Thomas Albert Wainman, at the age of 71 years.

A native of South Monaghan Township, and a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Wainman, the deceased had resided in this city for the past five years. He came here from Ottawa.

Besides his wife he is survived by three sons, Everett A., of 112 Ann street, Toronto; C. G. Wainman of Newmarket, and Bert Wainman of this city ;also two daughters, Mrs. Allan Troke, Renfrew; Mrs. E. Mayhew of Chelsea, Quebec; and one brother, J. H. Wainman of Ottawa.

The funeral is to be held from the residence of Bert Wainman, 450 George street, on Saturday, at 4 o'clock p.m., with the Rev. David Wren officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

MRS. JOHN W. JORDAN
Mrs. John W. Jordan of 11 Conger street, this city, died at Cobourg on Thursday, in her 41st year.

A daughter of the late George Carey and of Mrs. Carey, the deceased was born in Otonabee Township. Besides her husband and her mother, she is survived by one son, Ross, and by three brothers, William of Cobourg, Henry and George of Peterborough, and one sister Mary of this city.

The funeral is to be held privately on Saturday at 2.30 o'clock p.m. from the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Carey, 343 St. Joseph street, with the Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

MRS. WILLIAM WATERMAN
The funeral of the late Elisa Jane Smithson, widow of the late William Waterman, whose death occurred on Monday, February 27, in her 86th year, was conducted by Rev. W. Simpson, Rector of Christ Church, Bailieboro, of which she was a member. Interment was made at St. Paul's Cemetery, Cavan.

South Monaghan lost one of its oldest and most esteemed residents in the sudden death of Mrs. Waterman, the last of a large family of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smithson, who were among the first settlers in the township.

She is survived by seven children, Mrs. George Whittington, Mrs. W. C. Wood, Lionel and Estelle, all of South Monaghan; Louise, of Welland; Olive, of Cochrane and Stirling of Toronto; also nine grandchildren and one great grandchild. One daughter Alice predeceased her.

Pall bearers were Howard Smithson, Fred Waterman, W. C. Wood, Morley Smithson, George Whittington and Fred Smithson.

Milk Bottle Thief Arrested By Naples

There was a swift foot-race on Simcoe street at 2.45 this morning in which Constable John Naples and Pierce Nicholson, of 253 Wolfe street, were the participants. The fleet-footed constable won the chase with the result that Nicholson appeared before Magistrate Langley today, charged with the theft of 27 cents. He pleaded guilty and was remanded for one week.

Nicholson, according to police, had sneaked up on the veranda of a Simcoe street residence and was in the act of pilfering a milk bottle of 27 cents when the constable appeared on the scene.

Nicholson saw the policeman, dropped the milk bottle and took to his heels. The constable pursued and in a burst of speed came up with his quarry within a block.

Police found a dollar bill in Nicholson's pocket which the man could not account for. His career is being investigated

SCARCITY OF MUSKRATS IN LINDSAY DISTRICT

LINDSAY, March 3 (Special to Examiner).—As a result of an open winter, trappers claim that there will be a scarcity of muskrats this spring in this district. The season opens on March 15, and the outlook for a profitable catch is not very encouraging. Trappers also claim that the license fee is too high in view of present conditions. Top pelts, it is claimed, will average about half a dollar.

J. R. Magee, of Janetville, figured in an automobile accident on Wednesday, but escaped injury. He lost control of his car on the icy road and it swerved, bounded across the ditch and through a fence into the bush. It was badly damaged.

DOCTOR CROSSES ICE TO VICTIMS OF DIPHTHERIA

20 GIVEN SERUM.

Mail Carriers and Fishermen Lend Aid Over Treacherous Ice Floes.

GRINDSTONE ISLAND, N.Y. March 3 (C.P.). — Diphtheria has broken out on this island in the middle of the ice-bound St. Lawrence River, causing the death of one child and illness of about 15 persons.

Stumbling across the broken ice floes, sometimes rescued by their companions from water holes, a party of mail runners and fishermen yesterday escorted a physician with a quantity of anti-toxin serum from the mainland two and one-half miles away.

"I have found about 15 cases," said Dr. J. P. Fawkes, who was summoned from the mainland village of Clayton. "With the serum I immunized about 20 others who had been exposed."

Yesterday Dr. Edward Bird, of Gananoque, Ont., reported he had discovered 10 cases of diphtheria on the island. The Canadian doctor was first to bring relief by crossing the St. Lawrence four miles in an ice punt and then travelling five miles in a sleigh.

To-morrow Dr. Fawkes will return across the ice to see whether the outbreak has been checked. It may be necessary on this trip to drag along a flat-bottomed boat for emergency use, if the ice continues to soften.

Dangerous Task
"It was difficult work crossing the ice," he said of yesterday's trip. "Sometimes the ice was bad, and a man crossed along without company might be in serious trouble."

Several times sun-softened ice cakes gave way, wetting members of the party in the cold water of the river.

Diphtheria first made its appearance last week in the inflamed throat of a little girl. She died last Monday night, although it was not then known what the infection was. Tuesday the disease was spreading.

About 250 persons, fishermen and farmers, live on the island, which is five miles long. It lies in the thousand islands group and takes its name from grindstones formerly manufactured here. Across the river to the north lies Canada.

ROYAL COURT DATES.
LONDON.—King George V. will hold Royal Courts at Buckingham Palace May 11, 12, 17 and 18 and June 23, it was announced officially to-day.

So many wanted to be presented this year, the number of courts were increased from four to five.

DEATH.
JORDAN. — Janet Carey, beloved wife of John W. Jordan, 11 Conger Street, this city, in her 41st year.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY EXAMINER

CAVAN COUPLE 25 YEARS WED

Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas Pleasantly Surprised by Friends on Anniversary.

PRESENTATION MADE

(Examiner Correspondence)

CAVAN, Mar. 3.—A very interesting event took place in Cavan United Church on Monday evening when friends of Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas, gathered to celebrate with them the silver anniversary of their wedding day. After the arrival of the guests of honor, Mr. R. S. Staples was chairman for the following program: Community singing with Mrs. A. B. Kennedy presiding at the organ; address, the Rev. J. E. Whithame; duet, Messrs R. Matchett and F. M. Staples with Mrs. Matchett as accompanist; a quartette, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia", by Mesdames R. S. Staples and A. B. Kennedy and Messrs R. A. Sutton and Harry Kennedy with Miss Annie Tinney as accompanist.

Reeve of Cavan, was present and spoke a few words of congratulation and appreciation; a reading "The Owl Critic," by Mrs. J. E. Whithame; solo by Miss Tinny; Mrs. R. Matchett then read an address to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas, congratulating them on having on Sunday, Feb. 26, attained the 25th anniversary of their wedding day and expressing appreciation of their christian home. Their willing and able help in the church, Sunday school and community, also of their spirit of true friendliness, Messrs A. B. Kennedy, Wm. Tinney and R. A. Sutton on behalf of the gathering then presented them with a walnut buffet and two silver vases.

Mr. Douglas made an appropriate reply, which was followed by all heartily singing "For They are Jolly Good Fellows". Lunch was then served and a social time enjoyed. At the "Bride's Table" a beautiful wedding cake had the place of honor. Lovely tulips in silver vases decorated the table, at which were seated, Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Will Douglas, Mrs. Robert Hootan, Mrs. Mark Hootan, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Swain, Mr. and Mrs. George Hootan and the Rev. J. E. and Mrs. Whithame.

Muffins Jam
Tea or Coffee Milk

How about muffins for dinner? No need for dessert with them on the menu. Just serve preserves or jam with hot muffins and you have a dessert fit for a king.

Today's Recipes

Sweet Milk Muffins—Two and one-fourths cups pastry flour or two cups general purpose flour, four teaspoons baking powder, two tablespoons sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, one egg, one cup milk, three tablespoons melted fat. Grease muffin tins and light oven. You will need a hot oven, 400 degrees Fahrenheit. Sift flour, measure and sift into a mixing bowl with remaining dry ingredients. Beat egg, add milk and beat together. Add melted fat, combine the ingredients, stirring as vigorously as possible without spattering the mixture out of the bowl. Stir only until dry ingredients are dampened. Turn immediately into pans and bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees Fahrenheit, 20 minutes.

Corn Meal Muffins—One and five-eights cups general purpose flour, four teaspoons baking powder, two tablespoons sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, three-fourths cup corn meal, one egg, one cup milk, three tablespoons melted fat. Sift flour, measure and sift with baking powder, sugar and salt. Sift in corn meal. Beat egg, add milk and proceed as in above.

Whole Wheat Raisin Muffets.—One cup whole wheat flour, three-fourths cup white flour, four teaspoons baking powder, one-fourth cup brown sugar, three-fourths teaspoon salt, one egg, one cup milk, three tablespoons melted fat, one-half cup raisins. Mix dry ingredients Beat the egg, add milk and melted shortening and raisins. Add to dry ingredients with egg, mix, and proceed as in other recipes.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

History shows us that bathing has been in practice since time immemorial. Even primitive peoples had their methods of bathing. But it was the Romans who really developed bathing to the point where it became a luxurious recreation rather than merely a measure of cleanliness. Indeed, the devastating charms of a good many of these famous Roman beauties were attributed to the beautifying baths in which they indulged.

In these days, however, only the patricians and the wealthy families could afford to indulge in the many beautifying baths of their decoction. But today conditions are quite the opposite. For there are a great number of luxurious baths that can be cheaply and simply prepared at home. And all a woman needs to know is to prepare them in order to indulge in them and reap the benefits of their beautifying effects.

Because I consider baths the greatest and most natural beautifiers in existence, and because I feel that a good many women do not know how to make baths luxurious and pleasurable, I am going to devote a series of articles on baths In these articles I am going to describe the many different baths that the woman of limited means may indulge in at home. I am going to outline the methods of preparing these baths. And I am going to explain the various benefits of each procedure.

The simple, ordinary hot bath deserves primary attention, of course, because it is the one most commonly indulged in. The best time to take a hot bath is before retiring at night, for this bath is soothing and relaxing. It is primarily for cleansing, as it opens the pores and stimulates the flow of perspiration from them And in addition, it soothes the nerves and relieves fatigue and strain.

The three most important factors in the ordinary hot bath are the temperature of the water, the soap used, and the scrubbing implement employed. The water for this bath should not be too hot, for if it is it will prove enverating and will remove too much oil from the skin. Blood temperature is best, and if you haven't a thermometer you can test the water by dipping your elbow into it. If it just comfortable to the elbow, it is suitable for your tubbing.

THOSE MICKEY MOUSE FEATURES

MICKEY MOUSE short features are produced by the same solemn process as other feature pictures, except that artists and an art-process take the place of actors. First, in the Walt Disney studios, in Hollywood, a "gag" meeting is held, where ideas are talked over and roughly outlined. Scenario writers compose a regulation script and adapters break it down into sequences, scenes, shots. The scenic department designs the background, and then three kinds of artists begin to work.

"Animators," who sit at two long rows of specially made desks and work by light that streams through a central glass, develop the gags, draw only the beginning and the end of an action. Their sketches are passed to the "in-betweeners", who draw the small delicately graded changes that make a motion kinetic. Then the "inkers" place a transparent square of celluloid on the drawing, and outline boldly in ink on the celluloid. Action is photographed by superimposing these transparent drawings over the painted backgrounds which have been placed under a camera.

6,000-7,000 DRAWINGS TO MAKE ONE REEL.

CARTOONIST WALTER DISNEY is the originator and sole creator of Mickey House's doings. Twelve years ago he was working on a mid-Western newspaper in the United States. He drifted to Hollywood, where he produced pictures combining people and cartoons. When the sound device was invented he originated his famed rodent, devising a method to make the Mickey Mouse musical scores synchronize perfectly with the action. It takes from 6,000 to 7,000 drawings to make one reel (650-750 feet) of Mickey Mouse film. Walter Disney produces 31 films a year, 18 Mickey Mouse cartoons, and 10 Silly Symphonies.

Like Charlie Chaplin, Mickey Mouse is understood all over the world because he does not talk. The Germans call him Michael Maus; the French, Michel Souris; the Spaniards, Miguel Ratoncito and Miguel Pertcote; the Japanese, Miki Kuchi.

A RAP AT THE TROUSERS FAD.

GOOD NEWS for the girls with womanly curves. Lilyan Tashman, one of Hollywood's recognized style experts, yesterday took a verbal sock at the pants for women craze which Marlene Dietrich has started in the last few months.

Lilyan Tashman

"For the first time in our age," exclaimed Lilyan, "we women have a chance to be entirely feminine. We can wear all the frills we want to. We can dress our hair different ways. Anything that is beautiful is fashionable.

"To my mind, pants on women are not beautiful. Not even when they are expensively tailored. And these cheap ready-made trousers are simply awful. I'd hate to have a style vogue like that on my conscience."

The blonde star admits that the fad is taking a strong hold.

"Several days ago," she said, "I went to a showing at one of the smartest establishments in Hollywood. Two girls in trousers and little jackets met you at the door. I protested to the designer. He said he hated to feature the trousers but that he was tired of having some of his best customers go to tailors for their clothes."

Lilyan asked if she believes the new styles will last long, said, "No. It will take on because Miss Dietrich has had a great deal of publicity on it and because people will dress like the stars do. But trousers are too unbecoming to the average woman to enjoy more than a brief vogue."

The prosecution rests.

COLBERT AND MARCH IN MUSICAL ROMANCE

"TONIGHT IS OURS", Capitol Theatre's presentation starting next Monday is a story of romance, gay and charming—the princess who loved a commoner—built along story book lines, the plot is laid in amid the beautiful background of a mythical European Kingdom. Claudette Colbert and Frederick March have leading roles.

* * * * * *

A magnificent and powerful drama, "Life Begins" is the first great picture to be built entirely around life's most beautiful theme, Motherhood, starring Loretto Young and Eric Linden in the midweek's double program ...The Teapot Dome hcandal provides the inspiration for "The Billion Dollar Scandal" follows. It achieves the novelty in pitting small time hoodlums against big time crooks and letting the former boys beat the slick promoters. Robert Armstrong and Constance Cummings are seen as chief characters.

* * * * * *

Some of the most tuneful numbers yet heard in talking films, are sung in the sparkling "Marry Me," which is the week-end presentation at the Capitol. The theme song "So, Will Somebody, Somebody Marry Me," apother catchy tune "Early Birds" and "A Little Sunshine" are sung by the picture'c captivating star, Miss Renate Muller. The plot of the story takes much of its comedy from the practises of a marriage bureau.

BEHIND THE SCENES

HAVE YOU HEARD about Frederick Marchs' 3-year-plan. Florence Eldridge says she wants to adopt a baby a year for three years. That makes four in all....Little Dorothy Wilson (remember she used to be an K-K-O stenographer?) has bought a house in Laurel Canyon....The new Connie Bennett film, "Bed of Roses," will have a Mardi Gras background. Scenarists Wanda Tuchock and Leonard Praskins have gone down to New Orleans to absorb atmosphere....You must hear what Lilian Harvey said when someone asked her how she liked Gary Cooper. "You mean the tall boy with the beautiful face?" was her reply. Meanwhile the blonde star has been dancing at the Cocoanut Grove with Maurice Chevalier....Hollywood dog lovers are getting ready to enter their pets in the Ambassador show in May. Vivian Tobin hopes to win a prize with her West Highland Whites (variation of Scotch terrier)....You must admit it's unique. Jean Harlow's plan to give her friends embossed gold passes to her house. This will enable them to use her swimming pool and tennis courts while she is working....Only a few days in Hollywood, Esther Ralston has signed to play in a picture. It is I. E. Chadwick's film version of the old classic "Black Beauty."

LATE SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE'S BEST SELLER ON SCREEN.

THE CONTRIBUTION of the dynamic Lee Tracy raises "The Night Mayor", opening feature of the Regent theatre's twin bill next week into the class of real clever talkies. As a chief executive of a considerable metropolis with a flair for the "finer" things in life, including wine, women and song, Tracy presents a performance filled with his customary vitality. "The Fires of Fate," the film version of the late Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's famous book which forms the second part tells the dramatic story of a man, who has been given but six months to live and his subsequent adventures in the desert which culminate in a fierce fight with a raiding tribe. Lester Matthews, Dorothy Bartlam and Kathleen O'Regan play in leading roles.

* * * * * *

With such dramatic elements as romance, piracy, mutiny, the lure of million dollars in gold and comedy, Columbia's "The Last Man" which starts on Saturday should easily prove one of the most novel screen offerings of the year. The picture is a sea adventure story with Charles Bickford in the principal male lead and Constance Cummings playing opposite him.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Coiffure

Ada: I would suggest that you part your hair on the side, and arrange it in soft waves about your face. Use a mild astringent on your skin before applying your make-up.

Swimming

Julia: Swimming is an excellent exercise for general reduction, as it is a balanced exercise that brings into play the muscles of almost the entire body.

Eye Shadow

Fran: Since your eyes are brown, I would suggest that you use a dark brown shade of eye shadow cream. Your mascara should be of the same hue.

Dyeing

Toots: It is indeed possible to have the eyelashes dyed. However, do not attempt to do the dyeing yourself. Such work should be done only by an expert in a reliable shop.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

"I suppose it is very presumptuous," my cranky old friend, Dr. Adrian Gibbs, reflected, on the eve of Washington's birthday, "for a mere practicing physician to have any ideas on the depression. Especially since experts in prize fighting and in lariat throwing have undertaken to advise the country about its financial needs.

"But a doctor ought to know a litle something about human nature in sickness, and the sick state is not so very different from the sick individual. The citizens of the body are the cells; the blood vessels, the arteries and veins, are the main traveled roads; the glands, like the liver and the pancreas, are the industries; and the stomach, intestines and the lungs are the agriculture. I am not sure but most of our present trouble is due to the hardening of the arteries of distribution.

"And maybe excessive function of the glands of internal secretion.

"I was talking with a group of business men the other evening after dinner, and they certainly were gloomy. They saw no hope ahead. I finally said to them, 'You know, I have seen a lot of people like you. A fellow comes down with pneumonia. Just before he gets sick he is full of pep, got a lot of energy; he has been running around spending it, staying up nights, but finally it gets him. At first, he is too sick to know he is sick.

"Finally, he gets a little bit better and he finds out he has been sick. But he is quite hopeful. He can see a future time when he is going to be quite well again. Then he gets stronger, and on the first day of convalescence he tried to get out of bed. His legs are so weak he can't stand on them. He trembles all over. A black curtain comes before his eyes. There is a ringing in his ears.

"He finally crawls back into bed and gets under the covers and thinks, oh! goodness, nobody knows how sick I am; I am never going to get well. You know, at that moment he is right on the road to recovery. He shouldn't expect to be as lively as he was before he got sick for a long time, but he is getting well all the time."

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

H. H.: What is auricular fibrillation? What is its cause? Is it ever cured or does it always remain when once established?"

Answer: Auricular fibrillation is a condition of irregularity of the heart due to a change in the rhythmic muscular motion of one part of the heart. It frequently is cured and may disappear completely. The usual treatment is by the use of digitalis, but this should be taken only under the care of a physician.

P. T.: "What fruit contains the most fat?"

Answer: Green olives contain 27.6 per cent fat; ripe olives—25 per cent; avocado pears—20 per cent; raisins—3 per cent; grapes—1.6 per cent; bananas—1.3 per cent. The other fruits contain only fractional amounts of fat.

Anxious and Ignorant: In my opinion, from the description that you have given me, it seems to me very possible, even probable, that you are going to have a baby.

The annual complimentary banquet, tendered each year, in March, to the choir and friends of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, was held last night in the Sunday School Hall. The Ladies' Aid Society sponsored the event, and Mrs. J. Marsh, the president, with a willing band of helpers, did splendid work in preparing and serving dinner to this branch of church activities, numbering, last evening, one hundred and thirty all told—guests and choristers. Green was the predominant color in the decorations, the ladies having in mind St. Patrick's month with pots of shamrock, green candles in silver candlesticks, daffodils, table streamers, and Erin-Go-Bragh serviettes. The dinner having been disposed of and tables cleared away, Mr. James Dutton, as chairman, efficiently handled a lengthy program of music and speeches. Among the speakers were Mr. R. R. Hall, in a short address of appreciation to the choir, from the congregation; Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr, representing the Kirk Session; Mr. James W. Anderson, on behalf of the Managers; Mr. John Hill, for the Music Committee; Mr. Hurrell Dodds, in the name of the Men's Association — each appreciative of the work and faithfulness of the choir and the organist, Mr. M. B Chenhall. Interspersing these eulogiums was a program of music and dialogue, fun and mirth, including: Piano solos by Miss Pearl Smith; trio, "Trees," by Threes (Misses Emma Lou Chenhall, Lily Kay, and Mary Sedgewick); "The Ancient Egg" (or something), by Dr. J .C. Smith; duet, by A Married Couple (Mr and Mrs. Stan. Willis); male number (Piccalilly Quartette, taking the place of the famed Piccadilly Quartette) in "The Frozen Flies on the Frosted Glass" (Messrs. C. M. Lawrence, Dion Snelgrove, Adam Sands, and Horace Hope); "The Japanese Fan" was sung by Miss Olive Cullen, with Mr. Grieves the attending Chinaman; the Scottish sketch, "Aunt Betsy's Surprise" (a love affair), was portrayed by Mrs. Bruce Munro (Jeanie), Miss Jessie Pattison (Aunt Betsy), Sandy (her unknowing lover, William H. Grieves), and Jeanie's sweetheart (John Anderson)—a double wedding at Lammas, as it turned out; solo, "Three for Jack," by John Fowler; a recitation by Mr. W. A. Logan; and the concluding item was a three-act melodrama, "The Lost Kitten!" with the cast: The King (Miss Mary Sedgewick), the Queen (Miss Emma Lou Chenhall), the Princess (Miss Ivy James), the Gallant Cavalier (Miss Lily Kay), the two Pages (Misses Sarah Sands and Marion Irvine), and the Lost Kitten (Miss Marion Armstrong) a humorous situation, culminating with the cruel death-pact of the cast, except the pages. Community singing and vocal numbers were accompanied by Mr. Chenhall. Votes of thanks to the Ladies' Aid and the entertainers were heartily given, a short period of games was enjoyed, followed by "Auld Lang Syne" to conclude another episode in the career of St. Paul's Church choir.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

The value of concentration is appreciated by all who have to work in the midst of confusion, or amid activities of those working at different tasks.

• • • • • • •

It fails to bring approval of others when the attention of absorbed persons is not gained even by speaking to them. They are often termed heedless. This is especially true of children.

• • • • • • •

They have their own absorptions and often they are puzzling out problems of what they see but do not understand. The minds of youngsters are often fully concentrated on such things or on any of a thousand others, occupying their world of questioning and imagination.

• • • • • • •

A parent does well to allow a certain respect to be paid to a child's absorption.

• • • • • • •

Here is an illustration. A certain mother was finding a little girl difficult because of her apparent inattention. The child could scarcely be roused at times, even to eat.

• • • • • • •

She seemed so far away during these periods and so hard to interest in the usual games and play. At other times she would respond in a lively manner.

• • • • • • •

This variableness was disturbing, until one day when little daughter had been especially difficult to arouse, she suddenly exclaimed, "I've got it mother, I've been making up poetry. Want to hear it?"

• • • • • • •

"Of course," the mother replied. The lines were good for so young a child.

• • • • • • •

After that the mother was not so disturbed when daughter had her moments of concentration. Moreover she secured from the library books of rhymes and good poetry suited to the child's age

• • • • • • •

And so there is a concentration which is not mere heedlessness, wasteful day-dreaming, but one has to learn to distinguish between the two in themselves and in their children.

• • • • • • •

The concentration which saves time because of full attention being paid to important things and which brings results is worthwhile.

ONE-FIFTH OF SCHOOL CHILDREN SUFFERING FROM VARIOUS FORMS OF BAD EYESIGHT SPEAKER SAYS

National Secretary for Prevention of Blindness Visits City.

DANGERS TO EYE.

"Twenty per cent. of the children in the schools of Canada are suffering from various forms of defective eyesight," declared Miss Mary C. McLelland, national secretary for the prevention of blindness in the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, addressing the Home and School Council of the city in the Prince of Wales' school last night. "With that figure in mind, the importance of the eyesight problem where the children are concerned can be realized."

Miss McLelland's address, entitled "The Care of Children's Eyes," formed a part of the program of the regular meeting of the Council. A number of musical offerings were heard before and after the talk. Mrs. E. Wand, president of the Council, held the chair.

A large part of Miss McLelland's address was based on slides which illuminated the various phases of the problem of the care of the children's eyes. She reviewed the general precautions which should be taken to guard the eyes and the more common dangers which threaten them. It is highly important that every child's eyes be treated with silver nitrate immediately after birth, she said. Although the laws of most of the province require this treatment, it is still being ignored in many cases, particularly in out-of-the-way communities and on farms. The chances of infection of the eyes after birth are very high without the treatment, she said.

Dangers to Eye.

Children should be drilled in the dangers offered by sharp scissors, peashooters, catapults and taught the proper use of knives at an early age, she continued. Knives should always be used so that the cutting edge moves away from the eyes. In cases when a child actually does sustain an injury to the eyes, however slight, it should be rushed to an oculist immediately. Often parents wait until a child complains of pain before taking a child to the oculist and in many such cases it is too late to save the sight, Miss McLelland said.

"It is often asked why so many more children are wearing glasses to-day than in former years. The answer to this is not that the human eye is degenerating in its quality. It is that, with the great change which has come over our civilization human eyes are being called upon to do tasks which can not be done without the aid of glasses. A further reason is that it is only in comparatively recent years that oculists have perfected their science in regard to glasses and that scientific attention has been given to the attention of eyesight.

Care in Glasses.

"Great care should be exercised in the matter of glasses. Glasses must be ground and mounted to suit the particular needs of each individual. They should never be bought by mail order or from casual peddlers. We have heard of cases in which one pair of glasses were passed down from one generation to another for the sake of economy. Such a haphazard practice in the use of glasses is very dangerous to the eyesight."

"Proper consideration of the eyesight problem should be given particularly where it concerns children in our schools," Miss McLelland said. "Often students are branded as stupid when in reality they can not see well enough to have equal advantage. Also such students tend to hold back the rest of the students. In the larger cities where 'sight-saving' classes are being held specially for children with defective eyesight, this problem is being circumvented. But in smaller communities it has to be met through care in regard to the lighting of the schools and care in regard to the size of print used in the instruction books and the size of writing on the blackboards."

The musical program during the evening included vocal solos by Mrs. N. Todd and Mrs. W. H. Hepburn, both accompanied by Mrs. G. A. Spicer. A piano solo was offered by Miss Lorene Piper, a violin solo by Roy Rome, accompanied by Miss M. Rome, and a cornet solo by Harold Wilson, accompanied by Harold Kitney.

The meeting was sponsored by a committee consisting of Mrs. J. W. Kingsbury, Mrs. H. H. Graham and Mrs. Spicer.

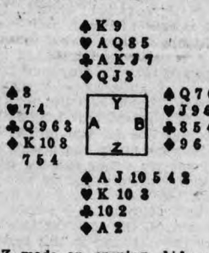
CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

APPLYING A SOUND RULE

A sound general rule is that a long suit will win one trick more than a sound no trump dependent upon that suit for its contract. The following hand illustrates this principle, as well as showing beautiful strategy and technique.



Z made an opening bid of 1-Spade. Instead of employing the modern method of showing his two biddable suits, and allowing his partner to help decide upon the best make, Y used the old-fashioned method of trying to conceal his holdings by jumping into 2-No Trumps. Z rebid his spades and Y kept bidding on trumps until he had reached six, then Z applied the rule of expecting a hand to do one trick better at its long suit than at no trumps, by bidding 7-Spades.

The opening lead was the 3 of clubs. Provided the lead was a fourth-best A held four and B held three clubs, giving odds of 4 to 3 that the missing Q was not held by B, so Y played low and the declarer's 10 won the trick.

Dummy's K and 9 of trumps won the next two tricks. A low diamond was led from dummy, and the Ace won the trick. A low club was led. Dummy's J won. The Ace of clubs was led; upon it the declarer discarded his last diamond. To shorten his trumps the declarer led a diamond from dummy and trumped it.

The K of hearts was led next, followed by the low heart. Dummy won the trick. The last diamond was led from dummy. In case B held no more diamonds he would be picked up if he trumped. If B held a third diamond he must follow suit. The declarer took no needless risks. He aimed at making a double grand coup. If B held either three or four hearts the coup could be made. If B held only two hearts and four diamonds the coup would be impossible. The declarer trumped the trick. B discarded a heart, showing that he originally held four cards of that suit, and that he still held one.

Now certain of his grand slam, the declarer led his last heart. Dummy won the trick. Dummy contained one heart and one club. B held the Q-7 of spades. The declarer held the A-J of spades. He had to trump the lead from dummy. If B trumped with the 7, declarer's J must win the trick and his Ace would pick up B's Q. If B trumped high declarer's Ace would win, and his J would pick up the 7. By excellent judgment the declarer fulfilled his grand slam contract.

Rheumatic Cripples

New Medicine Eases Pain First Day and Ends Torture of Rheumatism In Less Than a Week.

No matter how crippled and helpless you are with rheumatism; no matter how great your suffering; you can now ease that pain in a day and break rheumatism's terrible grip on your system in less than a week.

One bottle of Ru-Ma, to be had at any drug store, is all you should need to free your muscles and joints from crippling stiffness and swelling, lameness and rheumatic aches and pains.

RU-MA acts on the blood, kidneys and liver, and drives the dangerous rheumatic poisons from the system through the natural channels of elimination.

You must use an internal medicine to free the joints and muscles of rheumatism. That's why RU-MA succeeds while external remedies and pain deadening drugs only give temporary relief.

McDermid & Jury and Bond's Drug Store says no matter what kind of rheumatism you have, or how long you have suffered, get a bottle of RU-MA to-day — it must stop your rheumatic agony or you get your money back.

Mannish Trousers For Women Ridiculed

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 3. — (C.P.).—Mannish trousers for women are characterized as "ridiculous" by Mrs. Nathan B. Spingold, the former Madame Frances, style expert.

"Feminity is the greatest charm a woman possesses," said the former customer of stage and society, in voicing her opposition to the new garments that are being advanced.

She does not look for any drastic fashion changes until economic conditions get better.

"You can begin to tell when good times are coming," she said, "by the manner in which women dress."

CHIEF JUSTICE ANGLIN WELL KNOWN IN ENGLAND

LONDON, March 3 (C.P. Cable).—Sympathetic reference was made at the Judicial Committee meeting of the Privy Council to-day to the death of Rt. Hon. F. A. Anglin, former Chief Justice of Canada, yesterday at Ottawa.

Lord Blanesburgh who was presiding, said Mr. Justice Anglin was specially well-known in England, not only because he had periodically participated in their deliberations, but because he had been singled out by one of the Great Inns Courts to become an honorary bencher. His Lordship concluded by expressing the sympathy of his colleagues.

The late Chief Justice Anglin was a close friend of many of the English law lords, having sat with other members of the Privy Council at the hearing of several important cases.

SEARCH IS REDOUBLED BOETTCHER KIDNAPPERS

DENVER, March 3 (A.P.).—A determined man-hunt for the kidnappers of Charles Boettcher, 2nd, heir to millions, converged on Wyoming to-day.

Sheriff George J. Carroll left Cheyenne on a secret trip Denver police hoped would lead to the hideout of the men who eluded officers after releasing the 31-year-old broker, following payment of $60,000 ransom Wednesday night.

Boettcher told police he could not say definitely where he thought he had been held during his more than two weeks' captivity, but he believed he had been taken into Wyoming. Police attached additional significance to the Wyoming hideout theory when they learned one of the ransom notes addressed to Claude K. Boettcher, the kidnapped man's multi-millionaire father, was mailed from Cheyenne.

Climbing Canadiens Defeat Leafs Again 4-3

PENALTIES COSTLY FOR LEAFS AS CANUCKS WIN SECOND GAME

Two-goal Lead Scored by Harvey Jackson at Start is Soon Wiped Out.

WINGS INCREASE LEAD.

TORONTO, March 3 (C.P.). — Hockey's pepper-pots, its most flamboyant warriors and twice its champions in the last three years, Canadiens of Montreal scrambled into the National League play-off arena to-day for a main bout with New York Americans.

Canadiens reached the featured class last night with a sensational 4-3 triumph over the champions — second within three days. They raked the Leafs with a deadly fire after Harvey Jackson had shot Toronto into a lead in the first period, scoring a goal in the second and two more in the third to earn the decision.

The victory lifted Canadiens into a tie for third place in the Canadian group with Americans, who fumbled a chance to keep ahead by losing to Chicago Black Hawks 3-2. And these events prepared the way for a duel between the two at Montreal Saturday night, where the last play-off berth in the section will be at stake.

Ten thousand Montreal followers of the Dandurand Frenchmen watched as thrilling a struggle between Canadiens and Leafs as they are likely to come across in a season. They saw Jackson, the former kid-line sniper, who was the League's highest scorer last year, drive in two goals in the first period that gave Toronto a commanding lead before Howie Morenz and Aurel Joliat joined in a mad rush for counter goals.

Howie reduced the Leaf margin before the end of the first session and he aided Joliat in scoring the tying goal late in the deal of the middle period in second. The boys spent a great deal of the middle period fixing up personal business, the Leafs winning at this sideline by such a margin that Lorne Chabot was twice as busy in his cage as George Hainsworth at the other end.

King Clancy and Charlie Conacher drew major penalties in this period for fisticuffing with Leo Bourgeault and Sylvio Mantha, Bourgeault getting one too. Jackson and Pit Lepine were awarded five-minute sentences in the third frame for high sticking each other.

Wildor Larochelle and Joliat scored for Canadiens in the third period and Bob Gracie's goal on a pass from Jackson was the only comeback.

Americans got the jump on Chicago when Johnny Sheppard scored in the first two minutes of play, but for the rest of the ragged contest the Black Hawks held the upper hand. Paul Thompson and Doc Romnes pushed in a pair immediately after the Sheppard tally and Johnny Gottselig sewed it up in the third period. Ronny Martin got the second American goal.

Increase Lead.

Detroit Red Wings scored a victory that was important to themselves over Ottawa Senators, 3-2. It gave them a three-point lead over New York Rangers in the race for first place in the United States section.

After Larry Aurie and Eddie Goodfellow had tallied in the first period, Senators made a fight of it. Will Houghey reduced the margin with the only counter of the second session, but Herbie Lewis made it 3-1 in the third period, and Sid Howe's belated goal served only to give Ottawa fandom a good finish.

Jackson Gaining In Scorers' Race

(By the Canadian Press)

Harvey Jackson, Toronto Maple Leaf left winger who led National League scorers last season, was within striking distance of the leaders to-day as he rushed to the finish line with a succession of goals and assists.

Busher Jackson

Bill Cook, veteran New York Ranger wingman, led pointmakers of both divisions with 50 — only four more than the Leaf star who was tied for third place with Baldy Northcott of Montreal Maroons. Paul Haynes was second with 37.

Many Upsets in Badminton Championships

JACK TAYLOR IS DEFEATED

Ontario Singles Champion Handicapped by Illness at Montreal Meet.

MISS CROSSLEY WINS.

MONTREAL, Mar. 3. (CP)—All through to-day badminton birds were whirling their flight across the nets at the Montreal Badminton and Squad Club as the Canadian badminton championship field narrowed down. By lights-out to-night the huge field of over 340 entrants will be reduced to the finalists in all five events. The finals will be staged to-morrow when a new slate of Canadian titleholders will be crowned.

Upsets were numerous yesterday, the outstanding one being the defeat of Jack Taylor, of Toronto, 1933 Ontario men's singles titleholder and former champion of the Dominion, who fell before Ted Joodman, Winnipeg.

Champions Fall

Two other provincial champions succumbed to strong opposition, Prof. C. W. Argue, Federicton, Maritime singles champion, and Miss Lorne Mowat, Montreal City singles winner. George Goodwin, Ottawa, co-holder of the Ontario mixed doubles title, went down before E. E. Long, Winnipeg, while H. A. Henderson, Toronto, took the measure of Prof. Argue.

Winnipeg's strong contingent offered another potential champion in Miss Beryl Armstrong who knocked out Miss Margaret Robertson, joint holder of the Ontario women's and mixed doubles titles. Miss N. Crossley, Oakville, Ont., was conqueror of Miss Mowatt.

In the men's singles the third round to-day found five Winnipeg men engaged, Long, Woodman, C. L. Jones, C. O. Wood and A. O. Jones, Toronto placed A. E. Snell and H. A. Henderson; Ottawa, B. E. Mitchell and C. Hawken; Oakville, T. B. Hale; Kingston, D. Grant and five Montrealers made up the field of 16.

COBOURG PLAYERS BEAT MILLBROOK

Millbrook Badminton Players Visit Cobourg for Friendly Games.

(Examiner Correspondence)

MILLBROOK, Mar. 3. — Three car-loads of members of the local badminton club motored to Cobourg on Tuesday evening and enjoyed a friendly competition with the community club of that town, the Millbrook players being the losers on this occasion. Earlier in the season the local players came up against the Anglican badminton club, of Cobourg, and again the score was against them, but in most of their play this winter the Millbrook members have been the losers on this occasion. Earlier in the season the local players came up against the Anglican badminton club, of Cobourg, and again the score was against them, but in most of their play this winter the Millbrook members have been the visitors, taking the high end of the score when Peterborough came out on a Saturday evening and breaking almost even when the return game was played in that city.

Orono and Bethany have been here during the season, and return games have been played, Millbrook having the higher score each time, and the return game with the Community Club of Cobourg will be played in the Armouries here on March 10 providing roads and weather permit.

Ivan L. H. Gray is president of the Millbrook club, and W. E. Bonneville secretary; there are at present twenty members and the club is in the second year of its existence, having proved a popular addition to the fall and winter sport list since its organization.

THIRD PERIOD COMEBACK WINS FOR STARS 5-3

Cleveland Throws Scare Into Syracuse Camp by Early Lead.

TECS TIE OLYMPICS 2-2.

TORONTO, March 3 (C.P.)—London Tecumsehs' total scoring record on Detroit has been trebled to-day but this achievement was productive of only one point in the league standing—sufficient, however, to enable them to tie Buffalo Bisons at the top of the International Hockey League.

Prior to last night's 2-2 tie with Olympics, Tecs had been able to dent the nets in the huge Olympiad only once in three games this season, two of which they lost, the other a 1-1 tie.

Syracuse took a turn at walloping the courageous tail-enders, Cleveland Indians, at Syracuse, last night and picked up one of the two points they lost to Tecumsehs Tuesday. Cleveland, as usual, were a tough morsel to down, forcing the Stars to come from behind on two occasions before acknowledging defeat, by a 5-3 score.

Tough on Londoners

Gus Marker and Goalie Johnny Clark were the bulwarks which Tecs were unable to dismantle in their attempt to run their winning streak to five straight. Marker scored the tying goal with less than two minutes of full time, and Clark continually stopped London thrusts lone-handed.

Farrand Gillie and Gene Carrigan shuffled in goals in the second period, to give London a comfortable lead. Deacon Waite halved the margin before the frame ended and Marker notched the equalised in the closing moments of the 60 minutes.

Win in Third

Stew Adams' two quick goals half way through the third session decided the Syracuse-Cleveland encounter. Indians set the pace for the start, leading 2-1 going into the middle session and 3-2 five minutes after the last period had started. Syracuse tied it up for the second time, when Teasdale scored on a solo rush and Adams rushed in his two markers to cinch the verdict.

Bernard Brophy, Al Hoffinger and Halliday were the Indian marksmen, while goals by Charlie Sands and Jack Markle kept Syracuse in the picture during the early part of the game.

LAKEFIELD TEAMS AGAIN TIE COUNT

Protested Game Between Gill Greyhounds and Falcons Ends in 2-2 Tie.

LAKEFIELD, Mar. 2. (Examiner Correspondence). — The protested hockey match between the Curve Lake Falcons and the Gill Greyhounds was re-played on Tuesday night with a big crowd of enthusiastic fans in attendance. Curve Lake had a big delegation over and the Greyhounds had a crowd and the local fans were numerous. The score in the last game was a tie and in spite of the valiant efforts of both Falcons and Greyhounds and two overtime periods the score remained 2-2.

In the first period Fitzgerald scored the first goal after six minutes play. This was the only counter for either team. Alex Riseboro and Merritt Taylor were the only occupants of the penalty box during this period.

Billy Rome landed in a second counter for the Falcons three minutes after the play opened in the second period and eleven minutes later Harry Gill (the Happy Day of the Greyhounds) planted one, surprising McCue. Ed. Bickell, Billy Rome and Merritt Taylor spent a few minutes with the penalty time keeper.

The third period opened fast and furious and both sides were out for a decision and a win but after ten minutes Ed. Bickell tied it up and then the play grew faster.

Amos Johnson who had remained snugly entrenched behind his own blue line for two periods led his Falcons up to the attack but Hill was too strong and the Gill's in turn bombarded McCue with no result but some magnificent stops by that doughty little goalie. A. Johnson, H. Gill and Ted Gill (2) were the offenders in this period.

Two overtime periods were played with neither score nor penalties. The teams played their best, every man on his toes. The McClues, Percy Knott, Rome, Fitzgerald were the most spectacular of the Falcons, while Graham, Ed. Bickell, Hill and H. Gill were the Greyhounds' Stars.

The line-up was as follows:

With Heavyweight Title Almost Won Again Carelessness Cost Corbett Jeffries Bout

Ahead on Points, Jim Day Dreams in 23rd and—Bam!

This is the eighth of a series of brief articles, relating Jim Corbett's most famous fights—from his first battle with Joe Choynski, in 1894, to his final fight with Jim Jeffries, in 1903.

By WILLIAM RITT

NO. 8—CORBETT VS. JEFFRIES.

WILLIAM A. BRADY, the fight manager and theatrical producer who managed Jim Corbett during his championship years, had turned his attention to the destiny of Jim Jeffries following Corbett's first retirement from the ring.

JEFFRIES
In 1900 veteran in a 25-round bout in New York.

Brady, though his long association with Corbett had ended, was still a good friend so, when Corbett asked for a match with Jeff, who was then champion, Brady persuaded Jeffries to take on the veteran in a 25-round bout in New York.

Unknown to Brady and Jeffries, Corbett had continued training and believed he actually had an excellent chance to whip the champion.

Corbett got Gus Ruhlin, a well-known heavyweight, as sparring partner and began training in earnest. He was dead set on winning back his championship.

And—on May 11, 1900—he got his chance.

3 to 1 Against Ex-Champ

WHEN CORBETT and Jeffries climbed into the ring in Coney Island, the betting was three to one against the ex-champion. He wasn't rated a chance against the stocky, powerful title holder. But that didn't bother Corbett. No one had given him a chance against Sullivan.

Brady was in Jeffries' corner, the champion having engaged him as manager for this fight. Seeing his old friend and associate on the wrong side of the ring must have been disturbing to Corbett. A comforting thought was that this fellow Jeffries, glaring at him from the other side, had been content to be his sparring partner and rubber when he—Corbett—was champion.

A man may not be a hero to his valet but, at the same time, his valet, or former valet, can hardly hope to overawe him. Corbett wasn't the least bit overawed by Jeffries.

Leads On Points

AT THE BELL Jeffries roared from his corner and drove the ex-champ back with his terrific rush. Corbett danced away and for the rest of the round he sidestepped and avoided Jeff's savage attacks, occasionally landing a solid punch himself.

Jeffries hurt Corbett badly with a hard left hook to the body in the second. The ex-champ clinched to save himself. Another left hook almost downed the veteran in the fourth. He clinched again. Corbett again weathered the round.

In the tenth the ex-champ rocked Jeff with a right to the chin. And this time the champion clinched! By the fifteenth round, Corbett knew he had the fight won, having won all the previous rounds. He relaxed and fought a careful fight until the twenty-third round.

While Corbett was dancing around the champion he let his mind dwell on the big headlines, the cheering crowds, the fat theatrical contracts that would be his as soon as this bout ended. Jeffries' haymaker right exploded Corbett's reverie. Bouncing back to avoid it Corbett hit the ropes and bounced right into a terrific left.

Corbett was asleep before he hit the canvas.

HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION NEWS

PRINCE OF WALES SCHOOL

On Monday evening, the Home and School Association of the Prince of Wales School held their February meeting when the kindergarten room was well-filled with interested members and friends of the organization.

The chair was capably filled by the president, Mrs. N. Todd who opened the meeting with a short devotional service. Mr. Mattice's room won the attendance banner.

An exceptionally fine musical program was presented and greatly enjoyed. Among those contributing to the evening's entertainment was Miss Marion Ralston whose vocal solos were awarded much applause.

The senior pupils also delighted the audience with their well-rendered chorus under the direction of T. Allen

The piano solos played by Miss Gwen Friendship and Gerald Perks were both well received, while Donald Perks, in his usual sweet voice sang a beautiful solo.

The guest speaker of the evening was Mrs. W. R Morris of the Board of Education who paid tribute to the work and influence of the late Mrs. A. C. Courtice of Toronto, in a beautifully worded address. This is the first annual "Founders' Day" and great honour was paid Mrs. Courtice and others who began the Home and School movement seventeen years ago.

The progress of the Home and School organization has been continuous and far-reaching, since at the present time there are twenty-five countries linked up in the world-wide movement, the aims of which were outlined as follows: "To establish co-operation amongst parents, teachers and students.

To develop a wise parenthood and to help parents realise their responsibilities.

To study educational problems and methods.

To develop an informed public opinion about our educational system.

A sincere vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Morris for her splendid address, by the principal, Mr. Mattice. This was seconded by Mr. Frost and heartily endorsed by the audience.

The meeting was brought to a successful conclusion by the singing of the National Anthem.

Canadian Bike Pair Rank In 10th Place

NEW YORK, March 3 (C.P.) —A blonde little Jules Audy of Montreal, and his towering partner, Torchy Peden, Victoria, B.C., today were far in the ruck as the Madison Square Garden six-day bicycle race passed the 107th hour.

Dave Lands and Bobby Thomas, the American pair, clung to the lead after a night of wild jamming. In second place, and trailing by one lap was the French-Belgian pair of Letourner and Debaets. A three-way tie existed for third place and three pairs were deadlocked for sixth place.

The Canadians were 10th, five laps behind the leaders.

M.C.C. SCORES 321 RUNS IN VICTORIA CLUB TEST

MELBOURNE, Australia, March 3 (C.P. Cable).—Ten thousand people watched the visiting M.C.C. score 321 runs against Victoria today in the first exhibition game following the test series which the M.C.C. won by four games to one.

Herbert Sutcliffe, the famous Yorkshire first wicket player, was in fine form to knock up 75 in a sedate innings with a variety of strokes. Maurice Tate scored a powerful 94 not out.

H. Ironmonger led the Victoria bowlers with three wickets for 82 runs. Victoria had just started their innings with nine runs for no wickets when play was closed for the day.

HAMILTON PATS HOLD GAME LEAD

Conick Leads Patricias to 3-2 Victory Over Maroons With Two Goals.

GRIMSBY ELIMINATED.

Rated by their followers as on a par with the more powerful Tigers, Patricias, Hamilton's Senior "B" entry, have set an example to-day for the "A" team, by getting the jump on Oshawa Maroons in the title series.

Whereas Tigers face a two-goal deficit in their second semi-final game with Port Colborne to-night, Patricias have a one-game lead in the best two out of three game series as a result of a 3-2 win over Maroons in the Motor city last night. A win for Pats Monday on their home ice will give them the title.

Conick led the Hamilton forces with two sparkling counters, both in the final period. His last goal was netted 15 seconds from the final gong, when he broke clear with only the Oshawa goalie to beat.

The other counters, one by Howard of Patricias and Rowden of Oshawa, were both brilliant individual efforts.

Grimsby Eliminated.

Grimsby Peach Kings, one-time intermediate champions, dropped from contention in this series when they lost a 3-1 decision to Oakville at Hamilton last night. It was the third engagement between the two sextettes. The score on the [illegible] at the end of the second game being 3-3.

Peach Kings' defence of Hillier and Stone scaled down, but the speedy Oakville wings experienced little trouble in slippin around them.

Perc Allen scored one of the winners' tallies and gave Ronald an assist for another. Sutcliffe garnered the third with only 10 seconds left to play. Lawson scored for Grimsby.

Londos and Joe Stetcher To Open Chicago Stadium

CHICAGO, March 3 (A.P.)—As its first offering, the new Chicago Stadium Operating Company tonight will present a wrestling match in which Jim Londos will risk his claim to the world heavyweight championship against Joe Stetcher, the veteran scissors expert from Nebraska,—probably before a crowd of around 20,000.

The Operating Company, organized after the Stadium Corporation went into equity receivership, has Joseph Foley as promoter. Londos and Stetcher recently tugged and hauled to a draw in an hour limit match at the Coliseum.

Little Pancho, brother of the late Pancho Villa, famed flyweight champion, eats a dish of Filipino rice in Los Angeles, Cal., where he is now in training in hopes of emulating his famed brother in the ring.

Open Spring Training As League Champions g

You can't expect the boys to be experts after the winter layoff so the Chicago Cubs, champions of the National league for 1932, open their spring training with a larger ball than usual. Members of the Windy City team are shown at Avalon, Catalina Island, Calif., undergoing a stiff workout with the medicine ball to get hand and eye limbered up before they go to work on the genuine diamond "pill."

(By C. J. P.)

At the last possible minute yesterday evening, the two hockey games billed for the Brock were called off. The ice was not so good, and would have been slush by the time the second fixture got under way. The out-of-town teams were notified in time, but quite a few would-be customers were disappointed. Tough luck, but at this time of year, ice is a questionable quantity at best. The tourney will be run off next week, if the weather's okay.

Tickets are going rapidly for the water-polo game in the "Y" pool tomorrow eve, as well as the exhibition being put on there by Canadian Olympic and Ontario girl swimming and diving stars. The game is between Central "Y" of Toronto, Ontario champs the last two years, and University Intercollegiate champions of 1933. Should be worth seeing. Dot Prior and Betty Edwards, of the '32 Olympics, Marg Hutton who recently hung up two Canadian records for free style swimming at 50 and 100 yards, and Dot Staples and Betty Batchelor, Ontario junior champions, are among the gals present. Starts at 8.15.

We don't like to inject grief into this column, but we're just wondering about that Lindsay soccer team that was accepted when it applied for entry recently into the Peterborough and District Association. The outfit was sponsored by the Universal Silk Dyers, Limited, but this company went bankrupt a few days ago, so what? Likely, either this team or another from the town that nestles on the Scugog will be in when the playing season rolls around. We hope so.

Peterborough will not be the last C. O. B. L. club to organize this year. Belleville put in a new bunch of officers a long time ago, Cobourg did its stuff a month or so back, and now Kingston is holding an organization meeting next Tuesday. But the local ball moguls are getting together at 7.30 tonight in the Chamber of Commerce to talk over the situation here. Election of officers, and other organization business will be dealt with a little later.

Belleville D.A.C. has drawn a tough assignment in the St. Columbus team of Toronto. They play in Belleville toonight and the return contest will be Monday, we understand. This Toronto squad is really a collection of the Toronto Mercantile League stars, sort of an all-star team—and it looks like another "Hogtown" trick just to have a team in the playoffs. The Doherty club will be without Morgan who was injured in the Petes' series, and maybe Rigby, who has the flu. But we hope they slap the ears off the Queen City aggregation, anyway.

The other day Dr. J. N. Harvie, skipping an Orillia rink, lost to the Campbell rink of Hamilton in their competition to represent Ontario in the Dominion Curling Championship. The Doc is quite well-known here where he has won a flock of bonspiels and is known to be a nifty knight of the stone. But here's the rub. In a 12-end game against the Campbell quartet, he just counted four shots, showing he must have been a mile and a half off-form or else the opposition was something to drop a card home about.

Boxing fans, here's a break just when it appeared as though the game had completely curled up locally till next Fall. A show will be put on in the Legion Hall about March 24th, one hundred per cent for the relief fund of the war vets here. Gord Garwood will promote the card, featuring Lindsay and Peterborough scrappers, and the Alpha Club gym is open nightly for training now. We're just rarin' to see another good fight card, and imagine there are plenty of boxing bugs around town that feel the same way.

• • • • • •

Unless the Lindsay Vics are willing to come down here and play a sudden-death game, taking a chance on a split of the gate, the Habooo Cup will stay in Scugogville this year without the Petes lifting a hand in an attempt to regain it. Manager Eddie Wright says he would not go to Oakwood for a return game, and Lindsay has no rink now, so its up to them to say whether they'll let one contest here settle the issue or if they'd sooner hang on to the Harry Boyle mug until they build a new arena.

• • • • • •

A good idea, it seems to us, would be for the local Hockey Club to organize this Spring, say before the first of May or even earlier. The officers and managers of the teams could then have the whole summer to make plans and maybe run off a dance or two and get enough dough ahead to put Peterborough on the hockey map next winter. And we can't imagine a better bunch at the head of it than those who made such a good job of it the past winter. This was the executive: President, Charlie Gurtis; secretary, Ernie Wolfe; treasurer, Fred Scales; intermediate manager, Eddie Wright; junior manager, Frank Buckland; assistant to the juniors, Shorty Burgess; City League chairman, Clair Hayes; team representative, Jim Gillespie; other officers, Ald. Bob Cotton and Cec. Wolfe. A live outfit, that.

Picking 'em off the grapevine: For the first time since '18, Oshawa has a team in the O.H.A. finals . . . . They lost their first Senior B playoff game in the Motor City last night, 3-1, to Hamilton Pats . . . . The bowlers are coming into their own nowadays on the different alleys around town . . . . Port Hope, Cobourg and Bowmanville are running off a junior hockey series, for the championship of the Lakeshore group . . . . With hockey very much in the limelight in the north, southern baseball training camps are coming to life again . . . . One of these days, we'll run an article on ski-ing—just so the younger people will get an idea of a fine sport that is almost extinct around these parts, since Ontario went off the snow standard . . . . All sports here will have to struggle along as best they can this year without financial assistance from the city—and this is only right in view of the times.

GEN. CHETWODE IS PROMOTED

Commander of Corps That Captured Jerusalem in 1917 Made Field Marshal.

SUCCEEDS ROBERTSON.

LONDON, March 3 (C.P. Cable). —General Sir Philip Chetwode, Commander of the 2nd Cavalry Division in 1916-16 and of the 20th Army Corps which captured Jerusalem in December, 1917, was to-day appointed a Field-Marshal in succession to the late Field-Marshal Robertson.

Although Field Marshal Chetwode commanded the 5th Cavalry Brigade in the early stages of the Great War and then the 2nd Cavalry Division, he won greatest measure of acclaim for his work in Palestine. He formulated the strategy adopted by Lord Allenby, which led to the capture of Jerusalem.

Now 64 years of age, Field Marshal Chetwode, seventh Baronet of the title, fought in the Burma campaign of 1892-3, and the South African War. After his cavalry commands in the Great War he was appointed in 1916 to head the Desert Column and Canal Defenses in Egypt and in 1917 became Commander of the 20th Army Corps.

After the Great War Sir Philip became Military Secretary to the Minister for War and then Deputy Chief of the Imperial General Staff. He was Commander-in-Chief in India in 1930.

Bowling Notes

The teams in the Y.M.C.A. Men's League are in the home stretch and next week will probably see all of the scheduled games wiped off the slate. There are several postponed games to be disposed of before the winners can be determined, and then the finals conducted along the same lines as the National Hockey League play-offs will be staged.

This week the Olympics who are tied with the Aberdeens in the second half of the schedule took the big end of a 3-1 count against the latter. Graham for the Aberdeens tallied a nice triple when he spilled 242-243 and 236 for 720. His teammate Richardson had high single for the evening with 266. Nelson Routley was the sharp-shooter for the Olympics, picking off 221 226-234 for a three-game count of 681. The team scores were: Olympics 1042-1039-1037, and the Aberdeens 1069-924-987.

The Northern Lights caught the Keough boys on an off-night, and swept the three-game battle for a four-point gain. Jim Eastwood set the pace, scoring 282-172-241, while Bill Prindible copped the nicest solo score of the night with 286. For the losers Charles Clarke was the only performer to top the two hundred mark, making 220.

The Young Judaeans spilled the apple-cart in the Church League when they whitewashed the George Street and St. Paul's teams in the last two league encounters. These victories gives them a total of 12 points and places them on the top rung of the ladder in the second half. The personnel of this team is as follows: Ben and Max Swartz, Joe Rogow, Myer Levine, and Rubin Bernstein.

The Sunflowers, piloted by M. Lancaster are setting the pace in the second section of the Y.M.C.A. Ladies' League, and to date have won eighteen games in twenty-one starts. The Marigolds, who copped the championship of the first section, are way down the list in this half. Clemena Long pushed the record for three games from 649 up to 686 in this league, while Agnes Dixon, who previously held the three game record, topped the solo class by securing 289 in one game.

The victors in this match will next meet Toronto.

ITALIAN, VATICAN PRESS TRUCE COMES TO END

ROME, March 3 (A.P.)—A truce maintained by the Italian and the Vatican press since a reconciliation in November, 1931, was broken today by a violent editorial in the Fascist newspaper Il Tevere against the Vatican organ Osservatore Romeo over the German political situation.

Il Tevere principally reacted to The Osservatore's statement that the German elections Sunday lose most of their importance because Walther Funk, chief of the German Government's Information Bureau, asserted Germany has changed from a government to a "regime," and would not return to the democratic parliamentary system.

GOODNIGHT STORIES

By Max Trell

...ome bells ring in a steeple
Over the heads of people,
But my bell hangs on a wall
And rings when people call.
—Shadow Sayings.

The shadows had to chase around quite a good deal in their search for a "Jigger." Haven't you ever looked for a "Jigger"? Maybe you don't know what a "Jigger" looks like. The shadows didn't know. That's why they were looking for one.

Well, they saw a lot of different people. They saw Mr. Thingum Bob, and Mr. G. Winniger, and Mr. Whoz-zis and Mrs. Whatzername. Finally Mrs. Whatzername told them that they would find a "Jigger" inside the doorbell, and that all they had to do wash to push the button and they would hear the "Jigger" ringing the bell. Then the "Jigger" would come out and they would see.

Knarf sprang up to the bell.

So they went around to the house and Knarf gave the bell button a little push and they heard the bell tinkle, just once. "There's that jigger now!" the shadows exclaimed.

"Come out, come out!" Mij cried.

They waited a little while but nothing happened. The "Jigger" did not come out. At last Knarf said: "I'm going to go up and get that jigger."

"You'd better not," the other shadows warned. Knarf paid no heed to them. First he made himself small then he sprang right up to the bell. After that he rawled inside the bell.

Did Knarf find the Jigger? Yes, he did. He certainly found him. As luck would have it, it was too dark to see what he looked like. Knarf held onto him as-hard as he could but all at once the Jigger slipped away. "Help, stop him . . . don't let him get away!" Knarf shouted. With that Knarf and the other four shadows chased the Jigger all around the house until finally it disappeared and they never saw it again.

And when the postman came the next morning, and pushed the button of the bell, the bell didn't ring. How could it, when the Jigger was gone?

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, March 4.

The Lunar transits operative in the events of this day seem to hold augury of adverse, hostile, treacherous and unprofitable conditions in nearly all departments of life. Employment is in jeopardy of either inharmony, frustration, duplicity or even dismissal. The finances are in peril and there is danger of loss, extravagance and excessive indulgence.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared to cope with a year of opposition, treachery and hostility conspicuous in all the affairs of life, unless possibly that real possessions, property and the favors of elders may prove dependable. A child born on this day may need careful education in prudence, frugality and self-control.

30 Passengers Hurt Irish Train Wreck

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, March 2 (C.P.). — Thirty passengers were injured to-day when a mail train from Belfast to Omagh was derailed at Markets Junction, four miles from Omagh.

All the coaches left the tracks, and were wrecked, but the engine remained on the rails.

It was reported that switch points had been tampered with and that wires had been cut in the district.

This was the second mail train wreck since a strike of railway men started several weeks ago.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

ONTARIO GRAIN.

Approximate prices track shipping point—Wheat, 46c to 48c; oats, 24c to 26c; barley, 32c to 35c; corn, 33c to 35c; rye, 30c to 32c; buckwheat, 29c to 30c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

Fresh egg prices edged a little higher on the Montreal produce and dairy market yesterday, continuing the advance of the first half of the week. Some sales were made at a further advance of a cent a dozen, while others were made at the same levels prevailing Wednesday.

The range on graded shipments of fresh eggs in cartots was 24c to 25c for extras, 22c to 23c for firsts, 21c to 22c for pullets, and 20c for seconds. Receipts totalled 726 cases. Lighter receipts and offerings, due to weather conditions, were strengthening factors.

Butter held generally steady at 24½c with odd quotas as low as 24¼c. Receipts totalled only 32 boxes. Cheese remained unchanged, fresh or recent make of Ontario colored selling at 10c to 10½c, and early Ontario make at 11¼c to 11½c a pound. Receipts were 54 boxes.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Despite extremely bullish crop reports and notwithstanding sharply reduced estimates of wheat in the hands of growers, grain prices went down hill yesterday.

Bank tie-ups and other adverse financial developments had a decidedly unsettling effect on cereals. An average of unofficial estimates yesterday indicated about 30,000,000 bushels less wheat held by farmers in this country than at this time last year, and suggested a 1933 domestic winter wheat crop of 370,000,000 to 380,000,000 bushels compared with 462,000,000 harvested last year and 787,000,000 in 1931.

Wheat closed nervous, ½-¾ under Wednesday's finish, corn also ½-¾ down, oats ¼-½ off, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10 cents.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, March 3. — Heavy selling at Chicago caused by a weak stock market and unsettld financial conditions in the United States, outweighed a number of bullish factors here, which included export of close to 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat, strength at Liverpool, and bullish United States crop reports. Wheat prices sagged in late trading on the Grain Exchange here yesterday and closed ¼c to ¼c lower.

May closed at 47¾c, July at 48¾c, and October at 50c.

Buying was distinctly encouraging in early trading, one Alberta interest alone ordering over 300,000 bushels, presumably against export sales at Vancouver. Average estimates of United States farm reserve of wheat was 168,000,000 bushels, compared with 207,000,000 bushels a year ago.

But financial conditions in a number of States below the line disturbed confidence of wheat holders and prices were unable to stand the strain. Prices lost the ½c gain they had accumulated and closed fractionally lower.

Russia shipped no wheat this week and only 56,000,000 bushels last week. Argentine movement is estimated at 3,260,000 bushels this week, as compared with 4,250,000 bushels last week.

Demand for top grades of cash wheat continued good and spreads appeared to be improving, but actual sales of coarse grains were confined to a few odd cars at spreads practically unchanged from Wednesday.

Lakefield A.Y.P.A. Holds Pancake Social

LAKEFIELD, March 3 (Examiner Correspondence). — The A.Y.P.A. held a court whist party and pancake social on Monday evening in the Parish Hall. The attendance was not as large as usual owing to the counter attraction of hockey matches. Four tables of cards were played and the prizes won by Mrs. Chappell and James Reil, and the consolation prizes by Miss Mary Webdale and John Brown.

The pancakes, with genuine maple syrup served with them, were a real treat, and the appreciation of the Young People was evident. The committee was headed by Miss Winnie Payne and Mrs. Mendal Smith.

Girls' Auxiliary Tea

The Girls' Auxiliary of St. John's Church were hostesses at a very successful afternoon tea and sale of home cooking, candy and fancy articles on Saturday afternoon. The tea was under the direction of Mrs. Braden Blewett and Miss Winnie Payne. The waitresses at the tea table were Nellie Stenner, Marion Twist, Elsie Chappell, Betty Brown, Mary Wong and Alice Chappell.

Jean Blewett and Doreen Emery were in charge of a beautiful doll donated by Mrs. Joseph Watson, and which was drawn for at the close of the afternoon; Mrs. John Sanderson was the winner.

Elizabeth Twist and Marjorie Creighton were in charge of the home cooking, and Margaret Mason and Lily Wong had a delectable cake made and donated by Miss Payne and the number of raisins contained in it furnished a lively guessing contest; Miss Mary Webster was the winner.

Avilda Pearson and Birdie Lennox had the fish pond and did a thriving trade. Eleanor Edwards and Patricia Earnshaw were the presiding officers at the candy table and Constance Orr was the cashier.

When the proceeds were reckoned up, it was found that nearly $20.00 was taken in, which far surpassed their expectations.

HASTINGS

Mr. and Mrs. W. Davidson of Havelock were guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Hess.

Mrs. A. Brubacher and son, John Albert of Kitchener are guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Stevenson.

Mrs. C. Ball is spending a few days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Montgomery.

Miss Jessie Wilcox of Detroit is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. German.

A.Y.P.A. SPONSORS THREE-ACT DRAMA

"The Lady of the Moon" Proves Treat for Large Audience in Havelock Hall.

(Examiner Correspondence)

MILLBROOK, Mar. 3.— The A.Y.P.A. of St. Thomas' church pleased a large number of its friends and others of the community with the pancake supper served in the Parish Hall on the evening of Shrove Tuesday, immediately preceding Lent, this being an annual event sponsored by the association, and invariably meeting with a fair measure of success.

The workers were ready by 5 p.m. to accommodate early comers with the appetising meal, Miss E. Grandy being convenor of the supper committee, and assisting in the pantry with the preparation of the pancakes and bacon, were Mrs. T. G. Harkness, Mrs. George Howson, Mrs. L. J. Morton, Miss Margaret Simpson and Mrs. R. A. Ford.

The rector, Rev. William Simpson, B.A., and the president of the A.Y.P.A., Cameron Vance, with others of the officers, were present to greet the incoming guests, and help in passing a social time while one table was being served and covers relaid for those who had come a little later and were waiting their turn. There was no program after the supper, the menu of which included pancakes with syrup, bacon, and tea or coffee, but some piano selections added to the pleasure of the occasion.

Lent was ushered in on Ash Wednesday in the Anglican parish with morning service at 11 o'clock at St. John's, Ida; at 3 p.m. at Christ Church, Bailieboro, and at St. Thomas, Millbrook, at 7.30 p.m., the rector in charge.

Lent in St. Andrew's United Church will be marked by a special series of sermons at evening worship, the pastor, Rev. W. W. Jones, choosing the mountain peaks of the Bible to illustrate hih subjects, beginning with March 5, and continuing until April 9. The order is Mt. Sinai, "The Dawn", Mt. Carmel, "Tried as by Fire"; Mt. Zion, "Fairest Among the Fair"; Mt. Jabel Jermuk, "Heights and Depths Majestic"; Mt. Herman, "Life's Crystal Splendors"; and Mt. Olivet, "The Vantage of the Ages."

INDIAN COUNCIL RAISES PROTEST

Claim Attempt Made to Force Compulsory Enfranchisement on Them.

WILL GO TO OTTAWA.

BRANTFORD, Ont., Mar. 3 (CP) The Six Nations Indians council has raised a protest against what is described as an attempt to enforce compulsory enfranchisement upon the Indians of Canada. A deputation will go to Ottawa to present the protest.

Councillors object both to the power being given to the Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs to enforce such enfranchisement and also to Premier R. B. Bennett's suggestion that two members of the Indian department staff and a member of the tribal council be named to act on enfranchisements.

It was pointed out that at present it is possible for a male member of a band to draw out his and his children's share of tribal funds, squander them and then wander back to the reserve an object of charity and a burden.

In addition, they held, the Six Nations came to Canada under special treaty with the British Crown.
